DUTIES, FEES, AND TAXES.

Table No. I.

THE CUSTOMS TARIFF.

All imitations to be dutiable at the rate chargeable on the goods they imitate, unless such rate is less than the rate which would otherwise be chargeable on the imitations.

"Proof" or "Proof Spirit" means spirit of a strength equal to that of pure ethyl alcohol compounded with distilled water so that the resultant mixture, at a temperature of 60° Fahr., has a specific gravity of 0·9198 as compared with that of distilled water at the same temperature.

The term "Iron" includes Steel.

"Wool" or "Woollen" includes all manufactures of wool or hair or combinations thereof.

"N.E.I." means not elsewhere included.

"Departmental By-law" means by-law made by the Minister, and published in the Gazette.

Any article, not otherwise dutiable, composed of a combination of other articles, some of which are dutiable when imported separately, and some of which are free of duty when imported separately, shall be dealt with as follows:—

(a) When the value of the dutiable portion exceeds the value of the free portion, duty shall be charged upon the whole article at the same rate as would be chargeable on that portion of the dutiable portion which, if imported separately, would be liable to the highest rate of duty.

(b) When the value of the free portion exceeds the value of the dutiable portion of such article, the whole article shall be admitted free of duty.

Whenever any goods are composed of two or more separate parts, any part though imported by itself shall, if so directed by the Minister, be dealt with under the item applicable to the complete goods.

"Non-Spirituous" means free from spirit or containing not more than two per cent. of proof spirit.

"Spirituous" means containing more than two per cent. of proof spirit.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Between Money Order Offices in Queensland, and between Queensland and any State of the Commonwealth and New Zealand, on payment of the cost of telegram of advice, in addition to the money order commission. The remitter must also send a telegram to payee. The cost of telegrams to New Zealand is 1½d. per word, in addition to a fee of 6d. for notifying the payee.

Particulars of money orders payable in countries beyond the Commonwealth to which ordinary money orders may be sent, except New Zealand, may be transmitted by telegraph from any telegraph money order office to the Commonwealth office of exchange from which the order can be most expeditiously forwarded by post to the paying office.

In addition to paying the ordinary commission, the remitter shall be required to bear the cost of—

1. The telegram of advice.
2. The telegram to the payee, advising the latter of the amount remitted, and the office at which payable.
3. The postage charge from the mailing office to the payee.

The remitter may include in the telegram to the payee any additional communication which he may desire to send; the telegram, as a whole, to be charged for accordingly.

47. (1) The fee for the use of a public telephone shall be uniformly two pence for a conversation of three minutes, or part of three minutes, whether the call be made by subscribers or non-subscribers.

(2) This fee covers only the conversation from the public telephone to any subscriber connected with the network of the Exchange to which that public telephone is connected. The network includes the main and branch Exchanges, but does not include trunk lines.

(3) If a person speaks from one public telephone to a person at a second public telephone, the fee for the use of each telephone must be paid.

(4) The fee prescribed in this Regulation shall be paid for the use of any public telephone situated within ten miles radially from the Central Telephone Exchange in the case of telephone exchanges or networks having over 1,500 subscribers' lines connected within a radius of ten miles from the Central Telephone Exchange, or situated within five miles in the case of other Exchanges or networks. Except for calls between an isolated and and any other exchange.

(5) The trunk line charges specified in Regulation 51 shall be paid for the use of public telephones beyond these distances and for conversations between an isolated and any other exchange.

(7) A public telephone will be provided at a cab rank where required, on the understanding that if a minimum revenue of £5 per annum be not derived from the use of the telephone, the instrument will be removed. Any cab proprietor or driver using the cab rank so connected shall be entitled to use the telephone upon payment of the prescribed fee for each call he makes; and no preference, whether for inward or outward messages, shall be given to any cab proprietor or driver using that cab rank. This regulation shall not apply to any telephone at a cab rank the annual fee for which is paid by a municipal council.

48. (1) A person (other than an officer of the Department acting in course of his duty) shall not use any public telephone without having first paid the prescribed fee for the use of the telephone.

(2) Any person who uses, or attempts to obtain the use of, any public telephone contrary to this Regulation shall be guilty of an offence, and shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding Five pounds.

53. (4) If any person desires that a messenger shall be sent to call any non-subscriber or other person to speak over any trunk line, the service will be performed on payment of the following charges in addition to any other charges for the use of the trunk line:—

(a) For a messenger sent to call to the telephone any person who resides within the usual radius of free delivery of telegrams, 3d.

(b) For a messenger sent to call to the telephone any person who resides beyond the radius of free delivery of telegrams, in addition to the fee of 3d., the usual porterage fees charged for the delivery of telegrams shall be made.

At offices where messengers are not provided by the Department, the services specified in subsections (a) and (b) of this Regulation cannot be performed.

Press Rates.

54. Where telephone trunk lines are used for conversations in the nature of Press telegrams, as defined in the Telegraph Regulations under the head "Telegrams within the Commonwealth" "Press Telegrams," the charge for such use during any hour the trunk line is open for business shall be as follows:—

Ordinary business shall take precedence of that sent at Press rates.

55. Any subscriber to a Telephone Exchange who pays the rates prescribed by Regulation 5 may place his telephone at the service of the public.

56. (1) The subscriber may provide and exhibit a plain and legible notice in a prominent position on his premises indicating that the telephone is available for public use; provided that, except as provided by Sub-clause (2) of this Regulation, no notice or sign intimating that a telephone is available for public use shall be exhibited on or about the premises of any hotel, public house, or place licensed for the sale of intoxicating beverages.

(2) The subscriber may also exhibit on a coin receptacle, placed near the telephone, a notice requesting the public using the instrument to place the coin in the receptacle provided by him for the purpose.

57. A charge of two pence for each conversation of three minutes, or part of three minutes, may be made by the subscriber for all calls within the network and the money may be retained by him. The charges for such call will be made by the Department against the subscriber at the rate prescribed by Regulation 5.

58. (1) Charges for conversations over trunk lines from any subscriber's telephone, available for use by the public, shall be collected from the user by the subscriber and be paid to the Department by the subscriber without any deduction.

(2) The subscriber may also charge the user the fee prescribed by Regulation 57.

(3) The subscriber shall pay to the Department all charges, including trunk line charges, payable to it in respect to all calls made over the telephone whether he has collected those charges or not. (See also Regulation 5 (3.)

Fire Brigade Lines.

Regulations under 1 Edwd. VII., No. 12. (16 Nov., 1901.)

59. Ordinary Exchange rates, less 25 per centum, shall be charged for rented fire brigade lines, and any additional instruments used thereon, which are connected with Exchanges for ordinary conversations. The fire brigades shall be allowed to use their own instruments if of a type approved by the Deputy Postmaster-General. Instruments provided by fire brigades under this Regulation shall be maintained by and at the expense of the fire brigades.

60. In the case of fire brigade lines, an annual rental shall be charged at the rate of 25s. per mile or part thereof, on the aggregate total length of the lines rented.

In this regulation fire brigade lines include only the following lines:—

(a) Lines which connect the fire brigade station with an Exchange and which are used for fire alarm purposes only;

(b) Lines which connect any one fire brigade station with any other fire brigade station under the same management or with the residence of any officer of the fire brigade, and which are used for fire brigade purposes only; and

(c) Lines which connect a fire brigade station with any fire alarm point where an instrument is available to the public to transmit fire alarms to the fire brigade station.

61. Where the cost of construction of fire brigade lines has been paid for by the fire brigades, existing arrangements may continue as regards such lines if so desired by the fire brigades, and the maintenance fee shall be 15s. per annum per mile of circuit (exclusive of instruments) or portion thereof. New lines must be rented in accordance with Part VIII. of these Regulations.

62. The instruments for non-Exchange fire brigade lines may be supplied either by the fire brigades at their own cost or by the Postmaster-General at the cost of the fire brigades, as may be agreed upon.

63. Rented fire brigade lines shall be subject to the general provisions of Part I. of these Regulations where they do not conflict with Part VIII.

Military Lines.

64. When telephone lines required for military purposes only, and which do not connect with any public telephone system, are erected upon military reserves or premises, and partly upon poles of the Postmaster-General, the charges payable for the portion of such lines erected on poles of the Postmaster-General shall be at the rate of 25s. per annum per mile, or part thereof, calculated upon the aggregate length of the circuits.

Regulations relating to Burglar Alarms.

65. Lines for use in connection with burglar alarms will be erected, supplied, as well as maintained by the Postmaster-General in accordance with Part XII. of these Regulations, and will be his property.

66. The apparatus must be supplied and maintained by the user.

Time Signals.

68. Subscribers to Telephone Exchanges equipped with the necessary apparatus may, on payment of a fee of £1 per annum, have the exact time signalled on their telephone at 1 p.m. daily, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The rentals prescribed by these Regulations shall be charged for lines specially erected for time signalling purposes.

Telephone Lines Connecting with Trunk Line Switchboards or Telegraph Offices only.

71. Telephone lines connecting a subscriber with a telephone trunk line switchboard, and available for conversations over trunk lines, for which conversations the rates specified in Regulation 51 are to be paid, and telephone lines connecting a subscriber with a telegraph office for use only in connection with the transmission of telegrams at the prescribed rates, or telephone lines to be used for both the purposes named, will be provided on payment of the rates, and subject to the conditions prescribed in Part I., XIV., and XV. of these regulations, whichever may be applicable.

Private Telephone Lines in Country Districts.

A private line may be erected subject to such Regulations as the Deputy Postmaster-General may direct.

79. On completion of any such line, a license fee of 1s. shall be charged; for each additional station connected, a further fee of 1s.

80. Where such a line is erected partly on existing poles the property of the Postmaster-General, a sum of twenty-five shillings (25s.) per annum per mile of wire, payable annually in advance, shall be charged for the portion erected on such poles, in addition to the license fee mentioned. The wire on such poles shall be erected and maintained by the Postmaster-General, and the licensee must undertake to rent the line for a period of at least six (6) years. The charge of 25s. per annum per mile of wire mentioned in this Regulation is for a single-wire circuit. The charge for metallic circuit under the same conditions shall be 37s. 6d. per annum per mile.

81. If such line connect with a telegraph office, the following charges shall be made :—

For every telephone communicating with any telegraph office, a fee of 10s. shall be charged.

82. Where two or more such telephone lines in country districts not erected, or only partly erected, by the Postmaster-General connect with any telegraph office, the terms of Part XV. of these regulations will apply.

84. Every telegram passing over a line as specified above shall be charged for at the following rates :—

(a) For every telegram intended for delivery within a radius of 1 mile from the telegraph office to which the private telephone line connects.—Including address and signature not exceeding sixteen words, 3d.; every additional three words or fraction thereof, 1d.

(b) For every telegram handed in at the telegraph office to which the private telephone connects for transmission over the private line to the licensee's office.—Including address and signature, not exceeding sixteen words, 3d.; every additional three words or fraction thereof, 1d.

(16 Nov., 1901.)	TELEPHONES—continued. SCALE OF CHARGES—continued. (g) The charges specified in (d) and (e) include— (1) Unlimited calls between any two stations on the same line, such calls not requiring the attention of the Exchange. (2) Provision of all apparatus at the Exchange, and one telephone wall set complete for each point connected. (3) The transmission by telephone, without extra charge, of telegrams on which the ordinary charges for transmission over the wires of the Postmaster-General have been paid. (h) All calls passing through the Exchange shal be charged for as provided in Regulation 5 Part I. But the provisions of Regulations 84 and 86 shall apply, and the charges specified therein be made, when the services provided for therein are required. A license-fee of one shilling per annum as required by Regulation 79, shall also be paid. 100. In cases where the Postmaster-General permits the user to erect the whole of the line from his premises to the Department's terminal pole outside any telephone exchange or any office at which a telephone service is or may be provided by the Department, the charges specified in Part XV., Regulation 96 (d) will be reduced by £2 10s per annum, and the subscriber shall maintain to the satisfaction of the Deputy Postmaster-General the instrument used in connection with the line, but the other provisions of Part XV. of the Regulations shall apply. Telephone Lines in Country Districts, erected on poles of the Postmaster-General at cost of users. 102. (1) The cost of all material and supervision necessary to erect the wire upon poles of the Department shall be borne by the subscriber. (2) Where the subscriber desires the Postmaster-General to erect the wire upon poles of the Department, he shall deposit with the Deputy Postmaster-General a sum of money equal to the estimated cost of the material to be supplied, and work to be performed by the Department on his behalf, and shall enter into an undertaking in a form approved by the Deputy Postmaster-General, guaranteeing that on completion of the work he will pay such other sums as may be necessary to repay to the Department the actual cost of the whole of the work. (3) The subscriber may, instead of paying for labour provided by the Postmaster-General, provide the labour himself, to the satisfaction of the Deputy Postmaster-General; but in such case the direction and control of the work performed shall rest with the Postmaster-General's officers. (4) The subscriber shall pay to the Postmaster-General a sum of 5s. per annum for each mile of wire, or portion thereof, as rental for the use of the poles on which the wire is erected. The charge for metallic circuit shall be 10s. per mile per annum. (5) The subscriber shall enter into an agreement in a form approved by the Deputy Postmaster-General to remove the material from the poles of the Postmaster-General to his satisfaction at any time when required to do so, but not earlier than six years from the date of construction: Provided that in the event of the material being no longer required on the poles for the subscriber's purposes, the Department shall be first given the option of purchasing such material, or any portion thereof, as it stands on the poles, at a valuation to be mutually agreed upon. (6) The subscriber shall not be responsible for any portion of the cost of maintaining or renewing the poles upon which the wire is erected. (7) The subscriber shall not, without the consent of the Postmaster-General, transfer his right to the wire or to the use thereof.

(8) Should any pole of the Postmaster-General require renewal by reason of ordinary decay, the Postmaster-General's officers shall place the subscriber's wire on the new pole without cost to the subscriber.

(9) Should any pole of the Postmaster-General require renewal by reason of bush fires or similar unusual causes, the cost of removing the subscriber's wire from the old to the new poles of the Postmaster-General shall be borne by the subscriber.

(10) The Postmaster-General shall not be responsible for the maintenance of the wire or insulators or for the removal of any defects whatsoever from the portion of the subscriber's line which is erected, subject to these conditions, upon the poles of the Postmaster-General, but the Postmaster-General will, at the request of the subscriber and on the subscriber agreeing to pay the costs incurred, use all reasonable means towards removing any such defects and take any necessary action for the maintenance of the line.

(11) Should the subscriber's wire or insulators interfere with the use by the Postmaster-General of the poles on which they are erected, he may remove the wire or insulators or alter their positions, as may be found necessary.

(12) All material used on poles of the Postmaster-General shall be subject to the approval of the Deputy Postmaster-General.

(13) The subscriber shall have no right to enter upon any works of the Postmaster-General, climb any pole, or do any work on any telegraph line of the Postmaster-General without the authority, in writing, of the Deputy Postmaster-General.

(14) Any works undertaken by the subscriber for the maintenance of any wire upon the poles of the Postmaster-General shall be performed at his own risk and cost.

(15) The actual cost of any works performed by or on behalf of the Postmaster-General for the removal of defects or maintenance of the subscriber's wire or insulators upon the poles of the Postmaster-General shall be paid to the Postmaster-General by the subscriber within one month of the date of demand.

(16) This Regulation shall not apply within the boundaries of any township, nor within a radius of one mile from any telegraph office, post office, or Telephone Exchange.

(17) The Postmaster-General accepts no responsibility in respect of any wires erected under these Regulations.

Public Telegraph (or Telephone) Lines Erected under Guarantee.

103. Any person may apply in writing to the Postmaster-General for the construction of a telegraph or telephone line under these Regulations.

104. Each application will be dealt with on its merits, but no application will be granted unless the Postmaster-General is satisfied that the line applied for is required in the public interest.

105. No application shall be granted for the construction of a line not likely to yield a minimum revenue within a period of eight years after the construction of the line, unless the Postmaster-General is satisfied that there are special circumstances rendering its construction desirable. Provided, however, that in cases where the estimated cost of the line applied for does not exceed £100, the Postmaster-General may permit the line to be constructed, notwithstanding that the conditions of this Regulation as to minimum revenue do not obtain.

106. If the line is not likely to yield annually an amount sufficient to provide—

(a) For the cost of operating the line; and

(b) Ten per centum on the cost of constructing the line and supplying the instruments (to cover maintenance, renewals, &c.), which amount is referred to in this part of the Regulations as a minimum revenue, the applicants shall, for the purpose of guaranteeing the receipt of that amount, comply with the following conditions, namely:—

(i.) The applicants shall deposit with the Postmaster-General a sum of money equal to 50 per cent. of the difference between the estimated revenue from the line for two years and the minimum revenue for two years.

(ii.) The applicants shall enter into a joint and several bond, in a sum to be fixed by the Postmaster-General, conditioned to make good, during a period of seven years after the completion of the line, an amount equal to 50 per centum of the amount by which—

(a) the estimated revenue, or

(b) the actual revenue (whichever of these is the greater), falls short of a minimum revenue: Provided that if the revenue received in any year, exceeds the minimum revenue, 50 per centum of the excess shall be applied to reduce the guarantor's liability in respect of the deficiency in the revenue received for any year during the guarantee period.

Temporary Telephonic Communication.

113. In cases where temporary telephonic communication is required, such communication will be provided by the Postmaster-General under the following conditions:—The cost of connecting and dismantling the telephone service to be paid for by the associations or persons requiring the same, which cost shall include only labour, perishable material, and any special line construction, but shall not include the cost of instruments.

In addition to which the following charges shall be payable:—

(a) If the telephones are used without Exchange service, 10s. per month or portion thereof up to six months for each set of telephones used.

(b) If the telephones are connected with any Public Telephone Exchange, the rates prescribed by Part IV. or Part VI. of these Regulations. Provided, however, that the charges mentioned in (a) shall not be made in the case of temporary telephonic communication required by rifle clubs.

Transaction of Business after Usual Office Hours.

114. (1) Arrangements may be made to keep any official telephone office open for the transmission of telephone messages after the ordinary business hours upon notice being given to the officer in charge at least one hour before the ordinary time of closing, and upon payment of a deposit of 2s. 6d. for the first hour or portion thereof, and 1s. 6d. for every subsequent hour or portion thereof during which it is desired the office shall be kept open. If more than one office is so kept open, these fees shall be payable in respect of each office. All telephone messages transmitted must be paid for at the usual rates.

General.

117. In any case where it is desired or proposed to open a telephone exchange, full particulars should be furnished to the Deputy Postmaster-General as to—

(a) The number of persons who propose to join the exchange;

(b) The points to be connected, with radial distance from the post office;

(c) Information respecting any portion of the lines which can be erected by the applicants in conformity with the Regulations;

(d) Any further information required by the Deputy Postmaster-General.

(2.) Upon receipt of the required information, the Postmaster-General will determine whether the exchange is to be opened, and, if so, under what conditions and rates.

THE NATURALIZATION ACT.

3 Edwd. VII., No. 11, 13 Oct. 1903.

8 Geo. V., No. 25, 20 Sept. 1917.

3. In this Act, unless the contrary intention appears—

"British subject" means a natural-born British subject or a naturalized person.

"Certificate of naturalization" means a certificate of naturalization granted under this Act, and being, at the time when it is relied upon in connexion with any provision of this Act, unrevoked.

"Justice of the Peace" means a Justice of the Peace of the Commonwealth, or of a State.

"Naturalized" means naturalized under this Act.

"Statutory declaration" means a statutory declaration within the meaning of any law of the Commonwealth, or of the State in which the declaration is made, relating to statutory declarations.

4. A person who was before the passing of this Act naturalized in a State or in a Colony which has become a State shall be deemed to be naturalized.

5. A person resident in the Commonwealth, not being a British subject, and not being an aboriginal native of Asia, Africa, or the Islands of the Pacific, excepting New Zealand, who intends to settle in the Commonwealth, and who—

(a) has resided in Australia continuously for two years immediately preceding the application; or

(b) has obtained in the United Kingdom a certificate of naturalization or letters of naturalization, may apply to the Governor-General for a certificate of naturalization.

6.—(1.) An applicant under paragraph (a) of the preceding section shall produce in support of his application his own statutory declaration stating his name, age, birthplace, occupation and residence, the length of his residence in Australia, and such other particulars as are prescribed, and that he intends to settle in the Commonwealth.

(2.) An applicant under paragraph (b) of the preceding section shall produce in support of his application—

(a) his certificate or letters of naturalization; and

(b) his own statutory declaration that he is the person named in the certificate or letters, that he obtained the certificate or letters without any fraud or intentional false statement, that the signature and seal (if any) thereto are to the best of his knowledge and belief genuine, and such other particulars as are prescribed, and that he intends to settle in the Commonwealth.

3 Edwd. VII., No. 11, 13 Oct., 1903.

7 Edwd. VII., No. 25.

(3.) In addition to compliance with the preceding provisions of this section an applicant shall—

(a) advertise in the manner prescribed his intention to seek naturalization and produce to the Minister newspapers containing copies of the prescribed advertisement;

(b) produce certificates of character from three natural-born British subjects, two of whom are householders and one of whom is a justice of the peace, a postmaster, a teacher of a State school or an officer of police; and

(c) satisfy the Minister that he is able to read and write English.

6A.—(1.) Any person may make representations to the Minister with regard to any person who has applied or has advertised his intention to apply for naturalization.

(2.) The representations shall be in the form of a statutory declaration.

(3.) The contents of any statutory declaration filed with the Minister in pursuance of this section shall not be disclosed to any person without the consent of the person making the declaration other than for the purpose of a prosecution for perjury.

(4.) Any person may, on payment of the prescribed fee, inspect any certificate produced in pursuance of the last preceding subsection.

7. The Governor-General shall consider the application and any representations made under the last preceding section, and may, with or without assigning any reason, grant or withhold a certificate of naturalization as he thinks most conducive to the public good:

Provided that the Governor-General shall not issue the certificate until he has received from the applicant the certificate of a Justice of the High Court, a Judge of the Court of a State, or a Police, Stipendiary, or Special Magistrate, that the applicant has before him renounced his allegiance to the country of which he was at the time of making his application a subject, or, in the case of an applicant who has obtained in the United Kingdom a certificate or letters of naturalization, the country of which he was at the time of his naturalization in the United Kingdom a subject, and taken an oath or affirmation of allegiance in the form in the Schedule to the Constitution.

8. A person to whom a certificate of naturalization is granted shall in the Commonwealth be entitled to all political and other rights powers and privileges and be subject to all obligations to which a natural-born British subject is entitled or subject in the Commonwealth.

Provided that where by any provision of the Constitution or of any Act or State Constitution or Act a distinction is made between the rights powers or privileges of natural-born British subjects and those of persons naturalized in the Commonwealth or in a State, the rights powers and privileges conferred by this section shall for the purposes of that provision be only those (if any) to which persons so naturalized are therein expressed to be entitled.

9. A woman who, not being a British subject, marries a British subject, shall in the Commonwealth be deemed to be thereby naturalized, and have the same rights powers and privileges, and be subject to the same obligations, as a person who has obtained a certificate of naturalization.

10. A person (not being a natural-born British subject)—

(a) whose father, or whose mother (being a widow or divorcee) was naturalized under the law of the Commonwealth or of a State; or

(b) whose mother has married a natural-born British subject, or a person who is naturalized under the law of the Commonwealth or of a State, and who at the time of such naturalization of his father or mother, or of such marriage of his mother, was an infant, and has at any time during infancy resided in Australia with such father or mother, shall in the Commonwealth be deemed to be naturalized, and have the same rights, powers, and privileges, and be subject to the same obligations, as a person who has obtained a certificate of naturalization.

Provided that, until a day to be fixed by proclamation, this section shall not apply to persons who are enemy subjects at the date of the commencement of this section.

11. Where—

(a) it is proved to the satisfaction of the Governor-General that a certificate of naturalization has been obtained by any untrue statement of fact or intention; or

(b) the Governor-General is satisfied that it is desirable for any reason that a certificate of naturalization should be revoked, the Governor-General may revoke the certificate, which shall thereupon be and be taken to have been of no effect with respect either to the person who obtained the certificate or to any person naturalized by virtue thereof, and shall on demand be delivered up to the Minister.

* * * * *

(2.) Where a certificate of naturalization is revoked the Governor-General may by order declare that the wife of the person whose certificate is revoked and any minor children of that person who have acquired British nationality pursuant to this Act shall cease to be British subjects and such persons shall thereupon become aliens, but save as in this sub-section provided the nationality of the wife and minor children of a person whose certificate is revoked shall not be affected by the revocation and they shall remain British subjects:

Provided that it shall be lawful for any such wife within six months after the date of the order of revocation to make a declaration of alienage and on making that declaration she and any minor children of her husband and herself who have acquired British nationality pursuant to this Act shall cease to be British subjects and shall become aliens:

Provided further that it shall be lawful for any such minor child within six months after attaining the age of twenty-one years to make a declaration of alienage and thereupon he shall cease to be a British subject and shall become an alien.

12—(1.) The Minister shall—

(a) Enrol as of record memorials of all certificates of naturalization granted under this Act;

(b) Cancel all certificates of naturalization which have been revoked;

(c) Cause to be made indexes of the certificates of naturalization and permit any persons at all reasonable times to inspect the indexes and to make copies of the certificates on payment of the prescribed fee;

(d) Cause to be laid before both Houses of the Parliament annually a return showing the number of persons to whom certificates of naturalization have been granted under this Act, the nations to which they belonged, and whence they came; and

(e) cause to be published in the Gazette from time to time a list of persons naturalized with their addresses.

(2.) A person to whom a certificate of naturalization is granted shall not be liable to any fee or charge in respect thereof.

REGULATIONS UNDER "THE NATURALIZATION ACT 1903-1917."

No. 296, 14 Nov., 1917.

1A. An applicant for a certificate of naturalization shall state in the statutory declaration forwarded in support of his application the following information in addition to that required under section six of the Naturalization Act 1903-1917:—

(a) His age and height, the colour of his hair and eyes, and any physical peculiarities, and

(b) The place where and the name of the person by whom employed at the time of application and the length of the period during which he has been employed in his present employment, and

(c) The nationality of his parents, and the nationality of his wife (if any) prior to marriage, and

(d) The full names and ages of his wife and children and their birth places and places of residence at the date of the application.

1B. Any person who intends to apply for a certificate of naturalization shall advertise, in two newspapers which are published in the State, and circulated in the district in which he resides, his intention so to apply.

COMMONWEALTH INCOME AND LAND TAXES.

COMMONWEALTH INCOME TAX ASSESSMENT ACTS.

6 Geo. V., No 34, 13 Sept., 1915.

6 Geo. V., No. 47, 15 Nov., 1915.

7 Geo. V., No. 39, 21 Dec., 1916.

3. In this Act, unless the contrary intention appears:—

"Absentee" means a person who does not reside in Australia, and includes a person who has been absent from Australia during more than half the financial year in which the income the subject of the assessment was derived, unless he satisfies the Commissioner that he resides in Australia; but does not include a public officer of the Commonwealth or a State who is absent in the performance of his duty.

"Agent" includes every person who in Australia, for or on behalf of any person out of Australia (in this section called "the principal"), has the control, receipt, or disposal of any income belonging to the principal, and every person declared by the Commissioner to be an agent or the sole agent for any person for the purposes of this Act.

"Assessable Income" means the gross income which is not exempt from taxation.

"Dependant" means a relative of a taxpayer by blood, marriage, or adoption towards whose maintenance the taxpayer has contributed at least twenty-six pounds during the year in which his taxable income was derived.

"Income from personal exertion" or "income derived by any person from personal exertion" means income derived in Australia consisting of earnings, salary, wages, commission, fees, bonuses, pensions, superannuation allowances, retiring allowances and gratuities not paid in a lump sum, allowances received in the capacity of employee, and the proceeds of any business carried on by the taxpayer either alone or as a partner with any other person.

"Income from property" or "income derived from property" means all income derived in Australia and not derived from personal exertion.

"Taxable income" means the amount of income remaining after all deductions allowed by this Act have been made.

"Taxpayer" means any person chargeable with income tax.

"Trustee" in addition to every person appointed or constituted trustee by act of parties, by order, or declaration of a Court, or by operation of law, includes—

(a) An executor or administrator, guardian, committee, receiver, or liquidator, and

(b) Every person having or taking upon himself the administration or control of income affected by any express or implied trust, or acting in any fiduciary capacity, or having the possession, control or management of the income of a person under any legal or other disability.

9. (2.) Any officer who acts in the execution of his office before he has made the prescribed declaration shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Two hundred and fifty pounds.

10. (1.) Subject to the provisions of this Act, income tax shall be levied and paid in and for each financial year upon the taxable income derived directly or indirectly by every taxpayer from sources within Australia during the period of twelve months ending on the thirtieth day of June preceding the financial year in and for which the tax is payable.

11. The following incomes, revenues, and funds shall be exempt from income tax:—

(a) The revenue of a municipal corporation or other local governing body or of a public authority;

(b) The income of a society registered under a Friendly Societies Act of the Commonwealth or a State and not carried on for pecuniary profit;

(c) The income of a trade union or of an association of employers or employees registered under any Act of the Commonwealth or a State relating to the settlement of industrial disputes;

(d) The income of a religious, scientific, charitable, or public educational institution;

(e) The income derived from the bonds, debentures, stock, or other securities of the Commonwealth issued for the purposes of the Commonwealth War Loans authorised up to the 1st day of January, 1917;

(f) The income of a provident, benefit, or superannuation fund established for the benefit of the employees in any business; and the income of a fund established by any will or instrument of trust for public charitable purposes, if the Commissioner is satisfied that the fund is being applied by the trustees to public charitable purposes;

(g) The salary of the Governor-General and the salaries of the Governors of the States; and (h) The official salaries of foreign consuls and the trade commissioners of any part of the British Dominions.

"(2.) If a company, which has derived income from the bonds, debentures, stock or securities specified in paragraph (e) of subsection (1.) of this section, pays in any year any portion of that income in dividends to its shareholders, the exemption under that paragraph shall extend to the proportion of the dividend for that year which has been paid out of such income."

12. With respect to income which, under the last preceding section is exempt from income tax, the exemption shall be limited to the person specified in that section, and shall not extend to the salaries and wages of persons employed by such persons, although such salaries and wages may be paid wholly or in part out of the income revenues or funds so exempt.

13. This Act shall not apply to any person who is on active service during the present war with the military or naval forces of the Commonwealth or any part of the King's Dominions or of an ally of Great Britain so far as regards income derived from personal exertion and earned prior to the commencement of this Act or during the present state of war.

14. The income of any person shall include—

(a) Profits derived from any trade or business and converted into stock-in-trade or added to the capital of or in any way invested in the trade or business:

Provided that for the purpose of computing such profits the value of all live-stock, produce, goods and merchandise (not being plant used in the production of income) not disposed of at the beginning and end of the year in which the income was derived shall be taken into account;

(b) Dividends, interest, profits, or bonus credited or paid to any member, shareholder, or debenture-holder of a company which derives income from a source in Australia or of a company which is a shareholder in a company which derives income from a source in Australia, but not including a reversionary bonus issued on a policy of life insurance:

Provided that where a company distributes to its members or shareholders any undistributed income accumulated prior to the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and fourteen the sum so received by the member or shareholder shall not be included as part of his income:

Provided further that where a company derives income from a source in Australia and from a source outside Australia a taxpayer shall only be taxable on so much of the dividend as bears to the whole dividend the same proportion that the profits derived by the company from a source in Australia bears to the total profits of the company:

Provided also that amounts carried forward by a company to the credit of the profit and loss account shall not be deemed to be accumulated income, but where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that an amount standing to the credit of a profit and loss account before the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, has been appropriated by a company for the purpose of crediting a dividend to the shareholders and the dividend or a part thereof is retained by the company for the purpose of paying for an increase in value or number of shares issued to the shareholders, the shareholders shall not be liable to pay tax on the dividend or the part of the dividend so retained;

(c) Beneficial interests in income derived under any will, settlement, deed of gift or instrument of trust;

(d) Money derived by way of royalty or from bonuses, premiums, fines, or foregifts demanded and given in connexion with leasehold estates; and the amount of any payment received by a lessee upon the assignment or transfer of a lease to another person, after deducting therefrom the part (if any) which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, is properly attributable to the transfer of any assets belonging to the lessee and so much of any fine, premium, or foregift paid by the lessee or any amount paid by the lessee for the assignment or transfer of the lease as, in the opinion of the Commissioner, is properly attributable to the period of the lease unexpired at the time of the assignment or transfer by the lessee; and

(e) Five per centum of the capital value of land and improvements thereon owned and used or used rent free by the taxpayer for the purpose of residence or enjoyment and not for the purpose of profit or gain;

(f) Five per centum of the capital amount of a retiring allowance or gratuity, which is paid in a lump sum;

(g) All allowances, gratuities (except retiring allowances and gratuities paid in lump sums) bonuses, and premiums, whether in money or goods or sustenance or land allowed given or granted to a taxpayer in respect of or for or in relation to any employment or service of such taxpayer to the amount of the value of such allowances, gratuities, bonuses and premiums respectively; and

(h) A cash prize in a lottery.

16. (1.) For the purpose of ascertaining the taxable income of a company there shall be deducted from the total assessable income, in addition to any other deductions allowed by this Act, so much of the assessable income as is available for distribution and is distributed to the members or shareholders of the company:

Provided that in the case of a life insurance company there shall also be deducted so much of the income as consists of premiums paid upon the policies issued by the company:

(1A.) A company shall also pay income tax on—

(a) So much of the assessable income of the company as is distributed to the members, shareholders or stockholders of the company who are absentees; and

(b) The interest paid by the company to any person who is an absentee in respect of debentures of the company or on money lodged at interest with the company:

Provided that where a company pays tax under this subsection on any dividend or interest, and the member, shareholder or person pays tax on that dividend or interest, in addition to other income, the proportionate amount of tax paid by the company in respect of the dividend or interest shall be deducted from the total tax payable by the member, shareholder or person.

(1B.) A company, notwithstanding any contract, agreement, or arrangement entered into by it, may, with the approval of the Commissioner, charge pro ratâ the amount of the tax actually paid by it against those beneficially interested in the income of the company.

(2.) Where, in the opinion of the Commissioner, a company has not in any year distributed to its members or shareholders a reasonable proportion of its income, there shall be included in the income of each member or shareholder, without in any way diminishing the liability of the company, so much of the income of the company which is not distributed in that year as bears to that income the proportion which the interest of the member or shareholder in the paid-up capital of the company bears to the paid-up capital of the company:

Provided that where a company dealing with exported butter distributes within twelve months after the export of any consignment any funds held in reserve for the purpose of insuring regularity of price on that consignment tax shall not be levied on those funds in the hands of the company.

17. In connexion with income derived from mining operations (other than coal mining) carried on in Australia the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) The return required by this Act to be made by the person deriving the income in the first place shall show the total income so derived during the financial year in respect of which the return is compiled;

(b) The capital expended by the person carrying on the mining operations in necessary plant and development of a mining property from which income has been received (less the distributed and undistributed income derived by that person prior to the financial year in and for which income tax is being levied) shall be divided by the estimated number of years during which payable mining operations may be expected to continue under normal conditions, and the quotient thus obtained shall, in addition to any other deductions allowed by this Act, be deducted from the income;

(c) Where separate and distinct mining operations are carried on by the same person either alone or in association with any other person and a profit is made on some and a loss is made on others, that person shall be entitled to deduct the sum of the losses from the sum of the profits, and the balance of profits (if any) shall be included in the income of that person.

17A. Where a fire or marine insurance company carrying on business in Australia reinsures risks with a fire or marine insurance company not carrying on business in Australia the premium received by the company not carrying on business in Australia in respect of the reinsurances shall be deemed to be derived from a source in Australia, and to be income received by the company carrying on business in Australia as agent for the company not carrying on business in Australia.

18. (1.) In calculating the taxable income of a taxpayer the total assessable income derived by the taxpayer from all sources in Australia shall be taken as a basis, and from it there shall be deducted—

(a) All losses and outgoings, not being in the nature of losses and outgoings of capital, including commission, discount, travelling expenses, interest, and expenses actually incurred in Australia in gaining or producing the assessable income:

Provided that where a taxpayer employs his sons or daughters over the age of fifteen years in his business such sum as the Commissioner considers reasonable shall be deducted for their services;

(b) All rates and taxes, including State and Federal land taxes and State income tax, actually paid in Australia by the taxpayer during the year in which the income was received but not including any tax paid under this Act; but including the amount of war time profits tax payable in Australia in respect of any part of the income:

Provided that when a taxpayer receives a refund of the whole or part of any of the taxes mentioned in this section the amount of such refund shall be brought into account as income in the year in which the refund is received;

(c) Every premium or sum paid by the taxpayer on the insurance on his own life or that of his wife or children or for a deferred annuity or other provision for his wife or children or in respect of any fidelity guarantee or bond, which such taxpayer is required to provide in the exercise of his business: Provided that in no case shall any deduction be allowed under this paragraph beyond the sum of fifty pounds in the aggregate; or for any premium or sum paid in respect of any such insurance, annuity or other provision effected outside Australia;

(d) Sums expended for repairs to or on that part of any property occupied for the purpose of producing income or from which income is derived and for the repair of machinery, implements, utensils, rolling-stock, and articles employed by the taxpayer for the purpose of producing income:

Provided that the sums shall be estimated on the annual average sums expended for such purposes during the year in which the income was derived and the two years immediately preceding it;

(e) Such sums as the Commissioner thinks just and reasonable as representing the diminished value per centum by wear and tear, during the year in which the income was derived, of any machinery, implements, utensils, rolling-stock, and articles used by the taxpayer for the purpose of producing income:

Provided that where a deduction has been allowed under paragraph (d) of this section the Commissioner shall take into consideration the sum allowed under that paragraph in determining the sum to be allowed under this paragraph:

Provided further that where in any business income is set apart by the taxpayer by way of a fund to cover depreciation under any of the headings mentioned in this paragraph, the amount so set apart for the year in which the income was derived shall, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, be the sum to be deducted for depreciation;

(f) The sum actually expended by the taxpayer for food, and for rent of quarters, provided for an employee (other than a member of the taxpayer's own family under the age of fifteen years) who is employed exclusively in a business yielding an income to the taxpayer:

Provided that where a taxpayer provides quarters for such employees in any property in respect of which the taxpayer returns as income five per centum on the capital value of the property, the proportion of such income found by the Commissioner to be applicable to the quarters so provided shall be deducted;

(g) Payments not exceeding fifty pounds in the aggregate, made during the year in which the income was derived by a taxpayer who is in receipt of salary, wages, allowances, stipends, or annuity to superannuation, sustentation, widows or orphans fund established in Australia or any society duly registered under any Friendly Societies Act of the Commonwealth or a State;

(h) Gifts exceeding twenty pounds each to public charitable institutions in Australia and contributions exceeding five pounds in the aggregate in respect of each object of contribution made during the continuance of the present war to any public fund established in any part of the King's Dominions or in any country in alliance with Great Britain for any purpose connected with the present war.

Provided that payments shall not be allowable as deductions under this paragraph unless verified to the satisfaction of the Commissioner;

(i) Five per centum of the total amount paid in the year in which the income is derived in respect of calls on the shares of a company carrying on operations in Australia:

Provided that the total amount of calls paid in the year in which the income is derived shall be deducted in the case of calls on shares in a mining company carrying on operations in Australia; and

(j) Sums set aside or paid by an employer of labour as or to a fund to provide individual personal benefits, pensions, or retiring allowances to employees:

Provided that the deduction shall not be allowed unless the Commissioner is satisfied that the fund has been established or the payment made in such a manner that the rights of the employees to receive the benefits, pensions, or retiring allowances have been fully secured:

Provided also that if the Commissioner is satisfied that a sum has been so set aside or paid by any person to provide individual personal benefits, pensions, or retiring allowances to employees in any business the person setting aside or paying the sum shall be entitled to deduct it;

(k) The sum of twenty-six pounds in respect of each child, who is under the age of sixteen years at the beginning of the financial year in which the income was received, wholly maintained by any taxpayer who is not an absentee; and

(m) The interest paid on a mortgage of land to which section fourteen paragraph (e) of this Act applies if the taxpayer satisfies the Commissioner that the mortgage was entered into in good faith.

(2.) Where a taxpayer makes a return of income derived from personal exertion and from property the following deductions shall be made from the income from property:—

(a) The deductions specified in paragraph (b) of subsection (1.) of this section;

(b) Sums expended for repairs to or on any property in respect of which income taxable as income from property is returned;

(c) The interest paid on a mortgage of land to which section fourteen, paragraph (e), of this Act applies, together with interest paid on money used for the purpose of producing any other income taxable as income from property, and rent paid for property from which income taxable as income from property is derived; and

(d) Commissions paid for collection of income from property; and all other deductions allowed by this section shall be made from the income from personal exertion:

Provided that if the income from either source does not amount to the sum to be deducted from that source, the balance of the sum to be deducted shall be deducted from the income from the other source.

19. (1.) In the case of a person (other than a company, an absentee, or a person without a dependant) there shall be deducted, in addition to the sums set forth in the last preceding section, the following sums:—

(a) In respect of the income derived from personal exertion, the sum of One hundred and fifty-six pounds less One pound for every Four pounds by which the income exceeds One hundred and fifty-six pounds;

(b) In respect of income derived from property, the sum of One hundred and fifty-six pounds less Five pounds for every Eleven pounds by which the income exceeds One hundred and fifty-six pounds.

(2.) When the total taxable income consists partly of income from personal exertion and partly of income from property the deduction under this section shall be apportioned pro ratâ between the income from each source.

(3.) In the case of a person (not being an absentee) without a dependant there shall be deducted, in addition to the sums set forth in the last preceding section, the sum of One hundred pounds less One pound for every Four pounds by which the income exceeds One hundred pounds.

20. A deduction shall not, in any case, be made in respect of any of the following matters:—

(a) The cost incurred in the maintenance of any taxpayer, his family, or establishment other than as specified in section eighteen of this Act;

(b) Domestic or private expenses;

(c) Any loss or expense which is recoverable under any contract of insurance or indemnity;

(d) Income carried to any reserve fund or capitalised in any way;

(e) Money not wholly and exclusively laid out or expended for the production of income;

(f) Rent, or value of or cost or repairs or alterations to any premises or part of premises not occupied for the purpose of producing income;

(g) Any bad debts, except bad debts proved to be such to the satisfaction of the Commissioner and to have been incurred in and actually written off by the taxpayer in the year in which the income was derived:

Provided that all amounts at any time received on account of any such bad debts shall be credited in income in the year in which the same were received and be subject to tax:

Provided further that bad debts incurred in the year preceding that in which the income was derived and not proved to be bad and written off until the year in which the income was derived may be deducted if the Commissioner considers they would have been deductible if they had been proved to be bad and actually written off in the year in which the income was derived;

Provided further that if it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that in any business the annual provision made to cover bad debts written off each year represents the equivalent of the amount that would be allowable as a deduction under this paragraph, the amount of such annual provision or such portion thereof as the Commissioner considers fairly represents the equivalent of the allowable deduction may be allowed as the deduction under this paragraph; and

(h) Any loss not connected with or arising out of the production of income, or any capital withdrawn from any business producing income, or any sum used or intended to be used as capital in any business, or any capital used in the improvement of premises occupied for the purpose of any business;

(i) Any wastage or depreciation of lease or in respect of any improvements on leasehold property, or in respect of any loss occasioned by the expiration of any lease:

6 Geo. V., No. 47, 15 Nov., 1915.

7 Geo. V., No. 39, 21 Dec., 1916.

Provided that where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that any taxpayer (being the lessee under a lease or the assignee or transferee of a lease) has paid any fine, premium, or foregift, or consideration in the nature of a fine, premium, or foregift for a lease or a renewal of a lease or an amount for the assignment or transfer of a lease of premises or machinery used for the production of income, the Commissioner may allow, as a deduction for the purpose of arriving at the income, the sinking fund according to calculations based on the prescribed tables for the calculation of values required to recoup the taxpayer the amount so paid for the lease or renewal of the lease, or the assignment or transfer of the lease;

(j) Interest which might have been earned on any capital employed in the production of income, if lent out at interest;

(k) Payments made by husband to wife or by wife to husband.

21. Where a taxpayer either alone or with other persons carries on or is interested as a partner in more than one business the income (if any) from which would be taxable, and makes a profit in one or more of such businesses, and a loss in another or others, the taxpayer shall be entitled to deduct the sum of the losses from the sum of the profits.

22. (1.) Every person whose principal place of business is out of Australia and who either as owner or charterer of any ship carries passengers, live stock, mails, or goods shipped in Australia shall by his agent or other representative in Australia, when called upon by the Commissioner by notice published in the Gazette or by any other notice, make a return of the full amount payable to him (whether such amount be payable in or beyond Australia) in respect of the carriage of the passengers, live stock, mails, and goods.

(2.) The agent shall be assessed thereon and liable to pay tax on five pounds per centum of the amount so payable.

(3.) When such person has no recognised agent or representative in Australia other than the master of the ship, and the master fails to make any return, the Commissioner may assess such master, and the master shall be liable to pay the tax assessed.

(4.) The Commissioner shall give notice of every such assessment to the master, and the master shall pay the tax assessed prior to the clearance of the ship.

(5.) The Collector of Customs for the State in which the master is called upon to pay the tax shall not grant a clearance and may detain the ship, until he is satisfied that the tax has been paid.

23. When the carrying on of any business involves the exportation of live stock, produce, or other commodities or substances from Australia for sale beyond Australia, before any sale or contract of sale of them at a definite price has been made, the value of such live stock, produce, or other commodities or substances at the time of their export based upon the ruling Australian market value for home consumption of similar goods of similar quality shall be the value for the purpose of ascertaining the total income of such business from the sale of such goods for the purposes of section fourteen of this Act.

25. (1.) Partners shall be assessed and liable in respect of the income derived by them as partners as if it had been derived by a single person, without regard to the respective interests therein or to any deductions to which any of them may be entitled under this Act, and without taking into account any income derived by any one of them separately or as partner with any other person.

(2.) Each partner shall in addition be separately assessed and liable in respect of—

(a) His individual interest in the income, together with

(b) Any other income derived by him separately, and

(c) His individual interests in the income derived by any other partnership.

(3.) Partners shall in no case be deemed in respect of their joint assessment to be absentees; but any of the partners who is an absentee shall be separately assessed and liable under this section as an absentee.

26. (1.) Any person who derives income as a trustee shall be assessed and liable in respect of income tax as if he were beneficially entitled to the income:

Provided that where he derives income in respect of different trust estates for different beneficial owners who are not for any reason liable to be jointly assessed, the tax payable by him shall be separately assessed in respect of each of these estates:

Provided also that where a trustee also derives income beneficially, he shall be separately assessed for that income, and for the income of which he is trustee, unless for any reason he is liable to be jointly assessed independently of this section.

(2.) A trustee shall in no case be deemed to be an absentee; but any of the beneficiaries who are absentees shall be separately assessed and liable as absentees.

27. (1.) In the assessment of any partnership which derives the income in the first place, there shall be deducted from the total tax assessable to the partnership so much of the total tax as bears to the total tax the proportion which that part (if any) of the whole income which is distributed to any other taxpayer, who is entitled to receive it as income, bears to the whole income:

Provided that in the assessment of a partnership entered into before the commencement of this Act there shall be deducted from the total tax assessable to the partnership so much of the total tax as bears to the total tax the proportion which that part (if any) of the whole income which is distributed to the partners bears to the whole income.

(2.) In the assessment of a trustee, there shall be deducted from the tax assessable to him so much of the total tax as bears to the total tax the proportion which that part (if any) of the whole income, which is distributed to the beneficiaries, bears to the whole income.

(2A.) For the purposes of subsection (2.) of this section income shall be deemed to be distributed if, in the opinion of the Commissioner, it is held by the trustee for the benefit of a beneficiary, who is a minor, or for the reasonable expenditure of the trust estate.

Provided that where any income is in the opinion of the Commissioner held by the trustee for the benefit of a beneficiary who is a minor, the trustee shall pay tax in respect of that income as if the beneficiary had received it as his only income;

(3.) Notwithstanding anything contained in section fifty-two of this Act, a trustee is hereby authorised to retain from time to time out of any money which comes to him as trustee, so much as is necessary to pay the tax due by him under this section on so much of the whole income as is not distributed as income to the beneficiaries and to retain out of the income held by him for the benefit of a beneficiary who is a minor so much as is necessary to pay the tax due by him under this section in respect of that income.

28. (1.) For the purpose of assessment and levy of income tax every person who derived income from sources in Australia during the year beginning on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and ending the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and during each successive year beginning on the first day of July shall, when called upon by the Commissioner by notice published in the Gazette, furnish to the Commissioner in the prescribed manner a return setting forth a full and complete statement of the income derived by him when—

(a) In the case of a person not an absentee, the total income from all sources in Australia exceeds the sum of one hundred and fifty-six pounds.

(b) In the case of an absentee, the total income from all sources in Australia exceeds the sum of one pound.

(c) In the case of a person who is not married, has no dependants, and is not an absentee, the total income from all sources in Australia amounts to the sum of One hundred pounds or upwards.

(2.) The first assessment of income tax shall be as for the financial year commencing on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and each subsequent assessment shall be as for the succeeding financial year:

Provided that nothing in this subsection shall prevent the Commissioner requiring returns to be furnished to him before the commencement of any financial year for which income tax is to be assessed.

(3.) When the income of any person cannot be conveniently returned as for the year fixed by this Act, the Commissioner may accept returns made up to the date of the annual balance of the accounts of such person.

29. (1.) The Commissioner may at any time require any person to furnish a return or a further and fuller return of income either in respect of the whole or any part of income received by such person, whether on his own behalf or as an agent or trustee, and although a return has been previously made by such person for the same annual period.

30. Any return purporting to be made or signed by or on behalf of any taxpayer or person shall be deemed to have been duly made and signed by him until the contrary is proved.

34. The validity of any assessment shall not be affected by reason that any of the provisions of this Act have not been complied with.

35. (1.) The production of any assessment or of any document under the hand of the Commissioner purporting to be a copy of an assessment shall—

(a) Be conclusive evidence of the due making of the assessment; and

(b) Be conclusive evidence that the amount and all the particulars of the assessment are correct; except in proceedings on appeal against the assessment when it shall be primâ facie evidence only.

(2.) The production of any document under the hand of the Commissioner, purporting to be a copy of or extract from any return or assessment, shall for all purposes be sufficient evidence of the matter therein set forth, without producing the original.

36. (1.) As soon as conveniently may be after an assessment is made, the Commissioner shall cause notice in writing of the assessment to be given to the person liable to pay the income tax.

(2.) The omission to give any such notice shall not invalidate the assessment.

37. (1.) A taxpayer who is dissatisfied with the assessment made by the Commissioner under this Act may, within thirty days after service by post of the notice of assessment, lodge an objection in writing with the Commissioner against the assessment stating fully the reason for the objection.

(2.) The Commissioner shall consider the objection, and may either disallow it, or allow it, either wholly or in part.

(3.) The Commissioner shall give to the objector written notice of his decision on the objection.

(4.) A taxpayer who is dissatisfied with the decision of the Commissioner, may, within thirty days after the service by post of notice of the decision of the Commissioner, ask the Commissioner to treat his objection as an appeal, and forward it either to the High Court, the Supreme Court, or a County or District Court of a State, or such other Court as is specified in that behalf by proclamation, as required by the taxpayer, a taxpayer shall be limited on the hearing of his appeal to the grounds stated in his objection.

38. (1.) On the hearing of the appeal, the Court may make such order as it thinks fit, and may either reduce or increase the assessment, and its order shall be final and conclusive on all parties except as provided in this section.

(2.) The costs of the appeal shall be in the discretion of the Court.

39. (1.) The fact that an appeal is pending shall not in the meantime interfere with or affect the assessment appealed from; and income tax may be levied and recovered on the assessment as if no appeal were pending.

(2.) If the assessment is altered on appeal a due adjustment shall be made, for which purpose amounts paid in excess shall be refunded, and amounts short paid shall be recoverable as arrears.

41. (1.) Income tax shall be due and payable thirty days after the service by post of a notice of assessment.

(2.) Where an assessment is amended in accordance with this Act and additional income tax is thereby payable by the taxpayer, the additional income tax shall be due and payable thirty days after the service by post of the notice of amended assessment upon the taxpayer.

Provided that when the Commissioner has reason to believe that a taxpayer may leave Australia before the tax on an assessment or the additional tax on an amended assessment becomes due and payable, the tax or additional tax shall be due and payable on such date as the Commissioner fixes and notifies to the taxpayer.

42. The Commissioner may in such cases as he thinks fit—

(a) Extend the time for payment as he considers the circumstances warrant, or

(b) Permit the payment of tax to be made by instalments within such time as he considers the circumstances warrant.

43. If the income tax or additional income tax payable on an amended assessment is not paid before the expiration of the time specified in section forty-one of this Act or such further time as may be allowed by the Commissioner under section forty-two of this Act, additional tax amounting to ten per centum of the tax unpaid shall be payable in addition by way of penalty.

46. The following provisions shall apply in any case where, whether intentionally or not, a taxpayer escapes full taxation in his lifetime by reason of not having duly made full and complete returns:—

(a) The Commissioner shall have the same powers and remedies against the executors and administrators of the taxpayer in respect of the taxable income of the taxpayer as he would have had against the taxpayer in his lifetime.

(b) The executors and administrators shall make such returns as the Commissioner requires for the purpose of a full assessment.

(c) The assessment shall be at the rates payable in respect of years for which the income tax ought to have been paid and the amount shall (where the taxpayer's default was intentional) be treble the amount of the difference between the income tax so assessed and the amount actually paid by the taxpayer, and shall be a first charge on all the taxpayer's estate in the hands of the executors and administrators.

(d) No lapse of time shall prevent the operation of this section, and the Commissioner may take all such proceedings and exercise all such powers and remedies for the purpose of giving effect to this section and recovering the treble tax as in the case of ordinary assessments and taxation.

46A. (1.) Where a taxpayer dies on or after the first day of July in any year, and before furnishing a return of his income for the preceding year, his executors or administrators shall furnish a return of the income derived by such deceased taxpayer during the said preceding year, and shall be assessable in respect thereof and shall be chargeable with and pay tax thereon.

(2.) Where the executors or administrators are unable or fail so to furnish a return of such income the Commissioner may estimate same at and may make an assessment of the amount of which in his judgment tax ought to be charged.

47. No statute of limitations at any time in force shall bar or affect any action or remedy for the recovery of income tax.

48. Where a taxpayer makes a default in the payment of income tax, then without in any way relieving him from his liability the following provisions shall apply as long as the default continues:—

(a) If the tax is payable in respect of income derived solely or partially from rents, then the lessee or occupier of the property in respect of which the rent is paid shall be responsible for payment of the tax payable in respect of such rent, and it may be recovered from him as if he were the defaulting taxpayer.

(b) All payments made under this section by a lessee or occupier shall be deemed to be made on behalf of the defaulting taxpayer:

Provided that the responsibility of the lessee or occupier under this section shall only be to the extent of any rent or payments due by him to the taxpayer at the time of demand made or action brought by the Commissioner, or from time to time accruing due thereafter.

49. Every person who, under the provisions of this Act, pays any income tax for or on behalf of any other person, shall be entitled to recover the same from that other person as a debt, together with the costs of recovery, or to retain or deduct same out of any money in his hands belonging or payable to that other person.

50. Where two or more persons are jointly liable to income tax they shall each be liable for the whole tax, but any of them who has paid the tax may recover contributions as follows:—

(a) A person who has paid the tax in respect of any of the taxable income may recover by way of contribution from any other owner thereof a sum which bears the same proportion to the tax as the share of the taxable income of such other person bears to the whole of the taxable income.

(b) Every person entitled to contribution in respect of income tax under this section may sue therefor in any court of competent jurisdiction as money paid to the use of the person liable to contribute at his request; or may retain or deduct the amount of the contribution out of any moneys in his hands belonging or payable to the person liable to contribute.

6 Geo. V., No. 47, 15 Nov., 1915.
7 Geo. V., No. 39, 21 Dec., 1916.

51. Every company which carries on business in Australia shall at all times be represented by a person residing in Australia duly appointed by the company or by its duly authorised agent or attorney, and with respect to every such company and person the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) The person so appointed shall for the purpose of this Act be called the public officer of the company.

(b) The company shall keep the office of public officer constantly filled and no appointment of a public officer shall be deemed to be duly made until after notice thereof in writing, specifying the name of the officer and address for service, has been given to the Commissioner.

(c) If the company fails or neglects to duly appoint a public officer when and as often as such appointment becomes necessary, it shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty. Fifty pounds for every day during which the failure or neglect continues.

(d) Service of any document at the address for service or on the public officer of a company shall be sufficient service upon the company for all the purposes of this Act or the regulations, and if at any time there is no public officer then service upon any person acting or appearing to act in the business of the company shall be sufficient.

(e) The public officer shall be answerable for the doing of all such things as are required to be done by the company under this Act or the regulations by a taxpayer, and in case of default shall be liable to the same penalties.

(f) Everything done by the public officer which he is required to do in his representative capacity shall be deemed to have been done by the company. The absence or non-appointment of a public officer shall not exclude the company from the necessity of complying with any of the provisions of this Act or the regulations, or from the penalties of the section on the failure to comply therewith, but the company shall be liable to the provisions of this Act as if there were no requirement to appoint a public officer.

52. With respect to every agent and with respect also to every trustee, the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) He shall be answerable as taxpayer for the doing of all such things as are required to be done by virtue of this Act in respect of the income derived by him in his representative capacity and the payment of income tax thereon.

(b) He shall in respect of such income make the returns and be assessed thereon, but in his representative capacity only, and each return and assessment shall, except as otherwise provided by this Act, be separate and distinct from any other.

(c) If he is an executor or administrator, the returns shall be the same as far as practicable as the deceased person, if living, would have been liable to make.

(d) Where as agent or trustee he pays income tax, he is hereby authorised to recover the amount so paid from the person in whose behalf he paid it, or to deduct it from any money in his hands belonging to that person.

(e) He is hereby authorised and required to retain from time to time out of any money which comes to him in his representative capacity so much as is sufficient to pay the income tax which is or will become due in respect of the income.

(f) He is hereby made personally liable for the income tax payable in respect of the income if, after the Commissioner has required him to make a return, or while the tax remains unpaid, he disposes of or parts with any fund or money which comes to him from or out of which income tax could legally be paid, but he shall not be otherwise personally liable for the tax:

Provided that the Commissioner may, upon application by the agent, permit disposal of such fund or money or part thereof as he considers necessary.

(g) He is hereby indemnified for all payments which he makes in pursuance of this Act or by requirements of the Commissioner.

(h) For the purpose of insuring the payment of income tax the Commissioner shall have the same remedies against attachable property of any kind vested in or under the control or management or in the possession of any agent or trustee, as he would have against the property of any other taxpayer in respect of income tax, and in as full and ample a manner.

53. Every contract, agreement, or arrangement made or entered into, in writing or verbal, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, shall, so far as it has or purports to have the purpose or effect of in any way, directly or indirectly—

(a) Altering the incidence of any income tax; or

(b) Relieving any person from liability to pay any income tax or make any return; or

(c) Defeating, evading, or avoiding any duty or liability imposed on any person by this Act; or

(d) Preventing the operation of this Act in any respect;

be absolutely void, but without prejudice to its validity in any other respect or for any other purpose.

57. Any person who obstructs or hinders any officer acting in the discharge of his duty under this Act, or the regulations, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

58. (1.) Any person who—

(a) Fails or neglects to duly furnish any return as and when required by this Act or the regulations, or by the Commissioner; or

(b) Without just cause shown by him refuses or neglects to duly attend and give evidence when required by the Commissioner or any officer duly authorised by him, or to truly and fully answer any questions put to him, or to produce any book or papers required of him by the Commissioner or any such officer; or

(c) Knowingly and wilfully makes or delivers any false return, or makes any false answer, whether verbally or in writing, in relation to any matter or thing affecting his own or any other person's liability to or exemption from assessment of income tax, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: One hundred pounds.

(2.) A prosecution in respect of an offence against paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section may be commenced at any time.

59. (1.) Notwithstanding anything contained in the last preceding section, any person who fails or neglects to duly furnish any return as and when required by this Act or the regulations or by the Commissioner, or fails to include any assessable income in any return shall, if a taxpayer, be liable, except as provided in this section, by way of additional tax to pay an amount of ten per centum of the amount of tax assessable to him in addition to any additional tax which may become payable by him in accordance with section forty-three of this Act:

Provided that the Commissioner may, in any particular case, for reasons which he thinks sufficient remit the additional tax or any part thereof.

60. Any person who, with intention to defraud, in any return understates the amount of any income, shall be guilty of an indictable offence.

Penalty: Five hundred pounds and an amount equal to treble the amount of income tax which would have been avoided if the income stated in the return had been accepted as the correct income.

61. Any person who, by any wilful act, default, or neglect, or by any fraud, art, or contrivance whatever, avoids or attempts to avoid assessment or taxation, shall be guilty of an indictable offence.

Penalty: Five hundred pounds and treble the amount of tax payment whereof he has avoided or attempted to avoid.

62. Payment of penalties under this Act shall not relieve any person from liability to assessment and payment of any tax for which he would otherwise be liable.

63. Whoever aids, abets, counsels, or procures, or by act or omission is in any way directly or indirectly knowingly concerned in the commission of any offence under this Act, shall be deemed to have committed that offence, and shall be punishable accordingly.

COMMONWEALTH INCOME TAX ACT.

7 Geo. V., No. 37, 21 Dec., 1916.

4.—

(1.) The rate of the income tax in respect of income from personal exertion shall be as set out in the First Schedule to this Act.

(2.) The rate of the income tax in respect of income derived from property shall be as set out in the Second Schedule to this Act.

(3.) The rates of the income tax in respect of a total taxable income derived partly from personal exertion and partly from property shall be as set out in the Third Schedule to this Act.

(4.) Notwithstanding anything contained in the last three subsections the tax payable by any person who—

(a) Is not married, has no dependents, and is not an absentee, and

(b) Has a gross income of not less than One hundred pounds, or, in the case of a person carrying on business in Australia, has an income from the business which, after deducting from the gross income the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section eighteen of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1915-1916 amounts, together with his income from all other sources in Australia, to not less than One hundred pounds, and shall be One pound.

(5.) The rate of the income tax in respect of the income of a company shall be as set out in the Fourth Schedule to this Act.

5. In addition to the tax payable under the preceding provisions of this Act there shall be payable, in the case of incomes in respect of which tax is calculated under the First, Second or Third Schedule, an additional tax equal to twenty-five per centum of the tax so calculated.

6. Income tax shall be levied in and for the financial year beginning on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

RATE OF TAX UPON INCOME DERIVED FROM PERSONAL EXERTION.

For so much of the taxable income as does not exceed £7,600 the rate of tax per pound sterling shall be threepence and three eight-hundredths of one penny where the taxable value is one pound sterling, and shall increase uniformly with each increase of one pound sterling of the taxable income by three eight-hundredths of one penny.

For every pound sterling of taxable income in excess of £7,600 the rate of tax shall be sixty pence.

The average rate of tax for so much of the taxable income as does not exceed £7,600 may be calculated from the following formula:—

R=rate of tax in pence per pound sterling.
I=taxable income in pounds sterling.

$$R = \left(3 + \frac{3}{800} I\right) \text{ pence.}$$

SECOND SCHEDULE.

RATE OF TAX UPON INCOME DERIVED FROM PROPERTY.

(a) For income of a taxable value not exceeding £546 the rate of tax per pound sterling shall be calculated from the following formula:—

R=rate of tax in pence per pound sterling.
I=taxable income in pounds sterling.

(b) For income of a taxable value exceeding £546 but not exceeding £2,000 the rate of tax shall be calculated in the following manner:—

The rate of tax on each additional pound shall increase continuously with the increase of the taxable value of the income in a curve of the second degree in such a manner that the increment of tax for one pound increase of taxable income shall be—

at a taxable income of	£546 ..	11.713 pence
at a taxable income of	£600 ..	12.768 pence
at a taxable income of	£700 ..	14.672 pence
at a taxable income of	£800 ..	16.512 pence
at a taxable income of	£900 ..	18.288 pence
at a taxable income of	£1,000 ..	20.000 pence
at a taxable income of	£1,500 ..	27.600 pence
at a taxable income of	£2,000 ..	33.600 pence

(c) For income of a taxable value exceeding £2,000 the rate of tax shall be calculated in the following manner:—

For so much of taxable value as does not exceed £6,500, the rate of tax on each additional pound shall increase continuously with the increase of the taxable value of the income in a curve of the third degree in such a manner that the increment of tax for one pound increase of taxable income shall be—

at a taxable income of	£2,000 ..	33.600 pence
at a taxable income of	£2,500 ..	40.000 pence
at a taxable income of	£3,000 ..	45.300 pence
at a taxable income of	£3,500 ..	49.600 pence
at a taxable income of	£4,000 ..	53.000 pence
at a taxable income of	£4,500 ..	55.600 pence
at a taxable income of	£5,000 ..	57.500 pence
at a taxable income of	£5,500 ..	58.800 pence
at a taxable income of	£6,000 ..	59.600 pence
at a taxable income of	£6,500 ..	60.000 pence

For every pound sterling of taxable income in excess of £6,500 the rate of tax shall be sixty pence.

THIRD SCHEDULE.

RATES OF TAX IN RESPECT OF TAXABLE INCOME DERIVED PARTLY FROM PERSONAL EXERTION AND PARTLY FROM PROPERTY.

(a) For every pound sterling of taxable income derived from personal exertion, the rate of tax shall be ascertained by dividing the total amount of the tax that would be payable under the First Schedule if the total taxable income of the taxpayer were derived exclusively from personal exertion by the amount of the total taxable income.

(b) For every pound sterling of taxable income derived from property the rate of tax shall be ascertained by dividing the total amount of the tax that would be payable under the Second Schedule if the total taxable income of the taxpayer were derived exclusively from property by the amount of the total taxable income.

FOURTH SCHEDULE.

RATES OF TAX UPON THE INCOME OF A COMPANY.

(a) For every pound sterling of the taxable income of a Company which has not been distributed to the members or shareholders of the Company the rate of tax shall be one shilling and tenpence halfpenny.

(b) For every pound sterling of the income of a Company distributed to the members shareholders or stockholders of the Company who are absentees and of interest paid or credited by the Company to any person who is an absentee in respect of debentures of the Company or on money lodged at interest with the Company by such person the rate of tax shall be sixpence.

2 Geo. V., No. 12, 18 Dec., 1911.

3 Geo. V., No. 37, 24 Dec., 1912.

5 Geo. V., No. 29, 21 Dec., 1914.

"Absentee" means a person who does not reside in Australia or in a Territory under the authority of the Commonwealth; and includes a person who—

(a) Is absent from Australia and such Territories at the time when the ownership of his land for the purposes of this Act is determined; or

(b) Has been absent from Australia and such Territories during more than half of the period of twelve months immediately preceding that date, unless he satisfies the Commissioner that he resides in Australia or a Territory under the authority of the Commonwealth; but does not include a public officer of the Commonwealth or of a State who is absent in the performance of his duty.

3 Geo. V., No. 37, 24 Dec., 1912.

5 Geo. V., No. 29, 21 Dec., 1914.

"Owner," in relation to land, includes every person who jointly or severally, whether at law or in equity—

(a) Is entitled to the land for any estate of freehold in possession; or

(b) Is entitled to receive, or in receipt of, or if the land were let to a tenant would be entitled to receive, the rents and profits thereof, whether as beneficial owner, trustee, mortgagee in possession, or otherwise.

"Taxpayer" means any person chargeable with land tax.

"Improved value," in relation to land, means the capital sum which the fee-simple of the land might be expected to realise if offered for sale on such reasonable terms and conditions as a bonâ fide seller would require.

"Unimproved value," in relation to land, means the capital sum which the fee-simple of the land might be expected to realise if offered for sale on such reasonable terms and conditions as a bonâ fide seller would require, assuming that the improvements (if any) thereon or appertaining thereto and made or acquired by the owner or his predecessor in title had not been made.

"Value of improvements," in relation to land, means the added value which the improvements give to the land at the date of valuation irrespective of the cost of the improvements:

Provided that the added value shall in no case exceed the amount that should reasonably be involved in bringing the unimproved value of the land to its improved value as at the date of assessment.

"Company" includes all bodies or associations corporate or unincorporate.

10. (1.) Subject to the provisions of this Act, land tax shall be levied and paid upon the unimproved value of all lands within the Commonwealth which are owned by taxpayers, and which are not exempt from taxation under this Act.

(2.) The land tax shall be at such rates as are declared by the Parliament.

11. (1.) Land tax shall be payable by the owner of land upon the taxable value of all the land owned by him, and not exempt from taxation under this Act.

(2.) The taxable value of all the land owned by a person is—

(a) In the case of an absentee—the total sum of the unimproved value of each parcel of the land.

(b) In the case of an owner not being an absentee—the balance of the total sum of the unimproved value of each parcel of the land, after deducting the sum of five thousand pounds.

(3.) Every part of a holding which is separately held by any occupier, tenant, lessee, or owner, shall be deemed to be a separate parcel.

12. Land tax shall be charged on land as owned at noon on the thirtieth day of June immediately preceding the financial year in and for which the tax is levied:

Provided that an owner of the land who, before the thirtieth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and ten, has sold or agreed to sell or conveyed part of the land or has sold or agreed to sell or conveyed all the land to different persons, shall, if the Commissioner is satisfied that the sale agreement or conveyance was bonâ fide and not for the purpose of evading the payment of land tax, be separately assessed for the year ending on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, in respect of the land so sold or agreed to be sold or conveyed to any one person, and be charged with land tax in respect of that land as if it were the only land owned by him.

13. The following lands shall be exempt from taxation under this Act, namely:—

(a) All land owned by a State, or by a municipal, local, or other public authority of a State;

(b) All land owned by a Savings Bank regulated by any State Act;

(c) All land owned by any society registered under a State Act relating to friendly societies or trade unions;

(d) All land owned by any building society registered as a building society under any Act or State Act, not being land of which the society has become owner by foreclosure of a mortgage;

(e) All land owned by or in trust for a charitable or educational institution, if the institution, however formed or constituted, is carried on solely for charitable or educational purposes and not for pecuniary profit;

(f) All land owned by or in trust for a religious society, the proceeds whereof are devoted solely to the support of the aged or infirm clergy or ministers of the society or their wives or widows or children, or to religious charitable or educational purposes;

(g) All land owned by or in trust for any person or society and used or occupied by that person or society solely as a site for—

(1) A place of worship for a religious society, or a place of residence for any clergy or ministers or order of a religious society;

(2) A charitable or educational institution not carried on for pecuniary profit;

(3) A building owned and occupied by a society, club, or association, not carried on for pecuniary profit;

(4) A public library, institute, or museum;

(5) A show ground;

(6) A public cemetery or public burial ground;

(7) A public garden, public recreation ground, or public reserve;

(8) A public road; or

(9) A fire brigade station.

14. With respect to land which, under the last preceding section, is exempt from land tax—

(a) The exemption shall be limited to the owner specified in that section, and shall not extend to any other person who is the owner of any estate or interest in the land; and

(b) In the case of land owned by or vested in the Crown on any express or implied trust, the person entitled in equity to the rents and profits of the land shall, for the purposes of this Act, and to the extent to which he is so entitled, be deemed to be the owner of the land and be liable to land tax in respect thereof.

15. (1.) For the purposes of the assessment and levy of land tax, every taxpayer shall in each financial year, in the prescribed manner, and within the prescribed time, furnish returns setting forth a full and complete statement of all land owned by him at noon on the thirtieth day of June then last past, and of the improved value and unimproved value of every parcel thereof, with such other particulars as are prescribed:

Provided that, except as otherwise required by the Commissioner or prescribed, a taxpayer who in any financial year has furnished the full returns above mentioned may in each of the two succeeding years furnish, in lieu of such full returns as above mentioned, supplementary returns setting out a full and complete statement of all land of which he has become or ceased to be the owner since the thirtieth day of June preceding the date of the last full return, and of the improved and unimproved value of every parcel thereof, with such other particulars as are prescribed.

(2.) In addition to the returns specified in the last preceding subsection, every person, whether a taxpayer or not, shall, as and when required by the Commissioner, make such further or other returns as the Commissioner requires for the purposes of this Act.

17. (1.) The Commissioner may, if, as, and when he thinks fit, make or cause to be made valuations of any land.

(2.) The Commissioner may obtain and use as valuations, or for the purpose of preparing valuations, any valuations made by or for any State or any authority constituted under a State.

18. From the returns and valuations so made, if any, and from any other information in his possession, or from any one or more of those sources, and whether any return has been furnished or not, the Commissioner shall cause assessments to be made for the purpose of ascertaining the amount upon which land tax shall be levied.

19. If—

(a) Any taxpayer or person makes default in furnishing any return; or

(b) The Commissioner is not satisfied with the return made by any taxpayer or person; or

(c) The Commissioner has reason to believe that any person (though he may have furnished no return) is a taxpayer, the Commissioner may make an assessment of the amount on which, in his judgment, land tax ought to be levied, and the taxpayer or person shall be liable to land tax thereon, excepting so far as he establishes, on appeal, that the assessment is excessive.

(2.) For the purposes of this section the Commissioner may, inter alia—

(a) Place on or remove from an assessment the name of any person, or the particulars or valuation of any land, or

(b) Increase or reduce the assessed value of any land.

22. The validity of any assessment shall not be affected by reason that any of the provisions of this Act have not been complied with.

25. (1.) The owner of any freehold estate less than the fee-simple (other than an estate of freehold arising by virtue of a lease for life under a lease or an agreement for a lease) shall be deemed to be the owner of the fee-simple, to the exclusion of any person entitled in reversion or remainder:

Provided that, for the purpose of the assessment of a legal tenant for life of land, without power to sell, under a settlement made before the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and ten, or under the will of a testator who died before that day, the unimproved value of the land shall be calculated upon the basis of the rent which he obtains for the land, or which, if he let the land, he ought reasonably to be able to obtain so that the unimproved value of the land shall be taken to be equal to the unimproved value of land owned in fee-simple which would produce the same rent; and for the purpose of this section rent, in the case of improved land, means so much of the whole rent as bears to the whole rent the proportion which the unimproved value of the land bears to the improved value.

(2.) In this section "tenant for life" includes—

(a) A tenant for the life of another;

(b) A tenant for his own or any other life whose estate is liable to cease in any event during that life;

* * * * * * *

26. The holder of land under a purchase or a right of purchase from the Crown upon conditions, under the laws of a State relating to the alienation or disposition of Crown lands, shall be deemed to be the owner of the land if all the conditions other than the payment of purchase money have been fulfilled, but not otherwise.

27. (1.) The owner of a leasehold estate in land, under a lease made or agreed to be made after the commencement of this Act, not being a lease made in pursuance of an agreement made before the commencement of this Act, shall be deemed (though not to the exclusion of the liability of any other person) to be the owner of land of an unimproved value equal to the unimproved value of his estate:

Provided that where the owner of a leasehold estate has, within five years previously, been the owner of a freehold estate in the land he shall be assessed and liable to land tax as if he were the owner of the fee-simple.

(2.) He shall be entitled to deduct from the tax payable by him in respect of the unimproved value of his estate an amount equal to the sum of—

(a) The amount which bears the same proportion to the tax payable in respect of the land by the owner of any freehold estate as the unimproved value of the leasehold estate bears to the unimproved value of the land, and

(b) The amount which bears the same proportion to the tax payable in respect of the unimproved value of any precedent leasehold estate as the unimproved value of the leasehold estate bears to the unimproved value of the precedent leasehold estate.

[*] (3.) Notwithstanding anything in this section, where the owner of the fee-simple is exempt under sections thirteen or forty-one of this Act from taxation in respect of the land or the lease is a lease from the Crown, a lessee of the land shall be assessed and liable for land tax as if the lease were made before the commencement of this Act, and not otherwise.

(4.) For the purposes of this section—

(a) The unimproved value of a leasehold estate means the present value of the annual value of the land calculated for the unexpired period of the lease at four and a-half per centum, according to calculations based on the prescribed tables for the calculation of values;

(b) The annual value of land means four and a-half per centum of the unimproved value of the land:

Provided that the Commissioner may from time to time, if he thinks fit, alter the rate per centum upon which the calculations in this section are based; and

(c) The owner of a leasehold estate includes the lessee of land for life under a lease or agreement for a lease.

28. (1.) The owner of a freehold estate in land who or whose predecessor in title has before the commencement of this Act entered into an agreement to make or granted a lease of the land shall, for the purpose of his assessment under this Act, be entitled, during the currency of the lease, to have the unimproved value (if any) of the lease deducted from the unimproved value of the land.

(2.) The owner of a leasehold estate in land, under a lease made or agreed to be made before the commencement of this Act, shall be deemed to be, in respect of the land, the owner of land of an unimproved value equal to the unimproved value (if any) of his estate; but if he has, before the commencement of this Act, entered into an agreement to make or granted a lease of the land, he shall be entitled, during the currency of that lease, to have the unimproved value (if any) of that lease deducted from the unimproved value of his estate:

Provided that where the owner of the leasehold estate has, within three years before the commencement of this Act, been the owner of a freehold estate in the land, he shall be assessed and liable to land tax as if his leasehold estate had been under a lease made after the commencement of this Act.

(3.) For the purposes of this section—

(a) The unimproved value of a lease or leasehold estate in land means the value of the amount (if any) by which four and a-half per centum of the unimproved value of land exceeds the annual rent reserved by the lease, calculated for the unexpired period of the lease at four and a-half per centum, according to the calculations based on the prescribed tables for the calculation of values:

Provided that the Commissioner may from time to time, if he thinks fit, alter the rate per centum upon which the calculations in this section are based;

(b) Rent, in the case of a lease of improved land, means so much of the whole rent as bears to the whole rent the proportion which the unimproved value of the land at the date of the lease bore to the improved value:

Provided that, where onerous conditions for constructing buildings, works, or other improvements upon the land, or expending money thereon, are imposed upon the lessee, or where any fine, premium, or foregift, or consideration in the nature of fine, premium, or foregift, is payable by the lessee, the Commissioner may assess the amount (if any) which ought, for the purposes of this section, to be added to the value of the rent in respect thereof, and the value of the rent shall be deemed to be increased by that amount accordingly;

(c) The owner of a leasehold estate includes the lessee of land for life under a lease or an agreement for a lease.

29. Notwithstanding anything in the last two preceding sections, the owner of a leasehold estate under the laws of a State or part of the Commonwealth relating to the alienation or occupation of Crown lands or relating to mining (not being a perpetual lease or a lease with a right of purchase or a lease of land to be used for pastoral grazing or cultivation purposes or a homestead lease or a mining lease or a timber lease) shall not be liable to assessment or taxation in respect of the estate, and the owner of a leasehold estate under any such laws for a term not greater than one year certain shall not be so liable:

Provided that in the assessment of the unimproved value of a lease the value of any metals or minerals or other rights reserved to the Crown shall be excluded.

30. A covenant or stipulation in a lease or agreement for a lease of land, which has or purports to have the purpose or effect of imposing on the lessee the obligation of paying taxes on the land—

(a) If the lease or agreement was made before the commencement of this Act—shall not be valid to impose on the lessee the obligation of paying land tax to any greater amount than the amount (if any) which would have been payable by the lessee if he had been the owner of the land included in the lease and of no other land; and

(b) If the lease or agreement was made after the commencement of this Act—shall be absolutely void.

31. No deduction from the unimproved value of any land shall be allowed in respect of any mortgage to which the land is subject, or in respect of any unpaid purchase money; and a mortgagor shall be assessed and liable for land tax as if he were the owner of an unencumbered estate.

32. A mortgagee, or other person owning any estate or interest in land by way of security for money, shall not be liable to land tax in respect of that mortgage, estate, or interest:

Provided that a mortgagee in possession of land, or any other person in possession of land by way of security for money, shall so long as such possession continues (though not to the exclusion of any other person) be deemed to be the owner of the land; and the mortgagor shall be deemed to be the primary taxpayer, and the mortgagee in possession to be the secondary taxpayer; and there shall be deducted from the tax payable by the latter in respect of the land such amount (if any) as is necessary to prevent double taxation:

Provided further that the last preceding proviso shall not apply—

(a) To any mortgagee or person in possession whose possession began before the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and ten; nor

(b) To any mortgagee or person in possession until a period of three years after he has entered into possession;

but any such mortgagee or person in possession shall, if the mortgagor makes default in the payment of land tax in respect of the land, be responsible for the payment of the tax due by the mortgagor, which payment shall be deemed to be made by him on behalf of the mortgagor.

33. (1.) Any person in whom land is vested as a trustee shall be assessed and liable in respect of land tax as if he were beneficially entitled to the land:

Provided that where he is the owner of different lands in severalty, in trust for different beneficial owners who are not for any reason liable to be jointly assessed, the tax so payable by him shall be separately assessed in respect of each of those lands:

Provided also that when a trustee is also the beneficial owner of other land, he shall be separately assessed for that land, and for the land of which he is a trustee, unless for any reason he is liable to be jointly assessed independently of this section.

* * * * * * * *

(2.) A trustee shall in no case be deemed to be an absentee; but any of the beneficiaries who are absentees shall be separately assessed and liable as absentees.

36. (1.) Land owned by a married woman for her sole and separate use shall be liable to assessment and taxation as if she were unmarried.

(2.) Where—

(a) A husband has directly or indirectly transferred land to or in trust for his wife, or

(b) A wife has directly or indirectly transferred land to or in trust for her husband,

(they not being judicially separated), the husband and wife shall, unless the Commissioner is satisfied that the transfer was not for the purpose of evading land tax, be deemed to be joint owners of all the land owned by either of them:

Provided that this subsection shall not apply to settlements made before the thirtieth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and ten.

37. (1.) Where, before or after the commencement of this Act, an agreement has been made for the sale of land, whether the agreement has been completed by conveyance or not—

(a) The buyer shall be deemed to be the owner of the land (though not to the exclusion of the liability of any other person) so soon as he has obtained possession of the land; and

(b) The seller shall be deemed to remain the owner of the land (though not to the exclusion of the liability of any other person) until possession of the land has been delivered to the purchaser and at least fifteen per centum of the purchase money has been paid:

Provided that the Commissioner may exempt the seller from the provisions of this section, if he is satisfied that the agreement for sale has been made in good faith, and not for the purpose of evading the payment of land tax, and that the agreement is still in force; as to all which matters the decision of the Commissioner shall be final and conclusive.

(2.) In estimating the amount of purchase money which has been paid, all money—

(a) Owing by the purchaser to the seller, and secured by any mortgage or charge on the land; or

(b) Lent to the purchaser by the seller; or

(c) Owing by the purchaser to any other person, and directly or indirectly guaranteed by the seller, shall be deemed to be unpaid purchase money.

(3.) When by virtue of this section the buyer and seller of any land are both liable for land tax in respect thereof, the buyer shall be deemed to be the primary taxpayer, and the seller to be the secondary taxpayer; and there shall be deducted from the tax payable by the seller in respect of the land such amount (if any) as is necessary to prevent double taxation.

38. (1.) Joint owners of land shall be assessed and liable for land tax in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2.) Joint owners (except those of them whose interests are exempt from taxation under section thirteen or section forty-one of this Act) shall be jointly assessed and liable in respect of the land (exclusive of the interest of any joint owner so exempt) as if it were owned by a single person, without regard to their respective interests therein or to any deductions to which any of them may be entitled under this Act, and without taking into account any land owned by any one of them in severalty or as joint owner with any other person.

(3.) Each joint owner of land shall in addition be separately assessed and liable in respect of—

(a) His individual interest in the land (as if he were the owner of a part of the land in proportion to his interest), together with

(b) Any other land owned by him in severalty, and

(c) His individual interests in any other land.

(4.) The joint owners in respect of their joint assessment shall be deemed to be the primary taxpayer, and each joint owner in respect of his separate assessment to be a secondary taxpayer; and from the tax payable, in respect of his interest in the land, by each joint owner under the last preceding subsection, there shall be deducted such amount (if any) as is necessary to prevent double taxation.

(5.) Joint owners shall in no case be deemed in respect of their joint assessment to be absentees; but any of them who is an absentee shall be separately assessed and liable, under this section, as an absentee.

(6.) This section shall not apply in the case of joint owners who have made partition of their interests since the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and ten, and before the thirtieth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and ten.

(7.) Where, under a settlement made before the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and ten, or under the will of a testator who died before that day, the beneficial interest in any land or in the income therefrom is for the time being shared among a number of persons, all of whom are relatives of the settlor or testator by blood, marriage, or adoption, in such a way that they are taxable as joint owners under this Act, then, for the purpose of their joint assessment as such joint owners, there may be deducted from the unimproved value of the land,

5 Geo. V., No. 29, 21 Dec., 1914.

instead of the sum of five thousand pounds as provided by paragraph (b) of subsection (2.) of section eleven of this Act, the aggregate of the following sums, namely:—

In respect of each of the joint owners who hold an original share in the land under the settlement or will—

(a) The sum of five thousand pounds, or

(b) The sum which bears the same proportion to the unimproved value of the land, after deducting the value of any annuity under section thirty-four of this Act, as the share bears to the whole,

whichever is the less:

Provided that, where the same persons have a beneficial interest in land or in the income therefrom under more than one settlement or will or under a settlement and will, they shall be jointly assessed in respect of the whole of their interests under the settlements or wills or settlement and will, and there may be deducted in the joint assessment from the unimproved value of the land comprised in the joint assessment, instead of the sum of five thousand pounds as provided by paragraph (b) of subsection (2.) of section eleven of this Act, the aggregate of the following sums, namely:—

In respect of each of the joint owners who holds an original share in the land being jointly assessed—

(a) The total sum of five thousand pounds, or

(b) The sum which bears the same proportion to the unimproved value of the land after deducting the value of any annuity under section thirty-four of this Act as the share bears to the whole,

whichever is the less.

(8.) In this section, "original share in the land" means the share of one of the persons specified in the settlement or will as entitled to the first life or greater interest thereunder in the land or the income therefrom, or to the first such interest in remainder after a life interest of the settlor or after a life interest of the wife or husband of the settlor or testator.

39. (1.) All land owned by a company shall be deemed (though not to the exclusion of the liability of the company or of any other persons) to be owned by the shareholders of the company as joint owners, in the proportions of their interests in the paid-up capital of the company.

(2.) The provisions of section thirty-eight of this Act shall apply accordingly (but so that the assessment and liability of the company shall be in lieu of the joint assessment and liability under subsection (2.) of that section), and the shareholders shall be separately assessed and liable, and entitled to deductions, in accordance with that section.

(3.) The term "shareholder," in this and the next following section includes all persons on whose behalf a share in the company is held by a trustee or by any other person.

(4.) A company shall in no case be deemed to be an absentee; but any of the shareholders who are absentees shall be separately assessed and liable as absentees.

(5.) A company shall be deemed to be the agent in the Commonwealth for the purposes of this Act for an absentee shareholder in respect of his interest in the company.

40. (1.) Any two or more companies which consist substantially of the same shareholders shall be deemed to be a single company, and shall be jointly assessed and liable accordingly, with such rights of contribution or indemnity between themselves as is just.

(2.) Two companies shall be deemed to consist substantially of the same shareholders if not less than three-fourths of the paid-up capital of each of them is held by or on behalf of shareholders of the other. Shares in one company held by or on behalf of another company shall for this purpose be deemed to be held by shareholders of the last-mentioned company.

41. (1.) Land owned by a Mutual Life Assurance Society (not being land of which the society is mortgagee in possession, or which the society has acquired under or by virtue of a mortgage) shall not be liable as against the society or its policy-holders, to assessment or taxation under this Act.

(2.) For the purposes of this section, a Mutual Life Assurance Society means any assurance society all the profits of which are divided among the policy-holders. In the case of a society which has shareholders who are entitled to receive a share of the profits of the society, a proportion of such land owned by the society, corresponding to the proportion of the total assurances of the society which is represented by its Australian policies, shall not be liable as against the society or its policy-holders to assessment or taxation under this Act.

42. Notwithstanding any conveyance, transfer, declaration of trust, settlement, or other disposition of land, whether made before or after the commencement of the Act, the person making the same shall, so long as he remains or is in possession or in receipt of the rents and profits of the land, whether on his own account or an account of any other person, be deemed (though not to the exclusion of any other person) to be the owner of the land.

43A. Where in this Act reference is made to the tax payable by a person in respect of any land or interest, the reference is to so much of the whole tax payable by him as bears to the whole tax payable by him in proportion which the unimproved value of the land or interest referred to bears to the unimproved value of all the land owned by him.

44. (1.) Any taxpayer or person may within the prescribed time appeal to the High Court in its original jurisdiction, the Supreme Court or a County or District Court of a State, or such other Court as is specified in that behalf by proclamation, against any assessment by the Commissioner with respect to his land, on the ground that he is not liable for the tax or any part thereof, or that the assessment is excessive.

45. (1.) The fact that an appeal is pending shall not in the meantime interfere with or affect the assessment appealed from; and land tax may be levied and recovered on the assessment as if no appeal were pending.

(2.) If the assessment is altered on appeal a due adjustment shall be made, for which purpose amounts paid in excess shall be refunded, and amounts short paid shall be recoverable as arrears.

46. (1.) On the hearing of the appeal the Court may make such order as it thinks fit, and may either reduce or increase the assessment, and its order shall be final and conclusive on all parties except as provided in this section.

(4.) An appeal shall lie to the High Court, in its appellate jurisdiction, from any order made under subsection (1.) of this section.

48. For the protection of the revenue against the undervaluation of land, if the Commissioner is of opinion that the owner of any land has, in a return furnished under this Act, understated the unimproved value of the land, to the extent of twenty-five per centum or more, the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) The Commissioner may apply to the High Court for a declaration that the Commonwealth is entitled to acquire the land under this Act.

(b) The application shall be heard by a Justice of the High Court, whose decision shall be final and without appeal; and the owner of the land shall be entitled to be heard.

(c) If the Justice—

(i.) Is satisfied that the owner has understated the unimproved value of the land to the extent of twenty-five per centum or more; and

(ii.) Is not satisfied that the undervaluation was not made with a view to evading taxation, he shall make the declaration applied for.

(d) Thereupon the Governor-General may acquire the land on behalf of the Commonwealth; and for that purpose may, within a reasonable time, by proclamation, declare that the land is vested in the Commonwealth, but subject to all leases, mortgages, and other charges affecting the land.

(e) The effect of the proclamation shall be to vest the land in the Commonwealth for the same estate or interest therein as the owner was entitled to at the date of the publication of the proclamation in the Gazette, but subject to all leases, mortgages, and other charges then affecting the land, and to entitle the owner to compensation therefor upon the basis of the improved value obtained by adding the fair value of improvements to the unimproved value stated in the return, together with the amount of ten per centum upon that improved value, by way of an allowance for compulsory dispossession.

(f) The provisions of the Lands Acquisition Act 1906 shall, so far as applicable, but subject to this Act, apply in relation to the land so acquired as if it had been acquired under that Act.

1 Geo. V., No. 22, 17 Nov., 1910.

2 Geo. V., No. 12, 18 Dec., 1911.

3 Geo. V., No. 37, 24 Dec., 1912.

5 Geo. V., No. 29, 21 Dec., 1914.

(g) The Minister shall forthwith notify a Minister of the Crown for the State in which the land is situate that the land has been so acquired; and if within three months after the notification the Government of the State requires the Commonwealth to convey the land to the State, in consideration of the payment by the State to the Commonwealth of the sum payable by the Commonwealth to the owner, together with the costs of conveyance and any expenses incurred by the Commonwealth in regard to the land acquired, the land shall be conveyed to the State accordingly.

(h) If the Government of the State does not so require the Commonwealth to convey the land to the State, the Governor-General may authorise the use of the land for any public purpose of the Commonwealth for which it is required; or, if it is not required for any public purpose, may authorise the disposal of it as he thinks fit.

49. Land tax for each year shall be due and payable on such date as appointed in that behalf by the Governor-General by notice published in the Gazette not less than one month before the date so appointed.

50. Every person who fails to pay the amount payable by him in respect of land tax before the expiration of thirty days after it has become due shall be liable by way of additional tax to a further amount of ten per centum on the amount of the tax:

Provided that the Commissioner may in any particular case, for reasons which in his discretion he thinks sufficient, remit the additional tax or any part thereof.

52. If, in any proceedings against a taxpayer for the recovery of land tax, the defendant—

(a) Is absent from Australia and has not to the knowledge of the Commissioner after reasonable inquiry in that behalf any attorney or agent in Australia on whom service of process can be effected; or service of any process in the proceedings may without leave of the Court be effected on him by posting the same or a sealed copy thereof in a letter addressed to him at his last known place of business or abode in Australia, or by fixing the same on a conspicuous part of the land to which the tax relates.

(b) Cannot after reasonable inquiry be found,

53. The following provisions shall apply in any case where, whether intentionally or not, a taxpayer escapes full taxation in his lifetime by reason of not having duly made full and complete returns:—

(a) The Commissioner shall have the same powers and remedies against the executors and administrators of the taxpayer in respect of the estate of the taxpayer as he would have had against the taxpayer in his lifetime.

(b) The executors and administrators shall make such returns as the Commissioner requires for the purpose of a full assessment.

(c) The assessment shall be at the rates payable in respect of the years for which the tax ought to have been paid, and the amount payable shall (where the taxpayer's default was intentional) be treble the amount of the difference between the tax so assessed and the amount actually paid by the taxpayer, and shall be a first charge on all the taxpayer's estate in the hands of the executors and administrators.

(d) No lapse of time shall prevent the operation of this section, and the Commissioner may take all such proceedings and exercise all such powers and remedies for the purpose of giving effect to this section and recovering the treble tax as in the case of ordinary assessments and taxation.

55. Where a taxpayer makes a default in the payment of land tax, then without in any way releasing him from his liability the following provisions shall apply as long as the default continues:—

(a) If the tax is payable in respect of land subject to any lease or occupied by any person, then the lessee or occupier shall be responsible for the payment of the tax and it may be recovered from him as if he were the defaulting taxpayer.

(b) All payments made under this section by a lessee or occupier shall be deemed to be made on behalf of the defaulting taxpayer:

Provided that the responsibility of the lessee or occupier under this section shall only be to the extent of any rent or payments due by him to the taxpayer at the time of demand made or action brought by the Commissioner, or from time to time accruing due thereafter.

56. (1.) Land tax shall until payment be a first charge upon the land taxed in priority over all other encumbrances whatever, and notwithstanding any disposition of the land it shall continue to be liable in the hands of any purchaser or holder for the payment of the tax so long as it remains unpaid:

Provided that no such charge shall be of effect as against a bonâ fide purchaser for value who at the time of purchase made due inquiry but had no notice of the liability:

Provided further that a purchaser shall be deemed to have made due inquiry who has made inquiry of the Commissioner as prescribed.

57. Every person who, under the provision of this Act, pays any tax for or on behalf of any other person, shall be entitled to recover the same from that other person as a debt, together with the costs of recovery, or to retain or deduct same out of any money in his hands belonging or payable to that other person.

59. If within three years after any land tax has been paid it is discovered that too little in amount has been paid, the taxpayer liable for the tax shall forthwith pay the deficiency:

Provided that nothing in this section shall operate to limit or affect the liability of the taxpayer or any other person under section fifty-three of this Act.

60. If within three years after any land tax has been paid, it is discovered that too much in amount has been paid, whether by reason of duplicate taxation or otherwise, the Commissioner upon being satisfied thereof shall order the excess to be returned to the taxpayer entitled thereto.

61. Every company which is a taxpayer and which carries on business in Australia shall at all times be represented by a person residing in Australia duly appointed by the company or by its duly authorised agent or attorney, and with respect to every such company and person the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) The person so appointed shall for the purposes of this Act be called the public officer of the company.

(b) The company shall keep the office of public officer constantly filled, and no appointment of a public officer shall be deemed to be duly made until after notice thereof in writing, specifying the name of the officer and address for service, has been given to the Commissioner.

(c) If the company fails or neglects to duly appoint a public officer when and as often as such appointment becomes necessary, it shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds for every day during which the failure or neglect continues.

(d) Service of any document at the address for service or on the public officer of a company shall be sufficient service upon the company for all the purposes of this Act or the Regulations, and if at any time there is no public officer then service upon any person acting or appearing to act in the business of the company shall be sufficient.

(e) The public officer shall be answerable for the doing of all such things as are required to be done by the company under this Act or the Regulations by a taxpayer, and in case of default shall be liable to the same penalties.

(f) Everything done by the public officer which he is required to do in his representative capacity shall be deemed to have been done by the company. The absence or non-appointment of a public officer shall not exonerate the company from the necessity of complying with any of the provisions of this Act or the Regulations, or from the penalties consequent on the failure to comply therewith, but the company shall be liable to the provisions of this Act as if there were no requirement to appoint a public officer.

62. With respect to every agent, and with respect also to every trustee, the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) He shall be answerable as taxpayer for the doing of all such things as are required to be done by virtue of this Act in respect of the land held by him in his representative capacity and the payment of land tax thereon.

1 Geo. V., No. 22, 17 Nov., 1910.

2 Geo. V., No. 12, 18 Dec., 1911.

3 Geo. V., No. 37, 24 Dec., 1912.

5 Geo. V., No. 29, 21 Dec., 1914.

(b) He shall in respect of such land make the returns and be assessed thereon, but in his representative capacity only, and each return and assessment shall except as otherwise provided by this Act be separate and distinct from any other.

(c) If he is an executor or administrator, the returns shall be the same as far as practicable as the deceased person if living would have been liable to make.

(d) Where as agent or trustee he pays land tax, he is hereby authorised to recover the amount so paid from the person in whose behalf he paid it, or to deduct it from any money in his hands belonging to that person.

(e) He is hereby authorised and required to retain from time to time out of any money which comes to him in his representative capacity so much as is sufficient to pay the land tax which is or will become due in respect of the land.

(f) He is hereby made personally liable for the land tax payable in respect of the land if while the tax remains unpaid he alienates charges or disposes of any real or personal property which is held by him in his representative capacity, but he shall not be otherwise personally liable for the tax.

(g) If he is a trustee he may raise whatever moneys are necessary in order to pay the land tax by mortgage or charge with or without power of sale of any real or personal property held by him as such trustee, and may apply the money so raised or any other moneys in his possession as such trustee in paying the tax.

(h) He is hereby indemnified for all payments which he makes in pursuance of this Act or by requirements of the Commissioner.

(i) For the purpose of insuring the payment of land tax the Commissioner shall have the same remedies, against all land or other property of any kind vested in or under the control or management or in the possession of any agent or trustee, as he would have against the land or other property of any other taxpayer in respect of land tax, and in as full and ample a manner.

63. Every contract, agreement, or arrangement made or entered into, in writing or verbally, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, shall (except as provided by section thirty of this Act) so far as it has or purports to have the purpose or effect of in any way, directly or indirectly,

(a) Altering the incidence of any land tax; or

(b) Relieving any person from liability to pay any land tax or make any return; or

(c) Defeating, evading, or avoiding any duty or liability imposed on any person by this Act; or

(d) Preventing the operation of this Act in any respect, be absolutely void, but without prejudice to its validity in any other respect or for any other purpose.

67. Any person who obstructs or hinders any officer acting in the discharge of his duty under this Act or the Regulations shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

68. Any person who—

(a) Fails or neglects to duly furnish any return as and when required by this Act or the Regulations or by the Commissioner; or

(b) Without just cause shown by him refuses or neglects to duly attend and give evidence when required by the Commissioner or any officer duly authorised by him, or to truly and fully answer any questions put to him, or to produce any book or papers required of him by the Commissioner or any such officer; or

(c) Knowingly and wilfully makes or delivers any false return, or makes any false answer, whether verbally or in writing, in relation to any matter or thing affecting his own or any other person's liability to or exemption from assessment of land tax, shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: One hundred pounds.

69. (1.) Any person who, with intent to defraud, in any return understates the unimproved value of any land, shall be guilty of an indictable offence.

Penalty: Five hundred pounds and an amount equal to treble the amount of the tax which would have been evaded if the value stated in the return had been accepted as the unimproved value of the land; or forfeiture of the land undervalued or any part thereof.

(2.) Where the value stated in the return is less, by twenty-five per centum or more, than the value as found by the jury, the value shall be presumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, to have been understated with intent to defraud.

70. Any person who, by any wilful act default or neglect, or by any fraud, art, or contrivance whatever, evades or attempts to evade assessment or taxation, shall be guilty of an indictable offence.

Penalty: Five hundred pounds and treble the amount of the tax payment whereof he has evaded or attempted to evade; or forfeiture of the land in respect of which the offence was committed, or any part thereof.

72. Payment of penalties under this Act shall not relieve any person from liability to assessment and payment of any tax for which he would otherwise be liable.

73. Whoever aids, abets, counsels, or procures, or by act or omission is in any way directly or indirectly knowingly concerned in the commission of any offence under this Act, shall be deemed to have committed that offence, and shall be punishable accordingly.

COMMONWEALTH LAND TAX.

1 Geo. V., No. 21, 17 Nov., 1910.

5 Geo. V., No. 28, 21 Dec., 1914.

2. The First Schedule to the Principal Act is repealed, and the following schedule is inserted in its stead:—

"FIRST SCHEDULE.

RATE OF TAX WHEN AN OWNER IS NOT AN ABSENTEE.

For so much of the taxable value as does not exceed £75,000, the rate of tax per pound sterling shall be one penny ane one eighteen thousand seven hundred and fiftieth of one penny where the taxable value is one pound sterling, and shall increase uniformly with each increase of one pound sterling of the taxable value by one eighteen thousand seven hundred and fiftieth of one penny.

For every pound sterling of taxable value in excess of £75,000, the rate of tax shall be ninepence.

The rate of tax for so much of the taxable value as does not exceed £75,000 may be calculated from the following formula:—

R=rate of tax in pence per pound sterling.
V=taxable value in pounds sterling.

3. The Second Schedule to the Principal Act is repealed, and the following schedule is inserted in its stead:—

"SECOND SCHEDULE.

RATE OF TAX WHEN OWNER IS AN ABSENTEE.

For so much of the taxable value as does not exceed £5,000, the rate of tax per pound sterling shall be one penny. For so much of the taxable value as exceeds £5,000, but does not exceed £80,000, the rate of tax per pound sterling shall be twopence and one eighteen thousand seven hundred and fiftieth of one penny where the excess is one pound sterling, and shall increase uniformly with each increase of one pound sterling in the taxable value by one eighteen thousand seven hundred and fiftieth of one penny.

For every pound sterling of taxable value in excess of £80,000, the rate of tax shall be tenpence.

The rate of tax for so much of the taxable value as exceeds £5,000, and does not exceed £80,000, may be calculated by the following formula:—

R=rate of tax in pence per pound sterling.
E=excess of taxable value over £5,000 in pounds sterling.

4. The amendments of the Principal Act made by this Act shall apply to land tax levied in and for the financial year beginning on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and all subsequent years.

ENTERTAINMENTS TAX ASSESSMENT ACT.

7 Geo. V., No. 36, 21 Dec., 1916.

"Admission" means admission as a spectator or one of an audience and includes admission for the purpose of participating in any exercise in which the payment for admission entitles him to participate;

"Entertainment" includes any exhibition, performance, lecture, amusement, game or sport for admission to which payment is made;

"Proprietor" in relation to any entertainment includes any person responsible for the management thereof;

PART II.—IMPOSITION OF TAX.

7. The shall, as from a day to be fixed by proclamation, be levied and paid on all payments for admission to any entertainment an entertainment tax at such rates as are declared by the Parliament.

8. (1.) On and after the day fixed by proclamation in pursuance of the last preceding section, no person shall be admitted for payment to any entertainment where the payment is subject to entertainments tax except—

- (a) With a ticket stamped with a stamp (not before used) denoting that the proper entertainments tax has been paid; or
- (b) In special cases, with the approval of the Commissioner, through a barrier which, or by means of a mechanical contrivance which, automatically registers the number of persons admitted, unless the proprietor of the entertainment has made arrangements, approved by the Commissioner, for furnishing returns of the payments for admission to the entertainment and has given security up to an amount and in a manner approved by the Commissioner for the payment of tax.

(2.) In all cases in which entertainments tax is collected by the proprietor of the entertainment or his agent, the tax so collected shall, until payment to the Commonwealth, be held by the proprietor of the entertainment or his agent as property of the Commonwealth.

9. Entertainments tax shall be charged in respect of each person admitted for payment, and, in the case of admission by stamped ticket, shall be paid by means of the stamp on the ticket, and, in the case of admission otherwise than by stamped ticket, shall be calculated and paid on the number of admissions.

10. Entertainments tax, in the case of admission otherwise than by stamped ticket, shall be recoverable from the proprietor, and may, if the amount of tax is less than Fifty pounds, without prejudice to any other means of recovery, be recovered by the Commissioner summarily as a civil debt.

11. Where the payment for admission to an entertainment is made by means of a lump sum paid as a subscription or contribution to any club, association, or society, or for a season ticket, or for the right of admission to a series of entertainments or to any entertainment during a certain period of time, the entertainments tax shall be paid on the amount of the lump sum, but where the Commissioner is of opinion that the payment of a lump sum or any payment for a ticket represents payment for other privileges, rights or purposes in addition to the admission to an entertainment, or covers admission to an entertainment during any period for which the tax has not been in operation, the tax shall be charged on such an amount as appears to the Commissioner to represent the right of admission to entertainments in respect of which entertainments tax is payable.

12. Entertainments tax shall not be charged on payments for admission to any entertainment where the Commissioner is satisfied—

- (a) That the whole of the takings thereof are devoted to philanthropic religious or charitable purposes without any charge on the takings for any expenses of the entertainment; or
- (b) That the entertainment is of a wholly educational character (any question on that point to be determined, in case of difference, by the Commissioner); or
- (c) That the entertainment is intended only for the amusement of children, and that the charge is not more than Sixpence for each person; or
- (d) That the entertainment is provided for partly educational or partly scientific purposes by a society, institution, or committee not conducted or established for profit.

13. Where the Commissioner is satisfied that the whole of the net proceeds of an entertainment are devoted to philanthropic religious or charitable purposes, and that the whole of the expenses of the entertainment do not exceed fifty per centum of the receipts, he shall repay to the proprietor the amount of the entertainments tax paid in respect of the entertainment:

Provided that when the Commissioner is satisfied that owing to adverse climatic conditions the expenses of an entertainment for philanthropic religious or charitable purposes in respect of which payments for admission have been made exceed fifty per centum of the receipts the Commissioner shall repay to the proprietor the amount of the entertainments tax paid in respect of the entertainment.

PART III.—OFFENCES.

14. (1.) Any officer of the Commissioner authorised by him for the purpose may enter any place of entertainment while the entertainment is proceeding, and any place ordinarily used as a place of entertainment at any reasonable times, with a view to seeing whether the provisions of this Act or any regulations made thereunder as to entertainments tax are being complied with.

(2.) Any person who prevents or obstructs the entry of any officer so authorised shall be guilty of an offence.

Penalty: Twenty pounds.

15. (1.) ENTERTAINMENTS TAX ASSESSMENT ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 36, 21 Dec., 1916.

19. Any person who practises or is concerned in any fraudulent act, contrivance, or device, not specially provided for by law, with intent to defraud the Commissioner of any tax, shall be guilty of an indictable offence.

Penalty: Imprisonment for one year.

21. (e) For prescribing penalties, not exceeding Fifty pounds, for any breach of the regulations.

Statutory Regulations.—

Dated this twenty-ninth day of December, One thousand nine hundred and sixteen.

PART II.—MISCELLANEOUS.

4. (1.) The proprietor of an entertainment who has not been carrying on the business of a proprietor of entertainments before the commencement of the Act shall, not less than seven days before carrying on any entertainment, register his name and address and place and class of business with the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner, or a Deputy Commissioner, or such person as the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner appoints in that behalf.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

(2.) All proprietors of entertainments who at the commencement of the Act were carrying on business as proprietors of entertainments shall, within twenty-one days after the commencement of the Act register the businesses with the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner, as the case requires, in such manner as the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner directs.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

5. (1.) Subject to this Regulation, all tickets in respect of which entertainments tax is payable on payments for admission shall be supplied by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner, and no other tickets in lieu thereof shall be used unless the proprietor of the entertainment has made arrangements approved by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner for furnishing returns of the payments for admission to the entertainment and has given security up to an amount and in the manner approved by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner for the payment of the tax.

(2.) Until the issue by the Commissioner of Taxation of stamped tickets to be used for the admission of persons to entertainments to which the Act applies, the proprietor of the entertainment shall—

(a) Cause all persons from whom payments for admission to the entertainment at prices exceeding sixpence are received, to use a ticket for admission and to affix to the ticket unused postage stamps equal in value to the tax payable on the payment for admission, unless the proprietor of the entertainment has made arrangements, approved by the Commissioner, for furnishing returns of the payments for admission to the entertainment and has given security up to an amount and in a manner approved by the Commissioner for the payment of tax; and

(b) Within twelve hours after the close of the entertainment, or such further time as the Deputy Commissioner allows, forward to the Deputy Commissioner for the State all tickets for which payment for admission exceeding sixpence was made, and all tickets on which persons were admitted without payment, together with a statement, certified as correct by the proprietor, showing the total number of persons present at the entertainment, the total number admitted for each separate price charged for admission, and the number of persons admitted without payment for admission, together with the ordinary prices charged for the seats occupied by them.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

6. Every proprietor of an entertainment to whom tickets are supplied by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner, shall deposit with the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner or with such person as the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner may direct, such an amount as the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner considers sufficient to cover the probable tax payable in respect of payments for admission to the entertainment, and shall pay at the same time and place such purchase price for the printing and supplying of the tickets as is fixed by the Commissioner.

7. Any transfer from one part of a place of entertainment to another part, when such transfer involves payment of tax or of additional tax, shall be made by tickets, consecutively numbered, showing the price actually paid for such transfer and the amount of tax or additional tax payable.

Penalty: Twenty-five pounds.

8. The Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner may, upon application in writing by the proprietor of any entertainment, and upon proof to his satisfaction that any tickets for admission have not been used, or on which the payments made for such admission have been partly or wholly refunded by the proprietor, repay to the proprietor so much of the amount deposited in accordance with Regulation 6 as shall leave with the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner the tax payable on so much of the purchase price for each ticket as has been retained by the proprietor.

9. All returns required by these Regulations to be made by any proprietor, shall be forwarded to the Deputy Commissioner for the State in which the place of entertainment is situate.

10. Where tickets for admission are used, the price actually charged for admission shall be clearly shown on each ticket in a manner approved by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner, and the amount of the tax shall be clearly shown on the ticket separately from the price for admission.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

11. (1.) All persons who are engaged assisting the proprietor in the conduct of any entertainment and who are admitted thereto without payment shall be supplied by the proprietor with a distinguishing badge approved by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner, to be produced for inspection when required by an officer.

Penalty: Twenty pounds.

(2.) Where other persons are admitted without payment to any entertainment, each such person shall be provided with a ticket legibly marked "Complimentary" and a record shall be kept by the proprietor of the number of persons so admitted, and the ordinary prices charged for admission to the seats occupied.

Penalty: Twenty pounds.

12. The Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner, or Deputy Commissioner may require the proprietor of an entertainment to exhibit such notices in such positions at the place of entertainment as the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner considers necessary.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

13. The proprietor of an entertainment shall give notice in writing to the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner or to such person as the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner directs, immediately any entertainment is cancelled, or immediately it has been decided to close any place of entertainment permanently or for a period.

Penalty: Ten pounds.

14. The proprietor of an entertainment may with the approval of the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner, use a barrier or a mechanical contrivance which automatically registers the numbers of persons admitted, subject to the following conditions:—

(a) The mechanical contrivance that records the number of admissions shall be approved by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner, and shall be secured by a lock or seal in manner approved by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner;

(b) The barrier or mechanical contrivance shall be fixed in manner approved by the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner, and shall not be interfered with without the authority of the Commissioner, Assistant Commissioner, or Deputy Commissioner;

(c) Unless a barrier or mechanical contrivance provides for registering separately the total number of admissions at each price of admission a separate barrier or mechanical contrivance shall be provided for registering the number of admissions at each price of admission to the entertainment.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

Every vessel of fifteen tons and upwards trading within any port in Queensland shall, once in the month of January and once in the month of July in each year, pay the highest pilotage.

Every intercolonial vessel commanded by a master holding from the Board a certificate of exemption from pilotage for any port, such certificate being applicable to the vessel and the voyage upon which she is engaged, shall pay, once in every month in which she enters such port, a harbour rate of sixpence per ton.

Every coaster commanded by a master holding from the Board a certificate of exemption from pilotage for any port, such certificate being applicable to the vessel and the voyage upon which she is engaged, shall pay, once in every month in which she enters such port, a harbour rate of fourpence per ton.

Every coaster under fifty tons shall pay, once in every month in which she enters any port, a harbour rate of twopence per ton.

All rates and dues are payable to the Chief Officer of Customs at the port where the same are levied, or if there be no officer of Customs then to the pilot.

After payment of one such rate at any port such coaster shall not be liable during such month to any further dues at any other port, except pilotage when a pilot is actually engaged.

Vessels whose original port of clearance and final port of discharge are not within the colony, calling at any Queensland port, but not carrying cargo coastwise, shall be exempt from the payment of pilotage rates, but shall pay, on all passengers and cargo landed or shipped, the undermentioned dues, that is to say—

Regulating the Use of the Wharves and other Landing-places, and generally Regulating the Traffic on the same.

Lay Days.

(Section 104 (4), (6), (7), and (8).)

1. The wharfinger may allow the times shown hereunder to vessels occupying berths at a wharf (exclusive of Sundays, holidays, and the day of removal) :—

(1) For vessels carrying full cargo and discharging—

For vessels under 100 tons	3 days
,, from 100 ,, to 150	4 ,,
,, ,, 150 ,, to 200	5 ,,
,, ,, 200 ,, to 300	6 ,,
,, ,, 300 ,, to 400	7 ,,
,, ,, 400 ,, to 500	8 ,,
,, ,, 500 ,, to 600	9 ,,

and so on at the rate of one day additional for every additional 100 tons or part of 100 tons.

(2) Vessels with only part cargo may be allowed time in the proportion which their cargo bears to their registered tonnage;

(3) One day extra for every 100 tons registered may be allowed upon the payment of one halfpenny per registered ton per day, provided the berth is not required for another vessel;

(4) Double the time allowed to vessels discharging may be allowed to vessels loading, and extra time may be allowed provided the berth is not required for another vessel, and for such extra time there shall be payable half the amount payable by vessels discharging under the preceding subclause;

(5) Vessels discharging cargo over the decks of other vessels may be allowed two days for every one allowed under subclause (1); vessels loading in like manner may be allowed three days for every two allowed under the subclause;

(6) Vessels taking in or discharging ballast may be allowed one day for every 30 tons put on board or discharged; and

(7) The charge for extra lay days shall not apply to vessels holding lighterage licenses.

Table No. VIII.

STATE INCOME, LAND, AND TOTALISATOR TAXES.

THE INCOME TAX ACTS 1902 to 1915 (CONSOLIDATED).

2 Edw. VII., No. 10, 1 Dec., 1902.
4 Edw. VII., No. 9, 1 Dec., 1904.
6 Edw. VII., No. 11, 13 Nov., 1906.
7 Edw. VII., No. 5, 19 Nov., 1907.
3 Geo. V., No. 24, 7 Dec., 1912.
6 Geo. V., No. 33, 29 Dec., 1915.

3. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the following terms have the meanings set against them respectively, that is to say—

"Absentee"—A person who does not ordinarily reside in Australia or in a Territory under the authority of the Commonwealth: the term includes a person who—

(a) Is absent from Australia and such Territories at the time when the tax is assessed; or

(b) Has been absent from Australia and such Territories during more than half of the period of twelve months immediately preceding that date, unless he satisfies the Commissioner that he ordinarily resides in Australia or a Territory under the authority of the Commonwealth: the term does not include a public officer of the Commonwealth or of a State who is absent in the performance of his duty:

"Agent" includes any company acting as agent;

"Foreign Company"—A company the head or principal office or the principal place of business of which is out of Queensland;

"Income derived from personal exertion"—All income consisting of earnings, salaries, wages, allowances, pensions, superannuation or retiring allowances, or stipends, earned in or derived from Queensland, and all income arising or accruing from any business carried on in Queensland: the income subject to tax includes income of the taxpayer, although the same has not arisen or accrued or been earned, derived, or received by or from his own personal exertion or business:

The income subject to tax includes all net gains or profits arising or accruing to the taxpayer from the sale of any real or personal property whatsoever over and above its true value on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, or accruing to the taxpayer as commission, fee, or other consideration arising out of such sale notwithstanding that such profits have not arisen or accrued from or in connection with any business carried on by the taxpayer:

"Income derived from the produce of property"—All income derived in or from Queensland and not derived from personal exertion: the income subject to tax includes income of the taxpaper, although the same has not been derived from his own property;

"Life assurance company"—A life assurance company within the meaning of "The Life Assurance Companies Act of 1901": the term "mutual life assurance company" means a life assurance company which is not a proprietary company within the meaning of that Act;

"Taxpayer"—Every person liable to pay income tax, whether on his own behalf or in a representative capacity: in reference to any return with regard to a taxpayer's own income, the term includes every person required by this Act to furnish such return;

"Trustee" includes trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, committee, the Curator in Intestacy and Insanity or any Deputy Curator, and any officer or person having or taking upon himself the possession, administration, or control of any income affected by any express or implied trust, or having the possession, administration, or control of any income of a person under any legal disability.

PART II.—ADMINISTRATION.

Every person who, in contravention of the true intent of oath of fidelity and secrecy, and without lawful excuse, reveals any matter or thing which has come to his knowledge in his official capacity, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds, or to be imprisoned for any period not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

If any person acts in the execution of his office before he has taken the prescribed oath, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

7. Subject to this Act, there shall be charged income tax in respect of the annual amount of the incomes of all persons at the rates following, that is to say—

(i.) On all income derived from personal exertion—

If the total income subject to the tax—

Does not exceed £500	7½d. in each and every £.
Exceed £500 and does not exceed £1,000	9d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £1,000 and does not exceed £1,500	12d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £1,500 and does not exceed £3,000	15d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £3,000	18d. in each and every £.

Provided that, from the amount of the tax payable on the income of any taxpayer derived from any agricultural or grazing pursuits carried on by him, there may be deducted the amount of any land tax actually paid by the taxpayer in respect of the same year under any Act of the Parliament of Queensland on land on which such agricultural or grazing pursuits are carried on. For the purposes of this provision, "agricultural or grazing pursuits" mean the grazing of stock or dairying on areas not in either case exceeding an unimproved value in the aggregate of one thousand two hundred and eighty pounds.

(ii.) On all income derived from the produce of property—

If the total income subject to the tax—

Does not exceed £500	12d. in each and every £.
Exceed £500 and does not exceed £1,000	13½d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £1,000 and does not exceed £1,500	15d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £1,500 and does not exceed £3,000	18d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £3,000	20d. in each and every £.

(iii.) Provided that—

(b) In respect to any person, not being a company or an absentee, whose total assessable income, whether derived from personal exertion or from the produce of property or partly from personal exertion and partly from the produce of property, during the year in respect of which the assessment is made, amounted to more than £200, then £200 of such income shall not be deemed to be part of the total income subject to tax, and accordingly shall be exempt from tax; and in deducting such £200 the income from personal exertion, if any, shall be first resorted to.

(iv.) On the incomes of all absentees—

If the total income subject to the tax—

Does not exceed £500	12d. in each and every £.
Exceed £500 and does not exceed £1,000	14d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £1,000 and does not exceed £1,500	17d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £1,500 and does not exceed £3,000	20d. in each and every £.
Exceeds £3,000	24d. in each and every £.

Exceed 16 per cent. and do not exceed 17 per cent.	12d.	34d.
Exceed 17 per cent.	12d.	36d.

(vii.) For the purposes of this section—

(a) "Public utility" includes street tramway services, the manufacture or supply of coal gas for any purpose, the production or supply of electricity for light or power, and any other undertaking declared by resolutions of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly respectively to be a public utility;

(b) "Public utility company" means any company carrying on in Queensland the business of a public utility;

(c) "Monopoly company" means any company declared by resolutions of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly, respectively—

To be a company in possession or partial possession of a monopoly within Queensland for the production, distribution, transport, or exchange of goods or commodities to the detriment of the public interests; or

To be associated with any trust or combine for the purpose of securing a monopoly or partial monopoly in Queensland of the production, distribution, transport, or exchange of goods or commodities to the detriment of the public interests;

(d) The capital on which the percentage of profits of any company shall be calculated shall include the amount actually paid up in cash or value on all shares actually issued by the company, less any amount appearing as goodwill in the assets of the company and the amount of all loans raised by the company and secured by debentures or bonds of the company—but no other capital.

(viii.) The income subject to the tax of every company having its head office or chief place of business in Queensland shall be assessed at not less than the amount of the dividends declared by such company during the year in respect of which the assessment is made.

(ix.) Where any of the profits of such company remain undistributed amongst the members, then upon such undistributed profits only ninepence in each pound shall be payable as income tax; and should any part of such undistributed profits be afterwards distributed as dividends, the amount already paid as tax shall be allowed for in computing the amount of tax payable on such dividend.

(a) When any undistributed profits of any company standing to the credit of Profit and Loss Account or of Reserves are transferred to capital in any way or applied in any way in reduction of assets, such transfer or application; or,

(b) When the assets of any company are revalued, and on such revaluation such assets are increased in value, and shares whether fully or partly paid up or debentures (which term includes debentures or stock or any other instrument of value by whatever name called), representing the whole or any part of such increase, are issued to its shareholders as such, then the issue of such shares to the amount of the nominal value of such shares if issued fully paid up, or of such portion of such value as is deemed to be paid up if such shares are issued partly paid up, or the issue of such debentures to the amount of the sum stated or alleged to be secured thereby, and the payment of interest from time to time accruing on such debentures; shall be and it is hereby declared that the same always has been a declaration of dividends and a distribution of dividends within the meaning of the two last preceding subsections:

Provided that with respect to any undistributed profits on which income tax at the rate of sixpence in the pound has already been paid, or was duly payable on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, a further rate of sixpence in the pound only shall be payable upon their distribution by way of dividend to shareholders, or their transfer to capital in any way, or their application in any way in reduction of assets.

(xi.) When any company issues any of its shares at a premium, then all sums of money received by the company in respect of such premiums—that is to say, all sums so received in excess of the nominal value of all such shares allotted and issued by the company—shall, for the purposes of this Act, be profits of the company and assessable for income tax accordingly.

(xii.) In the case of companies which carry on in Queensland the business of mining, the following rules shall be applied in estimating the income subject to the tax:—

(a) The first and subsequent dividends declared or paid by the company shall be taken to be applied, in the first place, in repayment of the cost actually incurred by the company before the declaration of the first dividend in respect of labour or material employed in developing the mine, and, in the second place, in repayment of three-fourths of the cost of any machinery erected for raising ores and other materials from the mine.

2 Edw. VII., No. 10, 1 Dec., 1902.
4 Edw. VII., No. 9, 1 Dec., 1904.
6 Edw. VII., No. 11, 13 Nov., 1906
7 Edw. VII., No. 5, 19 Nov., 1907.
3 Geo. V., No. 24, 7 Dec., 1912.
6 Geo. V., No. 33, 29 Dec., 1915.

(b) So much of the dividends as is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been applied during the year in respect of which the assessment is made for the purposes specified in the last preceding rule shall be deducted from the income of the company for that year, and shall be exempt from the tax.

(c) In the case of companies carrying on other business besides the business of mining, the Commissioner may require the company to submit to him accounts verified in like manner as the returns hereby prescribed, and showing separately the transactions of the company with respect to its mines and with respect to its other business, and the company shall be entitled to exemption from payment of the tax upon so much of its dividends as is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been applied during the year in respect of which the assessment is made for the purposes specified in the first of these rules.

(d) When a mining company is reconstructed and it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that after reconstruction the company is to all intents and purposes the same as before reconstruction, such reconstructed company shall be entitled to the same exemption from payment of tax as the company was entitled to before reconstruction.

The decision of the Commissioner in every such case shall be final and conclusive.

9. Income tax shall be paid on such day or days, and either in one sum or by instalments of equal or varying amounts, and at such place or places as may be prescribed.

10. Subject to this Act, income tax shall be charged, levied, collected, paid, and enforced upon assessments made under this Act, except as otherwise provided.

12. The following incomes, revenues, and funds shall be exempt from income tax:—

(i.) The income of the Governor of Queensland so far as respects the emoluments of his office as Governor;

(ii.) The revenues of Local Authorities and local bodies receiving revenue of any kind for the purposes of local self-government;

(iii.)

(iv.) The incomes of societies and institutions not carrying on business for purposes of profit or gain;

(v.) The funds and incomes of societies registered under any Act relating to Friendly Societies (other than Building Societies), or under any Act relating to Trade Unions;

(vi.) The incomes and revenues of religious, charitable, and educational institutions of a public character;

(vii.) Income derived as dividends from any company which has paid in Queensland income tax on the profits of the company from which such dividends are paid;

(viii.) Income arising or accruing from Debentures, Stock, or Treasury Bills issued by the Government of Queensland.

These exemptions shall not extend to the salaries, wages, allowances, or pensions of persons employed by any such corporation, company, society, or institution, although the same are paid wholly or in part out of the income, revenues, or funds thereof.

13. (1.) In estimating the income subject to the tax, there shall be deducted from the gross amount of every person's income—

(i.) All losses and outgoings actually incurred in Queensland by him in production of income;

(ii.) All rates and taxes actually paid by him during the year in respect of which the assessment is made under any Act of the Parliament of Queensland except this Act, and also the amount of any land tax or income tax actually paid under any Act of the Parliament of the Commonwealth;

(iii.) All interest actually paid by him in the year in respect of which the assessment is made upon money borrowed and used with intent to the production of income or borrowed on property in Queensland: Provided that where such interest is payable to a person residing beyond Queensland, the person paying it shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the agent of the person entitled to receive it, and before making payment of any interest shall pay to the Commissioner income tax on the amount at the rate of five pounds per centum, and may deduct from such interest the amount of the tax thereon; and only such interest upon which the tax has been so paid shall be allowed as a deduction from the taxpayer's income:

Provided that where it can be shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that such borrowed moneys were so borrowed before the passing of this Act, and that the person paying interest on money so borrowed is unable to deduct the tax payable in respect of such interest, the Commissioner may allow the deduction of interest, notwithstanding that the tax has not been paid thereon.

(iv.) All sums paid by him by way of commission for collecting income;

(v.) The amount of fifteen pounds in respect of each and every child under the age of seventeen years who is actually dependent on the taxpayer;

(va.) The amount of any war pension paid to the taxpayer whether by the Imperial Government or the Commonwealth Government;

(vi.) The amount of all premiums, but not exceeding fifty pounds, paid by any taxpayer in the year on the income of which the assessment is based in respect of any policy of life assurance on the life of any of his children or his own life for his own benefit or for the benefit of his wife and children or some or one of them;

(vii.) The amount of all payments, but not exceeding fifty pounds, made during the year on the income of which the assessment is based by any taxpayer, who is in receipt of salary, wages, allowances, or stipends, into any superannuation, sustentation, widows' or orphans' fund, or duly registered friendly society within the meaning of subsection one of section eight of "The Friendly Societies Act of 1894," or which he may be required to make into any guarantee or provident fund to enable him to exercise his vocation;

Provided that where the income of a taxpayer does not exceed one hundred and fifty pounds all sums expended by him in the maintenance or support of any infirm, aged, or indigent relatives shall be exempt from taxation.

(ix.) The amounts and sums which by the last two preceding subsections are directed to be deducted shall be deducted from income derived from personal exertion; but if such income does not amount to the sum so to be deducted, the difference, or if there is no income derived from personal exertion, then the whole of such sum shall be deducted from income derived from the produce of property.

14. In estimating the income subject to the tax of any person carrying on any business, there shall be deducted from the gross amount of such person's income such sum as the Commissioner thinks just and reasonable as representing the diminished value, by reason of depreciation during the year on the income of which the assessment is based, of any building, machinery, implements, rolling stock, utensils, and articles used by such person for the purposes of his business, and also by reason of depreciation of any bore, well, dam, or other improvement made for the conservation of water, or for any fence: provided that where in any business income is set apart by the taxpayer by way of a fund to cover the depreciation of such building, machinery, implements, rolling stock, utensils, and articles, or such bore, well, dam, or other improvement for the conservation of water, or fence, the amount so set apart for the year on the income of which the assessment is based shall, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, be the sum to be deducted for depreciation:

Provided that where any sum is allowed to be deducted for depreciation of any structure, matter, or thing herein mentioned no deduction shall be allowed for any renewal or repair of the same structure, matter, or thing.

3 Geo. V., No. 24, 7 Dec., 1912.
6 Geo. V., No. 33, 29 Dec., 1915.

15. A taxpayer who carries on any business in Queensland as a principal, and employs therein any other person exclusively for the purposes of such business, and in addition to the wages or salary of such person paid in money provides him with food or with quarters, may deduct the sum actually expended by the taxpayer on such food or the estimated annual value of such quarters from the income arising from such business:

Provided that, if the taxpayer is unable to state the sum actually expended on such food or the value of such quarters, such sum may be deducted as the Commissioner thinks just.

16. In estimating the income subject to the tax, no sum shall be deducted therefrom for or on account of—

(i.) Any sum expended for repairs of premises for which rent is received or for repairs to any machinery or plant used for the purposes of any business beyond the sum usually expended in any year for such purpose or beyond such sum as in the opinion of the Commissioner is a fair average of the cost of repairs for the three years immediately preceding the year in which the assessment is made;

(ii.) Any loss not connected with or arising out of any business, or any capital withdrawn from any business, or any sum used or intended to be used as capital in any business, or any capital used in the improvement of premises occupied for the purposes of any business; or

(iii.) Any bad debts, except debts proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have become bad and to have been actually written off by the taxpayer in the year immediately preceding the year in which the assessment is made, and which have not previously been allowed as a deduction, or any doubtful debts, except debts proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to be doubtful, and deductions for doubtful debts shall be made according to the value at which the Commissioner estimates them:

Provided that every amount at any time received on account of any such bad or doubtful debts shall be credited in income in the year in which the same was received and be subject to income tax; or

(iv.) Any average loss beyond the actual amount of loss after adjustment, or any sum recoverable under any insurance or contract of indemnity; or

(v.) Any disbursements or expenses of maintenance of the taxpayer, his family, or domestic establishment, or any sums expended in any private purposes distinct from the purposes of any business; or

(vi.) Any disbursements or expenses whatever not being money wholly and exclusively laid out or expended for the purposes of any business; or

(vii.) The rent or annual value of any dwelling-house or domestic offices, or any part of such dwelling-house or domestic offices, except such part thereof as may be used for the purposes of any business, not exceeding such proportion of the said rent or annual value as may be allowed by the Commissioner; or

(viii.) The amount of any tax paid under this Act;

(ix.) Any wastage or depreciation of lease, or in respect of any improvements upon leasehold property, or in respect of any loss occasioned by the expiration of any lease: Provided that when it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that any taxpayer has paid a sum of money for a lease or a renewal of a lease of premises occupied by him, not being a lease held from the Crown, it shall be lawful for the Commissioner to allow as a deduction from the income of such taxpayer such portion of the amount paid by him as is equal to the amount paid for the lease or renewal of lease divided by the number of years for which such lease was granted.

17. If a taxpayer carries on in Queensland more than one business either alone or otherwise, and makes a profit in one or more of such businesses and a loss on the other business or businesses, such loss shall be deducted from such profit in calculating the taxable amount of his income.

18. If a taxpayer having an income derived from the produce of property carries on in Queensland one or more businesses, either alone or otherwise, and makes a loss thereon, such loss shall be deducted from his income derived from the produce of property in calculating the taxable amount of his income.

19. When a taxpayer is employed by another person, then the estimated annual value of any quarters or board and residence, and every amount received or receivable by way of extra salary, bonus, or emolument, and every allowance, benefit, or advantage of any kind, whether in money or otherwise or of a like nature, or any modification or combination of any such benefit or advantage granted, secured, or allowed to such employee shall be deemed to be part of the income of such employee.

20. Whenever profits arising from any business have been converted into stock-in-trade or added to the capital of or carried to reserve or in any way invested in such business, such profits so converted or added or carried to reserve or invested shall be deemed to be income and in computing such profits the value of all live stock, produce, goods, and merchandise, not disposed of, at the beginning and end of the year in respect of which the assessment is made shall be taken into account. But additions to stock resulting from natural increase shall be reckoned in their first year as being equal to one-fourth of the then value put upon the same class of full-grown stock.

20A. Any owner of live stock who desires to be exempted from the provisions of the last preceding section, so far as the same relate to the taking into account of the value of all live stock and produce not disposed of at the beginning and end of each year in the assessment of his income, may give notice in writing to that effect signed by him or by his duly authorised agent and delivered at the office of the Commissioner, in the case of persons who at the commencement of this Act are owners of live stock not later than the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and seven, or such later date as the Commissioner may allow, and in the case of persons who may thereafter become owners of live stock not later than the thirty-first day of December in the year in which they first become such owners respectively, or such later date as the Commissioner may allow.

Every such notice when given shall be irrevocable by such taxpayer and shall take effect in respect of the year in which the same is given and each succeeding year.

Such notice shall have the following effect:—

(i.) The Commissioner, in the assessment of the income of such taxpayer for the year in respect of which the notice was given and each succeeding year, shall not take into account the value of any live stock or produce not disposed of at the beginning and end of the year;

(ii.) Save as hereinafter provided, such taxpayer shall not for any year in respect of which an assessment is made be entitled to make any claim as a deduction for or in connection with any live stock beyond the amount of money actually paid by him in that year for the purchase of live stock:

Provided that, in computing the income subject to tax of such taxpayer for any year, there shall be allowed as a deduction from the proceeds of any live stock disposed of in that year, and in respect of which tax was theretofore paid, the value of such live stock; and such value shall be taken at the value upon which the tax was paid.

20B. Whenever any property consisting partly of live stock is sold, the full value in money of such live stock shall be expressly stated in the contract relating to such sale, whether such sale is for a lump sum or not. If such value is not so stated, or if such contract has not been reduced to writing, then such value shall be assessed by the Commissioner at such amount as he deems just and reasonable.

In every such case the purchaser shall, for the purposes of this Act, be entitled to claim that the sum of money so expressly stated or so assessed is the amount paid by him for live stock upon such sale. Moreover, such sum shall be deemed to be income of the seller. The tax on such income shall, until paid, be and remain a charge upon the whole of the property included in such sale and upon every part thereof; and, if not paid by the seller, may be recovered from the purchaser in the same manner as if it were income of the purchaser.

In computing the income of the seller under this section, there shall be allowed as a deduction therefrom—

(a) The value of live stock on the said property at the end of the year one thousand nine hundred and six, as shown in his return to the Commissioner for the year one thousand nine hundred and six; or

(b) Where the property has been purchased since the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and seven, and subsequently sold, the value of live stock thereon at the time of such purchase as expressed in the said contract of sale or assessed by the Commissioner as aforesaid, less any portion of such value which has been already allowed to him as a purchase of stock.

20C. All moneys received by any person as or by way of royalty shall be deemed to be part of the income of such person, and shall be deemed to be income derived from the produce of property.

21. Subject to this Act, income tax shall be payable—

(i.) Generally, by the person to whom the income arises or accrues, or who is legally or equitably entitled to the receipt thereof; and particularly

(ii.) In respect of the income of a company, by the public officer thereof;

(iii.) In respect of the income of a person under legal disability, by his trustee;

(iv.) In respect of income earned, derived, or received by a trustee, by such trustee, unless there is some person presently entitled to such income and in actual receipt thereof and liable as a taxpayer in respect thereof; and

(v.) In respect of the income of an absentee, by his agent.

22. For the purposes of this Act, any person in Queensland having the receipt, management, disposal, or control of income on behalf of an absentee or person absent from Queensland, or remitting or paying income to him, shall be deemed to be his agent, and such agent, before remitting or paying to such absentee or person absent from Queensland any income, shall pay to the Commissioner income tax thereon, and shall be entitled to deduct from the income payable to such person the amount of the tax paid thereon.

The Commissioner may declare any person to be agent of such absentee or person absent from Queensland, and the person so declared an agent shall be agent for the purposes of this Act.

But nothing herein shall constitute or authorise the Commissioner to declare any banking company or the public officer of such company to be the agent of any such absentee or person absent from Queensland so far as regards moneys paid by any other company or person to the credit of such absentee or person absent from Queensland with such banking company in the ordinary way of business, unless such banking company or the public officer thereof is the holder of a power of attorney from such absentee or person absent from Queensland, or unless such moneys are specific sums so paid to such banking company and are set out, with the amounts thereof, the approximate dates of payment thereof, and the names of the companies or persons by whom the same were so paid, in a notice by the Commissioner to such banking company.

When it appears that several persons are in receipt of income for or on behalf of an absentee or person absent from Queensland, the Commissioner, if it appears to him to be expedient so to do, may consolidate all or any of the assessments thereof, and declare any one of such persons to be the agent of such absentee or person absent from Queensland in respect of such consolidated assessment, and require him to pay income tax on the amount thereof.

23. When a member of a company is an absentee, such company shall for the purposes of this Act be deemed to be the agent for such member, and shall, so far as regards the interest of such member in such company, have and exercise all the powers, duties, and responsibilities of an agent for an absentee.

24. If an owner of land is an absentee and has no known agent in Queensland, any tenant of such land shall be deemed to be the agent of the owner in respect of such land.

25. Every agent for an absentee and every trustee—

(i.) Is answerable for the doing of all such acts, matters, and things as are required to be done by virtue of this Act in order to insure the assessment of the income which belongs to such absentee, or which is the subject of the trust of such trustee, or which is received by such agent or trustee, and for paying income tax in respect thereof;

(ii.) Is authorised to recover from or deduct from any moneys belonging to any person in whose behalf such agent or trustee is compelled to pay income tax, the amount so paid;

(iii.) Is authorised and required to retain from time to time in each year out of any money which comes to him as such agent or trustee so much as is sufficient to pay income tax in respect of any income subject to such tax; and is indemnified for all payments which as such agent or trustee he may make in pursuance of this Act or by requirement of the Commissioner;

(iv.) Is personally liable for income tax payable in respect of any income if, while such tax remains unpaid, he—

(a) Alienates, charges, or disposes of such income; or

(b) Disposes of or parts with any fund or money which comes to him after such tax is payable, from or out of which fund or money such tax could legally have been paid;

but, save as by this Act is otherwise provided, shall not otherwise be personally liable for any such tax.

26. Every trustee may raise such moneys as are necessary to pay income tax by mortgage with or without power of sale of any property held by him upon trust, and may expend such moneys so raised or any trust funds in his possession or control in paying such tax.

27. (1.) When any person chargeable with income tax is under any legal disability, or when any person so chargeable dies, the trustee of such person, upon default of payment of such tax out of the trust estate if such estate is sufficient to enable him so to do, shall be and is hereby made liable to and charged with the payment of such tax.

(2.) If such trustee neglects or refuses to pay such tax, it shall be lawful to proceed against him in like manner as against any other person making default in payment of income tax.

(3.) All trustees making payment of income tax as aforesaid shall be allowed every sum so paid in their accounts, and shall be allowed to deduct all such payments out of the assets.

28. When a person is entitled to receive or receives income from any agent or trustee, nothing in this Act shall be taken to relieve such person from any income tax payable in respect of such income unless such agent or trustee has paid the tax in respect thereof.

29. (1.) In any case where any taxpayer employed by any person, Local Authority, corporation, board, commission, or body has in any year failed to pay the income tax payable by such taxpayer, the Commissioner may declare such person, Local Authority, corporation, board, commission, or body to be the agent of such taxpayer so far as respects the income by way of earnings, salary, wages, allowances, pension, or stipend paid or allowed by him or it to such taxpayer, and may give notice to such agent setting forth the fact that such taxpayer has failed to pay the tax payable by him, and requiring such agent to pay the same on behalf of such taxpayer.

(2.) Thereupon every such agent shall deduct and retain from time to time out of such earnings, salary, wages, allowances, pension, or stipend respectively so much as is sufficient to pay such income tax, and shall pay the same in pursuance of this Act; and for any default in so doing such agent shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds:

Provided that if any such employee claims to be exempt from income tax in respect of such income, and makes application to the Commissioner in the form and within the time prescribed, the Commissioner, upon being satisfied that a refund should be made, may issue a certificate for a refund of the amount of the income tax which has been paid on such income.

30. (1.) Every company carrying on business in Queensland shall at all times be represented by a person residing in Queensland, who shall be duly appointed by the company or by some agent or attorney having power to appoint such person for the purposes of this Act.

(2.) Such person shall be called the public officer of the company, and shall be appointed within three months after the passing of this Act, or within fourteen days after the company commences to carry on business in Queensland, whichever shall last happen.

(3.) The office of public officer shall be kept constantly filled by making fresh appointments thereto as may be necessary.

No appointment shall be deemed to be duly made until after notice thereof specifying the name of the public officer and an address for service has been given to the Commissioner.

3 Geo. V., No. 24, 7 Dec., 1912.
6 Geo. V., No. 33, 29 Dec., 1915.

(4.) Every company which fails to make an appointment to the office of a public officer or to keep the office constantly filled as aforesaid, and every person who acts as agent or manager or representative of such company, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for every day during which such failure continues.

(5.) Every public officer shall be answerable for the doing of all such acts, matters, and things as are required to be done by the company by virtue of this Act.

(6.) Everything done by any such public officer which he is required to do in his representative capacity shall be deemed to have been done by such company.

(7.) The absence or non-appointment of a public officer shall not exonerate any company from the necessity of complying with any of the provisions of this Act; but every such company shall be liable to the provisions of this Act as if there were no requirement to appoint such officer.

31. The income of foreign companies shall be assessed as follows:—

(i.) If the company carries on in Queensland the business of banking and no other business whatsoever, its income shall be a sum which bears the same proportion to the total profits of the company as the amount of its assets and liabilities in Queensland bears to its total assets and liabilities, not including liabilities to capital or reserves;

(ii.) If the company carries on in Queensland fire, accident, fidelity, guarantee, or marine insurance business, its taxable income shall be a sum equal to twenty-five pounds per centum of the premiums on account of Queensland business received by the company after deducting any portion of such premiums actually paid away by way of reinsurance effected in Queensland with any other company;

(iii.) If the company is a life assurance company and carries on in Queensland life assurance business, its taxable income shall be a sum equal to twenty-five pounds per centum of the premiums on account of ordinary Queensland business received by the company and fifteen pounds per centum of the premiums on account of industrial Queensland business received by the company;

(iv.) If the company carries on in Queensland mercantile business, its income shall be the profits made by such company on its Queensland business. If such profits cannot, in the opinion of the Commissioner, be otherwise satisfactorily determined, the taxable amount of the income of the company may be assessed by the Commissioner at a sum equal to seven pounds ten shillings per centum of the total amount of sales made by the company in Queensland;

(v.) The income of any other foreign company liable to assessment under this Act shall be the amount of the profits made by the company on its business in Queensland. If such profits cannot, in the opinion of the Commissioner, be otherwise satisfactorily determined, the taxable amount of the income of the company may be assessed by the Commissioner at a sum equal to seven pounds ten shillings per centum of the capital employed by the company in carrying on its business in Queensland.

31A. When and so often as any dividend is declared payable to any shareholders in a company having its head office or chief place of business in Queensland, such company shall within thirty days from the time when such dividend has been declared forward to the Commissioner a return in the prescribed form and containing the prescribed particulars, and verified by statutory declaration under the "Oaths Act of 1867" under the hand of and made by the public officer of such company, stating the amount of such dividend and showing the date when the same was so declared.

The company shall at the same time pay to the Commissioner income tax in accordance with such of the rates prescribed in subsection (v.) or (vi.) of section seven of this Act as may be applicable to the company.

It shall not be lawful for the person charged with the payment of any dividend to distribute the same amongst the persons entitled thereto until the tax payable in respect thereof has been paid.

32. (1.) When a foreign company or an absentee, or person absent from Queensland, herein termed "the principal," by means of a company registered in Queensland or carrying on business therein or by means of any person in Queensland, herein termed "the agent," sells or disposes of any property for the principal, whether such property is in Queensland or is by the contract to be brought into Queensland, and whether the contract is made by the agent in Queensland or by or on behalf of the principal out of Queensland, and whether the moneys arising therefrom are paid to or received by the principal directly or otherwise, the moneys arising therefrom shall be deemed to be income accruing to the principal from a business carried on by him in Queensland, and the taxable amount of the income derived therefrom by the principal shall, if such income cannot in the opinion of the Commissioner be otherwise satisfactorily determined, be assessed at an amount equal to seven pounds ten shillings per centum upon the net amount for which such property has been sold or disposed of after taking into consideration any mortgage thereon.

In every case the amount assessed shall for the purposes of obtaining income tax be deemed to be income derived by the agent.

(2.) The agent shall as regards such income make the returns, be assessed, be liable to income tax, and otherwise be subject to the provisions of this Act, and to do all acts and things thereunder as if such income were actually the income of the agent.

But nothing herein contained shall exempt or discharge the principal from liability to pay income tax upon such income.

33. (1.) When a foreign company or person whose principal place of business is out of Queensland, either as owner or charterer of any vessel, carries passengers, live stock, mails, or goods shipped in Queensland, such company or person shall, by itself or himself or its or his agent or other representative in Queensland, within the prescribed time, make a return of the full amount payable to it or to him, whether such amount is payable in Queensland or beyond Queensland, in respect of the carriage of such passengers, live stock, mails, and goods as required or provided by the terms under which the same are carried or agreed to be carried to the port of discharge.

Such company, person, agent, or representative shall be assessed thereon, and the taxable amount of the income derived therefrom shall, if such income cannot in the opinion of the Commissioner be otherwise satisfactorily determined, be assessed at an amount equal to five pounds in every one hundred pounds so payable as aforesaid.

(2.) When such company or person has no recognised agent or representative in Queensland other than the master of such vessel, or when such company, person, agent, or representative fails to make any return, the Commissioner may assess such master, and such master shall be liable to pay income tax computed as aforesaid.

(3.) The Commissioner shall give notice of every such assessment as last aforesaid to the master, and such master shall thereupon pay income tax upon the same prior to the clearance of such vessel, and the vessel may be detained by the order of the Commissioner until such payment is made.

34. Every company, society, association, and institution, and every Local Authority, public trust, body, and corporation in Queensland, which pays interest upon or in respect of any debentures or bonds shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the agent of every holder of such debentures or bonds, and before paying or crediting such interest to or for any person shall, on behalf of the person entitled to receive such interest, pay to the Commissioner income tax calculated on the amount of such interest, and may deduct from such interest payable to such person the amount of the income tax thereon:

Provided that if any such holder claims to be exempt from income tax in respect of such interest, and makes application to the Commissioner in the form and within the time prescribed, the Commissioner, upon being satisfied that a refund should be made, may issue a certificate for a refund of the amount of income tax which has been paid on such interest.

36. Whenever as to any particular income—

(i.) More than one person appears or claims to be liable or qualified to pay income tax; or

(ii.) A question arises as to the person liable to pay income tax; or

(iii.) A question arises as to whether a person is liable to pay or is chargeable with income tax, and whether on his own behalf, or as trustee, or agent of any other person; the Commissioner may decide the matter in question, subject, however, to objection as hereinafter provided.

2 Edw. VII., No. 10, 1 Dec., 1902.
4 Edw. VII., No. 9, 1 Dec., 1904.
6 Edw. VII., No. 11, 13 Nov., 1906.
7 Edw. VII., No. 5, 19 Nov., 1907.
3 Geo. V., No. 24, 7 Dec., 1912.
6 Geo. V., No. 33, 29 Dec., 1915.

Pending the final decision of the matter, all the persons appearing to be liable to pay income tax in respect of any particular income shall be jointly and severally responsible and liable for the proper discharge of the duties imposed by this Act on taxpayers.

37. The Commissioner shall have such and the like remedies against all property of any kind vested in or under the control or management of any agent or trustee of a taxpayer as he would have if such property were vested in or under the control or management of the taxpayer himself, and in as full and ample a manner.

39. (1.) For the purpose of enabling assessments of income to be prepared, returns shall be made annually to the Commissioner as prescribed by every person who carries on business whether alone or as a member of a firm, and also by every person whose gross income amounts to two hundred pounds and upwards.

(2.) The first period for which assessments shall be made shall commence on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and two, and, save as hereinafter provided, all subsequent annual periods shall be reckoned from that date, and to that extent this Act shall have retrospective operation.

(3.) Returns of income shall be based upon the amount of income which was earned, derived, or received by such person during the year ending on the thirty-first day of December immediately preceding the commencement of the year in which the assessment is made.

When the income of any such person cannot be conveniently returned as of the date hereinbefore provided, the Commissioner may accept returns made up to the date of the annual balance of the accounts of such person.

The Commissioner may, if he accepts the date of such annual balance for the purpose of the return to be made by such person, accept an estimated return of income for assessment; and such assessment shall be adjusted by the Commissioner upon such annual balance being completed.

(4.) Returns of income derived from personal exertion and of income derived from the produce of property shall be calculated separately.

(5.) Subject to this Act, returns may be required from any such person at any time and in any manner required by or under any notice given by the Commissioner for that purpose, although the period or year for which assessments are required to be made has not commenced or has expired.

All the provisions of this Act shall extend and apply to such returns and the person required to make the same.

Assessments may be made upon or in respect of such returns as if the same had been required to be made or had been made within the year or period for which assessments are required to be made, and all proceedings may be had and taken and all acts and things may be done for the purpose of giving effect to this Act accordingly.

(6.) Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to interfere with the right of the Commissioner to require from any such person any further or fuller returns at any time or as at any date in such manner as may be prescribed, or from making any assessment upon any such return in such manner as may be necessary, or be deemed to interfere with or control any special powers of assessment conferred by this Act.

40. Persons carrying on any business in partnership shall be liable to make a joint return as such partners in respect of such business with such particulars as may from time to time be prescribed, but they shall be liable to income tax only in their separate individual capacities.

40A. If any person in respect of whose income a return is required to be made dies without having made the same, it shall be the duty of the legal personal representative of the deceased person to make such return.

If any person, who, if he had lived, would have been liable to make a return under this Act, dies at any time before the prescribed date for making such return, such return shall be made by his legal personal representative, either on such prescribed date or earlier if required by the Commissioner or within such extended time as the Commissioner may allow; and thereupon the assessment of income for the period covered by such return shall be made, and the tax shall be payable thereon out of such person's estate, as if such death had not taken place.

41. Every person required by this Act to make a return shall, from time to time and at any time when required by the Commissioner, make a new or further and fuller return of income either in respect of the whole or any part of the income received by such person, whether in his own behalf or as an agent or trustee, and although a return has been previously made by such person for the same annual period.

All the provisions of this Act shall extend and apply to any such new or further and fuller return, and assessments may be made upon or in respect thereof by the Commissioner in such manner as may be necessary.

42. (1.) For the purpose of obtaining full information in respect of any income of any person, or of any part thereof, the Commissioner may, at any time by fourteen days' notice, require any person or the public officer of any company to furnish information in writing signed by such person or public officer or by oral communication, and whether general or particular, which may be in his knowledge, possession, or power relating to any such income, or any part thereof.

The Commissioner may require any person or the public officer of any company to produce for examination by the Commissioner, or by any person appointed by him for that purpose, at such time and place as may be appointed by the Commissioner in that behalf, any deeds, instruments, books, accounts, trade-lists, stock-sheets, or documents, or writings that may be deemed necessary for any of the purposes of this Act.

(2.) The Commissioner may at any time, by fourteen days' notice, require any person entitled to or in receipt of any income, whether on his own behalf or as agent or trustee, or the public officer of any company, or any person whomsoever, to attend, at a time and place to be named by the Commissioner, for the purpose of being examined by him respecting the income of such person or any other person, or respecting any transactions or matters affecting the same, or any of them, or any part thereof.

Any person so attending may be allowed by the Commissioner any reasonable expenses necessarily incurred by such person in such attendance.

(3.) Every person who without reasonable excuse fails to comply with any requirement of the Commissioner under this section, or fails to attend and give evidence or information as herein provided, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

(4.) The Commissioner or any person authorised by him in writing may at any time enter upon any land or premises at any reasonable hour during the day time for the purpose of inspecting all or any part of any property producing income.

43. (3.) Every person and every Local Authority, corporation, board, commission, or body, if required by the Commissioner, shall, in such manner and form and at such times as may be prescribed or as the Commissioner may require, furnish to the Commissioner returns of all or any particular class of persons employed by him or it, and of the earnings, salary, wages, allowances, pension, or stipend paid or allowed to each such person.

(4.) Every company which carries on business in Queensland, if required by the Commissioner by a notice or public notice, shall, in such manner and form and at such times as may be prescribed or as the Commissioner may require, furnish to the Commissioner returns showing all payments made to any person in respect of any share or interest in such company, and also of all moneys received from any person on deposit for any fixed time or period, with or without interest, and in such returns shall furnish all such information with regard to such payments, deposits, and persons as may be prescribed or as may be required by the Commissioner.

(5.) Every person shall, in such manner and form and at such time as may be required by the Commissioner, furnish to the Commissioner a return containing, to the best of his belief, the names of all persons resident in his dwelling-house.

(6.) Every person acting as agent for any other person, whether resident or carrying on business in Queensland or elsewhere, shall, in such manner and form and at such times as may be prescribed or as may be required by the Commissioner, furnish to the Commissioner returns containing, so far as can be ascertained, full particulars of all moneys collected or received as such agent on behalf of or paid to any such person.

44. Every person receiving, whether on his own behalf or not, any income which is or may be exempt from income tax, shall, when required by the Commissioner, make and furnish a return of income in respect of any annual period, and, except as to liability to income tax in respect of such income, every such person shall be liable to all the provisions of this Act relating to the returns of income required to be made or furnished thereunder.

2 Edw. VII., No. 10, 1 Dec., 1902.
4 Edw. VII., No. 9, 1 Dec., 1904.
6 Edw. VII., No. 11, 13 Nov., 1906.
7 Edw. VII., No. 5, 19 Nov., 1907.
3 Geo. V., No. 24, 7 Dec., 1912.
6 Geo. V., No. 33, 29 Dec., 1915.

45. Every return furnished to the Commissioner in pursuance of this Act shall be verified by any prescribed form of declaration, or in such other manner as may be prescribed or as may be specially required by the Commissioner.

46. (1.) The Commissioner shall cause assessments to be prepared at the time or times and in the manner prescribed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount upon which income tax shall be levied.

(2.) Such assessments shall be entered in assessment-registers in accordance with the Regulations.

47. Every agent of an absentee and every trustee shall be assessed separately in respect of any income for which he is agent or trustee, and shall be chargeable with income tax payable in respect thereof in the same manner as if such income were the income of such agent or trustee, and shall be assessed in respect thereof as such agent or trustee.

Each such assessment shall be kept separate and distinct from such agent or trustee's individual assessment.

48. If any person by this Act required to make any return fails so to do, or if the Commissioner is not satisfied with the return furnished by any such person, the Commissioner may make an assessment in such sum as in the Commissioner's judgment ought to be charged, and thereupon shall give notice thereof to the taxpayer to be charged, and such taxpayer shall pay income tax upon the same.

Such assessment shall be subject to objection as hereinafter provided, but the taxpayer if he has made default as aforesaid shall not be entitled to any costs on such objection.

49. (1.) If at any time it appears to the Commissioner that any taxpayer who ought to have been charged with income tax has not been charged therewith, the Commissioner may make an assessment as to the income of such taxpayer with respect to which such omission has occurred.

The taxpayer shall be chargeable with a double rate of income tax thereon if such omission has been occasioned by him.

(2.) If the Commissioner is satisfied that the taxpayer was not guilty of any wilful default or omission, and has not done any act with intent to defraud the revenue, he may remit the whole or any part of such double duty over and above the amount computed on the ordinary rate.

(3.) The power conferred upon the Commissioner by this section shall be in addition to any right conferred upon him by this Act to take proceedings for and recover any penalties for evading or avoiding assessment or the payment of income tax or attempting so to do.

50. Upon entering any assessment in any assessment-register, the Commissioner shall cause to be given to each taxpayer whose income has been assessed a notice of the making of the assessment.

Such notice shall be in the form and contain the particulars prescribed, and, save as hereinafter provided, shall be posted to such person in a closed letter or envelope.

The omission to give any such notice shall not invalidate any assessment.

51. (1.) Objections to any assessment may be made by any person feeling aggrieved by reason of any assessment in which he personally as principal, or as agent or trustee, is interested, or by the Commissioner, in the manner and on the terms and conditions prescribed.

(2.) The Commissioner shall, in such form as he thinks fit, and either in the notice of the making of the assessment or publicly or otherwise, give notice that objections to the assessments made are to be sent in to him on or previous to a day to be appointed in the notice.

No objection other than one made by the Commissioner shall be entertained which is not lodged with him on or before the last day appointed for lodging objections.

(3.) Every objection shall be in writing, and every objection, other than an objection by the Commissioner, shall be delivered or posted to the Commissioner in sufficient time to reach him on or before the last day appointed for lodging objections.

(4.) When the Commissioner makes any objection to an assessment he shall give notice thereof to the taxpayer interested, who shall, within the time and in the manner prescribed, give notice to the Commissioner of assent to or dissent from such objection.

If default is made in notifying the Commissioner as aforesaid, the taxpayer shall be deemed to assent to the Commissioner's objection.

In case of dissent the Commissioner shall transmit such objection and notice of dissent to a Court of Review in order that the objection may be heard and determined.

52. The right of the Commissioner to recover any income tax shall not be suspended by any objection or appeal thereupon, but if the objector, not being the Commissioner, succeeds on such objection or appeal the amount, if any, of income tax received by the Commissioner in excess of the amount determined upon by the final determination as to such objection or appeal shall be repaid to the taxpayer making such objection.

And the Commissioner shall issue to such taxpayer a certificate for refund.

53. (1.) The Commissioner shall consider the objections made by any taxpayer assessed, and may make such inquiries thereon or relating thereto as he thinks fit.

(2.) If the Commissioner considers that any objection should be allowed either wholly or in part he may alter or amend the assessment accordingly.

(3.) The Commissioner shall, on or before any day appointed for the review of assessments, deliver or transmit all objections not allowed, assented to, or withdrawn to the Court of Review in order that the objections may be heard and determined.

54. When no objection is made to any assessment or when objections have been allowed or assented to or withdrawn, the assessment-register compiled by the Commissioner shall be the assessment-register in respect of the income therein mentioned.

55. (1.) The duties and powers imposed and conferred upon the Court of Review, and the mode, terms, and conditions on which the same shall be performed and exercised, shall be prescribed by Regulations, and in addition thereto the following provisions shall have effect.

(2.) The Court shall hear and determine all objections transmitted to it as hereinbefore provided, and may alter the assessment-registers accordingly, and may also make such alterations in the description of any property as may be necessary to render such description more clear for the identification of the property.

(3.) The Court shall have power to make such order as to costs as it thinks just.

(8.) If the taxpayer applies to the Court for the case to be stated he shall, before he is entitled to have the case stated, pay to the registrar or clerk of the Court a fee of twenty shillings for and in respect of the case.

(9.) For the purposes of this section, the expression "assessment-register" includes any copy thereof or extract therefrom signed by the Commissioner.

59. The Commissioner may from time to time in respect of any assessment-register—

(i.) Place thereon the name of any taxpayer of whose liability to taxation he is satisfied, and remove therefrom the name of any person not so liable;

(ii.) Add to any register the amount of any income omitted either wholly or partly to be assessed or returned at the time and in the manner required by law;

(iii.) Place thereon the amount of any income received or receivable by any taxpayer who in his opinion is liable to be assessed for income tax, and remove therefrom the amount of any income which he is satisfied ought not to be assessed for income tax;

(iv.) Make any alteration or amendment necessary in consequence of any alteration or amendment of any assessment by him pursuant to this Act.

Every taxpayer affected by any such addition to or alteration or amendment of the register shall have the right to object and to have his objection heard and determined in the manner prescribed with regard to objections to assessments.

PART V.—PROCEDURE TO ENFORCE TAXATION.

60. Not less than thirty days' public notice shall be given by the Commissioner that income tax will be payable on a day to be stated in such notice.

61. If any income tax remains unpaid at the expiration of thirty days after the due date, five per centum on the amount of such tax unpaid or any part thereof unpaid shall be added thereto, and if the tax remains unpaid at the expiration of sixty days after the due date an additional five per centum shall be added as aforesaid, unless the Commissioner is satisfied that the failure to pay the tax has not arisen through the default of the taxpayer.

65. Nothing in this Act contained shall limit or prevent the enforcement of any claim for income tax by His Majesty in the manner provided by "The Crown Remedies Act of 1874," or any Act amending or in substitution for that Act.

2 Edw. VII., No. 10, 1 Dec., 1902.
4 Edw. VII., No. 9, 1 Dec., 1904.
6 Edw. VII., No. 11, 13 Nov., 1906.
7 Edw. VII., No. 5, 19 Nov., 1907.
3 Geo. V., No. 24, 7 Dec., 1912.
6 Geo. V., No. 33, 29 Dec., 1915.

66. No statute of limitations now or hereafter in force shall bar or affect any action, proceeding, or remedy for recovery of income tax.

67. (1.) When any person has died, who was possessed of or entitled to an income in his life-time which was not returned or assessed under this Act, the Commissioner shall have and may exercise the like remedies in respect of or against the legal personal representatives of such person as he would have had against him in his life-time.

Such representatives are required to make such returns as the Commissioner requires, unless he is satisfied that it is not in their power to do so.

(2.) The income tax to be recoverable against the legal personal representatives of any such person or his estate shall be assessed and levied for the whole period during which such income has not been so assessed or returned for assessment.

And the amount payable and to be recovered shall, unless the Commissioner otherwise determines, be double the amount of income tax so assessed and levied.

(3.) No time which may have elapsed shall be deemed to prevent the operation of this section, and the Commissioner may take any such proceeding or exercise or enforce any power, authority, or remedy for the purpose of giving effect to this Act, and recover the income tax due or that ought to have been paid as he may take, exercise, or enforce in any other case.

68. If after any income tax has been paid it is discovered that too little in amount has been paid, the person liable for such tax shall forthwith pay the necessary additional amount, and the amount so payable shall be recoverable in like manner as income tax is recoverable.

But no taxpayer shall, as an agent or trustee, be liable under this section to pay any amount in excess of the assets presently in his control or possession belonging to the estate for which he is agent or trustee, and in respect of which such additional amount is payable.

69. If, after any income tax has been paid, it is discovered that too much in amount has been paid, the Commissioner, upon an application being made to him for a refund of such overpayment, and upon being satisfied that too much in amount has been paid, shall issue to the taxpayer entitled to receive the same a certificate for a refund of the amount overpaid.

70. No application for refund of an over-payment of tax shall be entertained by the Commissioner unless made within twelve months after such over-payment was made; or, if there has been an objection, then within three months after the date of the decision on such objection.

72. (1.) Any person, whether or not liable to taxation under this Act, who—

(i.) Being within or having an agent within Queensland, fails to furnish, on or before the prescribed day, any prescribed return or within a time specified by the Commissioner any new or further or fuller return required by the Commissioner, unless such person proves that such failure was not wilful; or

(ii.) Knowingly makes or delivers any false return or makes any false answer, whether oral or in writing, in relation to his property or income, or any matter or thing affecting his liability to or exemption from income tax; or

(iii.) By any falsehood, neglect, fraud, art, or contrivance whatsoever used or practised, or by or under any instrument made, signed, executed, taken, or received, evades or avoids or attempts to evade or avoid assessment of any income, whether liable to income tax or not, or the payment of any income tax—shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds, and if the act or omission complained of affects any person as a taxpayer shall also by the Court before whom the matter is brought by way of additional penalty be assessed and charged double the amount of the income tax of which such person has attempted to evade or avoid the payment in addition to any income tax for which such person would have been otherwise liable.

(3.) Any person who aids or assists in any manner whatsoever to commit any offence within the meaning of paragraph (iii.) hereof shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

(4.) The term "person" in this section includes the public officer of a company and the agent or trustee of any person.

72A. When the Commissioner has reasonable grounds for believing that any person (herein termed "the agent") does not reside in Queensland, and that the agent has while in Queensland sold or disposed of any property for any other person, and has received or is entitled to receive as remuneration or part remuneration for such sale or disposal any sum by way of commission or salary, and that the agent intends to leave Queensland without paying income tax, the Commissioner or any officer authorised by him in that behalf may at any time require the agent to forthwith make a return of the amount of every such commission, and may forthwith assess the income tax payable by the agent thereon and demand immediate payment of the same, and, if the same is not forthwith paid, or arrangements satisfactory to the Commissioner are not made for payment, may without warrant cause the agent to be arrested by any member of the Police Force and detained until he can be brought before justices upon a complaint for evading the payment of the tax.

73. (1.) Every contract, covenant, agreement, or undertaking made or entered into, whether by deed or in writing or orally, either before or after the passing of this Act, by or between any person or persons or companies whatsoever, which but for the provisions of this Act would altogether or partially relieve any person from the burden or incidence of income tax or from liability to pay such tax, shall, so far as such contract, covenant, agreement, or undertaking relates to or covers such tax, be absolutely null and void.

(2.) Every person who is a party to any such contract, covenant, agreement, or undertaking made after the passing of this Act shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

75. Any person carrying on any business, who when requested by the Commissioner, or any assessor or officer appointed under this Act, to disclose the name and residence of the person entitled to receive or participate in the income or rent derived from such business, or of the person by whom the same is collected or held, refuses or wilfully omits to disclose such name or residence, or wilfully misstates the same or neglects or refuses to give any information in his possession requested by the Commissioner or such assessor or officer, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

76. (1.) Any person who obstructs or attempts to obstruct any officer acting in the discharge of his duty under this Act, or refuses or neglects to answer any question put by any such officer relating to any income belonging to such person or as to any deductions claimed or allowed in respect of such income or any part thereof, or gives any false or evasive answer, or in any manner whatsoever fails to comply with any of the provisions of this Act for which no penalty is expressly provided, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

(2.) If any company makes default in complying with any provision of this Act, such company or the public officer thereof shall, where no other penalty is provided by this Act, be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds for every day during which such default continues:

And every director and manager of the company who knowingly and wilfully authorises or permits such default shall be liable to the like penalty.

79. Notwithstanding anything in any Act to the contrary, any complaint for any offence committed or penalty incurred under this Act may be brought, heard, and determined at any time within six months next after the date when the fact that the offence was committed or the penalty was incurred came to the knowledge of the Commissioner.

84. (ix.) Penalty for any breach of any Regulation not exceeding fifty pounds.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 7 Dec., 1906.

47. Every person who wilfully obliterates, tears, damages, or destroys any form of return, or any book, notice, or document belonging to or issued by the Commissioner, or who applies for or uses any such form or document, except for the purposes of the Act, shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds.

48. Any taxpayer applying for information as to particulars of any entry in the assessment register relating to the assessment of such taxpayer shall produce his notice of the assessment in respect of which he desires such information, and shall not be entitled to any information without producing such notice, unless the Commissioner dispenses with such production. The fee to be paid by the taxpayer for a certified copy of such entry shall be the sum of two shillings.

STATE LAND TAX ACT.

6 Geo. V., No. 34, 29 Dec., 1915.

3.—

"Absentee"—A person who does not ordinarily reside in Australia: the term includes a person who—

(a) Is absent from Australia at the time when the ownership of his land for the purposes of this Act is determined; or

(b) Has been absent from Australia during more than half of the period of twelve months immediately preceding that date, unless he satisfies the Commissioner that he ordinarily resides in Australia: the term does not include a public officer of the Commonwealth or of a State who is absent in the performance of his duty;

"Company" includes all bodies or associations corporate or unincorporate: so far as relates to bodies corporate, the term includes every body corporate, howsoever incorporated, and whether under the laws of Queensland or elsewhere, and wherever its head or principal office or principal place of business may be;

"Improved value"—In relation to land, the capital sum which the fee-simple of the land might be expected to realise if offered for sale on such reasonable terms and conditions as a bonâ fide seller would require;

"Owner," in relation to land, includes every person who, jointly or severally—

(a) Is entitled to the land for any estate of freehold in possession; or

(b) Is entitled to receive, or is in receipt of, or if the land were let to a tenant would be entitled to receive, the rents and profits thereof, whether as beneficial owner, trustee, mortgagee in possession, or otherwise;

"Taxpayer"—Every person liable to pay land tax, whether on his own behalf or in a representative capacity: in reference to any return with regard to a taxpayer's own land, the term includes every person required by this Act to furnish such return;

"Unimproved value"—In relation to land, the capital sum which the fee-simple of the land might be expected to realise if offered for sale on such reasonable terms and conditions as a bonâ fide seller would require, assuming that the improvements (if any) thereon or appertaining thereto and made or acquired by the owner or his predecessor in title had not been made;

"Value of improvements"—In relation to land, the added value which the improvements give to the land at the date of valuation irrespective of the cost of the improvements:

Provided that the added value shall in no case exceed the amount that should reasonably be involved in bringing the unimproved value of the land to its improved value as at the date of assessment.

7. This Act applies to all lands within Queensland which, whether before or after the passing of this Act, have been alienated from the Crown for an estate in fee-simple.

This Act shall not apply to any land in process of alienation from the Crown or which has been contracted to be so alienated until a deed of grant in fee-simple for the same has been issued.

8. Subject to this Act, land tax shall be levied and paid upon the unimproved value of all lands within Queensland which are owned by taxpayers, and which are not exempt from taxation under this Act.

9. The rate of the land tax shall be as hereunder set out, that is to say—

If the taxable value—

Is less than £500	1d. in each and every £.
Is £500 or over, but is less than £1,000	1½d. in each and every £.
Is £1,000 or over, but is less than £2,000	1¾d. in each and every £.
Is £2,000 or over, but is less than £2,500	2d. in each and every £.
Is £2,500 or over, but is less than £3,000	2¼d. in each and every £.
Is £3,000 or over, but is less than £4,000	2½d. in each and every £.
Is £4,000 or over, but is less than £5,000	2¾d. in each and every £.
Is £5,000 or over, but is less than £10,000	3d. in each and every £.
Is £10,000 or over, but is less than £20,000	3½d. in each and every £.
Is £20,000 or over, but is less than £30,000	4d. in each and every £.
Is £30,000 or over, but is less than £50,000	4½d. in each and every £.
Is £50,000 or over, but is less than £60,000	5d. in each and every £.
Is £60,000 or over, but is less than £75,000	5½d. in each and every £.
Is £75,000 or over	6d. in each and every £.

And in addition—

On all undeveloped land—

In respect of the financial year beginning 1st July, 1915	Nil.
In respect of the financial year beginning 1st July, 1916	1d. in each and every £ of the taxable value.
In respect of the financial year beginning 1st July, 1917	1½d. in each and every £ of the taxable value.
In respect of each financial year thereafter	2d. in each and every £ of the taxable value.

For the purposes of this section, "undeveloped land" means all land which has not in or upon it improvements of the value of at least one-fourth of the unimproved value of the land; and, in valuing improvements for this purpose, the value of all stock ordinarily depastured on the land may be taken into account as an improvement: Provided that any land may in any year be exempted from the said tax on undeveloped land by the Commissioner if, owing to drought or other sufficient cause, he deems it just and proper so to do.

10. (1.) Land tax shall be levied in and for the financial year beginning on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and each financial year thereafter.

11. (1.) Land tax shall be payable by the owner of land upon the taxable value of all the land owned by him, and not exempt from taxation under this Act.

(2.) The taxable value of all the land owned by a person is—

(a) In the case of an absentee or a company, the total sum of the unimproved value of each parcel of the land, if such total sum exceeds three hundred pounds;

(b) In the case of an owner not being an absentee or a company, the balance of the total sum of the unimproved value of each parcel of the land, after deducting the sum of three hundred pounds.

(3.) Every part of a holding which is separately held by any occupier or owner shall be deemed to be a separate parcel.

12. Land tax shall be charged on land as owned at midnight on the thirtieth day of June immediately preceding the financial year in and for which the tax is levied:

Provided that an owner of the land who, before the thirtieth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, has sold or agreed to sell or conveyed part of the land or has sold or agreed to sell or conveyed all the land to different persons, shall, if the Commissioner is satisfied that the sale, agreement, or conveyance was bonâ fide and not for the purpose of evading the payment of land tax, be separately assessed for the year ending on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, in respect of the land so sold or agreed to be sold or conveyed to any one person, and be charged with land tax in respect of that land as if it were the only land owned by him.

13. (1.) The following lands shall be exempt from taxation under this Act, namely:—

(i.) All land owned by the Commonwealth of Australia or the State, or by a local or other public authority;

(ii.) All land owned by or in trust for any society registered under the laws relating to friendly societies;

(iii.) All land owned by or in trust for any trade union, provided such land is not used to carry on a business for pecuniary profit;

6 Geo. V., No. 34, 29 Dec., 1915.

(iv.) All land owned by any building society registered under the laws relating to building societies, not being land of which the society has become owner by foreclosure of a mortgage;

(v.) All land owned by or in trust for a charitable or educational institution, if the institution, however formed or constituted, is carried on solely for charitable or educational purposes and not for pecuniary profit;

(vi.) All land owned by or in trust for a religious society, the proceeds whereof are devoted solely to the support of the aged or infirm clergy or ministers of the society or their wives or widows or children, or to religious, charitable, or educational purposes;

(vii.) All land owned by or in trust for any person or society and used or occupied by that person or society solely as a site for—

(a) A place of worship for a religious society, or a place of residence for any clergy or ministers or order of a religious society;

(b) A charitable or educational institution not carried on for pecuniary profit;

(c) A building owned and occupied by a society, club, or association, not carried on for pecuniary profit;

(d) A public library, institute, or museum;

(e) A show ground;

(f) A public cemetery or public burial ground;

(g) A public garden, public recreation ground, or public reserve;

(h) A public road;

(i) A fire brigade station.

(2.) With respect to land which, under this section, is exempt from land tax, the exemption shall be limited to the owner specified in this section, and shall not extend to any other person who is the owner of any estate or interest in the land.

14. (1.) Land owned by a Mutual Life Assurance Society (not being land of which the society is mortgagee in possession, or which the society has acquired under or by virtue of a mortgage) shall not be liable as against the society or its policy-holders to assessment or taxation under this Act.

(2.) For the purposes of this section, a Mutual Life Assurance Society means any assurance society all the profits of which are divided among the policy-holders.

In the case of a society which has shareholders who are entitled to receive a share of the profits of the society, a proportion of such land owned by the society, corresponding to the proportion of the total assurances of the society which is represented by its Australian policies, shall not be liable as against the society or its policy-holders to assessment or taxation under this Act.

16. (1.) For the purposes of the assessment and levy of land tax, every owner of land of the unimproved value of two hundred pounds or upwards shall in each financial year, in the prescribed manner and within the prescribed time, furnish returns setting forth a full and complete statement of all land owned by him at midnight on the thirtieth day of June then last past, and of the improved value and unimproved value of every parcel thereof, and, for the purpose of the additional tax on undeveloped land, of the value of the improvements on every parcel of land, with such other particulars as are prescribed:

Provided that, except as otherwise required by the Commissioner or prescribed, a taxpayer who in any financial year has furnished the full returns above mentioned may in each succeeding year furnish, in lieu of such full returns as above mentioned, supplementary returns setting out a full and complete statement of all land of which he has become or ceased to be the owner since the thirtieth day of June preceding the date of the last full return, and of the improved and unimproved value of every parcel thereof, and of the improvements thereon, with such other particulars as are prescribed.

(2.) In addition to the returns specified in the last preceding subsection, every person, whether a taxpayer or not, shall, as and when required by the Commissioner, make such returns or further or other returns as the Commissioner requires for the purposes of this Act.

(3.) Every return shall be verified by any prescribed form of declaration, or in such other manner as is prescribed or as is specially required by the Commissioner.

17. (1.) The Commissioner may, if, as, and when he thinks fit, make or cause to be made valuations of any land.

(4.) The Commissioner, or any officer, authorised by him on that behalf, shall at all times have full and free access to all lands, buildings, places, books, documents, and other papers, and to all registers of deeds or documents of title, for the purpose of valuing or inspecting any land, or of ascertaining the ownership of any land, and for any of those purposes may make extracts from or copies of any such books, documents, or papers.

18. (1.) From the returns and valuations so made, if any, and from any other information in his possession, or from any one or more of those sources, and whether any return has been furnished or not, the Commissioner shall cause assessments to be made for the purpose of ascertaining the amount upon which land tax shall be levied.

(3.) As soon as conveniently may be after a taxpayer's assessment is entered in the assessment-register, the Commissioner shall cause notice in writing of the assessment, in the form and containing the particulars prescribed, to be given to the taxpayer.

19. If—

(a) Any taxpayer or person makes default in furnishing any return; or

(b) The Commissioner has reason to believe that any person (though he may have furnished no return) is a taxpayer; or

(c) The Commissioner is not satisfied with the return made by any taxpayer or person,

the Commissioner may make an assessment of the amount on which, in his judgment, land tax ought to be levied, and the taxpayer or person shall be liable to land tax thereon, excepting so far as he establishes, on appeal, that the assessment is excessive.

If such default is made in furnishing a return at the prescribed date or within any further time allowed by the Commissioner, there shall be added to the amount of the tax a sum equal to five pounds per centum on the same; and if such default continues for a period of sixty days after the due date or such extended date (if any), there shall be added to the amoung of the tax a sum equal to ten pounds per centum on the same; and such addition to the tax in either of the aforesaid cases shall be deemed to be a part of the tax and be recoverable accordingly.

(5.) If within three years after any land tax has been paid it is discovered that too much in amount has been paid, whether by reason of duplicate taxation or otherwise, the Commissioner upon being satisfied thereof shall alter the assessment accordingly and order the excess to be returned to the taxpayer entitled thereto.

21. The owner of any freehold estate less than the fee-simple shall be deemed to be the owner of the fee-simple, to the exclusion of any person entitled in reversion or remainder, and shall be assessed accordingly; and the Commissioner shall have the same remedies against the land for the recovery of the tax as if the taxpayer were the owner of the fee-simple.

22. The lessee or other occupier for the time being of any land shall be liable to pay the land tax on behalf of the owner, but if he pays the same he shall have the right to recover the amount thereof from the owner, and also may deduct the amount so paid from any rent due or to accrue due from him to the owner.

23. No deduction from the unimproved value of any land shall be allowed in respect of any mortgage to which the land is subject, or in respect of any unpaid purchase money.

A mortgagor shall be assessed and liable for land tax as if he were the owner of an unencumbered estate.

24. A mortgagee, or other person owning any estate or interest in land by way of security for money, shall not be liable to land tax in respect of that mortgage, estate, or interest:

Provided that a mortgagee in possession of land, or any other person in possession of land by way of security for money, shall so long as such possession continues (though not to the exclusion of any other person) be deemed to be the owner of the land.

But the last preceding proviso shall not apply to any mortgagee or person in possession whose possession began before the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, until twelve months after that date; he shall, however, if the mortgagor makes default in the payment of land tax in respect of the land, pay the tax due by the mortgagor, and such payment shall be deemed to be made by him on behalf of the mortgagor.

6 Geo. V., No. 34, 29 Dec., 1915.

25. (1.) Joint owners of land shall be severally assessed and liable in respect of the land (exclusive of the interest of any joint owner exempt under this Act), and the value of each owner's share shall be added to the value of all other land of which he is the owner.

(2.) Each joint owner of land shall be separately assessed and liable in respect of—

(a) His individual interest in the land (as if he were the owner of a part of the land in proportion to his interest), together with

(b) Any other land owned by him in severalty, and

(c) His individual interests in any other land.

(3.) The Commissioner may, for the purposes of this Act, declare any joint owner of land to be the agent or trustee of all other joint owners of the same land.

26. A company shall be assessed as the owner of all land owned by it.

27. (1.) Any taxpayer or person may within the prescribed time appeal to the Supreme Court or a District Court against any assessment by the Commissioner with respect to his land, on the ground that he is not liable for the tax or any part thereof, or that the assessment is excessive.

28. (1.) On the hearing of the appeal the Court may make such order as it thinks fit, and may either reduce or increase the assessment, and its order shall be final and conclusive on all parties except as provided in this section.

(4.) An appeal shall lie to the Full Court from any order made under subsection one of this section.

29. (1.) The fact that an appeal is pending shall not in the meantime interfere with or affect the assessment appealed from; and land tax may be levied and recovered on the assessment as if no appeal were pending.

(2.) If the assessment is altered on appeal a due adjustment shall be made, for which purpose amounts paid in excess shall be refunded, and amounts shortpaid shall be recoverable as arrears.

ACQUISITION OF LAND.

31. If the Commissioner is of opinion that the owner of any land has, in a return furnished under this Act, understated the unimproved value of the land, to the extent of twenty-five per centum or more, the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) The Commissioner may apply to the Supreme Court for a declaration that the Crown is entitled to acquire the land under this Act.

(b) The application shall be heard by a Judge of the Supreme Court, from whose decision an appeal shall lie to the Full Court; and the owner of the land shall be entitled to be heard.

(c) If the Judge or Full Court—

(i.) Is satisfied that the owner has understated the unimproved value of the land to the extent of twenty-five per centum or more; and

(ii.) Is not satisfied that the undervaluation was not made with a view to evading taxation, he shall make the declaration applied for, and make such order as to costs as he thinks proper.

(d) Thereupon the Governor in Council may acquire the land on behalf of the Crown; and for that purpose may, within a reasonable time, by proclamation, declare that the land is vested in the Crown, but subject to all leases, mortgages, and other charges affecting the land.

(e) The effect of the proclamation shall be to vest the land in the Crown for the same estate or interest therein as the owner was entitled to at the date of the publication of the proclamation in the Gazette, but subject to all leases, mortgages, and other charges then affecting the land, and to entitle the owner to compensation therefor upon the basis of the improved value obtained by adding the fair value of improvements to the unimproved value stated in the return, together with the amount of ten per centum upon that improved value, by way of an allowance for compulsory dispossession.

(f) The provisions of "The Public Works Land Resumption Act of 1906" shall, so far as applicable, but subject to this Act, apply in relation to the land so acquired as if it had been acquired under that Act.

(g) The Governor in Council may authorise the use of the land for any public purpose for which it is required; or, if it is not required for any public purpose, may authorise the disposal of it as he thinks fit.

COLLECTION AND RECOVERY OF TAX.

32. Land tax for each year shall be due and payable as prescribed.

Not less than thirty days' public notice shall be given by the Commissioner of the date on which the land tax will be payable.

33. Every person who fails to pay the amount payable by him in respect of land tax before the expiration of thirty days after it has become due shall be liable by way of additional tax to a further amount of ten per centum on the amount of the tax:

Provided that the Commissioner may in any particular case, for reasons which in his discretion he thinks sufficient, remit the additional tax or any part thereof.

35. If, in any proceedings against a taxpayer for the recovery of land tax, the defendant—

(a) Is absent from Australia and has not to the knowledge of the Commissioner after reasonable inquiry in that behalf any attorney or agent in Australia on whom service of process can be effected; or service of any process in the proceedings may without leave of the Court be effected on him by posting the same or a sealed copy thereof in a letter addressed to him at his last known place of business or abode in Australia or by fixing the same on a conspicuous part of the land to which the tax relates.

(b) Cannot after reasonable inquiry be found,

36. The following provisions shall apply in any case where, whether intentionally or not, a taxpayer escapes full taxation in his lifetime by reason of not having duly made full and complete returns:—

(a) The Commissioner shall have the same powers and remedies against the executors and administrators of the taxpayer in respect of the estate of the taxpayer as he would have had against the taxpayer in his lifetime.

(b) The executors and administrators shall make such returns as the Commissioner requires for the purpose of a full assessment.

(c) The assessment shall be at the rates payable in respect of the years for which the tax ought to have been paid, and the amount payable shall (where the taxpayer's default was intentional) be treble the amount of the difference between the tax so assessed and the amount actually paid by the taxpayer, and shall be a first charge on all the taxpayer's estate in the hands of the executors and administrators.

(d) No lapse of time shall prevent the operation of this section, and the Commissioner may take all such proceedings and exercise all such powers and remedies for the purpose of giving effect to this section and recovering the treble tax as in the case of ordinary assessments and taxation.

37. (1.) Land tax shall until payment be a first charge upon the land taxed in priority over all other encumbrances whatever other than land tax due to the Commonwealth, and notwithstanding any disposition of the land it shall continue to be liable in the hands of any purchaser or holder for the payment of the tax so long as it remains unpaid:

Provided that no such charge shall be of effect as against a bonâ fide purchaser for value who at the time of purchase made inquiry of the Commissioner as prescribed, and was informed there was no liability.

38. Every person who under this Act pays any tax for or on behalf of any other person shall be entitled to recover the same from that other person as a debt, together with the costs of recovery, or to retain or deduct the same out of any money in his hands belonging or payable to that other person.

MISCELLANEOUS.

39. The public officer of a company appointed under section thirty of "The Income Tax Act of 1902" shall also be and be deemed to have been appointed the public officer of such company under and for the purposes of this Act; and the provisions of the said section thirty shall apply to this Act as if this Act were expressly mentioned therein.

6 Geo. V., No. 34, 29 Dec., 1915.

40. Whenever as to any particular land—

(i.) More than one person appears or claims to be liable or qualified to pay land tax; or

(ii.) A question arises as to the person liable to pay land tax; or

(iii.) A question arises as to whether a person is liable to pay or is chargeable with land tax, and whether on his own behalf, or as trustee, or agent of any other person; the Commissioner may decide the matter in question, subject, however, to appeal as herein provided.

43. With respect to every agent, and with respect also to every trustee, the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) He shall be answerable as taxpayer for the doing of all such things as are required to be done by virtue of this Act in respect of the land held by him in his representative capacity and the payment of land tax thereon.

(b) He shall in respect of such land make the returns and be assessed thereon, but in his representative capacity only, and each return and assessment shall, except as otherwise provided by this Act, be separate and distinct from any other.

(c) If he is an executor or administrator, the returns shall be the same, as far as practicable, as the deceased person if living would have been liable to make.

(d) Where as agent or trustee he pays land tax, he is hereby authorised to recover the amount so paid from the person in whose behalf he paid it, or to deduct it from any money in his hands belonging to that person.

(e) He is hereby authorised and required to retain from time to time, out of any money which comes to him in his representative capacity, so much as is sufficient to pay the land tax which is or will become due in respect of the land.

(f) He is hereby made personally liable for the land tax payable in respect of the land if while the tax remains unpaid he alienates, charges, or disposes of any real or personal property which is held by him in his representative capacity, but he shall not be otherwise personally liable for the tax.

(g) If he is a trustee he may raise whatever moneys are necessary in order to pay the land tax by mortgage or charge with or without power of sale of any real or personal property held by him as such trustee, and may apply the money so raised or any other moneys in his possession as such trustee in paying the tax.

(h) He is hereby indemnified for all payments which he makes in pursuance of this Act or by requirements of the Commissioner.

(i) For the purpose of insuring the payment of land tax the Commissioner shall have the same remedies, against all land or other property of any kind vested in or under the control or management or in the possession of any agent or trustee, as he would have against the land or other property of any other taxpayer in respect of land tax, and in as full and ample a manner.

44. (1.) Every contract, covenant, agreement, undertaking, or arrangement made or entered into, in writing or orally, whether before or after the passing of this Act, shall, so far as it has or purports to have the purpose or effect of in any way, directly or indirectly—

(a) Altering the incidence of any land tax; or

(b) Relieving any person from liability to pay any land tax or make any return; or

(c) Defeating, evading, or avoiding any duty or liability imposed on any person by this Act; or

(d) Preventing the operation of this Act in any respect,

be absolutely void, but without prejudice to its validity in any other respect or for any other purpose.

47. (1.) Any person who obstructs or attempts to obstruct any officer acting in the discharge of his duty under this Act, or refuses or neglects to answer any question put by any such officer relating to any land belonging to such person, or gives any false or evasive answer or in any manner whatsoever fails to comply with any of the provisions of this Act for which no penalty is expressly provided, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

(2.) If any company makes default in complying with any provision of this Act, such company or the public officer thereof shall, where no other penalty is provided by this Act, be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds for every day during which such default continues:

And every director and manager of the company who knowingly and wilfully authorises or permits such default shall be liable to the like penalty.

48. Any person who—

(a) Fails or neglects to duly furnish any return as and when required by this Act or by the Commissioner; or

(b) Without just cause shown by him, refuses or neglects to duly attend and give evidence when required by the Commissioner or any officer duly authorised by him, or to truly and fully answer any questions put to him, or to produce any book or papers required of him by the Commissioner or any such officer; or

(c) Knowingly and wilfully makes or delivers any false return, or makes any false answer, whether verbally or in writing, in relation to any matter or thing affecting his own or any other person's liability to or exemption from assessment of land tax, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

49. (1.) Any person who, with intent to defraud, in any return understates the unimproved value of any land, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds, and also to an amount equal to treble the amount of the tax which would have been evaded if the value stated in the return had been accepted as the unimproved value of the land; or to forfeiture of the land undervalued or any part thereof.

(2.) Where the value stated in the return is less, by twenty-five per centum or more, than the value as found by the adjudicating court, the value shall be presumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, to have been understated with intent to defraud.

50. Any person who by any wilful act, default, or neglect, or by any fraud, art, or contrivance whatever, evades or attempts to evade assessment or taxation, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds and treble the amount of the tax, payment whereof he has evaded or attempted to evade; or to forfeiture of the land in respect of which the offence was committed, or any part thereof.

60. (1)—

REGULATIONS UNDER "THE LAND TAX ACT OF 1915."

"Government Gazette," 15 Jan., 1916.

Returns.

4. Returns of land for the purposes of the general assessment of land tax shall be made by every owner of land of the unimproved value of £200 or upwards so as to disclose all liabilities to land tax at midnight on the thirtieth day of June, 1915, and in each succeeding year, in lieu of such full returns, such owner may make supplementary returns setting out a full and complete statement of all lands of which he has become or ceased to be the owner since midnight on the thirtieth day of June next preceding.

5. The notice to make returns shall be in the form of Schedule A.

6. The return to be furnished by every taxpayer under the provisions of section 16 of the Act shall be in the form of Schedule B, and shall be furnished to the Commissioner on or before the Sixteenth day of March, 1916.

7. The supplementary return shall be in the form of Schedule C.

8. The Commissioner may in any case accept a special form of return where, in his opinion, special circumstances render it desirable.

9. When several persons are co-owners, whether jointly or in common, or in severalty, a return shall be made by the owner first-named in the title deed to the land, giving the names and addresses of the other co-owners. A separate return shall be made for each co-ownership, and shall be in the form of Schedule D. Each co-owner shall include in his own individual return the share or interest to which he is entitled in the co-owned land, in addition to his interest in any other land.

6 Geo. V., No. 34, 24 Dec., 1915.

10. When the owner of any land is permanently or temporarily out of Queensland, the returns required to be made or furnished by or under the Act shall be made or furnished by the attorney under power of such owner, and if there be no such attorney then the returns shall be made or furnished by the agent, manager, or other representative in Queensland of or for such owner.

11. A person liable to furnish a return shall not be exempted from any penalty he may have incurred by reason of his not having been supplied with a form of return, and every such person shall himself obtain all forms of returns he shall be required to furnish.

12. The returns of land owned by a limited company shall be in the form of Schedule Ba, and shall be made by the public officer of such company.

(d) Where the amount payable by any person does not exceed the sum of ten pounds, the same shall, in Brisbane, be paid at the office of the Commissioner of Taxes, at Brisbane, but if the taxpayer resides in some other part of the State, such sum be paid to the receiver of income tax nearest to the place where such taxpayer ordinarily resides, and upon the due payment of the sum payable by such taxpayer, such receiver shall give an official receipt from a book containing a proper printed form provided by the Commissioner for that purpose, and no receipt, except on such printed form as aforesaid, shall be recognised or accepted as evidence of payment.

15. Payment of land tax may be made by cheque, the exchange on which, if any, shall be paid by the taxpayer, and if, after payment so made, the cheque is returned unpaid from any cause, all liability in respect of the tax for which such cheque was accepted shall be restored, and any receipt given for the payment of tax shall be void and of no account.

Owner to give notice of change of ownership.

25. Every person required by these Regulations to furnish returns shall, within one month after contracting to acquire or part with ownership of land, send notice to the Commissioner in Form K, L, or M in the Schedule, as the case requires.

28. Every taxpayer shall give his postal address upon every return furnished by him, and shall give notice in writing of any change in his postal address within one month after such change, and in default shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds. The Commissioner shall cause every such change to be entered in the assessment register.

29. Any taxpayer who has made any default in notifying any change in his postal address, as required by the last preceding regulation, shall not be entitled to avail himself of the fact of such change of address as a defence in any proceedings for the recovery of any tax or penalty for a breach of the Act or any regulation made thereunder.

30. For the purposes of any notice the postal address of any person as described in any assessment register in force at the time shall be deemed to be the usual or last-known place of abode or business of such person.

32. Every person who wilfully tears, damages, or destroys any form of return, book, notice, or document belonging to or issued by the Commissioner, or who applies or uses any such form or document except for the purposes of the Act, or who under any pretence of being a person required to make a return fills up or furnishes to the Commissioner any return which he is not required to make, shall for every such offence be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds.

33. Nothing in these Regulations contained shall affect any special arrangement, whether of a general nature or relating to a particular case, which may be made between the Commissioner and any permanent head or principal officer of any public department, or any local authority or any statutory public body, with reference to the amount of fee or fees to be charged for a certified copy of a valuation or valuations, or with reference to any annual contribution in lieu of fees which would otherwise be chargeable under these Regulations.

58 Vic., No. 8, 23 Oct., 1894.

PENALTIES.

Persons refusing to produce instruments liable to Stamp Duty for the inspection of inspectors, £50.

Inspectors illegally disclosing information, £50.

Every person who, with intent to defraud His Majesty—

(a) Executes any instrument in which all the said facts and circumstances are not fully and truly set forth; or

(b) Being employed or concerned in or about the preparation of any instrument, neglects or omits fully and truly to set forth therein all the said facts and circumstances, £50.

Every person who, being required by law to cancel an adhesive stamp, neglects or refuses duly and effectually to do so, £10.

If any person—

(a) Fraudulently removes or causes to be removed from any instrument any adhesive stamp, or affixes to any other instrument any adhesive stamp which has been so removed, with intent that the stamp may be used again; or

If any person—

(b) Sells or offers for sale, or utters, any adhesive stamp which has been so removed, or utters any instrument having thereon any adhesive stamp which has to his knowledge been so removed as aforesaid; he shall, in addition to any other fine or penalty to which he may be liable, incur a penalty not exceeding £50.

If any person signs or executes any instrument liable by law to any stamp duty before it is duly stamped for denoting the payment of the duty, he shall be liable on conviction to pay the whole or the deficiency, as the case may be, of the stamp duty payable upon or in respect of such instrument, and a further sum as penalty, not exceeding £50, save where another specific penalty is in this Act provided:

Provided that, except in the case of receipts, cheques, agreements, bills of lading, and charter party, no penalty shall be inflicted if the instrument is stamped within thirty days after the date thereof if executed within the State, or within thirty days after the receipt of the same within the State if it was executed abroad or in the case of a bill of exchange or promissory note made, drawn, or issued within the State, if the instrument is stamped not later than thirty days from the time when it was first received by the payee, or in the case of a bill of exchange or promissory note or other instrument drawn or purporting to be drawn out of the State, if the instrument is stamped at any time before payment or receipt (as the case may be) and not being later than thirty days after it was first received within the State:

Provided further, that if any instrument is presented to the Commissioners or a Deputy Commissioner to be stamped after the expiration of thirty days from the date thereof or from its first receipt by the payee, or within the State, as the case may be, and if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner that the delay in presenting the same was due to unavoidable accident, and not merely to negligence on the part of the holder or his agent, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners or Deputy Commissioner to stamp the said instrument, and to forego all claim for any penalty:

Provided nevertheless that the Commissioners or a Deputy Commissioner may, in their or his discretion, instead of instituting proceedings for the recovery of the penalty, demand and receive the amount thereof or such reduced amount as they or he may think fit, from the person liable to pay the same.

Every public officer having in his custody any books, records, papers, documents, or proceedings, the inspection whereof may tend to secure any duty or prove or lead to the discovery of any fraud or omission in relation to any duty, shall at all reasonable times permit any person thereto authorised by the Commissioners to inspect the books, records, papers, documents, and proceedings, and to take such notes and extracts as he may deem necessary, without fee or reward, and in case of refusal shall for every offence incur a penalty not exceeding £10.

If any person whose office it is to register or enter in or upon any books or records any instrument chargeable with duty, enrols, registers, or enters any such instrument, not being duly stamped, he shall incur a penalty not exceeding £50.

No company registered under "The Companies Acts, 1863 to 1893," or otherwise incorporated, shall register in the books of the company any transfer of shares or stock unless the instrument of transfer is stamped as prescribed by this Act.

Any company registering an unstamped or insufficiently stamped transfer of shares shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £50.

And every director, manager, or other officer of the company who is concerned in registering such transfer shall be liable to the like penalty.

(1) Every person who issues, endorses, transfers, negotiates, presents for payment, or pays any bill of exchange or promissory note liable to duty, and not being duly stamped, shall incur a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds, and the person who takes or receives from any other person any such bill or note, either in payment or as a security, or by purchase or otherwise, shall not be entitled to recover thereon, or to make the same available for any purpose whatever, until it is duly stamped.

(2) Provided that if any bill of exchange payable on demand or at sight, or on presentation, is presented for payment unstamped, the person to whom it is presented may affix thereto an adhesive stamp of one penny, and cancel the same, as if he had been the drawer of the bill, and may thereupon pay the sum in the bill mentioned, and charge the duty in account against the person by whom the bill was drawn, or deduct the duty from the said sum, and the bill is, so far as respects the duty, to be deemed valid and available.

(3) But the foregoing proviso is not to relieve any person from any penalty incurred by him in relation to such bill.

58 Vic., No. 8, 23 Oct., 1894.

4 Edw. VII., No. 14, 14 Dec., 1904.

Every person who—

(1) Receives or takes credit for any premium or consideration for any insurance, or does not, within three months after receiving or taking credit for the premium or consideration, make out and execute a duly stamped policy of insurance, unless the premium or consideration so paid shall in the meantime have been returned to the person paying the same; or

(2) Makes, executes, or delivers out, or pays or allows in account, or agrees to pay or allow in account, any money upon or in respect of any policy which is not duly stamped;

shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £100.

(1) The duties imposed by this Act upon policies of insurance may be denoted by adhesive stamps, or partly by adhesive and partly by impressed stamps.

(2) When the whole or any part of the duty upon a policy of insurance is denoted by an adhesive stamp, such adhesive stamp is to be cancelled by the person by whom the policy is first executed.

(3) In default of such cancellation, the person issuing such policy shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £20.

If any person—

(1) Gives a receipt liable to duty and not duly stamped; or

(2) In any case where a receipt would be liable to duty, refuses to give a receipt duly stamped; or

(3) Upon a payment to the amount of one pound or upwards, gives a receipt for a sum not amounting to one pound, or separates or divides the amount paid with intent to evade the duty;

he shall incur a penalty not exceeding £50.

Every person who does or causes or procures to be done, or knowingly aids, abets, or assists in doing any of the acts following, that is to say,—

(1) Forges a die or stamp;

(2) Prints or makes an impression upon any material with a forged die, or by any means or device whatsoever;

(3) Fraudulently prints or makes an impression upon any material from a genuine die;

(4) Fraudulently cuts, tears, or in any way removes from any material any stamp with intent that any use should be made of such stamp or of any part thereof;

(5) Fraudulently mutilates any stamp, with intent that any use should be made of any part of such stamp;

(6) Fraudulently fixes or places upon any material or upon any stamp, any stamp or part of a stamp which, whether fraudulently or not, has been cut, torn, or in any way removed from any other material or out of or from any other stamp;

4 Edw. VII., No. 14, 14 Dec., 1904.

(7) Fraudulently erases or otherwise either really or apparently removes from any stamped material any name, sum, date, or other matter or thing whatsoever thereon written, with intent that any use should be made of the stamp upon such material;

58 Vic., No. 8, 23 Oct., 1894.
4 Edw. VII., No. 17, 17 Dec., 1904.

(8) Knowingly sells or exposes for sale, or utters or uses, any forged stamp, or any stamp which has been fraudulently printed, or impresses from a genuine die;

(9) Knowingly, and without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on the person accused), has in his possession any forged die or stamp, or any stamp which has been fraudulently printed, or impresses from a genuine die, or any stamp or part of a stamp which has been fraudulently cut, torn, or otherwise removed from any material, or any stamp which has been fraudulently mutilated, or any stamped material out of which any name, sum, date, or other matter or thing has been fraudulently erased or otherwise either really or apparently removed;

shall be guilty of felony, and shall, on conviction, be liable to be kept in penal servitude for any term not exceeding fourteen years, or to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding two years.

6 Geo. V., No. 12, 15 Nov., 1915.

2. (1.) Where any person dies from injuries inflicted, accident occurring, or disease contracted (within twelve months before death) while on naval or military service, whether with His Majesty's Navy or Army or under the provisions of any Act of the Parliament of the Commonwealth of Australia, during the War in which His Majesty is at present engaged, the following provisions shall apply as to the duties payable under sections twelve and fifty-five of "The Succession and Probate Duties Acts, 1892 to 1906," whether under a will or on the intestacy of such person:—

(i.) In all cases where the net value of all the property passing on the death of the deceased does not exceed five thousand pounds:—

(a) In calculating the value of any succession to which the widow or widower or a lineal descendant or a lineal ancestor of the deceased becomes immediately entitled on the death of the deceased, for the purposes of assessing the duty to be paid under section twelve, the sum of two thousand five hundred pounds shall be deducted from the value of each such succession, and duty, if any, under the said section shall be assessed only on the amount, if any, remaining after such deduction; and this deduction shall be made notwithstanding that any other person or persons in addition to all or any of the persons aforesaid is or are also entitled to a succession or successions on the death of the deceased;

(b) In calculating the net value of the property of the deceased, for the purposes of assessing the duty to be paid under section fifty-five on the grant of probate or letters of administration of the estate of the deceased, there shall be deducted the total value of all successions (but not exceeding two thousand five hundred pounds in respect of each succession) to which the widow or widower or a lineal descendant or a lineal ancestor of the deceased becomes immediately entitled on the death of the deceased, and the duty, if any, under the said section shall be assessed only on the net value, if any, of the property remaining after such deduction of the value of such successions as aforesaid has been made.

(ii.) In all cases where the net value of all the property passing on the death of the deceased exceeds five thousand pounds, there shall be remitted, or, if duty has been paid, repaid, in respect of the total value of all the successions to which the widow or widower or a lineal descendant or a lineal ancestor of the deceased becomes immediately entitled on the death of the deceased, so much of the duties in the aggregate leviable under sections twelve and fifty-five as exceeds a sum which, if accumulated at interest at the rate of three pounds per centum per annum from the date of death, would, at the expiration of the period of the normal expectation of life of a person of the age of the deceased at the date of his death, amount to the duties so leviable; and the sum so remitted shall be remitted in favour of each such successor in proportion to the value of the successions to which each such successor has become so entitled, and to no other persons: for the purposes of this provision, the normal expectation of life shall be calculated in accordance with the Australian Life Tables, 1901-1910, compiled by the Commonwealth Statistician.

(2.) The foregoing provisions shall apply as to duties payable under sections twelve and fifty-five, respectively, in respect of the real and personal estate of persons dying as aforesaid, whether before, on, or after the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen.

3. (1.) Where the Attorney-General is satisfied that duty has become payable in respect of any property in a case to which the last preceding section applies, and that subsequently duty has again become payable in respect of the same property, or any part thereof, upon its being derived from, or accruing on the death of, some other deceased person, in a case to which the said section applies, the whole of the duty thus subsequently becoming payable shall be remitted, or, in case the duty has been paid, repaid.

(2.) This section shall only apply to property as aforesaid derived by, or accrued or accruing to, the widow or widower or a lineal descendant or a lineal ancestor of such last-mentioned deceased person.

4. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to relieve any executor or administrator from any obligation to file with or furnish to the proper officer any inventory or account prescribed by law to be filed or furnished by him.

5. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this Act, for the purpose of fixing the rate of succession duty, if any, chargeable under the said section twelve in respect of any succession, the value of the whole succession or successions passing upon the death of the deceased shall be ascertained without taking into consideration any allowances provided for by this Act.

1 Geo V., No. 15. (31 Dec., 1910.) Regulations, Government Gazette, (28 June, 1912.)

Minimum girth of trees to be cut.

42. A license issued under these Regulations does not authorise (except in the case of timber obtained for mining purposes, or for piles or girders, or when specifically stated in the case of a license to cut timber for fuel, a license to strip bark for tanning purposes, or a license to cut and split slabs, fencing material, and shingles), the cutting down or destruction of any tree of less girth, inclusive of the bark, than is herein specified, that is to say,—

Red cedar, 90 inches; acacia cedar, 66 inches; kauri pine, 84 inches; bunya pine and hoop pine, 72 inches; cypress pine, 30 inches; other soft woods and hardwood, 60 inches; such measurements shall be made at a height of 5 feet from the ground, except when the Commissioner is satisfied the timber is stunted or has reached its full growth, in which case its removal may be authorised.

Regulations, Government Gazette (13 Mar., 1913.)

1. Where any person who is the holder of a royalty license and who under any regulations repealed by "The Timber and Quarry Regulations of 1912," has entered into an agreement with the Commissioner, which agreement is still subsisting, and where it appears to the Minister that such person has special claims for consideration in respect of the area specified in such agreement by reason of the erection of a milling plant pursuant to or prior to the making of such an agreement, the Minister may authorise the sale to such person, without competition, of an additional quantity of timber growing on such area, subject to such fresh conditions as may be deemed necessary, provided always—

(1) That all the conditions of the subsisting agreement have been observed;

(2) That no such sale shall extend to any quantity exceeding two million superficial feet in any one year;

(3) That no succession of such sales shall extend to any quantity exceeding five million superficial feet in all; and

(4) That the additional quantity comprised in all such sales shall not exceed the quantity provided for in such agreement.

Regulations. Government Gazette. (4 Nov., 1915.)

14. (4) The conditions of sale may provide that any person or company, or the trustee, agent, or servant of any person or company, holding under agreement with any officer of the Crown the right to remove a specified quantity of timber, shall not be capable of bidding or of tendering, or of being or becoming the purchaser at any such sale by auction or tender; and when the conditions of sale make such provision as aforesaid, any person so declared not capable of bidding or of tendering, or of being or becoming the purchaser, who assumes or attempts so to bid or tender, shall be guilty of an offence, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

	COAL AND MINERAL OIL MINING.
62 Vic., No. 24. (30 Dec., 1898.) Secs. 49, 52 to 55.	Any person who is desirous of prospecting Crown lands for coal or mineral oil may make application in the prescribed form to the proper Warden for a license to occupy any Crown lands described in the application, and not being of greater area than two thousand five hundred and sixty acres, for the purpose of searching for coal or mineral oil thereon	Annual rent for license, per acre. £ s. d. 0 0 1
	The license may be renewed by the Minister for another year upon payment of a like sum of one penny per acre of the land comprised therein. A licensee must commence to search for coal or mineral oil upon the land comprised in the license within ninety days after the grant of the license or such further period as the Minister may allow, and if during the currency of the license or renewal license the licensee has not made or is not making reasonable endeavours to search for coal or mineral oil, as the case may be, the license may be cancelled by the Minister.
	Leases may be granted to mine for coal or mineral oil; in the case of coal the area shall not exceed six hundred and forty acres and mineral oil 320 acres, provided always that an application of a licensee in respect of land comprised within his license shall have priority over the application of any other person.
	The yearly rent of land leased for mining for coal or mineral oil shall be sixpence per acre; and with respect to mining for coal there shall be reserved in the lease a royalty, payable during the first five years of the term, of two pence for every ton of coal raised if the mine is situated more than one hundred miles from a seaport or place of delivery, and three pence if it is situated not more than one hundred miles from seaport or place of delivery; the royalty for the remainder of the term shall be in the first mentioned case four pence per ton, and in the second mentioned case six pence per ton.
	The royalty reserved in the case of leases to mine for mineral oil shall be five per cent. of the gross value of all crude oil obtained.
	The times and mode of ascertaining the amount of any royalty so payable and the time for payment thereof shall be prescribed by the lease.

PUBLIC CURATOR ACT.

6 Geo. V., No 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

3. (ii.) The public curator shall by virtue of his office be deemed to be curator of intestate estates for the purpose of any estate to which the "Curator of Intestate Estates Act of 1867" now applies, and to have been so appointed under and for the purposes of that Act;

(iii.) In the case of any insolvency under any Act prior to "The Insolvency Act of 1874," the affairs of which have not yet been fully administered, the whole of such unadministered estate, and every power, right, title, privilege, and remedy vested in or competent to any assignee by virtue of his appointment under such Act, shall, without any conveyance or assignment, become vested in the public curator, who is hereby authorised exclusively to do all such acts and things with respect to such insolvency as fully and effectually as if the same were an insolvency under "The Insolvency Act of 1874." And the trustee of such estate shall forward returns of all moneys received and disbursed by him since a date to be fixed by the public curator, and shall pay over any balance remaining from such moneys to the public curator:

Provided that nothing herein shall impose any liability on the public curator for any wrongful act or omission of such trustee, or relieve such trustee from any personal liability therefor; and the liability, if any, of the public curator under this Act shall be limited to the value of the property which has devolved upon him as aforesaid.

4. "Estate" or "estates"—Any property under administration or held, managed, or controlled by the public curator in any capacity whatsoever;

"Property" includes both real and personal property of every description or kind whatsoever;

"Trust" does not include the duties incident to an estate mortgaged; but, with this exception, "trust" and "trustee" include implied and constructive trusts, and include cases where the trustee has some beneficial estate or interest in the subject of the trust, and include also the Crown or any public officer, or an executor or administrator, and the duties incident to the office of personal representative of a deceased person;

"Trust instrument" includes a will, settlement, or other instrument creating a trust, whether the same was made, or came or is to come into operation, or took or is to take effect, before or after the commencement of this Act;

"Trust property" includes all property in the possession or under the control, wholly or partly, of the public curator, or to which he is entitled by virtue of any trust.

"Will" includes a codicil.

7. (1.) The offices respectively of curator of intestate estates, curator in insanity, official trustee in insolvency, and principal receiver in insolvency are abolished.

Subject to this Act, the former powers and duties of such officers shall be exercised and performed by the public curator.

(2.) The office of district receiver in insolvency is abolished, and, subject to this Act, the former powers and duties of every district receiver in insolvency shall be exercised and performed by such officer as the public curator designates respectively in that behalf.

(3.) All the duties, powers, authorities, and functions which by "The Insolvency Act of 1874" were imposed or conferred upon or vested in the accountant in insolvency, and which by "The Insolvency, Intestacy, and Insanity Administration Act of 1893" were transferred to and imposed and conferred upon and vested in one or more of the official trustees appointed by the Governor in Council in that behalf, shall, on the commencement of this Act, be transferred to and imposed and conferred upon the public curator, and the term "trustee" in sections one hundred and thirty-six, one hundred and ninety-three, one hundred and ninety-four, and one hundred and ninety-five of "The Insolvency Act of 1874" shall be construed as relating solely to a trustee appointed by the creditors.

(4.) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in section two hundred and two, subsection nine, of the said Act, the provisions of that Act as amended by this Act with respect to the audit of trustees' accounts shall apply in the case of a debtor whose affairs are under liquidation by arrangement, and sections one hundred and ninety-three, one hundred and ninety-four, and one hundred and ninety-five of that Act shall be construed as applying equally to every trustee under such liquidation, as well as every trustee appointed by the creditors.

(5.) Whenever proceedings in liquidation by arrangement have been closed, and the trustee has obtained his release, all outstanding assets belonging to the estate of the debtor shall vest in the public curator, and he shall be deemed to be the trustee in such liquidation for the purposes of realising such assets and properly distributing the same, and of the debtor's discharge, and of any other matter or thing which may arise in connection with the estate.

9. (1.) The public curator is hereby constituted a corporation sole under the name of "The Public Curator of Queensland," with perpetual succession and a seal of office.

Subject to this Act, the public curator shall be capable in law of suing and being sued, and of taking, purchasing, holding, and alienating land of any tenure, and of doing and suffering all such other acts and things as bodies corporate may by law do and suffer.

(2.) The appointment of the public curator and of his deputies and their signatures, and the seal of the public curator, shall be judicially noticed.

10. Where the public curator is authorised to enter into any contract or exercise any power, such authority may be exercised as follows:—

Any contract which if made between private persons, or any power which if exercised by private persons,—

Firstly, must be by deed or in writing under seal;

Secondly, must be in writing signed by the parties thereto or the persons executing the power;

Thirdly, may be made or exercised verbally, without writing:

When entered into or exercised by the public curator,—

In the first case, shall be in writing under his seal, and signed by or on behalf of the public curator;

In the second case, shall be in writing, signed by or on behalf of the public curator;

In the third case, may be made or exercised verbally, without writing, by or on behalf of the public curator.

11. (1.) The public curator may appoint any person to act as his agent.

At the request of the public curator, any clerk of petty sessions and any other State officer shall act as such agent within his district, and with, under, and subject to such powers, conditions, and limitations as are contained in such appointment.

(2.) Every such agent, not being a clerk of petty sessions or other State officer, shall, if required by the public curator, give such security for the due performance of his duties as the public curator thinks proper and sufficient.

12. Any officer or agent of the public curator who is authorised by the public curator in writing in that behalf, whether generally or in any particular case, may make any oath or declaration required to be made by the public curator, or verify any account, or execute transfers and assurances of any property, or sign or seal any documents or instruments requiring the public curator's signature or seal, or give consents or appear and conduct proceedings and give personal attendance in any court, or generally do any act or thing whatsoever for and on behalf of the public curator.

When so signing, such person shall sign his personal name, adding the words "acting under the authority of the public curator of Queensland pursuant to 'The Public Curator Act of 1915,'" and he shall affix the public curator's seal in cases requiring the use of such seal; and such person's signature shall be judicially taken notice of without further proof.

Any such transfer, assurance, consent, document, or instrument executed as aforesaid by such person shall have the same effect as if the same were executed by the public curator personally.

13. No bond or other security shall be required from the public curator or any of his deputies in relation to his appointment to or acting in any office or capacity pursuant to this Act.

14. Every member of the staff of the public curator, and every agent of the public curator, shall be bound to secrecy by declaration in the prescribed form.

15. The public curator may, subject to the regulations, employ such solicitors, counsel, bankers, accountants, and brokers or other persons as he considers necessary.

In determining the persons to be so employed in relation to any trust, he shall have regard to the interests of the trust, but subject to this shall, whenever practicable, take into consideration the wishes of the creator of the trust and of the other trustees (if any), and of the beneficiaries, either expressed or as implied by the practice of the creator of the trust, or in the previous management of the trust.

16. The public curator shall not, nor shall any of his deputies or officers, act under this Act for reward, except as provided by this Act.

17. (1.) There shall be charged and payable in respect of the duties and services of the public curator such fees, whether by way of percentage or otherwise, as are prescribed by the regulations.

Such fees shall be collected and accounted for by such persons and in such manner, and shall be paid to such accounts, as are so prescribed.

(2.) Any expenses which might be retained or paid out of the trust property if the public curator were a private trustee shall be so retained or paid, and the prescribed fees shall also be retained or paid in the like manner as and in addition to such expenses.

(4.) The incidence of the fees and expenses under this section as between corpus and income shall be determined by the public curator.

18. (1.) Subject to this Act, all capital moneys, however arising, vested in the public curator, whether directed to be invested or not, shall become one common fund (herein called the "common fund"). and shall be invested by him.

Investments made from the common fund shall not be made on account of or belong to any particular trust or estate.

Subject to this Act, interest earned by such investments shall be paid into the common fund.

(2.) The public curator may invest in any of the investments in which, under "The Trustees and Executors Act of 1897," or any Act amending the same, trustees are authorised to invest trust funds, and also in any class of investment from time to time approved, for the purposes of this Act, by the Governor in Council by Order in Council published in the Gazette.

(3.) He may invest or retain invested money belonging to any trust or estate and coming to his hands in any investment authorised by the trust instrument or (save as otherwise provided by that instrument) authorised by law, and may (save as so provided) retain any investment existing at the date of the commencement of the trust, or (where the trust arises on an intestacy) at the date of the death of the intestate.

(4.) The interest payable to the respective trusts or estates the moneys of which form the common fund shall be at a rate to be from time to time determined by the Governor in Council.

Such interest shall be credited to the respective trusts or estates quarterly, on the first days of January, April, July, and October in each year.

(5.) Provided that moneys expressly directed to be invested otherwise than as mentioned in subsection two hereof shall not form part of the common fund, and the public curator may invest such moneys in accordance with such direction. But any loss or deficiency in respect of any such investments, or of the money received therefrom or realised thereby, shall be borne by the trust or estate to which such moneys belong, or if received or realised would belong.

21. (1.) The Public Curator may make advances out of money standing to the credit of the common fund for the purposes of any trust or estate in course of administration or about to be administered by him.

(2.) Where an estate is under administration by him and there is no money or not sufficient money available to make payments required to be made on account of such estate, whether to the persons entitled thereto or to a share or interest therein or otherwise, he may advance and pay for on account of such estate any sum of money (not exceeding in the whole one-half the total value of the property) which he is authorised or required to pay.

(3.) Where an estate is under administration by him and any person entitled to a share of that estate desires an advance against his share, he may make advances to that person not exceeding in the whole one-half of the value of the share as estimated by the public curator.

(4.) All sums so advanced, with all interest thereon, shall be a first charge upon all the property of the estate, or the share advanced against, as the case may be, and shall bear interest at the rate fixed by the public curator, but not exceeding six pounds per centum per annum.

(5.) All interest received under this provision shall be paid into the common fund.

22. The accounts of the public curator in every capacity in which he acts shall be audited by the Department of the Auditor-General; and the public curator, his deputies, officers, and agents shall be deemed to be public accountants within the meaning of "The Audit Acts, 1874 to 1906."

23. (1.) The public curator shall make or cause to be made an inventory of each estate in course of administration by him, and shall retain the same in his office, and shall keep an account of all his receipts, payments, and dealings in every such estate, and shall retain all letters received and copies of all letters written by him and all deeds, papers, and writings of and relating to every such estate.

He shall file a copy of such inventory in respect of each estate in the registry of the court; but, notwithstanding any Act, rule, or practice to the contrary, it shall not be necessary for him to file any such account in such registry.

(2.) Upon an application in writing by or with the authority of any person interested in any such estate, the public curator shall—

(a) Permit the applicant or his solicitor or other authorised agent to inspect and take copies of any entry in any register relating to the estate, and (so far as the interest of the applicant is or may be affected thereby) of any account, notice, or other document in the custody of the public curator; and

(b) At the expense of the applicant supply him or his solicitor or other authorised agent with a copy of any such entry, account, or document as aforesaid, or of any extract therefrom; and

(c) Give to such applicant or his solicitor or other authorised agent such information respecting the estate and the trust property as is reasonably requested in the application and is within the power of the public curator.

(3.) Subject as aforesaid, the public curator, his deputies, officers, and agents, shall observe strict secrecy in respect of every trust or estate in course of administration by him.

24. There shall be established by the public curator an account to be called the "Unclaimed Moneys Fund."

The Governor in Council may direct that the whole or part of the moneys paid to the credit of the Unclaimed Moneys Fund shall be invested in the purchase of Government debentures or stock, and the interest arising from such investment shall be paid into the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

25. The public curator shall in every year in the month of January transmit to the Minister, to be laid before Parliament—

(a) A balance-sheet setting forth the total receipts and expenditure of the public curator during the preceding year, and the property and investments held and made during that period; and

(b) A profit and loss account setting forth the total revenue and expenditure of the public curator's office (including advances, if any) and losses chargeable to such revenue; and

(c) A statement showing the position and investment of the Unclaimed Moneys Fund.

27. (1.) All freehold land which becomes vested in the public curator under or pursuant to this or any other Act, and which is not subject to the provisions of "The Real Property Acts, 1861 to 1887," may be brought by him under the provisions of those Acts.

(2.) The proper registrar of titles shall register transmission of any real property to the public curator when duly appointed, and register all transfers and other instruments executed by the public curator, in the same manner as transmission is now entered up to the devisee, and as transfers and other instruments are now registered.

(3.) Whenever in any case the title of the public curator is defective through the non-existence or non-issue of any instrument of title which ought to be issued, then the public curator may require the same to be issued to him, and the proper officer shall upon such request issue the same to him accordingly.

(4.) The registrar-general and the Department of Public Lands, and every officer of the Supreme Court and every registrar of titles, registrar of companies, registrar of firms, and mining registrar, shall permit the public curator and any of his deputies, and any officer authorised by him or any of them in that behalf, free of charge, to make searches of and to make copies of or extracts from any documents of title or records in the department or registry relating to any property in which the public curator is or may be interested.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

28. (1.) Where the Crown, the Governor in Council, or a public officer, or a court, judge, public or private corporate body, or any person within or without Queensland, now or hereafter can appoint a trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, committee, agent, or attorney, any of such appointments may be made of the public curator if he consents thereto.

(2.) Where the Crown, the Governor in Council, or a public officer, or a court or judge, public or private corporate body, or any person within or without Queensland, desires to or can create any trust, then, unless expressly prohibited, the Crown (by the Governor in Council), the Governor in Council, or such public officer, court, or judge, corporate body, or person may, for the purposes of such trust, appoint the public curator to be trustee upon such trusts and under and subject to such powers, provisions, and conditions as are expressed.

(3.) Subject to this Act, the duties and rights of the public curator under any appointment shall be the same as if the appointment had been of a private person.

29. (1.) With the consent of the court—

(a) Executors, whether appointed before or after the commencement of this Act, may, unless expressly prohibited, before or after taking out probate, appoint the public curator sole executor; and

(b) Administrators, with or without a will annexed, whether appointed before or after the commencement of this Act, may, unless expressly prohibited, appoint the public curator sole administrator.

(2.) Without obtaining the consent of the court, trustees, whether appointed before or after the commencement of this Act, and under whatsoever trust instrument appointed, may, unless expressly prohibited, and notwithstanding the terms of the trust as to the number of trustees, appoint the public curator (if he consents thereto) sole trustee in their place.

Executors whose duties continue in the nature of a trusteeship after their administration is closed shall for the purposes of this subsection be deemed to be trustees.

(3.) Where there are more trustees, executors, or administrators than one, any one trustee or executor, (whether before or after proving a will), or any one administrator, may apply to the court to have the public curator appointed sole trustee, executor, or administrator.

(4.) On any application under this section the court may make such order as it thinks fit.

(5.) Where to the appointment of a trustee, executor, or administrator the consent of any person is requisite, and such person refuses to consent to the public curator being appointed, or where the person to consent is an infant, or a person of unsound mind, or is absent from Queensland, or is under any other disability, then an appointment of the public curator may be made without such consent if the court consents thereto.

(6.) Whenever under this section any executor or administrator with the will annexed appoints the public curator executor or such administrator, the public curator shall, by force of such appointment, be also sole trustee if such executor or administrator were trustee, or if there were no trustee appointed by the trust instrument or in existence.

30. When any person dies, being at the time of his death seized or possessed of or otherwise entitled to any property within Queensland, and has not by his will disposed of such property, then such property shall instead of descending to his heir-at-law or next-of-kin, pass to and become vested in the public curator; and in the case of property of persons dying intestate before the commencement of this Act, where any part thereof was vested in the Chief Justice or other judge of the court, the same shall be divested from him and vested in the public curator as from the commencement of this Act.

31. (1.) The public curator may be appointed as a new trustee, or as an additional trustee, in the same cases, and in the same manner, and by the same persons or court, as if he were a private trustee:

Provided that, unless the court otherwise orders, the public curator shall not be appointed as a new or additional trustee where the trust instrument contains a direction to the contrary.

(2.) When the public curator is appointed under this section as a new or additional trustee, he shall, subject to this Act, have the same powers, authorities, and discretions, and act as if he had been originally appointed a trustee.

(3.) Notice of any proposed appointment of the public curator as a new or additional trustee shall where practicable be given to all persons beneficially interested who are resident in Queensland and whose addresses are known to the persons proposing to make the appointment, or, if such beneficiaries are infants, to their guardians; and where any person to whom such notice has been given applies to the court within twenty-one days from the receipt of the notice, the court may, if having regard to the interests of all the beneficiaries it considers it expedient to do so, make an order prohibiting the appointment being made: Provided that a failure to give any such notice shall not invalidate any such appointment.

32. (1.) On the death of any person domiciled in Queensland, or who has property in Queensland, who has died or hereafter dies in Queensland or elsewhere intestate, the public curator shall, if he thinks fit to apply therefor, be entitled to an order to administer the estate of such person in all cases where such estate is not already in course of administration under letters of administration granted to some other person.

(2.) On such application no further proof of the death and intestacy of any person shall be required than an affidavit that, after due inquiries, the public curator is satisfied that such person died intestate.

(3.) The public curator shall be entitled as of right to such order:

Provided that if some other person in Queensland, who if it were not for this section would be entitled to such administration, applies for such administration, then the court may grant administration to such person:

Provided also that it shall not be necessary for the public curator nor shall the court require him to give notice of such application to any such person.

33. (1.) Where any person has heretofore died or hereafter dies testate in or out of Queensland leaving property in Queensland, and application for probate or letters of administration has not been made within three months after the death of such person, the public curator may apply for an order to administer, and the court shall make such order unless the person entitled to probate or letters of administration applies therefor, or shows to the satisfaction of the court that the delay in making such application has been and still is unavoidable or accidental.

(2.) On such an application no costs shall be awarded against the public curator.

(3.) On the application of any person entitled to probate or letters of administration with the will annexed (or of his attorney) who was out of Queensland when the order in favour of the public curator was made, and who has not renounced or refused probate or administration, the court may grant probate or administration to such person in such manner and subject to such limitations or conditions as the court thinks proper.

(4.) No such application shall be made until after fourteen days' notice in writing of the intention to apply has been left at the office of the public curator.

(5.) Immediately on the grant of such probate or administration, all the powers, rights, and duties of the public curator (except the rights reserved hereby) in relation to the testator's estate, and all liability of the public curator under any contract entered into by him, or otherwise, affecting or relating to such estate shall cease; and, subject to and on the allowance and payment of all moneys due for fees, necessary outlay, disbursements, and expenses affecting such estate, including the expenses of and incidental to the application for probate or administration, and consequent thereon, and subject also to the provisions of this section, such portion of the estate of the testator as is then unadministered by the public curator shall vest in the person obtaining probate or administration.

34. (1.) When any person who at the time of his death was domiciled or had any estate in Queensland dies, whether such death occurred within or outside Queensland, and whether before or after the commencement of this Act, the court may, on the application of the public curator, grant to him an order to administer the estate of such person in any of the following cases:—

(i.) Where such person leaves no executor willing and capable of acting in the execution of his will resident within the jurisdiction.

(ii.) Where every executor or administrator has died.

(iii.) Where the estate or any portion thereof is liable to waste, and the executor or administrator or next-of-kin—

(a) Is absent from the locality of the estate; or

(b) Is not known; or

(c) Has not been found; or

(d) Requests the public curator in writing to apply for such order.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

(iv.) Where part of an estate already partly administered is unadministered, owing to the absence from the State or incapacity of the executor or administrator, or the executor or administrator has become insolvent.

In such case any absent or insolvent executor or administrator may be discharged by the court.

(2.) The court may make such order for a limited time or limited to a portion of the estate or otherwise.

35. (1.) In any case in which administration of the estate of any deceased person has been or is hereafter granted to any person, the public curator or any person interested may apply to the court that an order to administer the estate left unadministered may be granted to the public curator upon the ground that it would be beneficial to any person who is or may be interested in the estate that the existing administrator should be removed, and that such estate should be administered by the public curator; and the court may make such order as under the circumstances it thinks just.

(2.) Before making any such application, seven days' notice shall be given to the existing administrator unless, by reason of his absence from Queensland or for other reasons disclosed upon affidavit, the court thinks fit to hear the application without such notice.

36. (1.) Subject to this Act, an order to administer when made shall give to the public curator the same power over the property of the deceased as he would have had if letters of administration of such property had been granted to him.

(2.) Upon obtaining an order to administer, the title of the public curator to any property in the estate, and to the rents and profits thereof, shall relate back to and be deemed to have arisen upon the death of the owner of such property, as if there had been no interval of time between such death and appointment:

Provided that any acts lawfully done by a prior administrator shall be as valid and effectual as if they had been done by the public curator.

(3.) After the public curator has obtained an order to administer any estate, no person shall institute any action or other proceeding for the administration of such estate; and any such action or proceeding previously commenced shall, on the application of the public curator, be stayed on such terms as to costs and otherwise as the court thinks fit.

37. (1.) Where any person has heretofore died or hereafter dies intestate, in or out of Queensland, leaving property the gross value of which as estimated by the public curator does not at the time of the election hereinafter mentioned exceed four hundred pounds, and no person has taken out administration, the public curator may, in all cases where he is entitled to an order to administer, in lieu of obtaining such order, file in the office of the court an election in writing setting forth the name, residence, and occupation (so far as then known to him) of the intestate, and of the property of the intestate as then known, and electing to administer.

(2.) Where any person has heretofore died or hereafter dies testate in or out of Queensland, leaving property the gross value of which, as estimated by the public curator, does not at the time of the election hereinafter mentioned exceed four hundred pounds, and no person has obtained probate, the public curator may, in all cases where he is entitled to obtain probate, in lieu of obtaining probate, file in the office of the court an election under his hand and seal setting forth the name, residence, and occupation (as far as then known to him) of the testator at the date of his death, and the property of the testator as then known, and the date of his death, and stating that after due inquiries he believes that the document annexed to such election is the testator's last will, and that such will has been validly executed according to the law governing the execution of wills, and electing to administer the property according to the provisions thereof.

(3.) On such election being filed the public curator shall be deemed to be administrator or executor, as the case may be, of the whole property of the deceased person in all respects as if an order to administer or probate had been regularly granted to him.

(4.) He shall publish in the Gazette a notice that he has made such election, and such notice shall be conclusive evidence that he is rightfully entitled to administer.

(5.) If after filing such election the gross value of the property to be administered is found to exceed the sum of six hundred pounds, the public curator shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, file in the office of the court a memorandum under his hand stating the fact, and proceed in the ordinary manner to obtain an order for the administration of the estate or probate of the will, as the case requires.

(6.) In this section "probate" includes an order to administer with will annexed, whether for general, limited, or special purposes.

38. (1.) Where any person has heretofore died or hereafter dies, and notwithstanding that some person other than the public curator is appointed executor or is entitled to letters of administration, the public curator may, if he thinks fit, until probate or letters of administration are granted, exercise with respect to the estate of the deceased person all such powers and authorities and do all such acts and things as he would have or could exercise or do if the deceased had died intestate and the public curator had obtained an order to administer:

Provided that the public curator shall not sell, lease, exchange, mortgage, or partition any portion of the property (except by sale of such portion of the personal estate as is of a perishable nature) unless such property is ordered to be sold by the court on the application of the public curator.

(2.) Before the public curator first acts under this section, he shall give notice, in writing or by telegram, to any person in Queensland, if known to the public curator as a person who (not being an infant or of unsound mind) would be entitled to obtain probate or letters of administration, informing such person that he intends to so act unless such person forthwith proceeds to apply for probate or letters of administration.

If such person does not, within twenty-one days after the posting of such notice or the despatching of such telegram, give notice, in writing or by telegram, to the public curator that he intends to apply for probate or letters of administration, or if such person gives such notice but fails for fourteen days thereafter to apply therefor, or makes such application and it fails, then, unless the court otherwise orders, the public curator may proceed to exercise any of the powers and authorities given by this section.

If more persons than one are entitled to take out probate or letters of administration, it shall be sufficient to give notice to one of such persons only.

Nothing herein shall, where it is not actually known to the public curator that there is in Queensland any person entitled to obtain probate or letters of administration, or in the case of emergency (of which emergency the public curator shall be the sole judge), prevent the public curator from exercising the powers and authorities given by this section without giving such notice as aforesaid.

(3.) All expenses incurred by the public curator under this section shall be a first charge upon the property of the deceased person.

(4.) Any person who afterwards takes out probate or letters of administration of the estate of any such deceased person shall, before he is entitled to a grant thereof, first pay any fees and expenses payable to or incurred by the public curator.

39. (1.) Any person who in the opinion of the public curator would be entitled to apply to the court for an order for the administration by the court of an estate, the gross capital value whereof is proved to the satisfaction of the public curator to be less than one thousand pounds, may apply to the public curator to administer the estate, and, where any such application is made and it appears to the public curator that the persons beneficially entitled are persons of small means, the public curator shall administer the estate, unless he sees good reason for refusing to do so.

(2.) On the public curator undertaking, by declaration in writing, to administer the estate, the trust property other than stock shall, by virtue of this Act, vest in him, and the right to transfer or call for the transfer of any stock forming part of the estate shall also vest in him, in like manner as if vesting orders had been made for the purpose by the court. As from such vesting any trustee entitled under the trust to administer the estate shall be discharged from all liability attaching to the administration, except in respect of past acts:

Provided that the public curator shall not exercise the right of himself transferring the stock without the leave of the court.

(3.) Upon receiving any application under this section the public curator shall require to be supplied to him such evidence as to the value of the estate and the circumstances of the persons beneficially entitled, and such other information relating thereto, as he may consider it desirable to obtain in any particular case.

(4.) If it is not proved to the satisfaction of the public curator that the gross capital value of the estate is less than one thousand pounds, or if it does not appear to him that the persons beneficially entitled are persons of small means, or if he sees any other good reason for refusing the application, he shall refuse the same, and shall forthwith give notice to the applicant of such refusal.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

(5.) In any other case the public curator shall make in respect of the estate the declaration mentioned in subsection two hereof, and shall give notice to the applicant that the application is accepted, and shall take such other steps as may be necessary or proper to enable him to administer the estate; and any person having the custody of the probate or letters of administration or other document relating to the estate shall, upon the request in writing of the public curator, deliver the same to him or as he directs.

(6.) A refusal under this section shall not prevent the public curator from exercising with respect to the estate any powers (other than powers under this section) exercisable by him with respect thereto under this Act if duly appointed to exercise the same.

7. Upon the acceptance of any application the public curator shall determine whether the estate shall be administered from his office or from a branch office, and shall give directions accordingly; and any such direction may at any time be rescinded or varied by him at his discretion.

8. For the purposes of the administration the public curator shall (subject as hereinafter provided) have all the administrative powers and authorities exercisable by the court acting in the administration of an estate.

(9.) Where proceedings have been instituted in any court for the administration of an estate, and by reason of the small value of the estate it appears to the court that the estate can be more economically administered by the public curator than by the court, or that for any other reason it is expedient that the estate should be administered by the public curator instead of the court, the court may order that the estate shall be administered by the public curator, and thereupon (subject to any directions by the court) this section shall apply as if the administration of the estate had been undertaken by the public curator in pursuance of this section.

40. (1.) Unless the court otherwise orders, the public curator shall, within twenty-eight days after any order to administer has been granted, cause notice of the fact to be published—

(a) In some daily newspaper published in Brisbane; and if the person whose estate the public curator has been ordered to administer did not reside in Brisbane, then also

(b) In some newspaper published in the town or place in Queensland where such person resided; or if there is no newspaper published in such town or place, then

(c) In some newspaper circulating in or next to such town or place.

(2.) Unless the court otherwise orders, the public curator shall—

(a) Cause like notices to be published in newspapers published or circulating in the town or place in Queensland where the next-of-kin are known or supposed to reside; and in the case of foreigners,

(b) Give notice to the consul of the country where the next-of-kin are supposed to reside, if there is any consul resident in Brisbane.

(3.) Provided that the aforesaid notices shall not be necessary where the public curator is satisfied that the gross value of the estate does not exceed four houndred pounds.

41. (1.) In the administration of any trust estate as trustee thereof the public curator may act with an advisory trustee or advisory trustees to the extent herein provided. Where in this Act "advisory trustees" are referred to, those words mean and include "advisory trustee" in cases where there is only one advisory trustee.

(2.) An advisory trustee or advisory trustees may be appointed—

(a) By order of the court made on the application of any beneficiary or of any person on whose application the court would have power to appoint a new trustee; or

(b) By the trust instrument; or

(c) By any person having power to appoint new trustees.

(3.) Where the public curator acts with advisory trustees the trust property shall be vested in the public curator, and he shall have the sole management and administration of the estate and its trusts as fully and effectually as if he were the sole trustee:

Provided as follows:—

(a) He may consult the advisory trustees on any matter relating to the trusts or the estate.

(b) The advisory trustees may advise the public curator on any matter relating to the trusts or the estate.

(4.) In case of difference between the public curator and the advisory trustees, either the public curator or the advisory trustees may submit the matter in dispute in a summary manner to a judge of the court in chambers, whose decision thereon shall be final, and shall bind both the public curator and the advisory trustees.

(5.) No person dealing with the public curator shall be concerned to inquire as to the concurrence or otherwise of the advisory trustees, or be affected by notice of the fact that the advisory trustees have not concurred.

(6.) The power of appointing a new advisory trustee when exercisable by the continuing advisory trustees shall be exercised by them alone, but the public curator shall have the same power of applying to the court for the appointment of a new advisory trustee as is possessed by any other person.

(7.) In determining the number of trustees for the purposes of "The Trustees and Executors Acts, 1897 to 1906," the advisory trustees shall not be reckoned as trustees.

42. (1.) The public curator may, whether or not the number of trustees has been reduced below the original number, be appointed to be custodian trustee of any trust—

(a) By order of the court made on the application of any beneficiary or of any person on whose application the court may order the appointment of a new trustee; or

(b) By any trust instrument; or

(c) By any person having power to appoint new trustees.

(2.) Upon such appointment, if the public curator consents to act—

(a) The trust property shall be transferred to the custodian trustee as if he were sole trustee, and for that purpose vesting orders may, where necessary, be made by the court;

(b) The management of the trust property and the exercise of any power or discretion exercisable by the trustees under the trust shall remain vested in the trustees other than the custodian trustee (which trustees are hereinafter referred to as the managing trustees);

(c) As between the custodian trustee and the managing trustees, and subject and without prejudice to the rights of any other persons, the custodian trustee shall have the custody of all securities and documents of title relating to the trust property, but the managing trustees shall have free access thereto and be entitled to take copies thereof or extracts therefrom;

(d) The custodian trustee shall concur in and perform all acts necessary to enable the managing trustees to exercise their powers of management or any other power or discretion vested in them (including the power to pay money or securities into court), unless the matter in which he is requested to concur is a breach of trust, or involves a personal liability upon him in respect of calls or otherwise, but, unless he so concurs, the custodian trustee shall not be liable for any act or default on the part of the managing trustees or any of them;

(e) All sums payable to or out of the income or capital of the trust property shall be paid to or by the custodian trustee: Provided that the custodian trustee may allow the dividends and other income derived from the trust property to be paid to the managing trustees or to such person as they direct, or into such bank to the credit of such person as they direct, and in such case shall be exonerated from seeing to the application thereof and shall not be answerable for any loss or misapplication thereof;

(f) The power of appointing new trustees, when exercisable by the trustees, shall be exercisable by the managing trustees alone, but the custodian trustee shall have the same power of applying to the court for the appointment of a new trustee as any other trustee;

(g) In determining the number of trustees for the purposes of "The Trustees and Executors Acts, 1897 to 1906," the custodian trustee shall not be reckoned as a trustee;

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

(h) The custodian trustee, if he acts in good faith, shall not be liable for accepting as correct and acting upon the faith of any written statement by the managing trustees as to any birth, death, marriage, or other matter of pedigree or relationship, or other matter of fact, upon which the title to the trust property or any part thereof may depend, nor for acting upon any legal advice obtained by the managing trustees independently of the custodian trustee;

(i) The court may, on the application of either the custodian trustee or any of the managing trustees, or of any beneficiary, and on proof to its satisfaction that it is the general wish of the beneficiaries, or that on other grounds it is expedient to terminate the custodian trusteeship, make an order for that purpose, and the court may thereupon make such vesting orders and give such directions as under the circumstances seem to the court to be necessary or expedient.

43. The public curator may if he thinks fit—

(i.) Act as custodian trustee of a trust which involves the management or carrying on of any business, but upon the conditions that he shall not—
  (a) Act in the management or carrying on of such business; or
  (b) Hold any property of such a nature as will expose the holder thereof to any liability except under exceptional circumstances, and when he is satisfied that he is fully indemnified or secured against loss; and

(ii.) Accept as ordinary trustee under exceptional circumstances a trust which involves the management or carrying on of any business, but upon the conditions that except with the approval of the Minister he shall only carry on the same—
  (a) For a short time not exceeding eighteen months; and (b) With a view to sale, disposition, or winding-up and (c) If satisfied that the same can be carried on without risk of loss.

44. (1.) Notice in writing to the public curator of his appointment as trustee or advisory trustee or custodian trustee may be sent to him—

(a) Where the appointment has been made by a testator —by any trustee or beneficiary under the will; and
(b) In the case of the estate of an intestate—by any person appearing to be beneficially interested in the estate; and
(c) In any case—by the persons or any one of the persons having power under this Act to make the appointment.

(2.) It shall be the duty of any person appointed by a testator to be co-trustee with the public curator, and, not renouncing or disclaiming the trust, to give to the public curator notice in writing of such appointment as soon as practicable after the same has come to his knowledge.

(3.) Upon receiving any such notice, the public curator may require to be produced to him the trust instrument (if any), and may require to be supplied with a copy of that instrument, and of any other document affecting the trust, and such particulars as to the nature and value of the trust property, and the liabilities (if any) attaching to such property or the holder thereof, and the names and places of abode of any beneficiaries and trustees under the trust, and such other information relating to the trust as he considers it desirable to obtain in any particular case.

(4.) As soon as may be after receiving any such notice, the public curator shall take into consideration, upon such evidence as appears to him sufficient—

(a) The gross capital value of the trust property;
(b) The mode of investment and the condition of the trust property;
(c) The situation, tenure, and character of any land comprised in the trust property;
(d) Any liabilities attaching to the trust property or the holder thereof;
(e) The places of abode and circumstances of the beneficiaries; and (f) All the circumstances of the case; and shall decide whether the trust ought to be accepted or refused. He shall forthwith give such notice as he thinks proper of such acceptance or refusal, and in case of acceptance shall execute an instrument in the prescribed form expressing his consent to act in the trust.

Upon acceptance he shall determine whether the trust, so far as his powers and duties are concerned, shall be administered from his office or from a branch office, and give directions accordingly. Any such direction may at any time be rescinded or varied by him at his discretion.

45. (1.) Where the trustees of a trust estate are empowered to delegate all or any of their powers and functions to any person, they may delegate the same to the public curator with his consent, and in such case the public curator may exercise all the powers and functions so delegated.

The charges of the public curator shall be such as are prescribed, or, if not prescribed, as are agreed on by the delegating trustees and the public curator.

(2.) Any executor may pay the legacy or share due to any infant to the public curator and by writing direct the public curator to account to such infant according to the provisions of the trust instrument; and such writing shall vest in the public curator all the powers of such executor or the trustee of such instrument in regard to such legacy or share. This provision extends to existing instruments.

Such executor shall furnish the public curator with a copy of the trust instrument, and the public curator shall act thereon.

''Executor'' in this subsection includes an administrator with or without the will annexed for general, special, or limited purposes; also any trustee.

46. The public curator, with his consent, and for such remuneration as is prescribed, or, if not prescribed, as is agreed on, may be appointed receiver or receiver and manager under any Act or instrument providing for the appointment of a receiver or receiver and manager, or in the exercise of the general jurisdiction of the court.

47. The public curator may, by deed or will or by the court (whether on the application of the public curator or of any other person), be appointed to be a guardian of an infant under any law in force for the time being relating to the guardianship and custody of infants.

48. Subject to this Act, the public curator shall be capable of being appointed and of acting—

(i.) As next friend of an infant;
(ii.) As committee of the property of any person of unsound mind, whether so found by inquisition or not.

49. (1.) In any case where a fund is raised by public or private subscriptions for the benefit or relief of any person or class of persons, the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) The fund may be paid to the public curator to be administered by him and to be invested in the common fund;
(b) The public curator may recognise as a committee any persons whom he believes to have been appointed or authorised in that capacity by a substantial number of the subscribers;
(c) The public curator, after conferring with the committee, may apply to the court for directions as to the administration of the fund, and for that purpose may submit a scheme;
(d) The court may approve the scheme with or without modification as the court thinks fit;
(e) The public curator shall administer the fund in accordance with the scheme so approved;
(f) On the application of the public curator, of the Attorney-General on the relation of any member of the committee, or of any person claiming an interest in the fund, the court may at any time vary the scheme or give directions on any point or question relating to the scheme or the fund;
(g) The public curator shall obey all such directions.

(2.) This section shall apply to funds raised before or after the commencement of this Act.

50. Where the amount of the compensation money due in respect of the death of a worker has been duly arrived at, the person liable to pay the same may pay the same to the public curator, and the receipt of the public curator, or of any one authorised by him in that behalf, shall be a complete discharge to such person.

The public curator shall thereupon hold the said money for the person or persons entitled thereto.

A certificate under the hand and seal of the public curator showing the receipt of the said money shall, in any court or proceedings whatsoever, be sufficient evidence of the facts therein stated without any further proof.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

51. (1.) In any cause or matter in the court in which money or damages is or are claimed by or on behalf of an infant or a person of unsound mind not so found by inquisition suing either alone or in conjunction with other parties, no settlement or compromise or acceptance of money paid into court, whether before or at or after the trial, shall as regards the claims of any such infant or person of unsound mind be valid without the sanction of the public curator, and no money or damages recovered or awarded in any such cause or matter in respect of the claims of any such infant or person of unsound mind, whether by verdict or settlement, compromise, payment into court or otherwise, before or at or after the trial, shall be paid to the next friend of the plaintiff or to the plaintiff's solicitor unless the court so directs.

(2.) All money or damages so recovered or awarded shall, unless the court otherwise directs, be paid to the public curator, and shall, subject to any general or special directions of the court, be held and applied by him in such manner as he thinks fit for the maintenance and education or otherwise for the benefit of such infant or person of unsound mind.

(3.) Nothing in this section shall prejudice the lien of a solicitor for costs.

The costs of the plaintiff or, if more than one, of all the plaintiffs in any such cause or matter or incident to the claims therein or consequent thereon shall be taxed by the taxing master as between party and party and as between solicitor and client; and the taxing master shall certify the respective amounts of the party and party and solicitor and client's costs, and the difference (if any) and the proportion of such difference (if any) payable respectively by any adult party to the cause or matter and by or out of the moneys of any party who is an infant or such person of unsound mind; and no costs other than those so certified shall be payable to the solicitor for any plaintiff in the cause or matter.

The result of any such taxation shall be notified to the public curator by the taxing master.

(4.) The public curator in any case in which he is trustee under this section may at any time and from time to time request the court to give him directions as to the trust or its administration, or to vary directions which have already been given in regard thereto, or to determine any question arising therein; and such directions or determination may be given accordingly.

52. The Governor in Council may, by Order in Council published in the Gazette, authorise and require the public curator to exercise the powers and authorities vested in, and to undertake the duties and obligations vested in, the Treasurer under "The Supreme Court Funds Act of 1895," and may, by such Order or any subsequent Order, give such directions as may be necessary to effectuate such object. Thereupon the public curator may and shall exercise all such powers and authorities and discharge and perform all such duties and obligations instead of the Treasurer; and references in the said Act to the Treasurer shall be construed as references to the public curator.

53. (1.) Subject to this Act, the public curator, when acting in any capacity under or for the purposes of this Act, shall have the same powers, duties, and liabilities, and be entitled to the same rights and immunities, as an individual person acting in the same capacity; and the provisions of all laws in force relating to any such matters, so far as the same do not conflict with this Act, shall apply accordingly.

(2.) He may decline, either absolutely or except upon conditions, to accept any trust or to act in any capacity to which he may be appointed under this Act, but shall not so decline on the ground only of the small value of the trust property concerned.

(3.) Upon any appointment or other authority of the public curator as a trustee taking effect, all the estate in respect of which he is so appointed or authorised shall, subject to the trusts thereof, by virtue of such appointment and without other assurances in the law, become and be conveyed, assigned, and transferred, so that the same shall thereupon become and be legally and effectually vested in him:

Provided that where any portion of the estate is subject to the laws relating to mining or to the use and occupation of Crown lands, or to "The Real Property Acts, 1861 to 1887," unless the court makes a vesting order in respect thereof, the necessary and appropriate transfers shall be executed and registered so as to transfer such estate to the public curator, and until such transfers are so executed and registered any existing trustees shall not be discharged from the trusts in respect of such portion of the estate:

Provided further that nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prevent any property vesting in any person who for the time being is a co-trustee of the property with the public curator.

54. (1.) If any appointment of the public curator to any capacity under this Act is not accepted by him, notice thereof shall be sent to such persons as the public curator thinks fit.

(2.) If any property has become, by virtue of an appointment which is rejected, vested in the public curator, then by virtue of a rejection as aforesaid such property shall cease to be vested in the public curator, and the public curator may execute and do all such instruments and things as may be necessary to give effect to such rejection.

(3.) The evidence of acceptance or rejection of any appointment shall be conclusive if such acceptance or rejection is in writing, signed by the public curator.

55. (1.) Subject to the rules and unless the court otherwise orders, the condition and accounts of any trust whatsoever shall, on an application being made to the public curator and notice thereof given in the prescribed manner by any trustee or beneficiary, be investigated and audited by the public curator or some person appointed by him:

Provided that (except with the leave of the court) such an investigation or audit shall not be required within twelve months after any such previous investigation or audit, and that a trustee or beneficiary shall not be appointed under this section to make an investigation or audit.

(2.) The person making the investigation or audit (hereinafter called the auditor) shall have a right of access to the books, accounts, and vouchers of the trustees, and to any securities and documents of title held by them on account of the trust, and may require from them such information and explanation as may be necessary for the performance of his duties, and upon the completion of the investigation and audit shall forward to the applicant and to every trustee a copy of the accounts, together with a report thereon, and a certificate signed by him to the effect that the accounts exhibit a true view of the state of the affairs of the trust, and that he has had the securities of the trust fund investments produced to and verified by him, or (as the case may be) that such accounts are deficient in such respects as may be specified in such certificate.

(3.) Every beneficiary under the trust shall, subject to the rules, be entitled at all reasonable times to inspect and take copies of the accounts, report, and certificate, and, at his own expense, to be furnished with copies thereof or extracts therefrom.

(4.) If any auditor is removed, or resigns, or dies, or becomes insolvent or incapable of acting before the investigation and audit is completed, a new auditor may be appointed in his place in like manner as the original auditor.

(5.) The remuneration of the auditor and the other expenses of the investigation and audit shall be such as may be prescribed by the regulations, and shall, unless the public curator otherwise directs, be borne by the trust or estate; and, in the event of the public curator so directing, he may order that such expenses be borne by the applicant or by the trustees personally or partly by them and partly by the applicant.

(6.) If any person having the custody of any documents to which the auditor has a right of access under this section fails or refuses to allow him to have access thereto or in any wise obstructs the investigation or audit, the auditor may apply to the court, and thereupon the court shall make such order as it thinks just.

(7.) If any person in any statement of accounts, report, or certificate required for the purposes of this section wilfully makes a statement false in any material particular, he shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding six months, and to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds in lieu of or in addition to such imprisonment.

56. (1.) Where any mortgagee of property is absent from Queensland, and, so far as the mortgagor is aware, there is no person in Queensland authorised to give a discharge of the mortgage debt at or after the time appointed for the redemption of the mortgage, the public curator, on tender to him of the mortgage debt, and on proof to his satisfaction that the amount tendered is the whole amount due under the mortgage, may receive the same in trust for the mortgagee or other person entitled thereto and on receipt thereof shall sign a memorandum of discharge of the mortgage debt in the prescribed form, and such memorandum of discharge shall operate as if the same had been signed by the mortgagee himself.

(2.) In the case of land, upon presentation of such memorandum, the proper registrar of titles shall make an entry in the register discharging such mortgage, stating the day and hour on which such entry is made.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

Such entry shall be a valid discharge for such mortgage, and shall have the same force and effect as is hereinbefore given to a like entry when made upon production of the mortgage with the receipt of the mortgagee.

Such registrar of titles shall also indorse on the grant, certificate of title, or other instrument as aforesaid, and also on the memorandum of mortgage, whenever those instruments are brought to him for that purpose, the several particulars hereinbefore directed to be indorsed upon each of such instruments respectively.

(3.) In other cases, such memorandum of discharge when registered shall, for the protection of any person dealing with the mortgagor in good faith and for value, be conclusive proof of the happening of all conditions necessary to entitle the public curator to receive the mortgage debt and to sign such memorandum, and shall be a valid discharge for such mortgage.

(4.) The production of the public curator's receipt for the mortgage-moneys shall be sufficient authority to the person in possession of the instruments of title to the mortgaged property to deliver the same to the mortgagor.

(5.) The court may, in a summary way, order any person in possession of the instruments of title to the mortgaged property to deliver them to the mortgagor on production of the public curator's receipt for the mortgage-moneys, and on payment of all proper charges, if any.

57. (1.) Any person may deposit any trust instrument and any testator may deposit his will in the public curator's office for safe custody.

After the death of the testator, the public curator shall deliver the will to such person as the testator may have directed in writing, or, in the absence of such direction, to such person as the public curator thinks entitled thereto.

(2.) The public curator may accept for safe custody debentures or other interest-bearing securities for money, and also documents of title to property.

(3.) The public curator's liability for all such securities and documents shall, where a charge is made, be that of a bailee for reward, and, where no charge is made, be that of a gratuitous bailee.

58. Subject to this Act, the public curator, for any of the purposes of this Act, unless expressly prohibited by or under an instrument, may, at his discretion, and in addition to and not in restriction of any other powers under this Act or any other Act, exercise the following powers:—

(i.) Sell property by public auction or private contract, altogether or in parts, and subject to such conditions as he thinks fit; purchase in fee-simple land in Queensland; but no sale or purchase of land of an estimated value exceeding five hundred pounds shall be made unless by order of the court;

(ii.) From time to time postpone the conversion of any real or leasehold estate for such time as he thinks fit;

(iii.) On the sale of any real or leasehold estate subdivide the same into allotments, and for that purpose construct and dedicate all such roads, footpaths, and streets, and do all such other things, as he thinks necessary, or as are required by any law or by-law relating to subdivisions; and in exercising any power of sale or mortgagee, this power may be exercised by the public curator;

(iv.) Exchange property or join in a partition of property;

(v.) In exercising any power of sale conferred by this Act or by any instrument, give a lease of the property with an optional or compulsory purchasing clause;

(vi.) Lease property for a term not exceeding twenty-one years, and renew any such lease;

(vii.) Surrender or concur in surrendering any lease, and accept a new lease;

(viii.) Repair and insure against fire, accident, or loss any property;

(ix.) Pay rates, taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, and other outgoings;

(x.) Borrow money (but not exceeding five hundred pounds unless by order of the court) upon the security of property, and secure the payment thereof and interest by mortgage or charge of such property, with or without a power of sale, and enter into such covenants, provisions, and agreements as may be agreed up by him and the mortgagee. The power to give such security extends to any debt or liability incurred before the date of the public curator's appointment or authority, and he may pay the interest secured by such mortgage or charge out of the income, or, if such income is insufficient, out of capital;

(xi.) Where in connection with any estate he is lawfully holding any shares in a company or other institution, and on a reconstruction thereof or otherwise the shareholders thereof are offered an option to take up additional shares, he may on behalf of the estate take up such additional shares or any of them: for such purpose he may apply funds belonging to the estate, or may advance on the security of the estate such sums as may be necessary: in this paragraph ''shares'' includes debentures and debenture stock;

(xii.) Exercise powers of appointment and give consents as fully as the person whom he represents could have exercised or given;

(xiii.) Grant powers of attorney to any person in or out of Queensland to do any act or thing which he, if personally present, could do;

(xiv.) Appropriate any part of the estate in or towards satisfaction of any legacy or share (whether settled, contingent, or absolute) to which any person is entitled, and for that purpose value the whole or any part of the estate in such manner as he thinks fit:

Provided that, before any such appropriation is effectual, notice thereof shall be given to all persons sui juris who are interested in such appropriation, any of whom may within one month after receipt of such notice apply to the court to vary the same, and such appropriation shall be conclusive save as otherwise directed by the court:

Provided further that where the person interested is out of the jurisdiction the said period of one month may be extended by the court, for such period as the court thinks fit, on the application of the public curator or of any person interested;

(xv.) Bring or defend any action or other proceeding, and suffer judgment to go by default, or consent to any judgment or order in such action or proceeding upon such terms as he thinks fit;

(xvi.) Take part in any liquidation proceedings, or take proceedings to cause a person to be adjudicated an insolvent or a company to be wound up, and vote and act either personally or by proxy at any meetings of creditors of any person or company, or of shareholders of any company, whether the company is being wound up or not;

(xvii.) Take criminal proceedings concerning property;

(xviii.) Pay debts, obligations, and expenses;

(xix.) Carry out contracts entered into before or after the date of his appointment or authority;

(xx.) Consult with and employ such persons as he deems expedient for advising or assisting him in the administration or management of any estate and remunerate any such person in such manner as he thinks fit;

(xxi.) From time to time expend portion of the capital of any estate under his administration on the improvement or development thereof, and for the like purpose advance money on the security of such estate:

Provided that where the sum to be expended exceeds five hundred pounds the consent of the court shall be necessary;

(xxii.) Do or omit all acts and things, and execute all instruments, necessary to carry into effect any of his powers and authorities.

59. Where the public curator is realising the goods of any estate administered by him, and such goods are not of greater value than one hundred pounds, and are situated at a distance of more than ten miles from the usual place of business of a licensed auctioneer, such goods may be offered for sale by auction by some person to be appointed by the public curator, and such person for the purpose of such sale shall not require to take out an auctioneer's license.

60. (1.) The entry of the public curator by that name in the books of a company shall not constitute notice of a trust.

A company shall not be entitled to object to enter the name of the public curator on its books by reason only that the public curator is a corporation.

In dealings with property, the fact that the person or one of the persons dealt with is the public curator shall not of itself constitute notice of a trust.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

(2.) Where any trust or estate of any person which is being administered by the public curator consists wholly or partly of shares in any body, whether corporate or not, or in any association, or where such shares are vested in the public curator under the terms of any trust instrument, or purchased by him in the exercise of any trust, direction, or authority imposed or conferred upon him, then, notwithstanding any law or provisions affecting the registration of persons holding shares as trustees or in any other representative capacity, the public curator shall be entitled to be registered as the proprietor of such shares as trustee, or in any other representative capacity, as he may require.

But under no circumstances shall his liability in respect of such shares exceed the value of the other assets which, at the time when any demand is made for the satisfaction of any such liability, he holds in trust for the person beneficially entitled to such shares.

If such assets are insufficient to meet such liability, then such body or association and any person lawfully acting on its behalf shall, in respect of any unpaid balance of such liability, have the same rights and remedies against any such person so beneficially entitled as if the latter were the registered proprietor of such shares.

The public curator, upon registration, shall for all purposes, excepting as to liability as aforesaid, be deemed to be the registered proprietor of any such shares.

In this subsection the term ''shares'' includes shares, stock, or other property.

61. (1.) Moneys paid or payable to the public curator shall be deemed to be property of His Majesty for the purposes of this Act, and shall be recoverable as such by the public curator by action in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(2.) Every person into whose hands or under whose control any moneys come which are payable to the public curator shall pay the same to him as soon as practicable after their receipt, and until so paid such person shall be deemed a debtor to the Crown in respect of such moneys:

Provided that any officer, servant, or agent of the public curator may pay, out of any moneys in his hands, any claims which he is directed by the public curator to pay.

62. Where—

- (a) Any corporation, association, or person is in possession of any property; or
- (b) There is to the credit of any person, whether living or dead, in the books or accounts or otherwise of any corporation, association, or partnership, any property; or
- (c) Under any partnership or association any person, whether living or dead, is entitled to a share in the assets thereof, or his representatives are entitled to any payments as the share in such assets; or
- (d) Any person, whether living or dead, is the registered proprietor of any shares in any corporation or association; or
- (e) Any person is indebted to any person whether living or dead, then, if such property, shares, or debts are vested in or are liable to be administered by the public curator, it shall be obligatory on such corporation, association, partners, or person to forthwith give notice to the public curator or his agent of the extent, nature, and situation of such property, shares, or debts.

63. (1.) The public curator shall be entitled to require all persons to deliver, convey, or transfer to him or to him and his co-trustee, if any, all property to which he is or he and his co-trustee, if any, are entitled.

(2.) For the purpose of ascertaining whether any person is possessed of or entitled to any property which should be so delivered, conveyed, or transferred, he may institute such inquiries as he thinks proper, and may, by summons under his hand, require any person to appear before him, and answer all questions that he may put to such person with reference to any property.

The public curator shall pay or tender to the person so summoned the same amount as such person would have been entitled to had he been summoned as a witness to the court.

(3.) If any person fails to so deliver, convey, or transfer all property as aforesaid, or if the procedure in the last subsection provided fails to elicit the particulars required, the public curator may take out a summons requiring such person, or any person who may be supposed to be in possession of information relevant to the matter under investigation, to appear before the court for the purpose of being examined touching such matters, and to produce any documents.

If the court is of opinion that any such person is possessed of or entitled to any property that should be so delivered, conveyed, or transferred as aforesaid, the court may make an order requiring such person to deliver, convey, or transfer all such property within such time as the court may fix. Such order may be made in the absence of the person summoned, if the summons has been duly served upon him, or the court is satisfied that reasonable efforts have been made to serve the same.

The court may order such person to pay all expenses of and incidental to such summons and any examination consequent thereon; and if the court does not so order, then such expenses shall be paid out of the general funds of the estate concerned in priority to all other claims, or, if the court so orders, out of any particular portion of such funds.

Any person who, without valid excuse, fails to attend pursuant to such summons, or who, upon attending refuses to be sworn or neglects to answer any relevant question put to him by or on behalf of the public curator, or who, having been summoned to produce any documents, fails to produce the same without valid excuse, or, if so required by the court, to hand such documents over to the public curator, or who disobeys any order made by the court upon the hearing of such summons, shall be guilty of contempt of court; and the court may make an order for the arrest of such person, and his imprisonment either for such period as the court thinks fit or until he has purged his contempt to the satisfaction of the court.

The court may also order such person to pay the expenses of such proceedings.

Any such person wilfully neglecting to comply with this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred pounds to be recoverable by civil action at the suit of the public curator.

(4.) In this section the term ''documents'' includes books, papers, deeds, documents, and any writings whatsoever.

64. (1.) The public curator, where he has obtained probate or an order to administer an estate, shall, at such times as he thinks fit, cause advertisements to be published in such newspapers as he deems expedient, calling upon creditors to prove their debts before him on or before a time to be fixed in such notice.

(2.) He shall, as soon after the expiration of the time allowed for proof of debts as he conveniently can—

- (a) Pay the debts proved, if the whole thereof can be paid; and, if not,
- (b) Declare and pay a dividend thereon.

If he collects any further assets after making such payment, he shall pay any part of the proved debts remaining unpaid and any debts subsequently proved before him (or a dividend thereon, as the case may be).

Such creditors as subsequently prove shall first be paid a dividend equal to the dividend paid to creditors having previously proved their debts.

(3.) After payment of all debts, fees, and expenses incident to the collection, management, and administration of the estate, the public curator shall, subject to this Act, pay over the residue to the person entitled to receive the same.

(4.) Where the assets are insufficient to pay the liabilities in full, the assets shall be applied subject to the following priorities:—

- (a) In payment of all proper expenses attending the due administration of the estate;
- (b) In payment of funeral charges proportioned, as the public curator thinks proper, to the position of the deceased in his lifetime.

The balance of the assets shall be applied in accordance with the law and practice for the time being in force with respect to the estate of an insolvent.

65. (1.) Where a testate or intestate estate is under administration by the public curator, and such administration could be properly closed in a less time than is required by any existing law, the public curator after giving notice once each week for two weeks in at least two newspapers published or circulating in the locality where the deceased resided or carried on business immediately preceding his decease, or if the deceased died out of Queensland then in such a manner as the court directs, requiring creditors and others to send in to the public curator their claims against the said estate, may, at the expiration of the time limited in such notice, being not less than two months from the first publication thereof, or in the case of a person dying out of Queensland within such time, not being less than six months, as the court directs, distribute the assets of the deceased or any part thereof amongst the persons entitled thereto, having regard to the claims of which the public curator has then notice;

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

Provided that if any such estate is of less value than fifty pounds it may be distributed or conveyed and assured and dealt with without giving any such notices as aforesaid.

(2.) The public curator shall not be liable for the assets, or any part thereof so distributed, to any person of whose claims he had no notice at the time of distribution of the said assets, or a part thereof, as the case may be; but this provision shall not prejudice the rights of any subsequent claimant to establish his right to receive payment from the persons who have been paid by the public curator any distributive shares, or the whole residue of the estate, or, in the case of real property, from the person who has received a transfer or assurance thereof, or any part thereof, from the public curator in or towards satisfaction of such distributive shares or residue.

(3.) The word "distribute," as to land, means "convey and assure the land to the person entitled thereto"; and the words "distributed" and "distribution" mean, as to land, "transferred and assured the land to the person entitled thereto."

(4.) Nothing herein shall prevent the public curator from making distribution under any other law or statute, or prejudice the protection thereby afforded where he makes distribution pursuant to such law or statute.

66. (1.) Subject to this Act and to the terms of any particular trust, the public curator may, in the administration of any trust or estate, or the performance of any power or duty under this Act, act on credible information (though less than legal evidence) as to matters of fact.

(2.) He may allow any claim which is made upon or before him upon the affidavit of the claimant alone or, where he thinks fit to call for further evidence, upon such further evidence as he requires.

(3.) He may at any time require a statutory declaration or other sufficient evidence that a person is alive and is the person to whom any money or property is payable or transferable, and may refuse payment or transfer until such declaration or evidence is produced.

(4.) If acting in good faith, he shall not be liable for accepting as correct and acting upon the faith of any written statement or statutory declaration by any person, in or out of Queensland, whom he believes to be trustworthy, as to any birth, death, marriage, or other matter of pedigree or relationship, or other matter of fact, upon which the title to any estate or any part thereof may depend.

67. (1.) When any claim is made by any person against any property under administration by the public curator, whether as a creditor, beneficiary, or otherwise, the public curator, if in doubt as to the validity of such claim, may institute such inquiries as he thinks proper regarding such claim, and may, by a summons, require the claimant and any other persons to appear before the court to answer all questions that may be put to them respectively with reference to such claim. The public curator shall pay or tender to any person so summoned the same amount as such person would be entitled to if he had been summoned as a witness to the court.

(2.) If, without valid excuse, the claimant fails to attend pursuant to the summons, or refuses or fails to truly answer any relevant question put to him by or on behalf of the public curator, it shall be lawful for the public curator, by direction of the court, either with or without proceeding under subsection three hereof, to reject the claim.

(3.) If, without valid excuse, the claimant or any other person fails to attend pursuant to the summons, or refuses or fails to truly answer any relevant question put to him by or on behalf of the public curator, he shall, if the court so directs, forfeit and pay a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

68. Where any person (other than the widow or widower of an intestate) entitled to the net residue or any part of the net residue of an intestate estate under administration by the public curator has not, within three years next after the death of the intestate, established his claim thereto, and where the public curator does not know of any next-of-kin or other persons beneficially entitled, and cannot by reasonable efforts ascertain that such exist, and the intestate has left a widow or widower who is then living, the public curator may at the expiration of such period pay or transfer to the widow or widower such net residue or part thereof, as the case may be:

Provided that this section shall not prejudice the right of any person entitled to such residue or part thereof to recover the same from such widow or widower.

69. Where under this or any other Act the public curator is directed to make any payment, upon an order of a court being obtained, to any person entitled thereto, he may make a payment without such order if the amount thereof does not exceed fifty pounds; and any payment so made shall be as valid as if authorised by an order of court.

70. Where the net residue of the intestate estate does not exceed fifty pounds, and there is a widow or widower, the public curator may, if he thinks fit, pay the whole of such residue to the widow or widower.

71. Where the public curator is the trustee of an estate, then, as to the shares of infants, the public curator shall (subject to the terms of any will) hold the shares of such infants as trustee for such infants until such infancy ceases; and such shares shall be dealt with and administered in the meantime under this Act.

72. Where the net residue of an intestate estate under administration by the public curator does not exceed five hundred pounds in value, he may apply the same towards the maintenance, education, and advancement of the infants in such manner as he thinks fit, or may pay the same for such purposes to such infants, or to any person on their behalf, to be so applied, without seeing to the application thereof or being responsible for such application, or for the misapplication or non-application thereof.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prejudicially affect any rights of any person under "The Succession Act Amendment Act of 1895" or "The Succession Act of 1906," where the net value of the property does not exceed five hundred pounds.

73. (1.) Where an intestate estate is under administration by the public curator and there are infants entitled the following special provisions shall apply in the case of each infant's share:—

(a) The public curator may out of the infant's share make periodical or other payments towards the maintenance, education, or advancement of the infant, not exceeding eighty pounds in any one year;

(b) The payments authorised by this section may be made by the public curator to such person and in such manner as he thinks fit without seeing to the application thereof or being responsible for the non-application thereof.

(2.) The powers by this section conferred upon the public curator may be exercised without obtaining any order of court, and are irrespective of and in addition to all other powers exercisable by him.

(3.) The court may in any case authorise the making of payments for any of the purposes aforesaid in excess of the limit hereinbefore prescribed.

74. (1.) Where any property is held by the public curator in trust for an infant, the public curator may, at his sole discretion, apply for the maintenance, education, or otherwise for the benefit of such infant, during minority, the whole or any part of the income of the share to which such infant is entitled in possession; and may, at his sole discretion, apply for the advancement or otherwise for the benefit of an infant any part or parts, not exceeding in the whole one-half of the corpus or capital, of the share to which the infant is entitled in possession or reversion immediately expectant on a prior life-interest; but no such application of a reversionary share shall be made without the previous consent in writing of the person on whose death such prior interest is determinable:

Provided that the public curator may—

(i.) In any case for such purposes apply the corpus of the share of any infant to the extent of five hundred pounds;

(ii.) Instead of himself so applying such income, corpus, or capital, pay the same to any person to be so applied, without seeing to the application or being answerable for the misapplication or non-application thereof.

Nothing in this subsection shall apply to a case—

(a) Where provision is expressly made for the maintenance, education, advancement, or otherwise for the benefit of an infant, unless such provision is insufficient, of which insufficiency the public curator shall be sole judge; or

(b) Where provision is expressly made against any such application.

(2.) In addition to and not as restricting the powers conferred by the last preceding subsection, where any property is held by the public curator in trust for an infant, either for life or for any greater interest, and whether absolutely or contingently upon the infant attaining a specified age, or on the occurrence of any event before attaining that age, the public curator may, at his sole discretion, apply for or towards the infant's maintenance, education, or benefit the income of that property, or any part thereof, whether there is any fund available for the same purpose, or any person is bound by law to provide for the infant's maintenance or education, or not; or may pay such income to any person to be so applied without seeing to the application or being answerable for the misapplication or non-application thereof.

The public curator shall accumulate all the residue of that income in the way of compound interest by investing the same and the resulting income thereof, and shall hold those accumulations for the benefit of the persons who ultimately become entitled to the property from which the same arise; but so that the public curator may at any time, at his sole discretion, apply those accumulations or any part thereof as if the same were income arising in the then current year.

This subsection applies only if and so far as a contrary intention is not expressed in the instrument under which the interest of the infant arises, and shall have effect subject to the terms of that instrument and to the provisions therein contained.

(3.) In addition to and not as restricting any of the powers conferred by the two last preceding subsections, with the consent of the persons having prior estates or interests in property, whether corpus, capital, or income, held under an instrument, whether the income is directed to be accumulated or not, if such corpus, capital, or income is made payable to a class of persons, and the members of that class, or some of them, would ultimately, on attaining a specified age or on the happening of an event, be entitled to a share of such corpus, capital, or income, and by survivorship or otherwise may become entitled to the shares of the other members of the class, the contingencies being equal, the court may authorise the application of (or the public curator may without such authority apply) the presumptive or contingent shares of infants belonging to the class towards their maintenance, education, or advancement, notwithstanding that there may be future members of the class who may come into existence:

Provided that where any member of the class has attained the required age, or become entitled by age or otherwise, then the consent of such persons shall be necessary to such application.

Applications under this subsection to the court may be made by the public curator, but without restricting his powers, or by an infant.

(4.) In construing and giving effect to the respective provisions of this section, the one shall be taken in aid of the other, and so that each of the provisions can be exercised independently the one of the other.

(5.) This section shall apply to cases arising under any Act or instrument passed or made before or after the commencement of this Act.

75. Nothing in this Act shall restrict the court from making any order for the application of either corpus, capital, or income for the maintenance, education, advancement, or otherwise for the benefit of an infant under any other Act relating to these matters.

76. (1.) The income in respect of a trust or estate may be paid by the public curator to the person for the time being entitled to receive the same either through a bank or direct, and where such person is a married woman may be so paid notwithstanding any restraint on anticipation.

(2.) Where authority is given to any corporation or bank to pay any income to any person, the books of that corporation or bank showing the payment of that income in accordance with the authority shall be a sufficient discharge to the public curator.

(3.) Where authority is given to any person to pay any income to the bank of the person entitled, the certificate of that bank, stating the receipt of that income, shall be a sufficient discharge to the public curator.

(4.) Where any person is solely entitled to receive any income without any restraint on anticipation, the public curator may, on the request in writing of that person, authorise him for such period as the public curator thinks fit to collect or arrange for the collection of such income. During the continuance of any such authority such request in writing shall be a sufficient discharge to the public curator in respect of such income.

(5.) The public curator may, if the special circumstances of the case appear to him to render it desirable, pay to his co-trustee or allow him to receive the income of the trust or estate or any part thereof, on such co-trustee undertaking to apply it in manner directed by the instrument creating the trust.

77. (1.) Where any moneys or personal chattels are payable or deliverable by the public curator to the subject of any country out of His Majesty's jurisdiction, the Minister may authorise the public curator to pay or deliver the same to any specified official of that country or to the chief consular officer for that country in Queensland on behalf of the person entitled, and the receipt of such official or consular officer shall be a sufficient discharge therefor to the public curator, who shall not be further concerned to see to the application thereof.

(2.) As regards money or personal chattels so payable or deliverable to any person in any colony, Dominion, State, island, or place of His Majesty's in foreign parts, the public curator, if so authorised by the Minister, may pay or deliver the same to any specified official of such colony, Dominion, State, island, or place on behalf of the person entitled; and the receipt of such official shall be a sufficient discharge to the public curator, who shall not be further concerned to see to the application thereof.

(3.) Where the public curator is administering the estate in Queensland of any person who at the time of his death, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, was domiciled in one of the other States of the Commonwealth or the Dominion of New Zealand, and whose estate in such other State or Dominion is being administered by the public trustee or curator of such other State or Dominion, the public curator may pay over to the public trustee or curator of such other State or Dominion the balance of the proceeds of the estate in Queensland of the said person, after payment of creditors and the charges provided for under this Act, without any obligation to see to the application of such balance, and without incurring any liability in regard to the payment of such balance, and shall certify to an account in favour of the public trustee or curator of such other State or Dominion accordingly.

(4.) Where the estate of any deceased person, who at the time of his death, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, was domiciled in Queensland, is being administered by the public curator and the public trustee or curator of any of the other States of the Commonwealth or of the Dominion of New Zealand has in such other State or Dominion obtained administration of the estate in such other State or Dominion, the public curator may receive from the public trustee or curator of such other State or Dominion the balance of the proceeds of the estate in such other State or Dominion.

Such balance shall, when so received, form part of the estate of the deceased person, and shall be dealt with according to the law of Queensland.

78. (1.) Where the public curator is administering any estate, and such estate or any part thereof cannot be distributed by reason of the fact that it is not known to the public curator whether any person entitled thereto is alive or dead or where that person is, the public curator may apply to a judge of the court for directions in accordance with this section.

(2.) On consideration of such application the judge shall order what advertisements, if any, are to be issued, calling upon such person to send in his claim within a time to be specified in such order.

(3.) Upon proof by or on behalf of the public curator that such order has been complied with, and that such person has not sent in any claim, such judge, or any other judge, shall by further order authorise the public curator to distribute such estate or part thereof, disregarding the claims of such person, and all persons claiming by, through, or under him, by derivative title, or otherwise howsoever.

(4.) Such further order shall exonerate the public curator from any further liability in respect to such estate or part thereof so dealt with.

(5.) But nothing herein shall prejudice or affect the right of such person or persons to follow the estate or any part thereof into the hands of the persons who have received the same pursuant to such distribution.

(6.) The rule of evidence presuming death after seven years' absence shall not apply to proceedings under this section.

(7.) The judge may in such further order direct that the order shall not be acted on for such period, not exceeding one year from the date of the making thereof, as he thinks fit, and may direct that the order shall during that period be advertised in such manner and form as he thinks fit.

(8.) The judge shall give directions as to how the costs of and incidental to such orders and advertising shall be borne.

(9.) Provided that nothing herein shall prejudice the right of the public curator (if he so desires) to distribute under any other law or statutory provision, or prejudice the protection thereby afforded when he makes distribution pursuant to such law or provision.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

79. (1.) The public curator may, without judicial proceedings, take the opinion or obtain the direction of the court upon any question, whether of law or of fact, arising under this Act or in the course of his duties.

Any such question shall be submitted to a judge in such manner and at such time as he may direct, and shall be accompanied by such statement of facts, documents, and other information as he may require; and the public curator or any one authorised by him shall, if the judge so desires, attend upon him at such time and place as the judge may appoint.

The judge may, before giving his opinion or direction, require the attendance of, or communication with, any person interested in the estate as trustee or beneficiary, but no such person shall have a right to be heard unless the judge otherwise directs.

The judge shall give his opinion or direction to the public curator, and the public curator shall act in accordance with such opinion or direction, and shall, upon the request in writing of any such interested person, communicate to him the effect of such opinion or direction.

The duty of advising and directing upon any such questions shall be assigned by the Chief Justice to a particular judge of the court:

Provided that in the absence or upon the request of such judge any other judge may act for such judge for the purposes of this subsection.

(2.) The public curator may by special case submit for the decision of the Full Court any question arising under this Act which appears to him to require such decision, and that court shall give its judgment thereon as if such question had been raised in due form.

(3.) The public curator in acting on such opinion, direction, or judgment shall be fully indemnified.

80. (1.) Any person interested as creditor, next-of-kin, beneficiary, or otherwise in any estate under administration by the public curator may—

(a) On the neglect or refusal of the public curator to do any act in relation to the administration; or

(b) On his doing or threatening to do any act in breach of his duty with reference to such estate, apply ex parte upon affidavit to the court—

(i.) For an order calling upon the public curator to show cause, upon a day not less than two days from the service of such order upon him, before the court why he should not do or abstain from doing such act; and (ii.) For an interim order in the nature of an injunction if warranted by the facts of the case.

Any such order may be granted subject to such conditions as to giving security for costs as the court may impose.

(2.) Upon the further hearing the court may receive proof of the matters in relation thereto orally or by affidavit, and may make such order thereon as the circumstances of the case may require, and as to payment of costs—

(a) By the applicant; or

(b) From the estate administered by the public curator; or

(c) In case of wilful default or unreasonable conduct of the public curator, out of the Consolidated Revenue; as seems just.

81. (1.) Subject to this Act, where any person, by act or thing done or omitted by the public curator, or by any person acting or bonâ fide assuming to act for him, or by the office solicitor of the public curator, sustains any injury which would have entitled such person to a remedy in respect thereof if the said act or thing had been done or omitted by a private person, then such person shall be entitled to the same remedy against the public curator in his corporate capacity as he would be entitled to against a private person, and shall be entitled to be indemnified under this Act:

Provided that where the injury is one to which neither the public curator nor any of his deputies, officers, or agents has in any way contributed, and which neither he nor any of them could by the exercise of reasonable diligence have averted, the public curator shall not be subject to any liability.

(2.) The Consolidated Revenue Fund shall be liable to make good all sums required to discharge any liability of the public curator in his corporate capacity.

82. Where by reason of the negligence of any member of the staff of the public curator any money loss is incurred or any extra payment has to be made, the amount involved may, with the approval of the Minister, be charged to profit and loss without further appropriation than this Act.

83. Without prejudice to any protection otherwise afforded, where, under the bonâ fide belief (and the absence of such bonâ fide belief shall be upon any person who controverts it) that a person has died testate or intestate, the public curator has taken out probate or obtained an order to administer, or is administering under statutory powers an estate, or is appointed or acting as trustee under a will, and afterwards it is found that such person is living, or did not die intestate, or that a will exists which revokes or alters the will which the public curator has proved, or under which he becomes administrator, or under which he is administering or is acting as trustee, then, notwithstanding that such person is living, or that the deceased did not die intestate, or made a will revoking or altering the provisions of the will of which the public curator has taken out probate or administration, or under which he is appointed or is acting as trustee, all acts and things done or omitted by the public curator shall be as good, valid, and effectual as if he had been lawfully appointed or entitled to act as such executor, administrator, or trustee.

84. Where by any trust instrument a settlor or testator directs that any solicitor, accountant, broker, or banker shall conduct the legal or other business of his trust or estate, such person shall be entitled to act therein accordingly, but in such case the public curator shall not be liable for the negligence, malfeasance, misfeasance, nonfeasance, or misconduct of such person; and such person may be removed by order of the court upon the application of the public curator or of any person interested in the trust or estate upon cause shown, and in such case the court may appoint the public curator or any other person to conduct such business.

85. The public curator shall have the same right to require a release and discharge upon winding up any estate in his charge and handing over the property in his hands to the persons entitled thereto as any trustee now has in the like circumstances.

86. (1.) All the real and personal property, including choses in actions, to which a convict is entitled at the time of his conviction, or afterwards while subject to the operation of this Part becomes entitled, shall vest in the public curator for all the estate and interest of such convict therein.

(2.) No action for the recovery of any property, debt, or damage whatsoever, shall be brought by any convict against any person during the time he is subject to the operation of this Part, and every convict shall be incapable during such time of alienating or charging any property or of making any contract, save as hereinafter provided.

87. (1.) The public curator shall have absolute power to let, mortgage, sell, convey, and transfer any part of such property as he thinks fit.

(2.) He may pay or cause to be paid out of the property or the proceeds thereof all expenses which the convict has been condemned to pay, and also all expenses incurred by the convict in and about his defence, and also all such expenses as the public curator may incur or be put to in or about the carrying this Part into execution with reference to such property or with reference to any claims which may be made thereon.

(3.) He may cause payment or satisfaction to be made out of such property of any debt or liability of the convict which is established in due course of law or otherwise to his satisfaction, and may also cause any property which may come to his hands to be delivered to any person claiming to be justly entitled thereto, upon the right of such person being established in due course of law or otherwise to his satisfaction.

(4.) He may cause to be paid or satisfied out of the property such sum of money as he thinks fit by way of satisfaction or compensation for any loss of property or other injury alleged to have been suffered by any person through or by means of any alleged criminal or fraudulent act of the convict, although no proof of such alleged criminal or fraudulent act has been made in any court of justice; and all claims to any satisfaction or compensation may be investigated in such manner as the public curator thinks fit, and his decision thereon shall be binding.

(5.) The public curator may from time to time cause such payments and allowances as he thinks fit for the support or maintenance of any wife or child or reputed child of the convict, or of any other relative or reputed relative of the convict dependent upon him for support, to be made out of such property or the income thereof.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

(6.) The several powers hereinbefore given to the public curator may be exercised by him in such order and course as to priority of payments or otherwise as he thinks fit.

(7.) All contracts of letting or sale, mortgages, conveyances, or transfers of property bonâ fide made by the public curator under this Part, and all payments or deliveries over of property bonâ fide made by or under the authority of the public curator for any of the purposes hereinbefore mentioned, shall be binding, and the propriety thereof and the sufficiency of the grounds on which the public curator may have exercised his judgment or discretion in respect thereof shall not be in any manner called in question by the convict or by any person claiming an interest in such property.

(8.) Nothing in this Part shall give to any person any right or remedy against the public curator in respect of any loss of property or injury, or shall take away or prejudice any right, title, or remedy to which any person alleging himself to have suffered any such loss or injury would have been entitled by law if this Act had not passed.

88. Subject to the powers and provisions hereinbefore contained, all such property and the income thereof shall be preserved and held in trust by the public curator for the following purposes:—

(a) The income thereof may, if and when the public curator thinks proper, be invested and accumulated in such securities as he from time to time thinks fit for the use and benefit of the convict and his legal personal representatives, or of such other persons as may be lawfully entitled thereto according to the nature thereof;

(b) Such property and income, and the possession, administration, and management thereof, shall revest in and be restored to such convict on his ceasing to be subject to the operation of this Part, or in and to his legal personal representatives, or such other persons as may be lawfully entitled thereto; and all the powers and authorities by this Part given to the public curator, shall from thenceforth cease and determine, except so far as the continuance thereof are necessary for the care and preservation of such property or any part thereof, until the same is claimed by some person lawfully entitled thereto, or for obtaining payment out of such property or of the proceeds thereof of any liabilities or any expenses for which provision is made by this Part;

(c) For the purposes aforesaid such powers and authorities shall continue to be in force until possession of such property is delivered up by the public curator to some person being or claiming to be lawfully entitled thereto.

89. The costs as between solicitor and client of any action brought against the public curator with reference to any such property, whether during the time the same was vested in him under this Part or after the same ceases to be so vested, and all expenses properly incurred by him with reference thereto, shall be a first charge on and shall be paid out of such property unless the court before which such action is tried thinks fit to order otherwise.

90. Where any convict dies, or is made insolvent, or has suffered any punishment to which sentence of death if pronounced or recorded against him has been lawfully commuted, or has undergone the full term of imprisonment for which judgment has been pronounced or recorded against him, or such other punishment as by competent authority has been substituted for such full term, or has received from His Majesty, or the Governor on behalf of His Majesty, a pardon for the offence of which he was convicted, he shall thenceforth cease to be subject to the operation of this Part.

91. Subject to this Act, the public curator shall, from and after the time when the convict ceases to be subject to the operation of this Part, be accountable to the convict for all property of the convict possessed or received by him and not duly administered, but subject nevertheless and without prejudice to the administration and application of such property under and according to the powers and provisions of this Part.

92. In this Division, if not inconsistent with the context—

''Land'' includes all land in Queensland, and all estates and interests therein, except lands of the Crown in respect of which no contract for the alienation thereof has been made;

''Owner'' means any person having any legal or equitable estate or interest in land, and includes any infant or person of unsound mind or other person under any disability having such estate or interest.

93. (1.) Where the owner of land has no known agent in Queensland, or is unknown, or cannot after due inquiry be found, the public curator may publish in the Gazette, and in one newspaper published or circulating in the locality in which the land is situated for three issues of the paper, at intervals of one week, a notice calling on such owner, within six months from the date of the notice in the Gazette, to establish to the satisfaction of the public curator his title to the land specified in the notice, and stating that if such owner does not within the time limited so establish his title the public curator will exercise the powers and authorities hereinafter granted.

The notice shall be sufficient if it designates the owner, without naming such owner, as ''the owner'' or ''the owners'' of the land referred to in the notice.

(2.) If the owner within such period so establishes his title, then all expenses incurred by the public curator shall be refunded to him out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

(3.) If the owner does not within such period establish his title:—

(a) Where the value of the land is one hundred pounds or more, the public curator may file in the court a statement under his hand of all the facts within his knowledge as to the ownership and occupation thereof respectively, and apply ex parte on a summary application to the court for an order that such land be vested in the public curator and administered by him under this Act, and the court may make such order as it thinks just. Notice of the making of any such order shall be published in the Gazette.

(b) Where the value of the land is less than one hundred pounds, the public curator may, by notice in the Gazette, notify that such land is vested in the public curator and will be administered under this Act.

(c) The value of the land for the purposes of this section shall be the value as estimated by the public curator.

(d) The Gazette notice shall be conclusive evidence, for the purposes of this Act, that the public curator has made due inquiries, and that such owner has not established his title, and that the public curator has complied with this section.

94. After such publication of the notice in the Gazette, such land shall become vested in the public curator, and he may, with respect to any such land—

(a) Recover possession thereof and mesne profits, or damages in respect thereof;

(b) Carry out and enforce contracts, and exercise powers in respect thereto;

(c) Accept surrenders of tenancies;

(d) Let such land or any part thereof for any term not exceeding twenty-one years;

(e) Where the value of the land is less than one hundred pounds, sell by public auction or private contract, or exchange or partition the same or any part thereof;

(f) Keep and maintain buildings and erections thereon in good repair and condition;

(g) Erect fences on and around the same, or contribute towards the erection of any dividing fence;

(h) Cut and gather crops thereon;

(i) Insure property against loss by fire or accident:

(j) Pay rent, rates, taxes, and other outgoings in respect thereof;

(k) Pay mortgages or charges on such land;

(l) Pay all such charges and commissions as may be fixed by the regulations;

(m) Perform any obligation or duty which by statute or otherwise the owner of the land would be liable to perform;

(n) Do any act or thing requisite to obtaining or perfecting the title to such land;

(o) Execute any instrument for the purpose of carrying into effect any of the powers conferred by this Act;

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

(p) With the sanction of the court, do or omit to do any other act or thing which the court, on the representation of the public curator, thinks proper.

95. Moneys received by the public curator under this Division shall not form part of the common fund; but such moneys, after payment thereout of all moneys authorised to be expended by him and all prescribed fees and expenses, shall be placed to the credit of the Unclaimed Moneys Fund.

96. (1.) All expenses paid by or payable to the public curator under this Division shall be a first charge upon any property (including money) acquired, administered, or held thereunder.

(2.) Subject to the last preceding subsection and to this Act, such property shall be held by the public curator upon trust for the owner thereof upon his establishing his title thereto as provided by this Division.

(3.) Until the owner of such property establishes his title thereto to the satisfaction of the court, the powers and authorities conferred upon the public curator shall continue.

A copy of any application to establish such title shall be served upon the public curator fourteen days prior to the hearing.

Before the court makes an order under this subsection, the owner shall pay to the public curator all expenses and fees to which the public curator is entitled under this Act, and all expenses incurred by the public curator of and incidental to such application.

On any proceeding under this subsection the court may accept and act upon and be satisfied with any evidence, whether the same is strictly legal evidence or not, and make an order declaring a claimant to be the owner of property, although such claimant may be unable to adduce evidence which would entitle him to judgment in an action of ejectment or a decree in an action for specific performance, and the court may have regard to the special circumstances of each case in determining the character and sufficiency of the evidence of title adduced.

(4.) On an order being made declaring who the owner of such property is, the powers and authorities hereby conferred on the public curator shall cease, and he shall transfer any property or pay any money to the owner which is held by him in trust for the owner.

97. Notwithstanding the provisions of any Act or rule of law to the contrary, if within twenty years from the date when such property became vested in the public curator no person establishes to the satisfaction of the court his title to such property or the moneys arising therefrom, the estate or interest of such person in such property or money shall vest absolutely in the Crown.

98. When an instrument is executed by the public curator, purporting to be made in exercise of the powers conferred by this Division, no court, officer, or person shall be concerned to see or inquire whether such powers had or had not become exercisable, or be responsible for the exercise or the improper exercise of such powers.

99. If in administering any of the powers and authorities contained in this Division the public curator is unable to recover from any person or property all fees and expenses, then the deficiency shall be made good out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

100. The public curator shall not be responsible for the exercise or the non-exercise of any of the powers and authorities contained in this Division unless the same arise from his actual wilful default.

101. When the owner of any property whatsoever is absent from Queensland and has no agent in Queensland with authority to take possession of and administer such property, or when it is not known who the owner of such property is, or when it is not known where he is, or when it is not known whether he is alive or dead, or when he is dead and has left executors or administrators who are dead or whose whereabouts are unknown, the court may, on the application ex parte of the public curator, and on being satisfied that the exercise of the powers hereinafter mentioned is advisable in the interests of the owner of the property or in the interests of any other person, make an order, on such terms and conditions as the court thinks fit, authorising the public curator to exercise in respect of such property all or any of the following powers, that is to say:—

(a) To take possession of the property;

(b) To bring any action or other proceeding relating to the property, and to defend, confess, or submit to judgment in any or all actions, claims, demands, and proceedings touching the property;

(c) To sell the property or any part thereof;

(d) To lease the property, or any part thereof for a term not exceeding twenty-one years;

(e) To receive, sue for, and recover any moneys owing to the owner;

(f) To insure any buildings or goods against loss by fire;

(g) To pay rates, taxes, and other outgoings payable in respect of the property;

(h) To pay, out of moneys received by him in the exercise of any of the foregoing powers, any debts owing by the owner;

(i) To apply moneys received by him in the exercise of any of the foregoing powers in the maintenance of the wife, husband, or children of the owner;

(j) To execute in his own name and on behalf of the owner all deeds and other instruments which may be necessary for any of the purposes aforesaid;

(k) To complete and carry out in such manner as he thinks fit any valid subsisting contract affecting the property, or discharge any obligation attaching thereto at the time such property comes under his jurisdiction.

102. All expenses incurred by the public curator in the execution of the powers conferred on him by this Division shall be a charge upon the property, and shall bear interest at the rate of six pounds per centum per annum, and such charge shall come next in priority to any mortgage or charge to which the property is subject when he takes possession of the same.

103. On taking possession of any property under this Division, the public curator shall publish in the Gazette, and in some newspaper circulating in the district in which the property is situated, a notice of his intention to exercise the powers conferred on him by virtue of this Division.

104. All moneys received by the public curator in the exercise of the powers conferred on him by this Division shall, after payment thereout of all moneys authorised to be expended by him and all prescribed fees and expenses, be held by him in trust for the owner of the property. He shall place the same to the credit of the Unclaimed Moneys Fund.

105. In respect of any lease, sale, or other disposition of the property made by the public curator in pursuance of this Division, the public curator shall have the same powers as if he were the owner of the property, and all deeds and other documents executed by him in pursuance of this Division shall be registered and have effect in all respects as if executed by the owner of the property.

106. The owner of any property in respect of which any order has been so made, or any person having any interest in the property or in any part thereof, may at any time after the making of the order, on notice to the public curator, make application to the court to rescind the order, and the same may thereupon be rescinded accordingly on such terms as the court thinks fit.

But no such rescission shall affect any charge acquired by the public curator under this Division, or the validity of any act or thing done by the public curator during the continuance of the order and in pursuance thereof.

107. No order made under this Division, and nothing done in pursuance of any such order, shall be or become invalid or inoperative merely because it has been made or done under a mistake of fact, or because the owner of the property is dead at the time when the order is made or has died since the making thereof, or because of any disposition of the property made by the owner thereof during the subsistence of the order.

108. In this Division the following terms have the meanings set against them respectively, that is to say:—

"Company"—Every company which, having for its object the acquisition of gain—

(a) Is registered or incorporated in Queensland under any Act having the force of law in Queensland relating to companies; or

(b) Carries on business in Queensland, but is registered or incorporated elsewhere than in Queensland:

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

The term includes—

(i.) Every banking or life assurance company or association, howsoever or wheresoever registered or incorporated, carrying on business in Queensland; and

(ii.) The liquidator of any company; and

(iii.) A receiver; and

(iv.) A building society under "The Building Societies Act of 1886"; and

(v.) Persons or firms carrying on business as traders within Queensland and acting as agents or private bankers for individuals or companies; and (vi.) Queensland Trustees Limited; and the Union Trustee Company of Australia Limited.

The term does not include the Government Savings Bank:

"Owner"—The person entitled to any unclaimed moneys: the term includes his executors, administrators, or assigns, or his or their lawful attorney or agent in Queensland;

"Unclaimed moneys"—All principal and interest moneys and all unforfeited dividends, bonuses, profits, and sums of money whatsoever which—

(a) At any time after the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and ten, have become legally payable by a company to the owner, or which, at any time after the commencement of this Act, become so payable by a company to the owner; and

(b) Have been in the possession of such company for six years or upwards.

109. In the first week of January in every year, all unclaimed sums of money which on the first day of that month have been in the hands of the public curator to the credit of any trust or estate under administration by him for the term of the six years next preceding, and all interest accrued in respect thereof, shall be placed to the credit of the Unclaimed Moneys Fund.

110. (1) Every company, before the fourteenth day of January in every year, shall make entry of all unclaimed moneys, in a register to be kept by such company at its head or principal office in Queensland, in the prescribed form and with the prescribed particulars therein specified.

From and after the fifteenth day of January in each year, such register shall, on payment of a fee of one shilling, be open to the inspection of all persons at such head or principal office during the hours within which the company transacts its ordinary business.

A copy of every such register shall be advertised by the company in the Gazette annually during the month of January.

Any company which fails to keep such register or to advertise such copy, or which refuses inspection thereof, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two pounds for every day during which such default or refusal continues.

(2) All unclaimed moneys which have not been paid by the company to the owner thereof within one year after the first publication of such notice in the Gazette shall be paid by the company to the public curator, and by him placed to the credit of the Unclaimed Moneys Fund.

The company may deduct out of all unclaimed moneys payable by the company to the public curator the expenses paid by the company in the advertising of the notice hereinbefore provided.

Any company which fails to pay any unclaimed moneys to the Public Curator as herein required shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two pounds for every day during which such default continues.

(3) Any right of the owner to recover such moneys which exists at the time of such entering or advertising as aforesaid shall not be prejudiced or affected by such entering or advertising, and such right may be enforced by such owner at any time before such moneys are paid to the Public Curator, but not afterwards, any law to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided that in such case the company shall be entitled to deduct from the amount payable to the owner such part of the expenses paid by the company in advertising the notice hereinbefore provided as the amount claimed bears to the total amount to which the notice relates.

(4.) The public curator may, at any time after the advertising of any notice as aforesaid, examine any of the accounts relating to the unclaimed moneys in such notice referred to, and may for that purpose require the production before him, or before such public officer as he may appoint, of any books, vouchers, or documents referring to such moneys.

If any error is found in any register or notice aforesaid, he may direct the register or notice, or both of them, to be amended at the expense of the company.

111. (1.) If a claimant makes a demand upon the public curator for any money in the Unclaimed Moneys Fund, the public curator, upon being satisfied that the claimant is the owner of the money demanded by him, may, with the approval of the Minister, pay the same to him out of the Unclaimed Moneys Fund.

(2.) If any such moneys paid to a claimant are afterwards claimed by any other person, the public curator shall not be responsible for the payment of the same, but such person may have recourse against the claimant to whom the public curator has paid the moneys.

112. When the court, except upon the application of the public curator, makes any order having any relation to the public curator or under this Act, it shall be the duty of the person who obtains such order forthwith thereafter to serve upon the public curator a copy thereof, and to deliver to the public curator a statement of the property affected by the order and where such property is situated or by whom held, so far as the same is known to such person, and such other information as the public curator reasonably requires; and in default thereof such person shall, unless he proves that such default was due to accident or was unavoidable, be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

113. (1.) A certificate under the hand of the public curator and sealed with his seal, certifying the nature of his appointment or authority in relation to any trust or estate in course of administration, and any facts on the happening of which such appointment or authority was made or granted, shall be accepted by all courts, officers, and other persons, whether acting under any Act or not, as sufficient evidence of all the facts therein set forth, without production of any other proof whatever.

(2.) Such certificate shall be sufficient for the purpose of bringing any land under "The Real Property Acts, 1861 to 1887," or of registering the public curator as proprietor of any estate or interest in any land under those Acts, or of any shares, stock, or property in any company, body, or association; and if any land is subject to the last-mentioned Acts, such certificate may be registered against such land as in the case of probate or letters of administration, and shall have the same force and effect.

Such certificate shall be equivalent for registration purposes to the probate or order to administer with the will annexed, and it shall not be necessary to register the probate, order, or will.

(3.) A recital of the purport of any will contained in any assurance or instrument under the hand and seal of the public curator shall be sufficient evidence thereof, and no one shall be concerned to inquire beyond such recital.

114. (1.) The Governor in Council may from time to time make regulations under this Act.

(2.) The court may from time to time, in manner provided by the Judicature Act, make all such rules of court as appear to be necessary or proper with respect to applications, orders, and matters, and otherwise for regulating practice and procedure and costs so as to give full effect to this Act.

(3.) All such regulations and rules shall upon publication in the Gazette be read as one with this Act and be of equal validity.

115. Where under this Act notice is required to be given by the public curator, or any officer, servant, or person acting under or bonâ fide assuming to act under this Act, it shall be sufficient if such notice is sent by registered letter addressed to the person to whom such notice is to be given at his then known or then last known place of abode or business.

117. Nothing in this Act shall prejudicially affect the Crown as to its property or rights.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 15 Jan., 1916.

Interest payable on moneys in the common fund.

10. For the purposes of section 18 (4) of the Act, the interest payable to the respective estates on moneys which form part of the common fund shall be computed at the following yearly rates:—

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

Regulations—continued.

Class I.—On capital moneys belonging to a testate or intestate estate, or held under any deed of trust or settlement, or as custodian trustee—

(a) While held for minors or persons under disability, or for beneficiaries not entitled to payment at call—4½ per cent. on the first £6,000 and 4¼ per cent. on the excess.

(b) While held payable in the ordinary course of administration for distribution or at call—3 per cent.

The Public Curator shall fix the date on which any sum passes from (a) to (b).

Class II.—On capital moneys received as attorney, agent, receiver, or receiver and manager (including capital money received as agent for investment in the Common Fund)—such rate as is agreed on or allowed by order of the Court, not exceeding the rate in Class I. (a). In the absence of such agreement or order no interest shall be payable.

Class III.—On capital moneys belonging to estates held or administered under "The Insanity Act of 1884," if not at call but actually held for more than twelve months, 3 per cent.

Class IV.—On any other capital moneys received under the Act or any other Act—on all sums of £10 and upwards, the same rates as under Class III. No interest shall be paid on any capital sum of less than £10.

11. The last preceding clause (10) shall be construed subject to the following special provisions:—

(1) The Public Curator shall fix the date on which interest payable by him shall begin to accrue, and such interest, if it is to be capitalised, shall be capitalised yearly on the first day of January, and until so capitalised shall not bear interest.

(2) All interest payable by the Public Curator in respect of the capital of any estate shall be computed on the daily balance of capital.

Finance and accounts.

18. Any moneys payable to the Public Curator's Account may be lodged for credit of that account with the head office or any branch of the bank, and the amount of such lodgments shall be transferred by the manager at the head office or Savings Bank officer at such branch to the credit of the Public Curator's Account.

19. (1) Moneys payable within the State of Queensland out of the Public Curator's Account may be forwarded by the Public Curator to any of his local deputies or agents, who shall pay the same in accordance with the Public Curator's directions.

(2) Such moneys may also be forwarded by the Public Curator to any branch of the bank for payment at such town or place in the State of Queensland as the Public Curator requests. The Public Curator may also arrange with the bank at Brisbane for the payment by the bank at any of its branches in the State of Queensland of any sum of money, as directed by the Public Curator.

21. Every claim upon the Public Curator shall be made in the form required by the Public Curator.

22. (1) Where any moneys are payable to any person unable to sign his name, then no such payment shall be made except upon a receipt purporting to bear the mark of the person entitled to receive the money, and attested by some adult person other than the paying officer.

(2) The attestation shall state that the receipt was read over and explained to the person making his mark.

(3) It shall not be necessary for the Public Curator, unless he thinks proper, to inquire whether such person is an adult or not, and, notwithstanding that such person may afterwards be discovered not to be an adult, the receipt shall be valid.

23. (1) A claimant may authorise, by a special or general order, in such form as is from time to time approved of by the Public Curator, that any payment may be made to any other person.

(2) The special order shall be on or attached to the claim.

(3) In the case of a general order it shall be sufficient if it is sent to and received by the Public Curator.

(4) Notwithstanding that any general or special order is revoked by death or otherwise, any payment made pursuant thereto shall be good and valid, unless prior to the payment the Public Curator has received actual notice in writing of such revocation.

(5) The provision of clause 22 hereto as to attestation of receipts shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to all such orders.

24. The officer or agent authorised to pay a claim on the Public Curator must be satisfied before paying it that the applicant for payment is entitled to receive the amount, and that all necessary documents have been produced.

25. No claim on the Public Curator shall be paid until it has been, to the satisfaction of the Public Curator or the paying agent, proved and certified to be correct, as may be required by the Public Curator, and receipted by the claimant or by the claimant's duly authorised agent, nor until the signature of the payee has been attested when such attestation is required by the Public Curator.

30. Transfers, mortgages, leases, agreements, and other documents executed by the Public Curator shall be in the form prescribed or required by law in ordinary cases, but shall set out the appointment or authority under which the Public Curator purports to act in the matter.

Charges to be made by the Public Curator.

31. The undermentioned charges shall be payable to the Public Curator in respect of the matters mentioned: Provided that where the Public Curator is co-trustee or custodian trustee the charges under (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), and (k) of this clause shall be reduced by one-half in cases where the private trustees claim and receive commission under an order of the Supreme Court:—

(a) Upon the gross amount of all assets realised by the Public Curator in estates formerly administered by the Curator of Intestate Estates, and passing to and vesting in the Public Curator under the Act .. .. £5 per cent.

(b) Upon the gross capital of any estate (or any other estate with respect to which charges on realisation are not hereinafter specifically provided for) realised by the Public Curator in any estate in which he is appointed executor or trustee or administrator with the will annexed—

On any sum up to £25,000 .. .. £2½ per cent.

On all in excess of £25,000 up to £100,000 .. .. £1½ per cent.

On any sum exceeding £100,000 .. £1 per cent.

The charges under (a) and (b) are payable on realisation.

(c) (1) Upon such of the capital of any estate realised by a former executor, trustee, or administrator, or person acting in a fiduciary character, as becomes vested in the Public Curator on the original trusts; and (2) upon such of the capital of any estate as is cash in the hands of the Public Curator at the time when the estate is vested in him .. .. .. £1 per cent.

The charge is payable at the period of distribution.

Minimum charge under (b) and (c) .. £2

(d) In the case of a deed of trust or of a settlement, ante-nuptial or otherwise, where the trust property consists solely of cash—upon the capital sum .. .. £1 per cent.

The charge is payable at the period of distribution.

(e) In the case of any estate in which the Public Curator is acting as attorney, agent, receiver, or receiver and manager, the charge on the gross capital shall be as arranged between the Public Curator and his principal, or otherwise agreed on, or as allowed by the Court. Where no charge is so arranged or agreed on or allowed the charge shall be the same as under (b). No charge under (e) shall be made where the capital is held on an investment agency.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

Regulations—continued.

On any sum up to £400 .. .. .. £5 per cent.

On the next £9,600 .. .. .. £2½ per cent.

On all over £10,000 .. .. .. £1½ per cent.

The charge under (f) is payable on realisation.

Minimum charge under (d), (e), and (f) £1

(g) On compensation money due in respect of the death of a worker received by the Public Curator—

On so much thereof as is payable forthwith to the person entitled .. £1 per cent.

(h) On money or damages received by the Public Curator under section 51 (2) of the Act—

On so much as is payable forthwith to the person entitled .. .. £1 per cent.

On so much thereof as is held and administered .. .. .. £2½ per cent.

(i) Upon the gross income received by the Public Curator in respect of any estate or as attorney, agent, receiver, receiver and manager, or otherwise the charge shall be as arranged between the Public Curator and his principal or otherwise agreed on or as allowed by the Court. Where no charge is so arranged or agreed or allowed the charge shall be as follows:—

On the first £2,000 per annum .. £5 per cent.

On all over £2,000 per annum .. £2½ per cent.

Provided that on all interest from mortgages, debentures, Treasury bills, and bank deposits the charge shall only be .. .. .. £2½ per cent.

No charge under (i) shall be made in respect of income derived from capital in the common fund.

(j) Upon unrealised real or personal property (not being cash) transferred or delivered in kind to any person entitled thereto, being a devisee, legatee, next-of-kin, cestui que trust, beneficiary, or other person of a like character, but not including a person entitled as principal under any power of attorney or agency, upon the value of such proproperty as fixed by the Public Curator—

Up to £10,000 .. .. £1¼ per cent.

On all in excess of £10,000 .. .. 15s. per cent.

Minimum charge under (j) £2

(k) For resealing foreign probates or administrations, or obtaining a fresh grant thereof on behalf of foreign executors or administrators, where the Public Curator accounts to them and does not himself administer the local estate—

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 27 July, 1916.

(y) For making and prosecuting any application for compensation under "The Workers' Compensation Act of 1916," and otherwise acting for and on behalf of any claimant for any of the purposes of such Act, on the amount of compensation recovered for any such claimant .. £2½ per cent.

For conducting any appeal to an Industrial Referee or to the Supreme Court under such Act, such fee as may be agreed on, or, in the event of any disagreement, to be fixed by the Minister.

Minimum charge £1

32. (1) In computing the charge on capital realised, cash collected or received shall be included.

(2) In computing the charge on capital realised from the sale of real or personal property, the amount of the capital shall be deemed to be the net amount realised after deducting all legal or equitable charges thereon.

33. The Public Curator may, with the consent of the Minister, reduce any of the foregoing charges.

6 Geo. V., No. 14, 13 Dec., 1915.

Regulations—continued.

34. (1) In addition to the foregoing charges, there shall also be chargeable and payable all expenses and disbursements incurred by the Public Curator in postage, exchange, telegrams, legal assistance, or legal proceedings or charges, fees payable in any Court or public Department, surveys, the collection of rents, auctioneers' charges, travelling expenses, and any other expenses or disbursements which, in the opinion of the Public Curator, are necessary or expedient to be provided for or incurred in the management of the estate to which the charge relates.

(2) To cover postage and other unspecified disbursements, a fixed charge shall be made half-yearly against every active estate.

(3) The amount of the charge shall be such sum, not less than 1s. or more than £2, as is fixed by the Public Curator, having regard to the circumstances.

"Active estate" means an estate the affairs of which have been dealt with during the half-year.

Investigation and audit of private estates.

35. With respect to the investigation and audit of the condition and accounts of private trust estate, the following provisions shall apply:—

(a) The beneficiary or trustee desiring the investigation and audit to be made shall make application to the Public Curator in the Form No. 2 in the Schedule.

(b) The application may name a person whom the applicant agrees should be appointed to make the investigation and audit.

(c) The appointment shall be made by the Public Curator in the Form numbered 3 in the said Schedule, and by notice in the Form No. 4 in the said Schedule the Public Curator shall inform the applicant and the private trustees thereof.

(d) The remuneration of the auditor and the other expenses of the investigation and audit (excluding the Public Curator's charge, which is provided for under clause 31 (v) of these Regulations) shall be such as are fixed by the Public Curator, with the concurrence of the private trustees, or, if they do not agree, then by the Minister.

(e) The forms in the Schedule may be modified to accord with the facts as far as known.

Advisory trustees.

36. Subject to the provisions of the trust instrument (if any), the remuneration of advisory trustees shall, in the case of each estate, be such as is fixed by the Public Curator with the concurrence of the advisory trustees, or, if they do not agree, then by the Minister.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 16 March, 1916.

40. The Public Curator shall, whenever so required by the Minister, render to any poor person, accused person, or other person named by the Minister, legal aid in any legal proceedings by or against such person; and for that purpose may instruct the office Solicitor or Counsel, or, with the approval of the Minister, outside Counsel or Solicitors, to render such aid, and, subject to the approval of the Minister, may fix, by scale or otherwise, the professional fees and charges payable in respect of such aid.

INDUSTRIAL ACTS.

THE WORKERS' ACCOMMODATION ACT.

6 Geo. V., No. 30, 29 Dec., 1915.

7. (3) Any employer may deduct and has power to recover with reasonable costs the amount of any damage done by a worker or workers to any building or city property belonging to the employer contained therein, such amount not to exceed £5 from any one person.

Penalties.

11. Every person who—

(a) Refuses to give information or gives false information in answer to an inquiry by an inspector; or

(b) Resists or obstructs an inspector in the course of his duty; or

(c) Refuses or neglects to obey the order of an inspector; or

(d) Refuses or neglects to give any notice prescribed by this Act;

shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £25.

14. (2) For any breach of this Act where no other penalty is provided, not exceeding £50.

15. For any breach of the Regulations under this Act, not exceeding £20.

"THE WORKERS' COMPENSATION ACT OF 1916."

6 Geo. V., No. 35, 5 Jan., 1916.

For the purposes of this Act, a "Worker" is any person (including a domestic servant) who has entered into or works under a contract of service or apprenticeship with an employer, whether by way of manual labour, clerical work, or otherwise, and whether the contract is expressed or implied or is oral or in writing: the term does not include—

(a) A person employed whose remuneration exceeds four hundred pounds a year; or

(b) A person whose employment is of a casual nature, and is not for the purposes of the employer's trade or business, unless he is specially insured under or is covered by a policy of accident insurance under this Act; or

(c) A member of the police force; or

(d) A contributor under "The Public Service Superannuation Act of 1912"; or (e) A member of the employer's family dwelling in his house.

(2.) Where a contract to perform any work in a mine, as defined by "The Mines Regulation Act of 1910," is let directly to a contractor or contractors who—

(a) Neither sublet the contract nor employ wages men; or

(b) Though employing wages men, actually perform any part of the work themselves, such contractor or contractors, and also such wages men so employed, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be workers employed by the person who let such contract.

(3.) Every tributer working in connection with any mine, as defined by "The Mines Regulation Act of 1910," and also any wages men employed by any such tributer, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be workers employed by the person with whom the tribute agreement was made by the tributer.

(4.) Any reference to a worker who has been injured, where the worker is dead, includes a reference to his legal personal representative or to his dependants or other person to whom or for whose benefit compensation is payable.

(5.) For the purposes of the provisions of this Act relating to "earnings" and "average weekly earnings" of a worker, the following rules shall be observed:—

(a) Average weekly earnings shall be computed in such manner as is best calculated to give the rate per week at which the worker was being remunerated;

(b) In computing average weekly earnings there may be taken into consideration amounts paid by way of overtime, but not any sums which the employer has been accustomed to pay to the worker to cover any special expenses entailed on him by the nature of his employment;

(c) Where by reason of the shortness of time during which the worker has been in the employment of his employer, or the terms of the employment, it is impracticable at the date of the accident to compute the rate of remuneration, regard shall be had to the average weekly amount which, during the twelve months previous to the accident, was being earned by a person in the same grade employed at the same work by the same employer, or, if there is no person so employed, by a person in the same grade employed in the same class of employment and in the same district;

(d) Where the worker had entered into concurrent contracts of service with two or more employers under which he worked at one time for one such employer and at another time for another such employer, his average weekly earnings shall be computed as if his earnings under all such contracts were earnings in the employment of the employer for whom he was working at the date of the accident.

Policies of accident insurance issued by the Insurance Commissioner shall primarily be confined to liability to pay compensation under this Act: Provided that the regulations may empower the Insurance Commissioner to issue policies covering liability in relation to compensation or damages under any other Act, or at common law or otherwise, and may prescribe all such conditions and provisions as will enable the Insurance Commissioner to effectively carry out accident insurance business under such extended policies. For the purposes of this Act, all legal proceedings may be brought by or against the Insurance Commissioner in his official name.

8. It is obligatory for every employer to obtain from the Insurance Commissioner a policy of accident insurance for the full amount of the liability to pay compensation under this Act to all workers employed by him: Provided that the Insurance Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, declare by notification in the Gazette that it shall be obligatory for every employer to insure all persons whose employment is of a casual nature, whether the employment is for the purposes of the employer's trade or business or not.

Any employer who fails to comply with this section is liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds in respect of each uninsured worker employed by him; and, after the date of any conviction for a contravention of this section, he shall from time to time be liable to further penalties not exceeding twenty pounds for every week during which he fails to comply with this section.

Moreover, upon the payment of any compensation by the Insurance Commissioner under this Act in respect of an injury to a worker who was not at the time of the accident covered or deemed to be covered by a policy of accident insurance under this Act, the full amount of compensation so paid may be recovered by the Insurance Commissioner in any court of competent jurisdiction from the employer who should have insured such worker.

9. (1.) Each worker who is injured by accident whether at the place of employment or on his journey to or from such place or (being in the course of his employment or while under his employer's instructions) away from the place of employment, or his dependants in case of death of the worker, shall receive out of the State Accident Insurance Fund compensation in accordance with this Act, and except as in this Act is otherwise provided such payment shall be in lieu of any and all rights of action whatsoever against any person whomsoever.

(2.) No compensation is payable under this Act in respect of any injury which does not disable the worker for a period of at least three days from earning full wages at the work at which he was employed.

(3.) No compensation is payable on account of any injury to or death of a worker caused by an intentional self-inflicted injury.

11. This Act applies in respect of an accident happening to a seaman employed on a Queensland ship, if the accident arises in the course of his employment, and happens while the ship is in any port within Queensland or is within the territorial waters of Queensland.

12. This Act applies, notwithstanding any contract to the contrary made after the commencement of this Act.

Any contract existing at the commencement of this Act whereby a worker relinquishes any right to compensation for personal injury by accident which under this Act would entitle him to compensation shall on the commencement of this Act be determined.

13. (1.) Applications for compensation shall be allowed or rejected in the first instance by the Insurance Commissioner; but the Insurance Commissioner, on receipt of any such application, may, or any person claiming compensation who objects to the ruling thereon of the Insurance Commissioner may, by notice in writing require the matter to be heard and determined by an industrial referee, and the application shall in such case be heard and determined by such referee in accordance with the regulations.

The decision of such referee shall, subject to the next succeeding subsection, be final; subject to the regulations the costs of the proceedings shall be in his discretion.

(2.) Either party to the proceedings before such referee may appeal from his decision on any point of law.

14. (1.) Except in the case of compensation under section 14B hereof. The amount of compensation under this Act shall be—

(A) Where death results from the injury—

(i.) If the worker leaves any dependants wholly dependent upon his earnings at the time of his death, a sum equal to his earnings in the employment of the same employer during the three years next preceding the injury, or the sum of three hundred pounds, whichever of those sums is the larger, but not exceeding in any case six hundred pounds:

Provided that—

The amount of any weekly payments made under this Act and any lump sum in redemption thereof shall be deducted from such sum; and

If the period of the worker's employment under the said employer has been less than the said three years, then the amount of his earnings during the said three years shall be deemed to be one hundred and fifty-six times his average weekly earnings during the period of his actual employment under the said employer;

(ii.) If the worker does not leave any such dependants, but leaves any dependants in part dependent upon his earnings at the time of his death, such sum, not exceeding in any case the amount payable under the foregoing provisions, as is reasonable and proportionate to the injury to the said dependants; and

(iii.) If he leaves no dependants, the reasonable expenses of his medical attendance and burial not exceeding fifty pounds.

(B) Where total or partial incapacity for work results from the injury—

A weekly payment during the incapacity not exceeding fifty per centum of his average weekly earnings during the previous twelve months, if he has been so long employed, but if not, then for any less period during which he has been in the employment of the same employer, but such weekly payment shall not exceed two pounds, and the total liability in respect thereof shall not exceed seven hundred and fifty pounds:

Provided that when fifty per centum of such average weekly earnings is less than two pounds the weekly payment to a worker may be increased to any sum not exceeding the full amount of such average weekly earnings, but not in any case exceeding two pounds per week, if the Insurance Commissioner or industrial referee thinks proper under the circumstances:

Provided further that in no case shall an adult worker be entitled to receive during total incapacity a less sum per week than one pound.

(2.) The following provisions apply to seamen:—

(i.) In the case of the death of a seaman leaving no dependants, no compensation is payable if the owner or charterer of the ship is, under any Act in force in Queensland, liable to pay the expenses of burial.

(ii.) No weekly payments are payable in respect of any period during which such owner or charterer is, under any other Act in force in Queensland, liable to defray the expenses of maintenance of an injured seaman.

(iii.) Compensation shall be paid in full in all cases notwithstanding any limitation of liability in any other law.

(14A.) Subject to this Act, where a worker at the date of death or incapacity—

(a) Has, whether before or after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, or partly before and partly after that date, been continuously resident in Queensland for at least one year; and

(b) Was employed in any employment mentioned in the second column of the table of industrial diseases hereunder set forth; and such worker—

(c) Has died in consequence of any disease mentioned in the first column of the said table; or

(d) Is suffering from any such disease, and is thereby incapacitated from earning full wages at the work at which he was employed, the worker, or in the case of death his dependants shall be entitled to compensation in accordance with this Act as if the disease were a personal injury by accident suffered by the worker at the place of employment under section nine of this Act:—

Table of Industrial Diseases.

Description of Disease.	Description of Employment.
Anthrax	Wool-combing. Wool-sorting. Handling of hides, skins, wool, hair, bristles, and carcasses.
Lead-poisoning or its sequelæ	Any manufacturing or other process involving the use of lead or its preparations or compounds.
Mercury-poisoning or its sequelæ	Any manufacturing process involving the use of mercury or its preparations or compounds.
Phosphorus-poisoning or its sequelæ	Any manufacturing process involving the use of phosphorus or its preparations or compounds.
Arsenic-poisoning or its sequelæ	Any manufacturing process involving the use of arsenic or its preparations or compounds.
Septic poisoning arising from the handling of meat or meat products or its sequelæ	Any work involving the handling of meat or the manufacture of meat products or animal by-products in connection with the trade of a butcher or slaughterman.

The list of diseases and employments mentioned in this table may from time to time be amended or added to by the Governor in Council by Order in Council published in the Gazette; and the table in force for the time being, as so amended, shall be deemed to be the table referred to in this section.

(14B.) (1.) Subject to this Act, where a worker at the date of death or incapacity—

(a) Has, whether before or after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, or partly before and partly after that date, been continuously resident in Queensland during the immediately preceding five years, and been employed in any employment mentioned in the second column of the table of mining diseases hereunder set forth for not less than three hundred days during such period; or

(b) Has, whether before or after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, or partly before and partly after that date, been resident in Queensland for not less than five years out of the immediately preceding seven years, and been employed in any employment mentioned in the second column of the said table within Queensland for not less than five hundred days during such period of seven years;

and such worker—

(c) Has died in consequence of any disease mentioned in the first column of the said table, or

(d) Is suffering from any such disease and is thereby incapacitated from earning full wages at the work at which he was employed,

the worker, or in the case of death his dependants, shall be entitled to compensation in accordance with this Act as if the disease were a personal injury by accident suffered by the worker at the place of employment under section nine of this Act; but the amount of compensation payable in such case shall be the amount calculated in accordance with subsection

7 Geo. V., No. 26, 29 Dec., 1916.

two of this section in lieu of the amount set forth in section fourteen of this Act:—

Table of mining diseases incurred in mining, or quarrying, or stone crushing or cutting.

Diseases: Silicosis of the lungs; Miner's Phthisis; Pneumoconiosis; Ankylostomiasis; Nystagmus; Subcutaneous cellulitis of the hand (beat hand); Subcutaneous cellulitis over the patella (miner's beat knee); Acute bursitis over the elbow (miner's beat elbow); Inflammation of the synovial lining of the wrist joint and tendon sheaths.

The list of diseases and employments mentioned in this table may from time to time be amended or added to by the Governor in Council by Order in Council published in the Gazette; and the table in force for the time being, as so amended, shall be deemed to be the table referred to in this section.

(2.) The amount of compensation under subsection one of this section shall be—

A. Where death is the result—

(i.) A funeral allowance not exceeding twenty pounds; and

(ii.) To the widow of the deceased worker the sum of one pound per week; and

(iii.) For each child under fourteen years of age the sum of ten shillings per week until the age of fourteen years is reached:

Provided that the total amount payable shall not exceed fifty shillings per week or the sum of four hundred pounds in all, less any amount paid as compensation under provision B hereof during the incapacity of the worker within ten years prior to the date of death.

B. Where total or partial incapacity for work is the result—

(i.) To the worker a sum not exceeding one pound per week during the incapacity, with such necessary medical comforts and medicines as the Commissioner may consider reasonable; and

(ii.) For each child under the age of fourteen years a sum not exceeding ten shillings per week during the incapacity of the worker or until the age of fourteen is reached:

Provided that the total amount payable to any worker and his dependants shall not exceed fifty shillings per week or the sum of four hundred pounds in all, irrespective of the period during which the incapacity continues.

(3.) Where a medical practitioner (or, on appeal, a medical referee) certifies that the worker's condition is capable of cure or mitigation by special hospital or sanatorium treatment, the Commissioner, in lieu of paying to the worker the compensation provided in provision B (i.) above, may arrange for the worker to be removed to a hospital or sanatorium for such special treatment.

(4.) Clause nineteen of the Schedule to this Act shall not apply so as to compel the Insurance Commissioner to redeem by a lump sum any weekly payments of compensation under this section.

(5.) At any time after five years from the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, the Governor in Council, by Order in Council published in the Gazette, may increase the scale of compensation set forth in subsection two of this section to such extent as he thinks proper, not exceeding the amount of compensation provided in section fourteen of this Act for cases of death or disablement by accident.

(6.) Subject to the next succeeding provision, payments of compensation under this section shall be made out of the Fund:

Provided that during the period of six years commencing the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, an amount in each year equal to one-third of the total cost of compensation under this section in respect of claims arising during each year and one-third of the annual cost of administration of the provisions of this section, to be apportioned and certified to by the Insurance Commissioner, shall be paid out of and borne by the Consolidated Revenue Fund in aid of the State Accident Insurance Fund. But the total amount so to be paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund in each of the years 1917-18, 1918-19, and 1919-20 shall not exceed ten thousand pounds annually, and in each of the years 1920-21, 1921-22, and 1922-23 shall not exceed five thousand pounds annually.

(7.) The Insurance Commissioner may, after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, charge such additional premiums on State accident insurance policies issued under this Act to employers in the employments mentioned in the second column of the table in subsection one hereof as he may find necessary towards providing the compensation payable under this section and the cost of administration of the provisions thereof.

(8.) After the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, no employer shall commence or continue to employ any worker in any of the employments mentioned in the second column of the above table unless such worker—

(a) Was employed by him in such employment in Queensland on or before the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; or

(b) Within thirty days after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, procures a certificate that he was employed by some other employer in such employment within Queensland on or before the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; or

(c) Within thirty days after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, produces a certificate from a medical referee appointed under this Act certifying him to be free from all diseases set opposite the description of such employment in the first column of the above table.

(9.) Every employer carrying on any of the employments mentioned in the second column of the above table shall give to every worker leaving his service after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, a certificate, in the form prescribed in the regulations, certifying—

(a) The period worked by such worker in his employment; and

(b) The total number of days worked by the worker for the employer in such employment in Queensland during the last preceding five years.

Within seven days after giving any such certificatae, the employer shall forward a copy thereof to the Insurance Commissioner.

(14C.) Nothing in section 14A or section 14B of this Act shall affect the rights of a worker to receive compensation in respect of a disease to which those sections do not apply if such disease is a personal injury by accident within the meaning of section nine of this Act.

Sections 14A and 14B shall cease to have effect on and after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, except as to any right, claim, privilege, obligation, penalty, or liability then acquired, accrued, or incurred.

16. (1.) Nothing in this Act shall affect any civil liability of the employer when the injury was caused by the personal negligence or wilful act of the employer or of some person for whose act or default the employer is responsible, or was such as to give a right to recover compensation under the laws relating to mining.

In such case the worker may at his option either obtain compensation under this Act or take proceedings independently of this Act, but the worker is not entitled to compensation under this Act if he has obtained judgment against the employer independently of this Act.

(2.) If compensation has already been recovered by the claimant in respect of the injury under any law of the United Kingdom, or of the Commonwealth of Australia, or of any other part of His Majesty's dominions, compensation under this Act shall not be allowed to the claimant.

No person having a right to such a claim under any such law shall apply for compensation under this Act, unless he makes a statutory declaration that he has not claimed, and covenants with the Insurance Commissioner that he will not claim, compensation for the injury under any such law.

17. It is not lawful for any employer or any person on his behalf to directly or indirectly take or receive any money from any worker, whether by way of deduction from wages or otherwise howsoever, in respect of any liability under this Act or to pay damages independently of this Act.

All money so taken or received as aforesaid from any worker, whether with the consent of such worker or not, may by him be recovered as a debt from the employer, or person who took or received it.

18. Where the Governor in Council is satisfied that by the laws of any other country within the dominions of the Crown outside the Commonwealth of Australia and the Dominion of New Zealand compensation for accidents is payable to the relatives of a deceased worker, although they are resident in Queensland, he may, by Order in Council, declare that dependants resident in that country shall have the same rights and remedies under this Act as if resident in Queensland.

20. (2.) The regulations may—

(i.) Direct the use of tables fixing and, if necessary, varying the rates of premium to be charged in connection with State accident insurance contracts, and provide special rates for workers specially liable to accident by reason of their age or any physical or mental infirmity or incapacity, or for workers in some particular occupation where the risk in the individual case is greater than that usually involved in such occupation: Provided that the Insurance Commissioner may fix the premium in the case of any such accident insurance contract not provided for in the said tables;

(ii.) Prescribe conditions or provisions to be contained or implied in State accident insurance contracts, and define the nature and extent of the risks to be covered by such contracts;

(iii.) Prescribe bases for the fixing of compensation where practicable, taking age, debility, infirmity, or any other factor into consideration;

(iv.) Provide generally for the proper conduct of State accident insurance business;

(v.) Prescribe the duties of and fees to be paid to medical referees and other medical practitioners under this Act;

(vi.) Empower the Insurance Commissioner—

(a) To review and, if he deems it just, to reduce the charges made by any medical practitioner or other person in respect of medical or surgical attendance on or treatment of injured workers;

(b) To enter into arrangements or agreements with medical practitioners and hospitals or other institutions for providing medical and surgical attendance, treatment, and aid to injured workers out of the compensation payable to such workers;

(vii.) Require insurance companies which at the passing of this Act are carrying on in Queensland the business of accident insurance to furnish to the Insurance Commissioner such returns as may be prescribed relating to the business of accident insurance;

(viii.) Limit the amount of costs recoverable in proceedings under this Act; prescribe the method of recovery of costs.

Impose a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds for any breach thereof.

Schedule.

4. (1.) The person entitled to compensation under this Act or some person on his behalf shall file with the clerk of petty sessions an application for compensation in accordance with the regulations together with a certificate of the medical practitioner, if any, who attended the worker, and such proof or other particulars required by the regulations.

Provided that in the case of an injury to a seaman not resulting in death the application may be filed with the clerk of petty sessions of the district in which the seaman is during his incapacity, and in case of the death of a seaman by accident the application may be filed with the clerk of petty sessions of the petty sessions district in which the dependants are living.

(2.) No application shall be valid or claim thereunder enforceable unless filed within six months after the day upon which the injury occurred or the right to compensation accrued. But this provision may be waived by the Insurance Commissioner if he is satisfied that failure to make application was due to mistake, absence from Queensland, or other reasonable cause.

5. Whenever any accident occurs to any worker it shall be the duty of the employer forthwith to report particulars of such accident and the injury resulting therefrom to the proper clerk of petty sessions.

Such report shall state—

(i.) The time, cause, and nature of the accident and injury, and the probable duration of the injury resulting therefrom;

(ii.) Whether the accident arose in the course of the injured person's employment;

(iii.) Any other matters prescribed by the regulations.

Any employer who has not complied with this provision within thirty days after the happening of an accident shall, unless he furnishes to the adjudicating court a reasonable excuse for such failure, be liable to a penalty not exceeding thirty pounds.

6. Any worker applying for or in receipt of compensation under this Act is required, if requested by the Insurance Commissioner or the clerk of petty sessions, to submit himself for medical examination at a time and from time to time at a place reasonably convenient for the worker and as may be prescribed by the regulations.

Schedule.

If the worker refuses to submit to any such examination or obstructs the same his right to weekly payments shall be suspended until such examination has taken place, and no compensation shall be payable during or on account of such period.

7. Upon the request of any applicant for compensation under this Act, made in the prescribed manner to the curator of intestate estates or to a public curator appointed under any Act, he may make and prosecute any application for compensation under this Act and otherwise act for and on behalf of such claimant for any of the purposes of this Act. When so acting he shall be entitled to claim and receive such fees and charges as may be prescribed under this Act, or in the case of a public curator under the Act creating this office.

8. If the Insurance Commissioner is satisfied that an application for compensation is well founded, he may, in his discretion, before the amount of compensation is fixed, or pending any appeal as to the amount thereof, from time to time advance to the worker such sum or sums on account of compensation as he thinks proper under the circumstances.

9. (1.) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act as to the rate of compensation, compensation for the injuries mentioned in the first column of the table hereunder set forth shall be assessed in the manner indicated in the second column of that table.

(2.) Nothing in the said table shall limit the amount of compensation payable for any such injury during any period of total incapacity due to illness resulting from that injury, but any sum so received shall be taken into account in estimating the compensation payable in accordance with the said table:—

Nature of Injury.	Ratio of Compensation to Full Compensation as for Total Incapacity in Estimating the Amount of Weekly Payments or of a Lump Sum in Redemption thereof.
Loss of both eyes	100 per cent.
Loss of an only eye	100 per cent.
Loss of both hands	100 per cent.
Loss of both feet	100 per cent.
Loss of a hand and a foot	100 per cent.
Total and incurable loss of mental powers involving inability to work	100 per cent.
Total and incurable paralysis of the limbs or of mental powers	100 per cent.
Total loss of the right arm or of the greater part of the arm	80 per cent.
Total loss of the left arm or of the greater part of the arm	75 per cent.
Total loss of the right hand or of five fingers of the right hand or of the lower part of the right arm	70 per cent.
Total loss of the same for the left hand and arm	65 per cent.
Total loss of a leg	75 per cent.
Total loss of a foot or the lower part of the leg	60 per cent.
Total loss of the sight of one eye, together with the serious diminution of the sight of the other eye	75 per cent.
Total loss of hearing	50 per cent.
Complete deafness of one ear	10 per cent.
Total loss of the sight of one eye	40 per cent.
Total loss of the thumb of the right hand	30 per cent.
Total loss of the thumb of the left hand	25 per cent.
Total loss of the forefinger of the right hand	20 per cent.
Total loss of the forefinger of the left hand	15 per cent.
Total loss of part of the thumb of the right hand	15 per cent.
Total loss of the little finger of the hand	12 per cent.
Total loss of the middle or ring finger of the hand	8 per cent.
Total loss of the great toe of either foot	20 per cent.
Total loss of any other toe or of a joint of a finger	5 per cent.

For the purposes of this table an eye, hand, foot, or other member is deemed to be lost if it is rendered permanently and wholly useless.

Where a worker suffers by the same accident more than one of the injuries mentioned in this table, he is not in any case entitled to receive more than full compensation as for total incapacity.

6 Geo. V., No. 35, 5 Jan., 1916.

10. In fixing the amount of the weekly payment, regard shall be had to any payment, allowance, or benefit the worker may receive from the employer during the period of his incapacity.

11. Any weekly payment may be reviewed by an industrial referee at the request either of the Insurance Commissioner or of the worker, and on such review may be ended, diminished, or increased, subject to the maximum herein prescribed:

Provided that where the worker was at the date of the accident under twenty-one years of age, and the review takes place more than twelve months after the accident, the amount of the future weekly payment may be increased to any amount not exceeding fifty per centum of the weekly sum which the worker would probably have been earning at the date of the review if he had remained uninjured, but not in any case exceeding two pounds.

12. Where there are both total and partial dependants, nothing in this Act shall be construed as preventing the compensation being allotted partly to the total and partly to the partial dependants.

13. Where a worker has, under clause 6 of this Schedule, submitted himself for examination by a medical practitioner, and the Insurance Commissioner has, within six days after such examination, furnished the worker with a copy of the report of that practitioner as to his condition, then, in the event of no agreement being come to between the Insurance Commissioner and the worker's condition or fitness for employment, on application being made by either party to the clerk of petty sessions and in either case on payment by the applicant of such fee as may be fixed, not exceeding the limit prescribed by the regulations, the clerk of petty sessions shall refer the matter to a medical referee.

Such medical referee shall, in accordance with the regulations, give a certificate as to the condition of the worker and his fitness for employment, specifying, where necessary, the kind of employment for which he is fit; and that certificate shall be conclusive evidence as to the matter so certified.

If a worker, on being required so to do, refuses to submit himself for examination by such medical referee, or in any way obstructs the same, his right to compensation and to take or prosecute any proceeding under this Act in relation to compensation, or in the case of a worker in receipt of a weekly payment his right to that weekly payment, shall be suspended until such examination has taken place.

The regulations may prescribe the manner in which documents are to be furnished or served and applications made under this paragraph, and the forms to be used for those purposes, and as to the fee to be paid under this clause.

14. A medical referee who has been employed as a medical practitioner in connection with any particular case by or on behalf of a worker or by the Insurance Commissioner shall not act as medical referee in that case.

15. In case of death, the payment shall be made to the legal personal representative of the worker, or, if he has no legal personal representative, to or for the benefit of his dependants, or, if he leave no dependants, to the person to whom the expenses are due; and, if made to the legal personal representative, shall be paid by him to or for the benefit of the dependants or other persons entitled thereto under this Act.

16. The sum allotted as compensation to a dependant may be invested or otherwise applied for the benefit of the person entitled thereto as agreed, or, in default of agreement, as ordered by an industrial referee upon the request of the Insurance Commissioner.

17. Where it appears to an industrial referee upon a reference by the Insurance Commissioner that a worker to whom any sum is payable under this Act ought, on account of drunkenness, neglect of wife or children or other relatives, or other sufficient misconduct on his part, to be deprived of the whole or any part of any such sum or that the terms on which, or the manner in which, any such sum is payable to him ought to be varied, such referee may order such deprivation or variation, and may, on application being made in accordance with the regulations, make such further order for the payment of the sum of which the worker has been deprived, to or for the benefit of any member or members of his family, as in the circumstances of the case he thinks just.

18. Where it appears to an industrial referee upon a reference by the Insurance Commissioner that a widow to whom any sum is payable under this Act, whether by way of an annuity or as instalments or otherwise, ought, on account of her remarriage, or on account of drunkenness, neglect of children, or other sufficient misconduct on her part, to be deprived of the whole or any part of any such sums, or that the terms on which, or the manner in which, any such sums are payable to the widow ought to be varied, such referee may order such deprivation or variation, and may, on application being made in accordance with the regulations, make such further order, for the payment of the sums of which the widow has been deprived, to or for the benefit of other dependants, as in the circumstances of the case he thinks just.

19. The liability for weekly payments of compensation may at any time be redeemed by the payment of a lump sum to be agreed on by the worker and the Insurance Commissioner, or, failing agreement, to be fixed by an industrial referee at the request of either of them.

Such lump sum may by agreement or by order of such referee be invested or otherwise applied for the benefit of the person entitled thereto.

Any such lump sum may, within twelve months after it has been agreed on or fixed, be reviewed by an industrial referee at the request of either the Insurance Commissioner or of the worker, and on such review may be diminished or increased subject to the maximum herein prescribed.

20. When payment of any moneys under this Act is made to any person under twenty-one years of age, whether such person claims as a worker, dependant, or legal personal representative, the receipt of such person therefor shall be a good and valid discharge in law; and such person (notwithstanding minority) may agree with the Insurance Commissioner upon the amount of compensation payable.

21. Where under this Act a right to compensation is suspended, no compensation shall be payable in respect of the period of suspension.

22. If a worker receiving a weekly payment ceases to reside in the Commonwealth or New Zealand he shall thereupon cease to be entitled to receive any weekly payment.

But if he proves that the incapacity resulting from the injury is of a permanent nature he shall be entitled to a lump sum not exceeding one hundred and fifty-six times the amount of weekly payment less all payments theretofore paid.

Any question arising under this clause shall, in default of agreement, be determined by an industrial referee at the request of the worker or the Insurance Commissioner.

23. (1.) If, within the time limited by this Act for making application for compensation, an action is brought to recover damages independently of this Act for injury caused by any accident, and it is determined in such action that the injury is one for which the employer is not liable in such action, but that there is a liability to pay compensation under this Act, the action shall be dismissed.

But the adjudicating court shall, unless the plaintiff objects, proceed to assess such compensation, and shall, unless good cause to the contrary is shown, deduct from such compensation all the costs which in its opinion have been caused by the plaintiff bringing such action instead of making an application under this Act, and shall enter judgment accordingly.

In any proceeding under this subclause when the court assesses the compensation, it shall give a certificate for the compensation it has awarded and the directions it has given as to the deduction for costs, and such certificate shall be binding upon the Insurance Commissioner, and the compensation so awarded shall be payable out of the State Insurance Fund.

(2.) Subject to this Act, if it is determined in any proceedings under this Act that the injury is one for which compensation is not payable under this Act, such determination shall not prevent an action being brought in respect of such injury independently of this Act, and the court in which such action is tried may deduct from any damages awarded by such court all or part of the costs which, in its opinion, have been caused by the plaintiff having brought the unsuccessful proceedings under this Act.

24. When the injury for which compensation is payable by the Insurance Commissioner under this Act was caused under circumstances creating also a legal liability in some other person to pay damages in respect thereof—

(i.) The worker may both take proceedings against that person to recover damages and may apply for compensation under this Act, but is not entitled to recover both damages and compensation; and (ii.) If the worker has recovered compensation under this Act the Insurance Commissioner shall be entitled to be indemnified by the person so liable to pay damages as aforesaid, and all questions as to the right to and amount of any such indemnity shall in default of agreement be settled by action or, if the parties consent, by an industrial referee under this Act.

6 Geo. V., No. 35, 5 Jan., 1916.

25. Where any person (herein called the "principal") contracts with any other person (herein called the "contractor") for the execution of any work by or under the contractor, and the contractor employs any worker thereon, the following provisions shall apply:—

- (i.) Both the principal and the contractor shall be deemed to be employers of the worker.
- (ii.) In the case of sub-contracts, the expression "principal" shall extend to and include not only the original principal, but also each contractor who constitutes himself a principal with respect to a sub-contractor by contracting with him for the execution by him of the whole or any part of the work; and the expression "contractor" shall extend to and include not only the original contractor, but also each sub-contractor.
- (iii.) The regulations may declare the conditions under which any right of indemnity shall exist and be enforceable by and between any of the aforesaid persons, and may also prescribe the person or persons against whom the Insurance Commissioner is entitled to recover any penalty or any moneys under the circumstances aforesaid.

26. No money paid or payable in respect of compensation under this Act shall be capable of being assigned, charged, taken in execution, or attached, nor shall the same pass to any other person by operation of law, or otherwise howsoever, nor shall any claim be set off against the same.

27. Any person who attempts by malingering to obtain any benefit under this Act shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds or two months' imprisonment.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 3 May, 1917.

4. "Household worker" means any person including a domestic servant who is employed solely in or about or in connection with a private dwelling-house or grounds appurtenant thereto.

6. (a) The premium to be paid to the Commissioner by the employer for such policy shall be calculated in accordance with the rates of premiums set forth in Schedule I. hereto.

(b) Subject to adjustment as hereinafter provided, such premium for the first period of insurance shall be based upon a sum equal to the sum paid by the employer in cash or its equivalent as and by way of wages, salaries, and other earnings to all workers in his employment during the year ended on the thirty-first day of May, 1916: Provided that, where the employer did not employ workers for the whole or any part of that year, the Commissioner may fix the sum upon which such premium is to be based in accordance with information supplied by the employer for that purpose.

(c) Subject to adjustment as hereinafter provided, such premium shall, at the beginning of the second and each subsequent period of insurance, be based upon a sum equal to the sum paid by the employer in cash or its equivalent as and by way of wages, salaries, and other earnings to all workers in his employment during the year ended on the thirtieth day of June then last past: Provided that where the employer did not employ workers for the whole of the year then ended, the Commissioner may fix the sum upon which such premium is to be based in accordance with information supplied by the employer for that purpose.

7. (A) All such premiums shall be payable yearly in advance, provided that the Commissioner, if he sees fit, on receipt of an application from the employer, and subject to such conditions as he may consider proper in any individual case, may accept such employer's premium by instalments as under:—

- (a) Where the annual premium exceeds fifty pounds, by two equal half-yearly instalments.
- (b) Where the annual premium exceeds one hundred pounds, by not more than four equal quarterly instalments.

(B) In all cases in which payment of the premium is accepted by instalments, the employer shall give to the Commissioner when the policy is issued or renewed a bill or bills for the amount of each deferred payment, with interest thereon added at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum for the period from the first day of July then last past to the date of payment.

(C) In the event of any such bill not being paid at due date, all bills given by the same employer for subsequent instalments of the same year's premium shall thereupon immediately become due and may be sued upon forthwith.

8. In determining the amount of wages, salaries, or other earnings paid by an employer in any period of insurance, the value of board and lodging shall be reckoned at fifteen shillings per week for each worker for whom board and lodging is provided by the employer.

9. (A) The premium paid in respect of each period of insurance shall be adjusted in accordance with the employer's actual wage expenditure during such period, and for the purpose of enabling the Commissioner to so adjust such premium the employer shall, when so required by the Commissioner by notification in the Gazette, or in such other manner as the Commissioner may think convenient, furnish to him particulars of the actual amounts paid during the year ended on the thirtieth day of June then last past, or due at that date to be paid by him in cash or its equivalent as and by way of wages, salaries, and other earnings to workers of each class employed by him during the said year.

(B) If it appears from such particulars that the premium already paid by the employer for that year was too great, the Commissioner shall refund the amount overpaid, or shall allow it in reduction of the employer's premium for the next ensuing year.

(C) If from such particulars it appears that the premium already paid as aforesaid was too little, the amount of the deficit shall be paid by the employer with his premium for the next ensuing year, or within fourteen days of demand in writing by the Commissioner if the premium for the ensuing year has already been paid or if there is no such premium payable.

(D) If during any period of insurance the employer dies or retires from business and the business is not continued, or ceases from any other cause to employ workers, application may be made to the Commissioner for a rebate of a proportion of the premium paid for that year, and on receiving particulars in accordance with paragraph (A) hereof for the period commencing on the first day of July then last past and terminating on the day from which rebate is claimed, the Commissioner shall refund such proportion of the premium paid by the employer for that year as proves to have been unearned at the date from which rebate is claimed.

10. (A) On the payment to him of the proper amount of premium the Commissioner shall issue to the employer a policy in the form prescribed.

(B) The Commissioner, in accordance with Part IV. of these Regulations, may add to any such policy, by endorsement or otherwise, such provisions relating to the insurance of the employer's risk under the Commonwealth Workmen's Compensation Act 1912, the (Commonwealth) Seamen's Compensation Act 1911, "The Mines Regulation Acts, 1910 to 1916," "The Workmen's Compensation Act 1910," or "The Employers' Liability Act, 1897," of New South Wales, "The Workmen's Compensation Act, 1911," or "The Employers' Liability Act, 1887," of South Australia, or under any Act amending the same, or in substitution thereof, or under any contract to pay compensation in case of accident to persons in receipt of more than £400 per annum, or to members of the employer's family dwelling in his house, or at common law as are appropriate to any particular case.

11. On the payment to him of the proper amount of premium in respect of any subsequent period of insurance as shown in the notice of adjustment sent by the Commissioner to the employer the Commissioner shall issue to the employer an official renewal receipt covering the year or period ending on the thirtieth day of June then next ensuing.

12. In any year in which the Commissioner is directed by the Governor in Council to return to policy-holders by way of bonus any portion of the surplus of any previous year or years the Commissioner shall give notice in the Gazette, or in such other manner as he may deem convenient, the conditions upon which the whole or any part of such bonus shall accrue and become payable, and compliance by the employer with such notice shall be a condition precedent to his right to receive such bonus or any portion thereof.

13. The employer shall keep or cause to be kept a record showing the name of every worker (other than household workers) employed by him, together with an account of the actual amount paid in wages, salaries, and other earnings to each worker (other than household workers) in each week or other period of payment. Such record, together with the employer's policy or policies, issued under the Act and any renewal receipt, or receipts issued in respect thereof shall be produced by the employer for inspection on the request of the Commissioner, or any State officer duly authorised by the Commissioner.

6 Geo. V., No. 35, 5 Jan., 1916.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 3 May, 1917.

14. (A) When the employer (herein called "the principal") contracts with any other person (herein called "the contractor") for the execution of any work by or under the contractor, and the contractor employs any worker thereon, the principal may require the production of a subsisting policy covering the contractor's workers under the Act.

(B) If the contractor fails to produce such policy when required, the principal may, within three days of the work being commenced, notify the Commissioner of the failure of the contractor to produce such policy, giving the name and postal address of the contractor.

(C) Upon compliance by the principal with this regulation, the Commissioner shall not be entitled to recover any penalty or other moneys from the principal.

15. (A) The employer shall, forthwith after the occurrence of an accident to a worker employed by him, report particulars of such accident and the injury resulting therefrom to the Commissioner or if outside the Brisbane or South Brisbane district to the Clerk of Petty Sessions of the district in which such accident occurred.

(B) Every such report shall be in the form prescribed.

(C) In the case of a fatal accident or of the fatal termination of an accident, whether or not notice has already been given in accordance with paragraph (A) hereof, the employer shall notify the fact forthwith to the Commissioner by urgent collect telegram. Every such telegram shall state the name of the worker killed, the time and cause of death, the employer's name, and the number of his policy and, if known, the time when and place where the death inquiry is to be held.

(D) After the occurrence of an accident to a worker the employer shall, on request from the Commissioner or any duly authorised officer of the Commissioner, permit the Commissioner or such officer, as often as may be required, to inspect the employer's works and the place of accident, and furnish such assistance and information in his power as may reasonably be required under the circumstances.

16. (A) Every application for compensation for injuries to a worker by accident not resulting in death to be filed under clause 4 of the Schedule to the Act shall be made by filing with the Clerk of Petty Sessions an application in the form prescribed, signed by the applicant or his agent, and shall give the particulars therein required.

(B) The applicant shall also furnish to the Commissioner such proof of his injuries and the cause thereof, and the nature, extent, and duration of disablement as the Commissioner may reasonably require.

17. (A) Every application for compensation for the death of a worker by accident to be filed under clause 4 of the Schedule to the Act shall be made by filing with the Clerk of Petty Sessions, an application in the form prescribed, signed by the applicant or his agent, and shall give the particulars therein required.

(B) The applicant shall also furnish to the Commissioner such proof of the death of the worker, the cause thereof, the identity of deceased, and of the rights of persons claiming to be dependants of the deceased worker as the Commissioner may reasonably require.

18. (A) Every certificate of a medical practitioner to be filed under clause 4 of the Schedule to the Act shall be in the form prescribed, and shall give the particulars therein required.

(B) The fee to be charged by the medical practitioner to the applicant for giving such certificate shall not exceed five shillings.

(C) The Commissioner may at any time call upon the medical practitioner attending an injured worked to furnish a second or subsequent certificate regarding such injured worker's condition, and such medical practitioner, on receipt of a request in writing from the Commissioner so to do, shall forthwith furnish such certificate on payment to him by the Commissioner of the sum of one pound one shilling for each such certificate.

19. When no medical certificate is furnished with the application for compensation, the applicant shall give the particulars required in the form prescribed, and shall verify the same by statutory declaration.

Provided that when a Clerk of Petty Sessions is satisfied that the services of a Justice of the Peace are not readily obtainable, he may accept a declaration, if it is signed by the applicant in his presence, or if the applicant's signature is witnessed by a public officer.

20. (A) An employer authorised by the Commissioner may, on behalf of the Commissioner, make arrangements or agreements with any medical practitioner or any hospital or other institution for providing medical and surgical attendance, treatment, and aid to any injured worker out of the compensation payable to such worker.

(B) In cases of emergency where the Commissioner is satisfied that in the interests of an injured worker it was necessary that immediate action should be taken, the Commissioner may ratify any arrangement or agreement made by the employer on his behalf for providing medical and surgical attendance, treatment, or aid to such worker out of the compensation payable to him.

21. When the applicant is illiterate and unable to furnish the required information in writing, the application, with the particulars required to be given, shall, if so desired by the applicant, be filled up on his behalf by a Clerk of Petty Sessions or other Public officer.

22. (A) Any worker required to submit himself to medical examination under clause 6 of the Schedule to the Act shall be notified in writing to that effect by the Commissioner or a Clerk of Petty Sessions.

(B) Every such notice shall give the name and address of the medical practitioner employed to make the examination.

(C) The worker shall submit himself for examination by such medical practitioner as soon as possible after receipt of such notice, and in any case within fourteen days of receipt of such notice.

(D) The examination shall be made at such time and place, reasonably convenient to the worker, as the medical practitioner may appoint.

(E) No worker shall be compelled to submit himself to examination under this Regulation more than once in each calendar month.

(F) The medical practitioner shall make a personal examination of the worker, and shall within three days of such examination make a written report to the Commissioner, and shall furnish a copy of such report to the worker on the Commissioner's behalf.

(G) Every such report shall be in writing, and shall state—

(1) The nature and extent of the injuries and their probable cause.

(2) If there is anything in the habits of the worker or his mental or physical condition or general state of health not arising from the accident likely to prolong disablement or to result in disablement of a more serious nature than would ordinarily result from such an injury.

(3) The fitness of the worker for employment, and when the medical practitioner thinks he will be able to return to work.

(4) If not fit for his previous occupation, the kind of employment for which he is or probably will be fitted.

(H) The fees to be payable by the Commissioner to a medical practitioner for each such examination (including all the duties performed in connection therewith) shall be—

(1) For a first examination—Two pounds two shillings.

(2) For a second or subsequent examination of the same worker—One pound one shilling.

(3) Where in order to examine the worker the medical practitioner is required to travel to a place distant more than one mile from his surgery—a travelling allowance at the rate of two shillings and sixpence per mile (one way only) for every mile or portion of a mile up to three miles (after the first mile) and five shillings per mile (one way only) for every mile or portion of a mile beyond the fourth mile.

(I) The medical practitioner shall render a separate account to the Commissioner for fees on the scale set out in paragraph (H) of this Regulation for each examination made by him when sending to him the report required by paragraph (G) of this Regulation.

23. Within thirty days of the receipt by him of any application, the Commissioner shall forward to the applicant or to his agent a notice stating whether he allows or rejects the application or requires further evidence in support thereof, or requires that the matter shall be referred to a medical referee under clause 13 of the Schedule to the Act or requires it to be heard and determined by an industrial referee.

6 Geo. V., No. 35, 5 Jan., 1916.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 3 May, 1917.

24. Any applicant for compensation who objects to the ruling thereon of the Commissioner may, within thirty days after receipt of notice of such ruling, forward to the Commissioner a notice stating the nature of his objection and requiring the matter to be referred to a medical referee under clause 13 of the Schedule to the Act, or to be heard and determined by an industrial referee.

25. (A) If either the Commissioner or the applicant requires the matter to be referred to a medical referee, the party requiring such reference shall notify the other party in writing and shall pay to the Clerk of Petty Sessions the sum of two pounds two shillings.

(B) The Clerk of Petty Sessions shall thereupon forward to the Commissioner and to the applicant or his agent a notice of the name and address of the medical referee in the case, and shall request the medical referee to communicate with the Commissioner and the applicant or his agent with a view of appointing some mutually convenient day and place for the reference.

(C) Such medical referee shall make a personal examination of the worker, and shall give a certificate in duplicate, one copy to each party to the reference, stating—

(1) The nature and extent of the injuries and their probable cause;

(2) If there is anything in the habits of the worker or his mental or physical condition or general state of health not arising from the accident likely to prolong disablement or to result in disablement of a more serious nature than would ordinarily result from such an injury;

(3) The fitness of the worker for employment and when the medical referee thinks he will be able to return to work; and

(4) If not fit for his previous occupation, the kind of employment for which he is or probably will be fitted.

(D) The fees to be payable to a medical referee for each such reference (including all the duties performed in connection therewith) shall be two pounds two shillings with a travelling allowance at the rate of two shillings and sixpence per mile (one way only) for every mile or portion of a mile up to three miles (after the first mile) and five shillings per mile (one way only) for every mile or portion of a mile beyond the fourth mile, which the medical referee is required to travel from his surgery for the purpose of holding the reference.

(E) All fees which may be received by any Clerk of Petty Sessions under or by virtue of paragraph (A) of this Regulation shall be paid into the fund, and the cost of all medical references shall be paid out of the fund.

(F) In cases involving special difficulty, the Commissioner, at the request of the medical referee, may apply to the Minister for special expert assistance, and the Minister, if he sees fit, may grant the same on such terms as to remuneration or otherwise as he may think proper in the circumstances.

All payments authorised by the Minister under this paragraph shall be made out of the fund.

26. (A) If either the Commissioner or the applicant requires any matter (being within the jurisdiction of an industrial referee) arising out of the Act or these Regulations to be referred to an industrial referee, the party requiring such reference shall notify the Clerk of Petty Sessions stating the matter to be referred, and the Clerk of Petty Sessions shall thereupon arrange with an industrial referee to fix a time and place for the hearing of such reference and shall notify the parties accordingly.

(B) The Commissioner shall forward to the Clerk of Petty Sessions copies of all documents and papers in connection with the subject of the reference.

(C) Where the subject of the reference involves any question of the condition of an injured worker or the cause, nature, or extent of his injuries, or of the disablement arising therefrom, if no medical reference under No. 25 of these Regulations has already been held, the industrial referee may require such medical evidence in the matter as he thinks proper, and may act on such evidence.

(D) The industrial referee shall give his decision in open court and shall furnish a copy thereof in writing to each party to the reference.

27. (A) Where it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the industrial referee, at the hearing of any application or question arising under the Act or these Regulations that the hearing of such application or question could more conveniently be carried on at some other place, or before some other industrial referee (on account of the difficulty or expense of bringing witnesses, or for other good and sufficient reason), or at some future date, the industrial referee may make an order accordingly and adjourn the hearing of such application or question.

(B) If the adjournment is to another industrial referee, all documents in connection with such application or question shall be transmitted to the proper Clerk of Petty Sessions, and such other industrial referee shall have jurisdiction and shall hear and determine the matter as if it had been referred to him in the first instance.

(C) The industrial referee may at any time during the hearing of any question arising under the Act or these Regulations supply or amend all wants, defects, or errors in the proceedings, whether the wants, defects, or errors be those of the party applying or not, and all such amendments or additions may be made with or without costs (not exceeding the costs prescribed in these Regulations), and upon such terms as to the said industrial referee may seem fit; and all such amendments and additions as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real matter or matters at issue between the parties shall be so made.

28. (A) The costs of proceedings before an industrial referee shall, subject to paragraph (B) of this Regulation, be in the discretion of the industrial referee, and may be allowed or disallowed by him as he in his absolute discretion may decide.

(B) Where allowed they shall not exceed the following scale:—

(1) Applicant's or respondent's solicitor—	£	s.	d.
(a) Attending any hearing where the sum recovered exceeds £50 or is a weekly payment exceeding 20s., or appearing on any application (if counsel not engaged)—per day	1	11	6
(b) Attending any other hearing or attending any hearing or application where counsel appears for client—per day ..	1	1	0
(c) Drawing instructions for counsel engaged on any hearing or application	0	10	6
(2) Applicant's or respondent's counsel—
(a) Attending any hearing where the sum recovered exceeds £50 or is a weekly payment exceeding 20s.—per day	3	3	0
(b) Attending any other hearing or appearing on any application	2	2	0
(3) Witnesses' expenses—
(a) (i.) Professional men called as experts, —per day	1	1	0
(ii.) Allowance of attendance of such from a distance, per mile, one way only	0	2	0
(b) (i.) Witnesses' expenses, including the attendance of applicant and respondent, per day	0	10	0
(ii.) Allowance of attendance of such from a distance, per mile, one way only	0	1	0
(4) Bailiff's fees—
(a) For serving any necessary notice, order, document, or process (or copy thereof) if requested, and making affidavit of service, if service is made	0	2	0
(b) For every mile or fraction of a mile over two miles from the court which he may have to travel to serve such notice, order, document or process (or copy thereof), one way only	0	0	6

29. (A) Where the Commissioner or the medical referee is of opinion that the injury from which the applicant is suffering is amenable to special medical or surgical or hospital treatment, the Commissioner may enter into arrangements with any medical practitioner, or with any hospital or other institution, to provide such special medical or surgical attendance, treatment, or aid.

(B) The cost of such special medical or surgical attendance, treatment, or aid shall be a charge on the amount of compensation due under the Act in respect of the accident from which the injuries arise, and may be deducted by the Commissioner from any amount due to the applicant under the Act.

(C) Where the amount of compensation due under the Act is not sufficient to cover the cost of such special medical or surgical attendance, treatment, or aid, the Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, pay the whole or any part of the difference out of the fund.

6 Geo. V., No. 35, 5 Jan., 1916.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 3 May, 1917.

30. (A) 1. The Commissioner may issue policies to employers covering liability in relation to compensation or damages under the Commonwealth Workmen's Compensation Act 1912, "The Mines Regulation Acts, 1910 to 1916," or at common law, to workers employed by them in respect of accidents arising within the State of Queensland or the territorial waters thereof.

(2.) To owners or charterers of Queensland ships covering liability in relation to compensation, under the (Commonwealth) Seamen's Compensation Act 1911, to seamen employed by them.

(3) To employers covering liability in relation to compensation or damages under the "Workmen's Compensation Act, 1910," or "The Employers' Liability Act of 1897" of New South Wales, "The Workmen's Compensation Act 1911," or "The Employers' Liability Act 1887," of South Australia, or under any Act amending the same or in substitution thereof or at Common Law, to workers employed by them in respect of accidents happening to such workers within the States of New South Wales or South Australia, or the territorial waters thereof.

(4.) To employers who have by contract become liable to pay to any person employed by them whose remuneration exceeds £400 a year the compensation in case of accident which (in the opinion of the Commissioner) such person would have received under the Act had his remuneration not exceeded £400 a year.

Such policies may cover liability corresponding to any annual remuneration agreed upon between the employer and the Commissioner, but not exceeding £400.

The premium payable by the employer shall be a sum equal to the premium which would have been payable if such person was a worker within the meaning of the Act in receipt of such annual remuneration, and the compensation payable shall be such sum as in the opinion of the Commissioner such person would have received as compensation if such person was a worker within the meaning of the Act in receipt of such annual remuneration.

(5.) To any person who has by contract become liable to pay to any member of his own family, dwelling in his house, such compensation in case of accident as he would (in the opinion of the Commissioner) have received had he been a worker within the meaning of the Act.

The premium payable by such person shall be a sum equal to the premium which would have been payable if such member was a worker within the meaning of the Act in receipt of an annual remuneration equal to the amount of the annual earnings of such member, and the compensation payable shall be such sum as in the opinion of the Commissioner such member would have received if such member was a worker within the meaning of the Act in receipt of an annual remuneration equal to the amount of the annual earnings of such member:

Provided that such annual earnings shall in no case be deemed to exceed £400.

(B) Policies under this part of these Regulations will only be issued to employers who obtain from the Commissioner policies under Part II. of these Regulations.

(C) The premium to be paid to the Commissioner by the employer for such policies shall be calculated in accordance with Schedule II. of these Regulations, and shall be subject to final adjustment at the end of each year of insurance, as hereinbefore provided.

(D) No liability shall attach to the Commissioner in respect of any insurance granted under this Part of these Regulations unless and until the full premium determined by the Commissioner for such insurance has been paid to the Commissioner.

31. (A) The employer shall forthwith, and at the latest within fifteen days after the occurrence of an accident to any person insured under any policy issued in pursuance of this part of these Regulations, report particulars of such accident and the injury resulting therefrom to the Commissioner.

(B) If any action or other proceeding is brought against the employer who holds a subsisting policy under this Part of these Regulations by any injured worker to recover damages or compensation, the employer shall forthwith forward to the Commissioner every writ or other process as soon as the same has been served on him, and the Commissioner may defend such proceedings (including arbitrations) in the name and on behalf of the employer, or may settle the same, or may pay to the employer the full amount insured in that respect under the policy, whereupon the Commissioner's liability under such policy in respect of that accident shall be satisfied.

(C) Unless with the consent of the Commissioner previously given in writing the employer shall not admit liability for nor settle any such claim, nor incur any expense, nor interfere in any negotiations for settlement, or in any legal proceedings, and any breach of this condition shall render the policy void. The employer may, however, provide at the time of the accident such immediate surgical relief as is imperative. The employer, when requested by the Commissioner, shall aid in securing information, in procuring the evidence of witnesses, in effecting settlements, and in prosecuting appeals.

(D) The Commissioner shall be entitled to use the name of the employer in any proceedings to enforce for the benefit of the Commissioner any order made for costs or otherwise, in connection with any such claim, and shall have the right of subrogation in respect of all rights which the employer may have against any person or persons who may be responsible to the employer for such accident, and the employer shall, as and when required, execute all necessary documents for the purpose of vesting such rights in the Commissioner.

32. The provisions of this Part of these Regulations shall be implied in every policy issued by the Commissioner under this Part.

35. (A) Whoever aids, abets, counsels, or procures, or by act or omission is in any way directly or indirectly knowingly concerned in the commission of any offence under these Regulations, shall be deemed to have committed that offence, and shall be punishable accordingly.

(B) Payment of penalties under the Act or these Regulations shall not relieve any person from liability to furnish particulars or for payment of any moneys for which he would otherwise be liable.

36. Any person who in any manner obstructs, resists, hinders, or delays, or attempts to obstruct, resist, hinder, or delay, the Commissioner or any officer acting in the discharge or attempted discharge of his duties under the Act or these Regulations, or in any manner whatsoever is guilty of a breach of or fails to comply with any of the provisions of these Regulations which it is his duty to obey or comply with, shall be guilty of an offence and be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

SCHEDULE I.

(1) The rate to be charged for insurance under the Act only shall be the rate set opposite the occupation in the Table hereunder.

(2) Household workers will be insured under a separate policy, and will not be included in any policy covering workers employed by the employer in his trade or business.

(3) Where an employer carries on in buildings or premises communicating internally with each other, two or more occupations subject to different ratings, the rate to be charged, unless otherwise specially provided, will be that set opposite the highest rated of such occupations in the said Table.

(4) Travellers and canvassers will be insured at the rates set out for these occupations in the said Table irrespective of the employer's occupation.

(5) Managerial and clerical staffs, where occupied solely in office work or in the supervision of non-manual work, will be insured at the rate set out for clerical staff in the said Table irrespective of the employer's occupation.

(6) Workers regularly using motor cycles or motor cars (provided by the employer) in the course of their employment, will be rated at the rates set out in the said Table for motor drivers irrespective of the employer's occupation.

(7) The minimum annual premium of any employer shall be—

(a) For a policy covering household workers only, the sum of five shillings (5s.).

(b) For a policy covering workers other than household workers, the sum of ten shillings (10s.).

(8) Pence may be omitted in determining premiums, which, subject to adjustment at the end of each period of insurance, may be increased on calculation to the next integral shilling.

Fees chargeable by medical practitioner under Sections 47 and 49	0	2	6

8. (9.) An annual registration fee shall be paid on or before the 31st January in each year by the occupier of every shop of factory. When any new factory or shop is opened during any year after the thirtieth day of June, the fee to be paid as registration fee for the remaining portion of that year shall be one-half of the rate prescribed as the annual rate.

8. (10.) The following shall be the scale of registration fees payable annually in respect of the registration of factories and shops:—

	£	s.	d.

For every factory or shop in which more than thirty persons and not more than sixty persons are employed, per annum	2	2	0
For every factory or shop in which more than ten persons and not more than thirty persons are employed, per annum	1	1	0
For every other factory, per annum	0	5	0
For every other shop, per annum	Nil

13. [45.] (1.) Every person who is employed in any capacity in a factory or shop shall be entitled to receive from the occupier payment for his work at such rate as is agreed on, being not less than—

(a) In the case of a person under twenty-one years of age, a rate of seven shillings and six pence per week during the first year of his employment, with an annual increase of not less than two shillings and six pence per week during each year of the next succeeding five years of his employment in the same trade: Provided that if any person is engaged at a higher rate of weekly wages for the first year than is provided by this paragraph, then the annual increase need not in any subsequent year be more than will be sufficient to make up the rate that would have been payable for that year if the minimum rate had been paid for such first year as aforesaid.

(b) In the case of a person not under twenty-one years of age who has been employed in any capacity in a factory or factories or shop or shops for a period of not less than four years (whether such employment is continuous or not), a rate of not less than seventeen shillings and six pence per week for the first year, and twenty shillings per week for the next and succeeding years.

(c) In the case of a person not under twenty-one years of age who has not had any previous experience in any factory or shop in any capacity, a rate of not less than twelve shillings and six pence per week for the first year, fifteen shillings per week for the second year, seventeen shillings and six pence per week for the third year, and twenty shillings per week for the next and succeeding years.

(d) In the case of a person not under twenty-one years of age who has had previous experience in any factory or shop, but not amounting to four years' experience in the aggregate, whether such experience was continuous or not, a rate of not less than fifteen shillings per week for the first year, seventeen shillings and six pence per week for the second year, and twenty shillings per week for the next and succeeding years.

Every such weekly wage as becomes payable under paragraphs (a), (b), (c), or (d), hereof shall be paid in sterling money, and shall not, under any circumstances or pretence or device whatsoever, be subject to any diminution so as to reduce the amount thereof to a less sum than is hereinbefore prescribed for each worker respectively: Provided that only a pro rata amount of such weekly wage need be paid in the case of an employee being absent from his or her employment through his or her own default or through sickness; but no deduction shall be made from such weekly wage on account of any public holiday unless and until seven of such holidays have been paid for in the year. And no employee who is in receipt of over twenty shillings per week shall be entitled to be paid for any public holidays; but no reduction of the wages of any employee receiving over one pound per week shall be made so as to reduce the wages below the said sum of one pound per week.

Time lost through holidays or other absences from employment shall be made up by the employee concerned before such employee can claim to be entitled to the annual increase in wages provided herein, in order that a full year's experience may be gained before the employee becomes entitled to the next higher rate of wages prescribed.

For every portable plant where the boiler and engine are combined, the fee charged for the inspection of the boiler shall be 50 per cent. more than for a single boiler of the same dimensions which is not combined with the engine; such fee shall include the inspection fee for the engine of such portable plant and all attendant machinery being driven by such engine.

Provided, further, that if the fees payable in accordance with the abovementioned scale for the inspection at one time of any number of boilers, other than digesters, steam-jacketed pans, steam-heated retorts, gas cylinders, montejus, air receivers, air or liquid heaters, desiccators and evaporating rolls in the same owner's use upon the same premises exceeds in the aggregate £10, then a rebate of 50 per cent. shall be allowed on so much of the fees as exceeds £10; and if the fees payable as aforesaid for the inspection at one time of any number of digesters, steam-jacketed pans, steam-heated retorts, gas cylinders, montejus, air receivers, air or liquid heaters, desiccators, and evaporating rolls in the same owner's use upon the same premises exceeds in the aggregate £5, then a rebate of 50 per cent. shall be allowed on so much of the fees as exceeds £5.

Penalty fees may be charged when an owner of machinery neglects to obey the instruction of an Inspector to have boiler or boilers ready for survey upon a specific date; such fees shall amount to the cost of travelling expenses incurred by the Inspector in visiting such place.

Fees to be paid for inspection of machinery.

13. In respect of the inspection of machinery there shall be paid by the owner to the Chief Inspector forthwith on completion of the inspection the following fees:—

INDUSTRIAL ARBITRATION ACT.

7 Geo. V., No. 16, 18 Dec., 1916.

3. "The Industrial Peace Act of 1912" is repealed:

Provided that, without prejudice to the operation of "The Acts Shortening Acts"—

(i.) All subsisting awards and orders made or purporting to have been made under the authority of the repealed Act shall be valid and binding, and until rescinded or superseded under this Act shall continue in force and shall be deemed to have been made under this Act. All such awards shall be deemed to have been made by the Court under this Act.

Every industrial agreement entered into or deemed to have been made and entered into pursuant to section thirty of the repealed Act, and subsisting at the commencement of this Act, shall be deemed to have been made and entered into pursuant to Part V. of this Act, and shall be construed and have effect accordingly.

In construing any such award, or order, or industrial agreement references to the registrar shall be read as references to the registrar appointed under this Act, and references to the Industrial Court shall be read as references to the Court of Industrial Arbitration established by this Act.

4. "Employee"—Any employee, whether on wages or piecework rates, or as a member of a butty-gang: the term includes any person whose usual occupation is that of employee in a calling; the fact that a person is working under a contract for labour only or substantially for labour only, or as lessee of any tools or other implements of production or any vehicle used in the delivery of goods, or as the owner, whether wholly or partly, of any vehicle used in the transport of goods, shall not in itself prevent such person being held to be an employee;

"Employer"—Any person, company, corporation, firm, or association employing or usually employing one or more employees, whether on behalf of himself or any other person: the term includes every managing director or manager of any company, firm, or association corporate or unincorporate, and every manager for any employer, also local authorities, harbour boards, water authorities, the Metropolitan Water Supply and Sewerage Board, and all other local bodies constituted by or under any Act: for the purpose of electing employers' representatives on a Board, the term includes a director, manager, or superintendent of an employer;

"Lock-out"—The act of an employer in closing his place of business, or suspending or discontinuing his business or any branch thereof or a refusal or failure by an employer to continue to employ any number of his employees, with intent—

(a) To compel or induce any employees to agree to terms of employment, or comply with any demands made upon them by the said or any other employer; or

(b) To cause loss or inconvenience to his employees or any of them; or

(c) To incite, instigate, aid, abet, or procure any other lock-out; or

(d) To assist any other employer to compel or induce any employees to agree to terms of employment, or comply with any demands made by him;

"Strike"—The act of two or more employees, who are or have been in the employment either of the same employer or different employers, in discontinuing their employment, whether wholly or partially, or in ceasing to work, or in refusing or failing to continue to work therein, or in breaking their contracts of service, or in refusing or failing after any such discontinuance or cessation of work to resume work or return to their employment, the said discontinuance, cessation, breach, refusal, or failure being due to or in pursuance of any combination, agreement, or understanding, whether expressed or implied, entered into by the said employees or any of them, with intent—

(a) To compel or induce any such employer to agree to terms of employment, or to employ or cease to employ any person or class of persons, or to comply with any demands made by the employees or any of them or by any other employees; or

(b) To cause loss or inconvenience to any such employer in the conduct of his business; or

(c) To incite, instigate, aid, abet, or procure any other strike; or

(d) To assist employees in the employment of any other employer to compel or induce that employer to agree to terms of employment, or to employ or cease to employ any person or class of persons, or to comply with any demands made by any employees;

5. Save as next hereinafter provided, this Act applies to all callings whatsoever and to all persons whomsoever:

Provided that—

(i.) Nothing in this Act applies to any State child within the meaning of "The State Children Act of 1911," or to persons engaged in domestic service, or to persons employed in work such as is usually carried on in farming operations on dairy farms, fruit farms, or agricultural farms; but this restriction shall not be construed to exclude from the provisions of this Act persons employed (a) in any capacity on farms in the sugar industry, or (b) in butter factories or cheese factories;

(ii.) The Governor in Council may from time to time, by Order in Council, declare that any person or class of persons shall be excepted from the operation of this Act, and thereupon while such order remains unrevoked this Act shall not apply to any such persons.

9. (1.) The Court may from time to time declare general rulings relating to any industrial matter for the guidance of suitors before it and of Boards, and in order to prevent a multiplication of inquiries into the same matters.

(2.) Such declarations shall be primâ facie binding as decisions of the Court upon the Court and any Board or industrial magistrate.

(3.) Without limiting the generality of the power conferred by the two immediately preceding subsections, the Court may from time to time make declarations as to—

(a) The cost of living;
(b) The standard of living;
(c) The minimum rate of wages to be paid to persons of either sex;
(d) The standard hours:

Provided that—

(i.) The minimum wage of an adult male employee shall be not less than is sufficient to maintain a well-conducted employee of average health, strength, and competence, and his wife, and a family of three children in a fair and average standard of comfort, having regard to the conditions of living prevailing among employees in the calling in respect of which such minimum wage is fixed, and provided that in fixing such minimum wage the earnings of the children or wife of such employee shall not be taken into account;

(ii.) The minimum wage of an adult female employee shall not be less than is sufficient to enable her to support herself in a fair and average standard of comfort, having regard to the nature of her duties and to the conditions of living prevailing among female employees in the calling in respect of which such minimum wage is fixed.

10. (1.) The following directions shall be observed by the Court and the Boards in making awards, and by the parties in making industrial agreements, in all callings to which this Act applies, save in the callings mentioned in the first proviso to paragraph (a) hereof:—

(a) Employees shall not be worked on more than six out of seven consecutive days, and the time worked by them within any period of six consecutive days shall not exceed forty-eight hours; the time worked by employees on each day shall not exceed eight hours, except in those callings where a short day in each week is mutually adopted by the employers and employees, in which latter cases the time worked on five days of the week may be proportionately greater than eight hours per day in order to allow forty-eight hours to be worked during six consecutive days:

Provided that in the callings following, namely, carting trade, the removal of house refuse and night soil, parcels deliveries, employees on coastal, river, and bay vessels, and musterers and drovers of stock, the Court in its discretion may determine the maximum daily or weekly hours:

7 Geo. V., No. 16, 18 Dec., 1916.

Provided further that—

(b) The working time of employees in underground occupations, or occupations in which the conditions as to temperature, ventilation, lighting, and limitation of approaches are similar to those obtaining in underground occupations, shall include permitted intermissions for rest and meals, shall be reckoned from bank to bank, and shall not exceed six hours per day unless a temperature of less than eighty-five degrees Fahrenheit thermometer, using a wet bulb, is maintained for at least a seven-eighths proportion of the working shift in the working place where the employee is occupied;

(c) Intermissions for rest (other than "smoke-ho's" and for meals), in any day on which eight and three-quarters hours or less are worked, shall not exceed a total of one hour;

(d) Overtime, that is time worked in excess of the times or hours above limited, or before or after the fixed or recognised times of starting or leaving off work on any day in any calling, may be permitted by the terms of any award or industrial agreement at a rate of payment therefor of not less than double time in any calling in or in connection with which more than one shift per day is worked, or not less than time and a-half in any other calling;

(e) Notwithstanding the terms of any current award or industrial agreement, the Court may by award from time to time, for the purpose of distributing the work available in a calling so as to relieve unemployment, or for any other purpose which appears to the Court to be good and sufficient, prohibit or restrict to any extent the working of overtime in any calling;

(f) The Court shall, upon the application of an industrial union, make an award prohibiting the working of overtime in any calling in which the working of overtime is not permitted as aforesaid, but nothing herein shall prevent the amendment or making of any award so as to permit the working of overtime;

(g) Notwithstanding the terms of any industrial agreement a greater number of hours than above limited may be fixed by award if the Court certifies that for reasons of paramount public interest such greater number of hours should be worked in the calling:

(h) Subject to the last preceding paragraph, where in any calling the ordinary time of work is at the commencement of this Act fixed by award or industrial agreement or by well-established practice in the calling, such time shall not be exceeded in any award or industrial agreement made after such commencement in respect of such calling.

(2.) Save as hereinafter provided, every award shall be deemed to contain provisions to the following effect, or provisions not less favourable to employees:—

(i.) All work done by any employees on Good Friday, Labour Day (the first Monday in May or other day appointed under "The Holidays Act of 1912" to be kept in place of that holiday), and Christmas Day shall be deemed overtime work and shall be paid for at double rates. All work done by any employees on the following holidays—namely, New Year's Day, the twenty-sixth day of January, the first day of March, the seventeenth day of March, the twenty-third day of April, Easter Monday, the birthday of the Sovereign, the thirtieth day of November, and Boxing Day, or on any day proclaimed to be kept in the place of any such holiday—shall be deemed overtime work, and shall be paid for at the rate of time and a-half:

Work done during ordinary working hours on any other day or holiday in the year shall not be deemed overtime work or be paid for at any increased rate:

Provided that where any award made before the commencement of this Act contains a provision that work done on any holiday other than the holidays mentioned in this subsection shall be paid for at an increased rate, such provision with respect to such holiday may be continued in any future award, whether such award is an amendment of the existing award or in substitution therefor, until it is annulled by any subsequent award or amendment thereof:

Nothing in these provisions shall have reference to Sunday work:

(ii.) When any person on any one day is asked to perform two or more classes of work to which a differential rate fixed by an award is applicable, such person shall be paid in respect of the whole time during which he works on that day at the same rate, which shall be at the highest rate fixed by the award in respect of any of such classes of work.

12. When the Court makes an award for an industry embracing more than one calling, or when a Board, under the authority of a remission as hereinbefore provided, makes an award for an industry embracing more than one calling, the Court or Board shall (unless in the exceptional circumstances of any particular case the Court thinks otherwise and so expressly declares) in such award prescribe at least such wages rates for employees whose calling is already governed by another award as are equal to the wages rates fixed by that award.

And the award of the Court or Board shall be so framed that such wages rates of such employees in such industry shall vary in accordance with any variation of wages rates of other employees in such calling that may take place by reason of a variation of such other award.

17. An award shall be binding on—

(a) All parties to the industrial cause who appear or are represented before the Court or the Board; and

(b) All parties who have been summoned to appear before the Court or the Board as parties to the cause, whether they have appeared in answer to the summons or not, unless the Court or Board is of opinion that they were improperly summoned before it as parties; and

(c) All industrial unions connected with the calling or callings to which the award applies; and

(d) All members of industrial unions bound by the award; and

(e) All employers and employees in the locality to which the award applies in the calling or callings to which it applies; and

(f) All persons who, whether as employers or employees, are engaged in such calling or callings in that locality at any time while the award remains in force.

20. The Judge may act as a mediator in any industrial cause in all cases in which it appears to him that his mediation is desirable in the public interest.

21 (1.) The Judge may, whenever in his opinion it is desirable for the purpose of preventing or settling an industrial dispute, summon any person to attend, at a time and place specified in the summons, at a conference presided over by himself.

(2.) Any person may be so summoned, notwithstanding that he is not connected with the dispute, if the Judge thinks that such person's presence at the conference is likely to conduce to the prevention or settlement of the dispute.

(3.) Any person so summoned shall attend the conference and continue his attendance thereat as directed by the Judge, and in default shall be guilty of contempt of court, and, by order of the Judge, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

(4.) The conference may be held partly or wholly in public or in private, at the discretion of the Judge.

(5.) Any person so summoned, who attends pursuant to the summons and continues his attendance as directed by the Judge, shall be entitled to be paid by the Crown such (if any) amount as the Judge certifies to be a reasonable recompense for his expenses and loss of time.

26. (3.) Upon an application to be registered as an industrial union, the registrar may require such evidence as to him seems fit, either oral or on affidavit—

(a) Of the authority of the person signing the form of application;

(b) That the persons on whose behalf the application is made should not in the public interest or for other good reason join an industrial union which has already been registered;

(c) That the rules of the applicant association or union and their administration provide reasonable facilities for the admission of new members, and do not impose unreasonable conditions upon the continuance of their membership, and are not in any other way tyrannical or oppressive;

(d) That the registration of the applicants will not unjustly affect any other industrial union;

(e) That the application is bonâ fide in the interests of employees, and not in the interests of an employer or employers.

(4.) Within the prescribed time and in the prescribed manner any industrial union or employer may, by notice to the registrar, oppose such application.

7 Geo. V., No. 16, 18 Dec., 1916.

(5.) The registrar shall fix a day for considering any objections on any of the above grounds to the granting of the application, and shall notify the same as prescribed.

27. Every application for registration as an industrial union shall be accompanied by—

(a) A list of its members;
(b) A list of the officers of the union, viz.—the president or chairman, the secretary, the members of the committee of management or executive committee, and all salaried officers, with their official designations;
(c) Two copies of the rules of the union;
(d) A copy of a resolution passed in accordance with the rules by a majority of the members present at a general meeting of the union, or by other competent authority in the union, in favour of registration of the union under this Act;
(e) A list of callings comprised in the membership or objects of the union;
(f) The localities or districts in which the members of the union exercise their callings.

32. (1.) Each industrial union shall, as prescribed, forward to the Registrar such returns of its members, officers, accounts, and alteration of its rules as are prescribed, and for any failure so to do shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two pounds per week for each week of default.

(2.) An industrial union shall forward to the registrar, subject to the aforesaid penalty for default, a copy of every industrial agreement to which it is a party.

38. All the Boards appointed under the repealed Act are at the commencement of this Act dissolved, except where at such commencement any matter is pending or partly heard before any such Board, in which case such Board may continue to act and deal with and determine such matter in the same manner as if this Act had not passed.

An award made under this section shall be deemed to be a subsisting award made under the repealed Act.

On such matter being determined, the Board shall be dissolved by the Governor in Council by Order in Council published in the Gazette.

39. (1.) Industrial Boards may, on the recommendation of the Court, be constituted by the Minister for any calling, industry, or undertaking recommended by the Court.

(2.) The functions of such Boards shall be—

(i.) The making of an award in any industrial cause remitted to the Board by the Court under this Act; or (ii.) The making, after inquiry, recommendations to the Court as to the regulation of any calling or callings for the purpose of enabling the Court to make an award; or inquiring into and reporting to the Court on any matter remitted by the Court.

(3.) The representatives of the employers and employees on each Board shall choose the chairman of such Board, and if such representatives fail to choose a chairman within fourteen days from the constitution of the Board the chairman of such Board shall be appointed by the Minister.

Such chairman shall preside over and be a member of the Board whereof he is appointed chairman.

A District Court Judge may be appointed to be such chairman, and when so appointed shall act in that capacity.

(4.) Each such Board shall, besides its chairman, consist of two or four other members, as may be recommended by the Court.

(5.) The Minister shall appoint as the other members of such Boards persons who have been nominated by the employers and industrial unions concerned, respectively, and who have been recommended by the Court:

Provided that where no industrial union exists the representatives of the employees shall be recommended by the Court.

One half in number of such other members shall be representatives of the employers; one half in number of such other members shall be representatives of the employees.

(6.) Upon any failure to so nominate, representatives of employers or employees, as the case may be, shall be recommended by the Court and appointed by the Minister.

(7.) On the chairman and members being appointed a Board shall be deemed to be constituted.

(8.) The employers or industrial unions concerned shall be entitled, on one occasion only but not oftener, to vacate the office of any member appointed to represent them respectively, whereupon a vacancy shall arise which shall be filled by a fresh appointment on the nomination of the employers or industrial unions concerned, as the case may be, of a person who shall be appointed by the Minister on being recommended by the Court.

43. Each member of a Board shall, upon his appointment, take an oath that he will faithfully exercise and discharge the powers and duties of his office without fear or favour to any person, and will not therein wilfully make any false or inaccurate statement, and not to disclose any matter or evidence before the Board or the Court relating to—

(a) Trade secrets; or
(b) The profits or losses or the receipts and outgoings of any employer; or (c) The books of an employer or witness produced before the Board or the Court; or (d) The financial position of any employer or of any witness; and if he violates his oath he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds, and on conviction of such offence he shall cease to hold office.

44. If any member of a Board, without reasonable excuse, neglects on two successive occasions to attend meetings of the Board duly convened, or to vote when present at any such meeting on any question duly submitted to the Board, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds, and the Minister may declare his office vacant, and thereupon such member shall cease to hold office.

47. The members of a Board shall be paid such fees, expenses, and allowances as may from time to time be fixed by the Governor in Council.

49. A Board may, on remission to them of any industrial cause by the Court, with or without directions, whether for determination and award or for inquiry and report—

(a) Investigate such cause judicially;
(b) Conduct its proceedings in public, but not in private;
(c) Adjourn the proceedings to any time or place;
(d) Admit and call for such evidence as in good conscience they think to be the best available, whether strictly legal evidence or not;
(e) Where empowered to make an award make such award;
(f) In other cases make any recommendation which they deem proper with regard to any industrial cause remitted to them, and in such recommendation specify in what manner and to what extent in any particular the power of the Court to make awards should in the opinion of the Board be exercised.

50. The chairman may require any person (including a member) giving evidence before a Board to give his evidence on oath or affirmation, and for such purpose may administer an oath or take an affirmation.

For the purposes of compelling the attendance of persons to give evidence and the punishment of persons failing to attend when summoned or refusing to give evidence or produce documents or writings in their possession or power, the chairman shall have all the powers and authorities of a police magistrate sitting in a court of petty sessions.

51. (1.) Any industrial union may make an agreement in writing with an industrial association of employers or some specified employer or employers for the prevention or settlement of an industrial dispute or relating to any industrial matter.

(2.) Every industrial agreement shall be for a term to be specified therein, not exceeding three years from the date of the making thereof, and shall commence as follows: "This Agreement, made in pursuance of 'The Industrial Arbitration Act of 1916,' this day of Between ," and then the matters agreed upon shall be set out.

(3.) An agreement shall be limited in its effect to the particular locality therein specified.

(4.) The date of the making of the agreement shall be the date on which it is first executed by any party thereto; and such date, and the names of all the original parties thereto, shall be truly stated therein.

(5.) Notwithstanding the expiry of the term of an industrial agreement, it shall, subject to any award under this Act, continue in force in respect of all parties thereto, except those who retire therefrom.

(6.) At any time after or not more than thirty days before the expiry of an industrial agreement, any party thereto may file in the office of the registrar a notice in the prescribed form signifying his intention to retire therefrom at the expiration of thirty days from the date of such filing, and such party shall on the expiration of that period cease to be a party to the agreement.

7 Geo. V., No. 16, 18 Dec., 1916.

54. (1.) Every industrial agreement duly filed shall extend to and be binding on—

(a) The parties who execute the same or concur therein; and

(b) Every member for the time being of any industrial union which is party thereto; and

(c) Every worker who is, at any time whilst it is in force, employed by any employer on whom the agreement is binding.

(2.) An industrial agreement shall be enforceable in the same manner as if it were an award of the Court.

57. The Minister may, for the purposes of this Part of this Act, notify districts, and may cancel or amend any notification made under this section.

Such notification may include all the callings in the district, or be limited to any specified calling or callings.

58. (1.) The Minister may, in the manner prescribed, constitute for each such district a conciliation committee consisting of a chairman and two or four other members, as the Minister may determine, and to be appointed by him, one half in number of whom shall be nominated as prescribed by the employers concerned and the other half nominated as prescribed by the industrial union or unions of the employees concerned, or failing any such nomination shall be recommended by the Court.

The chairman shall be chosen by the unanimous agreement of the other members, but if no such agreement is arrived at, or if the chairman so chosen is unable or refuses to act, he shall be appointed by the Minister:

Provided that the Minister may, if he thinks fit, appoint the Judge to be chairman of any such committee.

(2.) Subject to this section and so far as they may be applicable, such of the provisions of Part IV. of this Act as relate to the office of members of Boards shall apply to any member of a committee constituted under this section, except the Judge.

59. (1.) Any such committee shall meet on being summoned by its chairman, as prescribed, or at the request of the Minister, and shall inquire into any industrial cause in connection with the calling concerned, or any of them if more than one, within its district.

(2.) The chairman shall preside at all meetings of a committee, and shall endeavour to induce the other members to come to an agreement, but shall not take any part in the decisions of the committee.

(3.) If such agreement is come to, it shall be reduced to writing and signed by the other members on behalf of the employers and the industrial unions concerned.

Such agreement, on being certified by the chairman as prescribed, shall be filed in the office of the registrar, and shall have effect as an industrial agreement between such employers and unions.

64. (1.) Where an employer employs any person to do any work for which the price or rate has been fixed by an award, order, or industrial agreement, whether made under the repealed Act or this Act, or by a permit under this Act, he shall pay in full in money to such person and without any deduction, whether on account of the loan or hire of tools, or the supply of material or otherwise, except such as may be authorised by such award, order, or agreement, the price or rate so fixed. But this provision shall not be construed to prohibit a deduction agreed upon between an employer and any of his employees by way of contribution to any hospital or benevolent or provident fund.

(2.) Such person may, and notwithstanding that he was not or is not of age at the time when such money became due or at the date of the application next hereinafter mentioned, apply himself, or any industrial union to which he belongs may apply on his behalf, within ninety days (or such extended time as the Court or an industrial magistrate may allow, but not exceeding a period of six months inclusive of such ninety days) after any of such money has become due, to the Court for an order directing the employer to pay the full amount of any balance due in respect of such price or rate.

Such order may be so made notwithstanding any smaller payment or any express or implied agreement to the contrary.

The Court, or, if the Court remits the matter to an industrial magistrate, such magistrate, may order such payment to be made on any terms it or he thinks just, and may award costs to either party and assess the amount of such costs.

65. (1.) Any person who commits an offence against this section shall be liable to a penalty in the case of an employer or industrial union not exceeding one hundred pounds, and in other cases not exceeding ten pounds.

66. No industrial union or industrial association shall be liable to any suit or action, nor shall the funds of such union or association be in any way chargeable in respect of any act or word done, spoken, or written, during or in connection with any strike or lock-out, by any agent, if such agent acted contrary to instructions bonâ fide given by or without the knowledge of the governing body of such union or association.

67. (1.) No employer shall refuse employment to any person or dismiss any employee from his employment, or injure him in his employment, or alter his position to his prejudice, by reason merely of the fact that the employee is an officer or member of an industrial union or of a society or other body that has applied to be registered as an industrial union or is entitled to the benefit of an industrial agreement or award.

Any person who contravenes this provision shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for each person so refused employment or employee so dismissed or injured in his employment; moreover, the Court shall award to any such person as last aforesaid such sum as is reasonable compensation for loss of or injury in his employment, and order that he shall, if he has been dismissed from or prejudiced in employment, be forthwith reinstated to his former employment or grade; and every such order shall be obeyed.

(2.) In any proceeding for any contravention of this section it shall lie upon the employer to show that any employee proved to have been dismissed or injured in his employment or prejudiced whilst an officer of an industrial union or such a society or body, or whilst entitled as aforesaid, was dismissed or injured in his employment or prejudiced for some reason other than that mentioned in this section.

68. (1.) No employee shall cease work in the service of an employer by reason merely of the fact that the employer is an officer or member of an industrial association, or is entitled to the benefit of an industrial agreement or award.

Any person who contravenes this provision shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

(2.) In any proceeding for any contravention of this section it shall lie upon the employee proved to have ceased work in the service of an employer whilst the employer was an officer or member of an industrial association, or was entitled as aforesaid, to show that he ceased so to work for some reason other than that mentioned in this section.

69. (1.) The Court may, on the application of any party to an industrial agreement or award or of the registrar or any industrial inspector, make any such order as it deems just and necessary in the nature of a mandamus or injunction to compel compliance with an industrial agreement or award or to restrain a breach thereof or the continuance of any breach:

Provided that any application by an industrial union for an order under this section shall be under the seal of the union and signed by the secretary and chairman.

(2.) The Court may, on the application of the registrar or any industrial inspector, make any order of the nature aforesaid which it deems just and necessary to restrain any breach of this Act or the continuance of any breach.

(3.) Any of the powers of the Court under this section may be exercised by the Judge in Chambers, but any order made by the Judge hereunder may be discharged by the Court on the application of any party or person affected.

(4.) No person to whom any such order as aforesaid applies shall, after he has received written notice of the same, contravene such order in any way by act or omission.

Any person who contravenes such order shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

70. No person shall write, print, or publish anything calculated to obstruct or in any way interfere with or prejudicially affect any matter before the Court

Any person who contravenes this provision shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

71. Any person who—

(a) Resists or obstructs the Court or any officer thereof in the performance of any duties or the exercise of any powers under this Act, or wilfully disobeys any order of the Court;

(b) Being lawfully required, fails to produce or exhibit any document or allow any document to be examined;

(c) Wilfully misleads any officer in any particular likely to affect the discharge of his duty;

(d) Being lawfully asked any question by an officer pursuant to this Act, fails to answer the same truth fully to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

7 Geo. V., No. 16, 18 Dec., 1916.

72. When under any award the amount of wages payable by an employer to an employee depends wholly or in part upon the age or experience or duration of previous employment of the employee, any person who, when seeking employment or while an employee, gives or makes to an employer any information or statement relating to any such matters which is false to the knowledge of such person or employee, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

73. (1.) Every person who, or industrial association or other body which, is directly or indirectly concerned in the commission of any offence against this Act, or counsels, takes part in, or encourages the commission of any such offence, shall be deemed to have committed that offence, and shall be punishable accordingly.

(2.) Any attempt to commit an offence against this Act shall be an offence against this Act punishable as if the offence had been committed.

74. Any industrial union or person guilty of any contravention of this Act, whether by commission or omission, shall, except where some penalty or punishment is specifically provided, be liable to a penalty not exceeding in the case of an industrial union or company one hundred pounds, or in the case of a person ten pounds.

75. (1.) Whoever commits a breach of an award or industrial agreement whether by contravention or non-observance of the same shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding in the case of an employer or industrial association fifty pounds, and in the case of an employee ten pounds.

Whoever disobeys an order of the Crown which imposes a penalty for disobedience thereto, and whoever commits a breach whether by contravention or non-observance of any provision of this Act which provides for a penalty, shall be liable to pay the penalty so imposed or provided for.

Any order to pay a penalty shall have the effect of and be enforced as a decision of the Court.

(2.) An order to pay a penalty made against an employee who was a member of an industrial union at the date when such penalty was incurred shall be enforceable only against such union, unless it is proved, either in the course of the proceedings to enforce such penalty or on motion of such union, that the breach by such employee was committed at the instigation of or in the interests of an employer or with the intent to injure or prejudice an industrial union.

On such proof being given the Court shall direct that the penalty be enforced only against such employee, and may impose a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds on such employer.

(3.) Any employee who receives from an employer or from any one on his behalf, and any employer or person on his behalf who pays to an employee a less remuneration than such employee is entitled to under any award or industrial agreement, shall be deemed to commit a breach of such award or industrial agreement.

(4.) Any employee who, in pursuance of an express or implied agreement with an employer or with any person on behalf of an employer, receives or agrees to receive or authorises another person to receive on his behalf a less remuneration than that to which he is entitled under an award, industrial agreement, or permit, and such person so authorised as aforesaid and such employer or person acting on his behalf, shall each of them be guilty of an offence against this Act:

Provided that no prosecution shall be initiated under this subsection without the leave of the Court, nor at the instance of any industrial union or person which or who is not entitled to initiate proceedings under this Act.

(5.) Any employee who returns or agrees to return any portion of the remuneration paid to him in accordance with the terms of an award, industrial agreement, or permit shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to have received a less remuneration than was due to him under such award, agreement, or permit.

(6.) Where an order to pay a penalty is made against any person or trade union or industrial union, or against a member of any such union or against an employer, and the Court is of opinion or is informed by the industrial magistrate to whom the case has been remitted that the breach was committed by the wilful act or default of any such person or union, or employer, or of any member of any such union, the Court may, on motion of ex parte and in addition to any other order, grant an injunction to restrain such person or union, or employer, or member from continuing the said breach, or from committing further or other breaches of the award or industrial agreement, under a penalty not exceeding one thousand pounds.

80. When an award has fixed the lowest price or rate which may be paid to any person for wholly or partly preparing or manufacturing any particular articles of furniture, and also the periods of time within which the ordinary working hours shall be worked, it shall not be lawful for more than one member of a partnership to personally work inside a factory of the class to which the award relates at any time beyond such periods of time, unless such partnership has first obtained the written permission of the registrar.

85. There shall be kept printed, painted, or affixed, in legible roman characters, in some conspicuous place at or near the entrance of every factory, workroom, shop, or premises to which an award applies, in such a position as to be easily read by the employees therein, a true copy of the award as to the lowest prices or rates of payment fixed by the award.

88. (2.) Every person who hinders or obstructs a Judge, or a Board or any member thereof, or any officer of the Court or other person, in the exercise of any power conferred by this section, or who refuses or unduly delays to a Judge, or a Board, or any officer of the Court, member of a Board, or other person authorised as aforesaid, entrance during any such time as aforesaid to any such place, premises, ship, or vessel, or refuses without reasonable excuse to answer any question put to him as aforesaid, or gives or makes any information or statement which is to his knowledge false, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

89. (2.) It shall be the duty of industrial inspectors to see that the provisions of awards and orders of the Court are duly observed.

An industrial inspector shall report to the Director of Labour all breaches of this Act, or of an award or industrial agreement, which have come to his knowledge.

(3.) No industrial inspector shall have any authority under this Act to enter a private dwelling-house, or the land used in connection therewith, unless some manufacture or trade in which labour is employed is carried on therein.

(4.) Any industrial inspector who, except for the purposes of this Act, and in the exercise of his functions under this Act, discloses to any person any information which, in the exercise of such functions, he acquires, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

(5.) Any person who obstructs any inspector in the exercise of his powers under this Act, or fails when duly required as aforesaid to produce any time-sheets or pay-sheets, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

90. Any officer of an industrial union authorised in writing by the president and secretary of such union shall have the right to enter any place or premises or any ship or vessel of any kind whatsoever, wherein members of such union are engaged, for the purpose of conversing with or interviewing the employees in such place, premises, ship, or vessel:

Provided that such officers shall not converse with or otherwise hamper or hinder the employees during their working time, but may interview any employees or converse with them during any lunch hour or non-working time.

Every person who hinders or obstructs any such officer in the exercise of any power conferred by this section, or who refuses entrance to such officer or unduly delays such officer in entrance during any such time as aforesaid to any such place, premises, ship, or vessel, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

92. (2.) The regulations may fix a penalty, not exceeding in any case twenty pounds, for any breach thereof.

THE SCHEDULE.

9. If any person wilfully insults the Judge or registrar or any other officer of the Court during his sitting or attendance in Court, or in going to or returning from the Court, or wilfully interrupts the proceedings of the Court, or otherwise misbehaves himself in Court, the Judge may order that the offender be taken into custody and detained till the rising of the Court; and the Judge may, by a warrant under his hand and sealed with the seal of the Court, commit the offender to the prison nearest to the Court for any time not exceeding fourteen days, or may impose on the offender a fine not exceeding ten pounds, and in default of payment may commit the offender to prison for any time not exceeding fourteen days unless the fine is sooner paid.

12. Every person summoned by the registrar shall be bound to attend upon such summons, and shall for disobedience thereto be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

19. (1.) Any aged or infirm worker who deems himself or herself unable to earn the minimum wage prescribed by any award may apply to the Court, and any industrial inspector may apply to the Court on his or her behalf, for a permit in writing to work for less than the wage so prescribed.

(2.) The Court or any industrial magistrate to whom the application has been remitted specially or by Rules of Court shall be the tribunal to determine whether and on what conditions such permit shall be granted, and shall have power to revoke or cancel any permit.

7 Geo. V., No. 16, 18 Dec., 1916.

(2.) The Court or any industrial magistrate to whom the application has been remitted specially or by Rules of Court shall be the tribunal to determine whether and on what conditions such permit shall be granted, and shall have power to revoke or cancel any permit.

(3.) The tribunal to which such application has been so remitted shall forthwith give written notice of such application to the secretary of the industrial union of the calling in which such applicant desires to be employed, and shall in such notice appoint a time, not being more than seven nor less than three days from the date of such notice, at which the said tribunal will hear objections to the grant of a permit. The said tribunal shall, at the time so appointed, and before determining whether such permit should be granted, hear objections from any authorised representative of such industrial union.

19. (4.) Such industrial union may, at any time after the granting of such permit, apply to the said tribunal in the manner prescribed for the revocation or cancellation thereof.

(5.) An appeal against any such determination shall not lie from the tribunal to the Court except on the ground that the calling concerned is one in which no such permit should be granted.

(6.) Any person paying or receiving a less sum than that authorised by such permit shall be liable to a penalty as for a breach of an award.

RULES OF COURT, 20 JANUARY, 1917.

ORDER II.

11. Except where otherwise expressly provided by the Act or by these Rules, if any motion, summons, complaint, application, or other document is required by these Rules to be taken out, made, or signed, or any step is required to be taken by any person, corporation, or industrial association, trade union of employees, or industrial union, such motion, summons, complaint, application, or document may be taken out, made, or signed, and such steps may be taken on behalf of such person, corporation, or industrial association by the following persons:—

(a) In the case of any person, by such person or by any other person duly appointed by him in writing;

(b) In the case of a corporation, by the member or officer duly authorised under the seal of the corporation to represent it, or by an agent duly appointed by it in writing;

(c) In the case of an industrial association, trade union of employees, or industrial union, by a member or officer of the same duly appointed in writing to represent it.

In all cases all written appointments for the purposes of this Rule shall be filed.

18. All fees authorised to be collected or received shall be collected by the registrar and his officers in sterling money of the realm or Treasury or Commonwealth notes. Any document in respect of which any fee ought to be paid shall not be received or filed unless or until such fee has been duly paid.

19. The fees to be demanded and paid in the Court shall be those set forth in the following table:—

	s.	d.

For first copy of any document, per folio of seventy-two words	0	4
For carbon copies thereof, per folio of seventy-two words	0	2
On every order or determination of the Registrar (including filing fee)	2	6
For certificate of Registrar	2	6

ORDER III.

9. The Judge may, if he thinks fit, make an order prohibiting the publication of a report of any proceedings or any part thereof in any matter being heard or which has been heard before the Court which in his opinion on public grounds ought not to be published:

Provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent the publication of a report of such parts of, or of the facts connected with, such proceedings as are not so prohibited.

When any such order has been made, a copy thereof shall be posted by the Registrar or other officer in some conspicuous place where notices are usually posted at the Court House in which such matter is then being or was heard.

Any person who publishes a report of any such proceedings or any part thereof in respect of which such order has been made and posted shall be guilty of contempt of Court and punishable accordingly.

10. The business of the Court shall be taken at such times and in such order as the Court may appoint.

ORDER IV.

26. Every judgment, decision, and order of the Court shall be drawn up and verified and executed and recovered upon and otherwise enforced in the manner in which judgments and orders of the Supreme Court of Queensland or of a Judge thereof are respectively drawn up, verified, executed, and recovered upon, and otherwise enforced against the person, lands, and goods of the parties affected, according to the circumstances of the case. And for that purpose the provisons of the Rules of the Supreme Court made under "The Judicature Act" and all forms thereunder applicable to the matters aforesaid within the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court shall, so far as can be, apply and be observed with such variations and modifications to meet particular cases as the Court may either generally or in any particular case approve.

Nothing in this Rule shall apply to proceedings for offences, or for the recovery of any penalty or forfeiture after conviction of an offence, or when the costs or expenses incurred are ordered to be paid in respect of any proceeding for an offence.

27. The costs and expenses in respect of proceeedings and other matters to which these Rules apply may be allowed by the Court upon a scale not exceeding the scale allowed in the said Supreme Court in respect of like proceedings in the said Court and pursuant to the said Supreme Court Rules.

28. When all parties to an industrial cause have consented to be represented by counsel or solicitor in any proceedings before the Court or before a Board no party shall withdraw his consent without leave of the Court or Board.

ORDER V.

1. Parties shall effect service of all documents and proceedings unless the Court otherwise directs or unless it is otherwise prescribed.

2. Service of process upon any person shall be effected by leaving such process with such person or by tendering such process to such person, or by leaving such process with any person apparently above the age of fourteen years at the residence or usual place of business of the person intended to be served, or where such person has filed an address for service at such address, or by posting such process in a prepaid registered letter addressed to such person at such address.

3. Service of any process upon any corporation shall be effected by leaving such process with the secretary or manager thereof, or by tendering such process to such secretary or manager, or by posting such process in a prepaid registered letter to such secretary or manager, at the registered office of such corporation, or where such corporation has filed an address for service at such address.

Service of any process upon an industrial union or association shall be effected by leaving such process with the secretary thereof, or by tendering such process to such secretary, or by posting such process in a prepaid registered letter to such secretary at the last known office of the union or association, or where such union or association has filed an address for service at such address.

4. Any officer of the Court shall when required by the Registrar serve any process or document required to be served by the Registrar, and the charge in respect of such service shall be paid in the first instance by the party having the carriage of the matter.

5. When personal or other service of any proceedings is required by the Act or these Rules, and it is made to appear to a Judge that prompt service cannot be effected, a Judge may make such order for substituted or other service or the substitution of notice by letter, telegram, public advertisement, or otherwise as may seem just.

6. Every summons, notice of motion, or notice of application required to be served shall be served upon the party concerned at least two clear days before the return day thereof, or the day on which it is proposed to move or apply, unless the Court gives leave for shorter service.

7. If the service of any process has been personal, the person who served it shall endorse on the copy of the process delivered to him by the Registrar the fact and mode of such service. If the service has not been personal, he shall endorse on the copy of the process the statement which has been made by the person to whom the process was delivered or other circumstances from which it may be inferred that the service of the process has come to the knowledge of the person to be served.

7 Geo. V., No. 16, 18 Dec., 1916.

If the summons has not been served, the person whose duty it was to serve it shall endorse on such copy the fact and the reason for such non-service, and shall deliver the process and such copy to the Registrar. Such copy shall be produced to the Court by the Registrar at the time of the hearing.

ORDER VI.

1. When a ballot is required to be taken by the Registrar, under section 65 of the Act, among the employers or employees, as the case requires, in the calling concerned, the following provisions shall apply:—

(i.) The Registrar, upon a bonâ fide request of employers or employees in any calling where no industrial union exists, may take a ballot amongst the employees or employers, as the case requires, in the calling concerned; such request shall set forth the matter in dispute and be accompanied by a list of employers or employees, with their addresses.

(ii.) The Registrar shall be the Returning Officer at the ballot, and all proceedings had and taken and things done by persons deputed by him in connection with the ballot shall be had, taken, and done in his name.

(iii.) The Registrar shall cause to be compiled a roll of persons entitled to vote, and for this purpose all employers and employees concerned and all secretaries and officers of industrial associations concerned shall, upon written request or by advertisement in any local newspaper, forthwith supply a list of persons so entitled to vote. From the lists so received, and from such other information as the Registrar or his deputy is able to obtain, the roll of voters shall be compiled.

(iv.) The names placed on such roll shall be made public in such way as the Registrar or his deputy thinks most convenient under the circumstances.

(v.) The roll so compiled shall be conclusive evidence of the right of all persons whose names are placed thereon to vote at the ballot.

(vi.) But nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the Registrar or his deputy presiding at the ballot to permit any person to vote who orally proves his qualifications before him at the ballot. In every such case the decision to allow or disallow the vote shall be final and without appeal. The name of every person whose vote is so allowed shall be written upon a supplementary voters' roll, which shall be deemed part of the original roll.

(vii.) If the ballot is to be taken in several localities, a separate roll shall be compiled for each such locality, and each such roll shall be deemed to be part of the general roll of voters.

(viii.) The Registrar shall fix the place, day, and hours for the taking of the ballot. If the ballot is to be taken in several localities, the day and hours of voting shall be identical in each locality.

(ix.) The Registrar may appoint as his deputies, presiding officers, poll clerks, scrutineers, and other persons to assist at the taking of the ballot.

(x.) The Registrar and his deputies shall have authority to preserve order at the ballot; and all persons shall be excluded from the ballot-room except persons who are present for the purpose of voting, and the Registrar and his officers.

(xi.) The Registrar and his deputies shall provide ballot-boxes, ballot-papers, and all such other proper means and accessories as are necessary for taking the ballot.

(xii.) The voting shall be secret.

(xiii.) No voter shall be entitled to give more than one vote.

(xiv.) The poll shall be taken, by voting-papers only, and the electors shall have the number of votes to which they appear in the proper rolls to be respectively entitled.

(xv.) The voting-paper shall be in the prescribed form:—

(xvi.) The presiding officer shall cause the voting-papers to be posted through the Post Office at least four days prior to the date fixed for the poll to all electors whose names appear on the proper roll.

(xvii.) Each voter shall on each voting-paper mark an "X" in the square opposite the name of each candidate for whom the voter desires to vote, and shall forthwith return the voting-paper or papers to the presiding officer, either through the Post Office or by placing it or them in a ballot-box at the presiding officer's office.

A voting-paper in which are more or less names than the number of persons to be elected are so marked, or wherein such mark is placed outside of the square opposite any candidate's name, shall be invalid and disallowed at the count.

(xviii.) The presiding officer shall, as soon as practicable after the hour fixed for the close of the poll, count the votes received, and the person or persons who has or have received the greatest number of votes, not exceeding the number to be elected, shall be deemed to be elected. If two or more candidates receive the same number of votes, the presiding officer shall have a casting vote.

(xix.) The presiding officer, if he is not the Registrar, shall report the result of the election to the Registrar forthwith in writing; such report shall contain the names of all candidates, and the number of votes which each of them has respectively received.

(xx.) In all cases not herein provided for, the rules and usages in force at parliamentary elections shall be observed, as far as they can be applied.

(xxi.) All voting-papers, rolls, and documents used at the election shall be kept in the custody of the Registrar.

(xxii.) The Registrar shall report the result of the ballot, together with the details of the voting, to the Court, and shall record in his office a certificate of such results under his hand and seal.

ORDER VIII.

When any industrial cause has been remitted to a Board for determination and award, or for inquiry and report, all meetings of the Board shall be convened by the chairman by notice served upon the members thereof. Such notices shall be in the prescribed Form.

All parties to such remission shall be summoned to attend the meetings of the Board by the chairman. Such summons shall be in the prescribed Form.

ORDER IX.

Applications by aged or infirm workers, under Section 19 (1) of the Schedule to the Act, shall be filed with an Industrial Magistrate; thereupon the application shall be deemed to be remitted to such Magistrate.

Regulations "Government Gazette," 26th January, 1917.

1. Application to the Registrar for registration as an Industrial Union by an Industrial Association or Trade Union of Employees shall be made in writing in the prescribed form.

2. Such application shall be accompanied by an affidavit made by applicant in the prescribed form.

3. When application is made for registration as an Industrial Union by an Industrial Association or Trade Union of employees, the applicant shall, within fourteen days from the time of filing such application, cause a notice in the prescribed form to be published in some metropolitan daily newspaper; and where the office of the Industrial Association or Trade Union is situate at some place more than twenty miles distant from the General Post Office, Brisbane, the applicant shall, in addition, also cause the notice to be published in some other newspaper ordinarily circulating in the district. Applicant to bear cost of publication. A copy of every such newspaper shall forthwith be filed with the Registrar by the applicant.

4. Within fourteen days from the date of the publication of application for registration, any Industrial Union or employer may file with the Registrar, in the prescribed form, notice of objection to the proposed registration, and stating such of the grounds mentioned in section 26 of the Act as are relied upon, together with affidavits in support thereof, and shall, within the said period, serve copies of the notice of objection and of the said affidavits on the secretary of the applicant Industrial Association or Trade Union of employees.

5. Within seven days after service of the notice of objection and affidavits, the secretary of the applicant Industrial Association or Trade Union of employees may file with the Registrar affidavits in answer to the notice of objection, and shall, within the said period, serve copies thereof on the objector.

6. The Registrar, on fixing a day for considering the objection, shall give notice thereof to the objector and the applicant Trade Union in the prescribed form.

7. On the day so fixed, or on any later day to which the hearing is adjourned, the Registrar shall hear and determine the matter on such evidence as may be adduced, and on such records of the Court or of the office of the Registrar as the Registrar thinks proper to refer to.

8. Every appeal from a decision of the Registrar under section 26 of the Act, in respect of an objection taken as therein enacted or on refusal of registration, shall be made within twenty-one days thereafter by motion upon notice.

9. When an application is made by an Industrial Association or Trade Union for registration for a calling for which another Industrial Union is already registered, and such application is accepted by the Registrar, the Registrar shall notify the Industrial Union first registered in the prescribed form of his intention to bracket with the registration of such Union the registration of another Industrial Union.

10. Within fourteen days from the giving of notice by the Registrar, the Industrial Union may file with the Registrar, in the prescribed form, notice of opposition to the proposed bracketing, and stating the grounds of such opposition as are relied upon, together with affidavits in support thereof, and shall, within the said period, serve copies of the notice of opposition and of the said affidavits on the secretary of the applicant Industrial Association or Trade Union of employees.

7 Geo. V., No. 16, 18 Dec., 1916.

11. Within seven days after service of the notice of opposition and affidavits, the secretary of the applicant Industrial Association or Trade Union of employees may file with the Registrar affidavits in answer to the notice of opposition, and shall, within the said period, serve copies thereof on the opposer.

12. The Registrar, on fixing a day for considering the opposition, shall give notice thereof to the opposer and the applicant Trade Union in the prescribed form.

13. When the Registrar has registered an Industrial Association or Trade Union of employees he shall issue a certificate of registration in the prescribed form.

14. Every Industrial Union shall forward so as to reach the Industrial Registrar not later than the thirty-first day of March in each year a return, signed by two officers of the Industrial Union, setting out the names of its members as at the last preceding thirty-first day of December, with the dates (so far as known) on which they became members of the organisation, and stating that it contains a true statement of the persons appearing from the Industrial Union's register of members to have been members of the Industrial Union on the said thirty-first day of December.

15. Within fourteen days after any change takes place in the officers of an Industrial Union, the Industrial Union shall forward to the Registrar a statement (in duplicate) of the change which has taken place, and a complete list of the officers of the Industrial Union.

16. (1) Within fourteen days after any alteration has been made in the rules of an Industrial Union, the Industrial Union shall forward to the Registrar two copies of the alterations of the rules, certified by the secretary.

(2) The certificate must show that the copies are true copies of the alterations, and that the alterations were made in accordance with the rules of the Industrial Union.

17. Once at least in every year a true statement showing the receipts and expenditure of the Industrial Union during the preceding year, and the assets and liabilities of the organisation at the date thereof, shall be prepared (in duplicate) and signed by the secretary or treasurer and audited and signed by the auditor, and shall be forwarded to the Registrar. The time when the statement shall be so prepared and forwarded shall be within fourteen days after the periodical audit of the accounts of the Industrial Union, as provided for in its rules.

18. Within fourteen days after an Industrial Union has become a party to an Industrial Agreement, the Secretary of such Industrial Union shall forward a copy of such Industrial Agreement to the Registrar.

19. Any Industrial Union making default in any of the Regulations Nos. 14, 15, 16, 17, and 18, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £2 per week for each week of such default.

20. An application for the change of the name of an Industrial Union may be in accordance with the prescribed form, and shall be made to the Industrial Registrar, and shall be signed by two or more officers of the association.

21. Every application shall be in duplicate, and shall be accompanied by a statutory declaration setting forth the facts on which the applicant relies.

22. Application to amend the registration of an Industrial Union in respect to the callings which it represents shall be made in the prescribed form.

23. Nominations for representatives of employees or employers as members of an Industrial Board shall be lodged with the Registrar within seven days of the constitution of the Board by the Minister.

24. Nominations of employees by an Industrial Union shall be in the prescribed form, and shall be lodged with the Registrar within seven days.

25. Nominations of employers shall be in the prescribed form, and be signed by at least three employers in the calling or callings to which the Board appplies, and, where there are less than three employers, by the actual number of employers.

26. The nomination of chairman shall be in the prescribed form, and lodged with the Registrar not later than fourteen days from the date of the constitution of the Industrial Board.

27. Upon failure to nominate representatives of employers or employees, as the case may be, the Registrar shall accordingly so certify to the Court in the prescribed form.

28. The Registrar may direct an officer to act as secretary to an Industrial Board.

29. Each member of a Board shall upon his appointment take an oath in the prescribed form.

30. (1) The fee payable to the chairman of an Industrial Board for the time occupied by him in presiding at meetings of the Board shall be at the rate of 3s. per hour, with a minimum of 10s. for each meeting at which he shall preside.

(2) The fee payable to every other member of an Industrial Board for the time occupied by him in attendance at meetings of the Board (including meetings of such members for the purpose of electing a chairman) shall be at the rate of 2s. per hour, with a minimum of 5s. for each meeting at which such member shall attend.

(3) First-class return fares shall be allowed to the chairman or any other member of an Industrial Board obliged to travel by railway, ship, or coach from his residence in order to attend a meeting of the Board (railway fares to include sleeping berths where necessary).

(4) The chairman and any other member of an Industrial Board who attends a meeting of the Board held at a place distant not less than twenty miles from his place of residence shall be paid for the time actually and necessarily absent from such place of residence through such attendance—

(a) In the case of the chairman, at the rate of 22s. 6d. per day;

(b) In the case of any other member, at the rate of 15s. per day:

Provided that no such payment shall be made in respect of any day on which the Board is sitting.

LICENSES.

31. Application for licenses for improvers shall be made to the Registrar in the prescribed form.

32. Licenses to improvers shall be in the prescribed form.

33. Notification by the Registrar to the secretary of an Industrial Union of the grant of such licenses shall be in the prescribed form.

LABOUR EXCHANGES ACT.

6 Geo. V., No. 6, 25 Oct., 1915.

4. The functions of each State Labour Exchange shall be—

(a) To bring together intending employers and persons seeking employment; and

(b) To make known the opportunities for self-employment in the State; and

(c) To encourage wage-earners to insure themselves against distress from unemployment; and

(d) To carry out any other duties prescribed.

For any of the above purposes a State Labour Exchange may co-operate with and assist any other labour exchange or licensed private employment exchange.

5. (1.) The Minister, or the Director with the authority of the Minister, may authorise a State Labour Exchange to make advances by way of loans towards meeting the expenses of persons seeking employment or requiring to travel to places where employment has been found for them through a State Labour Exchange.

(2.) When any such advance has been made, the Minister, or Director with the authority of the Minister, may order that the amount of such advance shall be a charge on any moneys which are then or which may thereafter be due to the borrower from his then or future employer (including the Crown), for wages or in respect of work done.

On the making of any such order the employer for the time being of the borrower, or an employer who has not discharged his indebtedness to the borrower, shall on being notified of such order pay such moneys to the Minister, as they become due and payable, in satisfaction of the charge imposed by the order.

Such order may be for the repayment of the amount of such advance in one sum or by such instalments as the Minister or Director may direct.

No charge upon or assignment of his wages, or of moneys in respect of work done or to be done, whenever or however made by the borrower, shall have any force whatever to defeat or affect any such order; and the same may be made and shall have effect as if no such charge or assignment existed.

7. No person shall open or carry on a private employment exchange unless he is the holder of a license under this Act.

Every such license shall be in the form prescribed, and, subject to this Act, shall remain in force for one year from the date thereof, but may be renewed.

There shall be payable to the Minister in respect of each such license and any renewal thereof the annual fee of one pound (£1).

Such license, together with a copy of this section, shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the private employment exchange to which it relates.

8. (1.) Application for the issue or renewal of such license shall be made to the Minister in the form and in the manner prescribed, and shall be accompanied by the said license fee.

6 Geo. V., No. 6, 25 Oct., 1915.

(2.) The Minister shall refer the application to a police magistrate for inquiry as to whether the applicant is from his character or previous conduct a fit person to hold a license.

A license shall not be issued or renewed unless the police magistrate determines that the applicant is a fit person to hold the license.

9. Every licensee of a private employment exchange shall keep as prescribed—

(a) A register in which shall be entered the name and address, age, sex, and trade or occupation of every person who applies to such licensee for employment, and the name and nature of the employment required by him; and

(b) A separate register in which shall be entered the name and address of every person who so applies for labour, and the name and nature of the employment which he offers; and

(c) A further separate register of all engagements made by or through such licensee; and

(d) The originals of all letters received by such licensee, or his agents or servants, in connection with the business of his private employment exchange during the last preceding two years.

Such registers and letters shall at all reasonable hours be open to the inspection and examination of the Minister or any officer of the department appointed by the Minister for the purpose.

10. The regulations may from time to time prescribe a scale of the fees chargeable by and payable to licensees in respect of the business of private employment exchanges, and the said scale of fees shall be posted and kept posted in some conspicuous place in every such exchange so as to be seen by all persons.

11. (1.) A licensee shall not directly or indirectly—

(a) Demand or receive from any person, for or in respect of the registration or engagement of any person, any greater or other fees than those prescribed;

Any sum so received in breach of this provision may be recovered, with full costs of suit, by the person who paid it;

(b) Take or accept any goods or chattels in payment or as security for the payment of such fees or receive or accept any reward or other consideration in addition to such fees;

(c) Give or pay to any employer, or to the foreman or agent of any employer, for or in respect of the hiring of any employee, any share or part of such fees;

(d) Keep as lodgers any persons seeking employment, or have any share or interest in the keeping of a lodging-house for such persons.

(2.) For the purpose of the last preceding provision, a licensee shall be deemed to have such interest as aforesaid if any lodger or lodging-house is kept by any member of the licensee's household.

(3.) Every contract or agreement made between any licensee or member of his household and any other person relating to the keeping as lodgers of persons seeking employment, or to the keeping of a lodging-house for such persons, shall be illegal and void for all purposes.

(4.) An employer, foreman, or agent shall not, directly or indirectly, take or receive from a licensee any share or part of the prescribed fees.

12. A licensee shall not publish or cause to be published any false information or make any false promise concerning or relating to work or employment to anyone who registers for employment.

A licensee shall not make or cause to be made any false entries in the registers to be kept as herein prescribed.

13. Where any person who applies for employment or for labour has paid to any licensee a registration fee and such person does not obtain employment or labour through the licensee within one month after registration as aforesaid, then the licensee shall upon demand repay and return to such person the full amount of the fee so paid, less any out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the licensee in respect of such person. The amount of such expenses in case of dispute shall be fixed by the Director:

Provided that such demand is made within thirty days after the expiration of the period aforesaid.

14. (1.) Every conviction against a licensee shall be endorsed on his license by the court before whom such conviction is had, and, upon a third conviction within three years from the first conviction, the license shall be cancelled, and the clerk of the court shall deliver it up to the Minister for that purpose.

(2.) A person whose license has been cancelled shall not be entitled to hold a license until the expiration of one year from the date of such cancellation.

15. A licensee shall not be entitled to maintain an action for the recovery of fees unless at the trial he produces his license.

16. On satisfactory proof of loss or destruction of a license, and on the payment of one shilling, the Minister may, at the request of the licensee, issue a duplicate bearing all endorsements, and such duplicate shall avail for all purposes as if it were the original license.

9. Issuing agents, meaning those agents who are authorised by the Director of Labour to issue passes, may issue railway passes to persons proceeding to, or in search of, employment upon the applicant signing an undertaking to repay, and authority to his employer to deduct, the amount due in respect thereof from his first wages or earnings on the following conditions:—

(a) That such applicant is registered and is not indebted to the Government for any previous assistance; and

(b) That employment has been found for the applicant by the Department; or

(c) That the applicant produces a definite engagement from an employer at the place to which he wishes to proceed, the good faith of which has been verified by the agent; or

(d) That the applicant produces a personal guarantee from some responsible person, approved of by the agent, to pay the amount due in respect thereof; and

(e) That all applicants who have been found employment by the Department shall enter into an undertaking for the repayment of half only of the usual railway fares; all other applicants shall be charged full fares.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 23 Dec., 1915.

SCALE OF FEES.

32. The following shall be the maximum fees or charges made upon employees securing employment, and upon employers obtaining labour, through a Private Employment Exchange:—

(a) Where the engagement does not exceed three months' duration, a fee not exceeding 3s. may be charged to Female Employees, and a fee not exceeding 4s. to Male Employees.

(b) Where the engagement does not exceed six months' duration, a fee not exceeding 4s. may be charged to Female Employees, and a fee not exceeding 5s. to Male Employees.

(c) Where the engagement exceeds six months' duration, a fee not exceeding 5s. may be charged to Female Employees, and a fee not exceeding 7s. 6d. to Male Employees.

(d) Where the term of engagement is not definitely stipulated, the maximum fee charged to Females shall be 3s., and the maximum fee to Males 4s.

(e) Provided that when the engagement entered into by an employee for a definite period is terminated by the employer before such period has expired (through no fault of the employee), such employee will be entitled to a refund of a proportionate amount of the fee paid.

To all employers securing labour a fee not exceeding five shillings (5s.) for each employee so obtained may be charged to such employers.

PENALTIES.

6. Any person who knowingly makes any false statement or false representation to the Director or to any Superintendent of a State Labour Exchange, or to any person acting for or for the purposes of any Labour Exchange with intent to obtain employment or to procure employees, or

Obtains or attempts to obtain under false pretences or by means of any other fraud or deceit an advance by way of loan as provided for in Section 5,

Shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £10 or to imprisonment not exceeding two (2) months.

7. Any person who after 1st January, 1916, shall open or carry on a private employment agency unless he is the holder of a license under this Act,

Shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £50.

17. Any employer failing to make return as required by this section or making a false return,

Shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £50.

18. For contravention or failure to carry out any provisions of this Act when no other penalty is specifically provided,

Shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £10 or to imprisonment not exceeding two (2) months.

21. For any breach of regulations under this Act, not exceeding £10.

AGRICULTURE AND STOCK ACTS.

"THE BRANDS ACT OF 1915."

6 Geo. V., No. 9, 15 Nov., 1915.

7. (1.) Brands shall be imprinted on horses or camels as follows, that is to say:—

(i.) The breeder or person imprinting the first brand may—

(a) Imprint his registered brand upon any one or other of the positions mentioned in the table next hereinafter set forth; or

(b) Imprint his registered symbol brand upon any one or other of the positions mentioned in the said table or upon the cheek.

(ii.) Every second or subsequent brand shall, if there is sufficient space, be imprinted on the same position as and at a distance of not less than one and a-half inches nor more than two and a-half inches from and directly underneath the brand which, in accordance with the prescribed order of branding, is the immediately preceding brand; and if there is not sufficient space for such second or subsequent brand on the said position, then it shall be imprinted on the position next in the prescribed order consecutively, position one succeeding position six.

This provision does not apply to horses or camels branded on the cheek with a symbol brand.

(iii.) In the case of horses or camels branded only on the cheek with a symbol brand, the second brand may be imprinted on any one of the prescribed positions, but subsequent brands shall be imprinted on the position next in the prescribed order consecutively, position one succeeding position six.

(iv.) All horses and camels shall be deemed branded with the registered brand which appears to be the last brand according to the prescribed order.

Table of Positions and Order for Branding Horses and Camels.

First position—Near shoulder;
Second position—Off shoulder;
Third position—Near quarter or thigh;
Fourth position—Off quarter or thigh;
Fifth position—Near ribs;
Sixth position—Off ribs.

(2.) All brands shall be imprinted on cattle as follows, that is to say:—

(i.) The breeder or person imprinting the first brand may—

(a) Imprint his registered brand upon any one or other of the positions mentioned in the table next hereinafter set forth; or

(b) Imprint his registered symbol brand upon any one or other of the positions mentioned in the said table or upon the cheek.

(ii.) Every second or subsequent brand shall, if there is sufficient space, be imprinted on the same position as and at a distance of not less than one and a-half inches nor more than two and a-half inches from and directly underneath the brand which, in accordance with the prescribed order of branding, is the immediately preceding brand; and if there is not sufficient space for such second or subsequent brand on the said position, then it shall be imprinted on the position next in the prescribed order consecutively, position one succeeding position four: Provided that each second or subsequent brand must be imprinted on the same side as the brand which, in accordance with the prescribed order, is the immediately preceding brand.

This provision does not apply to cattle branded on the cheek with a symbol brand.

(iii.) In the case of cattle branded only on the cheek with a symbol brand, the second brand may be imprinted on any one of the prescribed positions; but subsequent brands shall be imprinted on the position next in the prescribed order consecutively and on one side only, position one succeeding position four.

(iv.) All cattle shall be deemed branded with the registered brand which appears to be the last brand according to the prescribed order.

Table of Positions and Order for Branding Cattle.

First position—Neck;
Second position—Rump, hip, or thigh;
Third position—Ribs;
Fourth position—Shoulder or top of arm.

(3.) Any person who fails to comply with this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

10. (1.) The registrar, if satisfied that an application for a sheep brand or sheep earmark is in conformity with this Act, shall allot and register to such applicant a sheep brand or sheep earmark as the case may be:

(2.) Provided that, if any sheep brand or sheep earmark applied for is similar to or easily convertible into any other sheep brand or sheep earmark already registered for the same district or in another district but in the same locality, the registrar shall make such modification in that applied for as shall render such sheep brands or sheep earmarks dissimilar.

(3.) Every fire brand shall be imprinted on the face or horn, and every tar, pitch, or paint brand on the shoulder, ribs, back, or rump.

All sheep brands and sheep earmarks shall be branded and made in such manner as may be prescribed:

Provided that—

(a) The cut or cuts when made on the ear shall not remove more than one-third of the ear;

(b) No mark shall be made on that ear which is already marked with a registered sheep earmark.

14. The registrar shall allot and register to each public pound throughout the State a horse and cattle brand for such public pound.

The keeper of such pound shall, on the sale of any horses or cattle impounded in such pound, brand the same with such brand on the portions and in the order prescribed, in such manner as to show that the said brand is the last brand at that time imprinted on such horses or cattle.

Any poundkeeper who fails to comply with this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

15. Every poundkeeper, inspector, and clerk of petty sessions shall keep a copy of the latest edition of the Brands Directory and copies of the Gazettes containing the monthly statements of registered horse and cattle brands not included in such directory, and of the Sheep Brands and Earmarks Directory, and shall permit a search in such directories and Gazettes at all reasonable hours, and for any failure to comply with this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds.

18A. When in the opinion of the registrar any brand or mark of whatever kind registered and used in a locality is similar or easily convertible into another brand or mark registered and used in the same locality, he shall certify accordingly; and thereupon the Minister may cause that brand or mark which was last registered to be cancelled, and the registrar shall forthwith, without payment of any fee, allot and register to the owner of the brand or mark which has been cancelled, another brand or mark in lieu thereof.

23. For the purposes of this Act every inspector, with or without assistants, is entitled to enter upon any part of any holding and to search for and inspect any stock, brand, or branding instrument, and to seize and detain any stock in respect of which the owner has committed or is suspected of committing any breach of this Act, and to seize any branding instrument which is not authorised by this Act, or which is or is suspected to be had in possession contrary to this Act, and for the purposes aforesaid to use such force as may be necessary.

Any person who hinders or impedes or attempts to hinder or impede any inspector or assistant in the execution of his duty, or refuses to produce any branding instrument to be inspected or to permit any stock or branding instrument to be inspected, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

24. Every person who is guilty of any of the following acts relating to the branding or marking of any stock shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds, namely:—

(i.) Using or attempting to use or knowingly permitting to be used, or without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie upon him), having in possession or at his residence or premises any branding instrument or pliers by which any brand or earmark of any kind whatever, other than the brand or earmark which under this Act he is entitled to use, may be impressed or made upon stock;

6 Geo. V., No. 9, 15 Nov., 1915.

(ii.) Branding or marking, or directing, aiding, or assisting to brand or mark, any stock on any portion thereof with a brand or earmark of any kind whatever which is not registered;

(iii.) Marking any cattle, sheep, goat, or swine by removing more than one-third of the ear;

(iv.) In any other way offending against any of the provisions of this Act connected with the branding or marking of stock.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 10 Jan., 1916.

Return of Brands and Earmarks.

Regulation 11.—On the first day of January, or within one month thereafter, in each year, every owner of a registered brand or registered earmark of whatever kind shall deliver or transmit to the Registrar or to the Clerk of Petty Sessions of the Petty Sessions District in which the holding of such owner is situated, a return in the form in the twenty-seventh Schedule hereto of all such brands and earmarks, and the Clerk of Petty Sessions shall deliver or transmit to the Registrar all such returns received by him.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 19 Jan., 1906.

Every owner of a factory shall pay towards covering the cost of inspection, in the months of January and July in each year, a sum equal to one penny (1d.) for every 100 lb. of butter manufactured by him.

* Provided that when a factory is situated on premises registered as a dairy no fee shall be charged. On first registration with a currency of less than a year a proportionate fee to be charged.

DISEASES IN STOCK ACT OF 1915.

6 Geo. V., No. 16, 13 Dec., 1915.

7. The Minister may in each year make and levy an assessment on each owner of stock, at rates to be fixed by him, but of not more than at the rate of two shillings and sixpence (2s. 6d.) on every one hundred head of horses or cattle, payable on the actual numbers returned by the owner, and of not more than at the rate of sixpence (6d.) on every one hundred or part of one hundred sheep or branded or earmarked goats returned by the owner under the provisions of "The Stock Returns Act of 1893."

Provided that—

(a) No assessment shall be payable by an owner of less than fifty head of horses or cattle or less than two hundred and fifty sheep or branded or earmarked goats;

(b) Any such rate of assessment may be reduced or wholly remitted by the Governor in Council.

Any owner who fails to pay such assessment or to make any necessary return of stock shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds (£50).

9. (4.) Any owner or drover or other person introducing or attempting to introduce or aiding or being concerned in the introduction of stock from an adjoining State at any crossing place other than a crossing place duly appointed by the Governor in Council shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred and fifty pounds, or imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months.

10. Before introducing any stock the owner or drover shall obtain from the Inspector a permit to travel such stock to their destination by the nearest usual and practicable road, and such stock shall not, for a period of three months thereafter, be removed from the place of destination except by the issue of a fresh permit; and every owner or drover for every day during which he travels such stock or allows them to be travelled without such permit shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £20, and, in addition, to a penalty not exceeding £100 for every deviation they make from the route laid down in the permit.

13. For removing, or causing to be removed any stock from a quarantined area without the permission of the Minister a penalty not exceeding £100, or imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months.

19. (3.) If a waybill (without which no stock can be travelled any distance) is accidentally lost or destroyed, the drover shall apply in writing to the nearest inspector or officer in charge of nearest Police Station for an interim waybill, and such inspector or officer shall, on satisfactory proof of such loss, and on payment of the fee (£1), grant such interim waybill.

19. (4.) Any drover or owner who—

Fails to comply with section 19, dealing with the question of way-bills, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £50.

19. (5.) Any person who purchases or receives any stock not fully and accurately described in such way-bill, or any stock from any drover who does not produce a written authority from the actual owner of such stock to sell or otherwise dispose of same, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £50.

21. (1.) Any owner or person in charge of any travelling stock who drives the same across any holding or any unfenced road intersecting or bounding such holding without having given the required notice to the occupier shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £50.

22. Every owner of sheep which are intended to be driven for more than forty miles to a destination must brand on the body of each and every sheep the letter T, not less than three inches in length, and for every sheep not so branded shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding six pence and not less than one penny.

28. (1.) Every person who—

Introduces, travels, or removes, or attempts or is in any way concerned in introducing, &c., or travels, &c., by any other road than a stock route, or any other matter contrary to this Act or the order of an inspector shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £100, or imprisonment not exceeding six months.

29. Any person who pulls down, defaces or otherwise destroys any notice posted as required by the Act shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £20.

30. (2.) For any breach of this Act for which no specific penalty is provided, not exceeding £10.

"THE SLAUGHTERING ACT OF 1898."

62 Vic., No. 23, 30 Dec., 1898.

Fees for licenses.

The annual fee payable in respect of the license or the renewal of the license of a slaughter-house shall be twenty shillings.

Provided that the annual fee payable in respect of such license or renewal of such license issued to persons who only slaughter calves and pigs, but not exceeding five head in all in any week, shall be two shillings and sixpence.

The transfer fee of any license shall be two shillings and sixpence.

Fees for defraying expenses.

The fees payable by the licensee of a slaughter-house for the purpose of defraying the expenses of inspection shall be as follow, that is to say:—

	£	s.	d.
For every bullock, steer, cow, or heifer slaughtered ..	0	0	3
For every 12 sheep, goats, or calves slaughtered ..	0	0	3
For every head of swine slaughtered for pork ..	0	0	3
For every head of swine slaughtered for curing ..	0	0	1

Such fees shall be paid by the licensee to the inspector monthly, or at such shorter intervals as the inspector may require.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 9 Jan., 1913.

General regulations.

(11.) Until stock slaughtered have been inspected—

(a) The pleuræ shall not be stripped or otherwise interfered with.

(b) No part of the carcass shall be cut away or in any way interfered with that may prevent the discovery of any disease.

(15.) All meat shall be protected from dust and flies in a covered receptacle until delivered to purchaser.

(16.) Every butcher's shop front shall be enclosed either with glass or wire gauze so as to make the premises as far as possible fly and dust proof, and the door thereto shall be kept closed except when in use for ingress or egress.

(24 and 25.) No person shall hold in his mouth any knife, skewer, or other implement or substance used in the handling or wrapping of meat.

(41.) No calf shall be slaughtered for food unless it is at least four weeks old, and no carcass of a calf shall be exposed for sale unless it weighs, without the head, at least 45 lb.

(65.) A license for a slaughter house shall not be granted nor renewed or transferred unless such slaughter house is in conformity with the plans and specification set out in the Fifth Schedule to the Regulation.

Penalties.

(34.) For smoking or spitting in any butcher's shop, £50.

(61.) Every person guilty of an offence against these Regulations shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £50.

STOCK RETURNS ACT.

57 Vic., No. 10, 12 Sept., 1893.

"Owner" means the owner whether jointly or severally of any stock, or the authorised agent or superintendent of the owner, or the person in charge of any stock, or the drover in charge of any stock being travelled in any part of the State;

"Run" means and includes any run, station, or holding under "The Pastoral Leases Act of 1869," "The Crown Lands Act of 1884," or any freehold or leasehold or place where stock are kept or pastured;

"Stock" means any one or more horses, cattle, sheep, or pigs, and includes foals, calves, and lambs.

2. On the first day of January, or within one month thereafter, in each year, every owner of stock shall, in lieu of the returns of stock required to be furnished under the provisions of any Act or Acts now in force, make and forward to the clerk of petty sessions of the Petty Sessions District in which his stock are kept or pastured, a return in the form of the Schedule to this Act, of the number and description of all stock kept or pastured by him on the first day of January; and, in the case of travelling stock, such return shall be made by the drover or person in charge to the clerk of petty sessions of the Petty Sessions District in which the stock shall be on the first day of January; and any owner failing or neglecting to make such return within one month from the date on which it was due, or who shall make a false return, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

3. At the end of every month each clerk of petty sessions shall transmit to the Government Statistician all returns received by him during the month, and such returns shall by the Government Statistician be recorded in a book kept for the purpose, and all such returns shall be recorded in the alphabetical order of the names of the owners and according to the respective Petty Sessions Districts in which the stock are kept or pastured; and such returns shall be used for purposes of "The Diseases in Stock Act of 1915," "The Brands Act of 1915," "The Marsupial Boards Acts of 1905-10," and "The Rabbit Act of 1913," in lieu of the returns required to be made under each of such Acts respectively, and for statistical purposes generally.

4. It shall be lawful for any inspector of sheep or brands, or any person appointed by the Home Secretary, to enter on any run, to inspect any stud, flock, or herd book, and if necessary to count the stock on the run; and any person impeding, or aiding or abetting the impediment of, the inspector, or any person so appointed, in the execution of this duty, shall be guilty of a misdemeanour, or be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds nor less than five pounds.

5. All penalties imposed by this Act may be proceeded for and recovered before any two justices of the peace in the name of any inspector of sheep or brands or police constable.

MARSUPIAL BOARDS ACTS 1905, 1910.

5 Edw. VII., No. 8, 9 Nov., 1905. Sec. 22.

1 Geo. V., No. 16, 31 Dec., 1910.

Assessment payable to Board direct.

	£	s.	d.
For every 20 head of cattle (not exceeding) ..	0	7	6
For every 100 sheep (not exceeding)	0	7	6

Holdings of less than 50 head of cattle or a proportionate number of sheep, or of sheep and cattle in the case of a district; or in the case of a special district, less than 15 head of cattle or a proportionate number of sheep, or of sheep and cattle—exempt.

This levy may be made by two assessments in the same year, with an interval of not less than six months between the first and second assessments, and the total amount of both assessments not to exceed the maximum of 7s. 6d.

In calculating proportion of sheep and cattle, 5 sheep are to be deemed equal to 1 head of cattle.

Sub-sec. (b), sec. 22.

No assessment shall exceed 5s. for every 20 head of cattle or 100 sheep except with the approval of the Minister.

Penalty for making false return to Minister not exceeding £30.

Sub-secs. I. and II., Sec., 35.

Penalty for attempting to or procuring a certificate by fraud, not exceeding £20.

Sub-sec. III., sec. 35.

Penalty for offending against this Subsection, not exceeding £50, or imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding six months.

Sec. 37.

Penalty for breach of Regulations, not exceeding £20.

1 Geo. V., No. 16, 31 Dec., 1910. Sec. 4.

4. (19A) Any scalper trespassing outside extent of his permit. Not exceeding £20.

(19B) Any scalper trespassing in exempt paddock. Not exceeding £20.

(19C) Any scalper camping without consent within 200 yards of water used for stock. Not exceeding £20.

(19D) For using any cyanide of potassium in destruction of marsupials. Not exceeding £10.

(19E) For unlawful possession of cyanide of potassium. Not exceeding £5.

(19F) For failing to produce permit to authorised person. Not exceeding £5.

Bonus.

6. Dingo scalp (including fox scalp). Not less than 5s., but the rate fixed for the scalp of a fox need not be the same as the rate fixed for the scalp of any other dingo. Marsupial scalp. Optional.

Government endowment.

5. (29.) (i.) When the amount actually levied and raised by assessment and actually expended in respect of any year is not less than sixpence on every twenty head of cattle or one hundred sheep, such endowment shall be equal to one-fourth of such amount;

(ii.) When such amount is less than sixpence on every twenty head of cattle or one hundred sheep, no endowment shall be paid.

MARSUPIAL PROOF FENCING ACT AMENDMENT ACT.

4 Geo. V., No. 15, 14 Nov., 1913. Sec. 4.

Notwithstanding anything contained in "The Marsupials Boards Acts, 1905 to 1910," no assessment made and levied by a Marsupial Board under those Acts shall be payable in respect of stock depastured on a holding or on a group of selections not exceeding two hundred square miles in area which, to the satisfaction of such Board, is entirely enclosed with a marsupial proof fence, and as to which for the year in question the Board is satisfied that the fence is maintained marsupial proof, and also either that the holding is free from marsupials or that adequate measures for the destruction of marsupials are being taken.

RABBIT ACT.

4 Geo. V., No. 7, 30 Sept., 1913.

Sec. 3 (2).

In determining the amount of assessment payable by each owner, all cattle and sheep depastured on the same run are taken into account, and for that purpose five sheep are deemed to be the equivalent of one head of cattle.

Sec. 12.

Every owner, part owner, general manager, or resident manager of a holding in a district assessed at not less than 50 head of cattle or 250 sheep, shall be qualified to be elected a member of the Board. Every resident owner or manager of such holding shall be qualified to vote at an election of members according to the following scale, that is to say:—

50 and under 2,000 cattle or 250 and under 10,000 sheep, 1 vote.

2,000 and under 5,000 cattle or 10,000 and under 25,000 sheep, 2 votes.

5,000 cattle or 25,000 sheep and upwards, 3 votes:

provided that no person shall have more than 3 votes in any one district.

Sec. 20.

The Board in each district may in each year make and levy an assessment not exceeding 5s. nor less than 1s. on every 20 head of cattle, and not exceeding 5s. nor less than 1s. on every 100 sheep depastured in the district; such assessment shall be on the number of stock as appears in the latest statutory returns.

(a) In respect of a holding held under lease or license from the Crown, the assessment must not be upon a less number of stock than in the proportion of such number of cattle or sheep for every square mile of the holding as the Governor in Council may fix from time to time either generally or with respect to any district or districts, and which number may in his discretion be in the case of cattle 10 or a less number, and in the case of sheep 50 or a less number.

(b) Whenever in any year a holding is subdivided subsequent to the making of the statutory return, each new holding shall for the purpose of assessment be deemed to have depastured the stock pro ratâ of the area.

(c) No assessment is payable by an owner other than an owner of a holding held under lease or license from the Crown, of less than 50 head of cattle or 250 sheep, or a proportionate number of cattle and sheep.

(d) No assessment shall be payable in respect of a holding which is exempted by this or any other Act.

(e) No assessment shall be payable in respect of stock depastured upon a holding or upon a group of selections not exceeding 8 in number or 200 square miles in total area, which to the satisfaction of the Board are entirely enclosed with a rabbit-proof fence, if the fence is maintained rabbit-proof and the area is free from rabbits or adequate measures of destruction are taken.

(f) No assessment shall be payable in respect of any holding situated outside and to the south or west of the rabbit-proof fence known as the border fence of the State.

(g) If sufficient funds are available in any district, the Governor in Council may direct that no assessment shall be levied for such period as he thinks fit.

Sec. 21.

A Board may levy by two instalments at an interval of not less than 6 months, provided that the total amount per annum must not exceed the assessment specified in Section 20.

Sec. 22 (2).

In the case of stock depastured on any holding not the property of the owner of the stock, the said owner shall be equally liable for the assessment, and it is the duty of the owner of the holding on receipt of notification of the assessment to notify the Clerk of the Board of the name and address of the owner of the stock.

Sec. 23.

A Board may enforce payment of assessment in the usual manner together with one-tenth more by way of penalty.

Sec. 30 (1).

A Board may order the erection of a fence capable of supporting wire netting.

Sec. 31.

(i.) The owner of a holding within which such fence or any part thereof is erected shall be liable to contribute one-fourth of the cost of the erection and maintenance of such fence or part thereof.

(ii.) The owners of holdings on either side of such fence shall each be liable to contribute quarter of the cost of erection and maintenance of such fence.

4 Geo. V., No. 7, 30 Sept., 1913.

Sec. 31—continued.

(iii.) The remainder of the cost of erection and maintenance of such fence shall be borne by the owners of the holdings within the district which in the opinion of the Board are benefited by such fence, including those owners specified in Subsections (i.) and (ii.), if considered just by the Board. The proportion of cost payable by each owner shall be fixed by the Board. If an owner is dissatisfied with the determination of the Board, he may appeal to the Land Court.

Sec. 35.

When an owner uses for the purpose of enclosing his holding any rabbit-proof fence erected by the Board or the Crown, or for which the netting has been supplied by the Crown, he shall be liable to maintain such fence in rabbit-proof condition and shall be liable to pay interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum on the cost of netting on such fence.

Secs. 37-41.

When any owner is desirous of enclosing his holding with a rabbit-proof fence, he may, upon application to the Minister, and on charging his estate with the cost thereof, obtain the netting on terms of re-payment extending over a period of 10 to 25 years, with interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum.

The annual payment for every £100 of the amount required to be repaid with interest within the respective periods shall be according to the following scale:—

Term.	Annual Payment per Centum. £	s.	d.
10 years	12	6	7
15 years	8	19	11
20 years	7	7	2
25 years	6	8	0

Sec. 41 (2).

No stamp duty or fees shall be payable on execution, registration, or cancellation of such charge.

Sec. 42 (1).

The annual instalment shall be a first charge on the estate.

Sec. 42 (2).

The annual instalment shall be payable on the same day in every year, the first payment to be made one year after the execution of the charge.

Sec. 42 (3).

If default is made in respect of any such annual payment, the amount thereof, plus interest at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum simple interest, shall be recoverable in the same manner in which assessments are recoverable.

Sec. 42 (4).

The owner of the holding may at any time pay in one sum his indebtedness, including interest due, and obtain his discharge for same.

Sec. 43B.

If the owner of the holding neglects to keep his fence, for which this charge has been made, in repair, the Minister may cause such repairs to be executed at the owner's expense, and the value of such work, including costs, &c., and interest, if any, may be recovered as provided for in Section 42.

Sec. 44 (1).

An owner of a holding, having an existing charge under the repealed Acts, may give notice in writing before 31st December, 1917, that he elects to take advantage of the following provision of the Act, and thereupon the existing charge shall be cancelled, and a new charge, plus 4 per cent. per annum, shall be executed, payable in 20 equal annual instalments; in all other respects the provisions of Sections 42 and 43 shall apply, provided that the annual payments shall vary according to the number of years that interest has been already paid, and shall be according to the following scale:—

Years during which interest on original cost has been paid under previous Acts prior to date of notice of election.	Annual payment per centum of original cost. £	s.	d.
1	7	5	9
2	7	4	2
3	7	2	7
4	7	0	11
5	6	19	3
6	6	17	5
7	6	15	7
8	6	13	8
9	6	11	8
10	6	9	6
11	6	7	4
12	6	5	1
13	6	2	9
14	6	0	3
15	5	17	9
16	5	15	1
17	5	12	4
18	5	9	6
19	5	6	6
20	5	3	5

Sec. 45.

In case of a holding carrying a charge under this Act being divided, the Minister may apportion the charge over the various portions.

Sec. 58.

Any person intending to lay poison on any holding shall give at least 7 days' notice in writing to the owner, stating when and where the poison is to be laid.

Penalties.

Sec. 9.

For neglecting to comply with notice to destroy rabbits, £10 to £100.

Sec. 16 (2).

Any member of a Board continuing to act as such knowing that he is disqualified, not exceeding £50.

Sec. 34.

Any person who, without the permission of the Board, places on or against any rabbit-proof fence anything likely to enable rabbits to cross through or over such fence or who joins any fence on to a rabbit-proof fence which has been erected by the Board, £10 to £100.

Sec. 43A.

Neglecting to keep fence, for which charge is executed, in repair, £10 to £100.

Sec. 46.

Any person who uses any wire netting for which a charge has been executed for any other purpose than that for which it was granted, not exceeding £500 or imprisonment not exceeding 6 months.

Sec. 50 (1).

Any person who without authority cuts, breaks, or otherwise destroys or injures any rabbit netting fence, £20 to £200.

Sec. 50 (2).

Any person who wilfully leaves open a gate in a rabbit-proof fence or confines any stock in close proximity to such fence or in any way interferes with any floodgate, &c., not exceeding £200.

Sec. 51.

Any person who, without a license from the Minister, offers or pays or causes to be offered or paid any bonus or scalp money as a reward for destroying a rabbit or who sells, purchases, keeps, exposes for sale, or exports any rabbit or rabbit's skin, not exceeding £50.

Sec. 52.

Any person in any way hindering any authorised person in carrying out any provisions of the Act, £10 to £50.

Sec. 53 (2).

The Court shall not have power to reduce a penalty below the minimum fixed in this Act, Section 173 of "The Justices Act of 1886" to the contrary notwithstanding.

Schedule 1, Sec. 12.

Any person who (1) procures himself to be nominated as a candidate for membership of a Board knowing himself to be disqualified; (2) knowingly nominates a candidate who is disqualified; or (3) signs a nomination paper knowing that he is not qualified to vote, not exceeding £50.

Sec. 24.

Any candidate or agent of a candidate who attests the signature of a voter to a voting-paper, not exceeding £20.

Sec. 28.

Any candidate or agent of a candidate who receives or takes any voting-paper from a voter, not exceeding £20.

Sec. 36 (1).

Any returning officer or scrutineer divulging the name of a candidate for whom a voter has voted, not exceeding £100.

Sec. 36 (2).

Any scrutineer making any note so that he can know or remember for whom any voter recorded his vote, not exceeding £100.

Sec. 37.

Any person who wilfully intrudes into any room set apart for the counting of voting-papers other than the officials engaged thereon, not exceeding £50.

Sec. 38.

Any person interfering or in any way disturbing an election, not exceeding £10.

Sec. 39.

Any returning officer and any postmaster guilty of any act of commission or omission contrary to the Act in the conduct of an election, not exceeding £50.

Schedule 2.

For any breach of by-laws governing business of the Board, not exceeding £5.

REGULATION OF SUGAR CANE PRICES ACTS.

6 Geo. V., No. 5, 6 Oct., 1915.

8 Geo. V., No. 18, 14 Dec., 1917.

20. (1) There shall be established a fund to be called "The Sugar Cane Prices Fund," out of which shall be paid all expenses incurred by the Governor in Council or the Minister or the Central Board or any local Board in the execution of this Act.

(2) The Fund shall be administered by the Central Board, and shall be audited from time to time by officers of the Department of the Auditor-General.

(3) The Central Board may make and levy an assessment of one penny on every ton of sugar-cane received at a mill, or such other sum per ton as the Governor in Council may at any time fix by Order in Council. Such assessment shall be paid by the owner of the mill to the Minister, on the first day of every month, upon the actual number of tons of sugar-cane received at the mill during the preceding month. Such assessment shall, however, be borne by the cane-grower for every ton so supplied by such cane-grower. The amount of the assessment shall be a debt due from the owner of the mill to the Central Board, and recoverable at the suit of the Minister accordingly, but the owner of the mill may deduct from the price of the sugar-cane each cane-grower's proportion of such assessment. All assessments levied under this Act shall be paid into the fund.

Penalties.

6. (c) For failing to provide reasonable facilities for inspections under this section:

Penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

9(c) (3.) For failing to attend a compulsory conference convened by the Chairman of the Central Board—a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

10. For any breach of the provisions of this Section not exceeding five hundred pounds and forfeiture of office.

14. (3) (a) For any breach of an award under this Act by any person not exceeding fifty pounds, and in addition for any further breach or non-observance of award after an injunction has been issued, to any term of imprisonment not exceeding three months.

(b) For any breach of an award under this Act by any Company, firm, or association not exceeding five hundred pounds, and in addition, for any further breach or non-observance of award after an injunction has been issued, to a fine of fifty pounds per diem for each and every day on which such disobedience takes place.

17. For a continued breach of Regulations a daily penalty not exceeding five pounds for each day during which such breach continues.

19. (2) For any offence against this Act when no penalty is specifically provided, a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

22. (2) For any breach of regulations made under this Act. Not exceeding one hundred pounds.

DISEASES IN PLANTS ACT.

7 Geo. V., No. 8, 28 Nov., 1916.

"Fruit"—The edible product of any plant, whether such fruit is or is not attached to the plant: the term includes the peel, skin, or shell of such product and also the seeds of such plants;

"Nursery"—Any place where plants or fruit-trees are grown for sale;

7 Geo. V., No. 8, 28 Nov., 1916.

"Occupier"—The person in actual occupation of any land, or if there is no such person then the person entitled to possession thereof;

"Orchard"—Any place within a fruit district where one or more fruit-producing plants are grown;

"Owner"—The person other than His Majesty who is for the time being entitled to receive the rent of any land, or who if the same were let to a tenant at a rack rent would be entitled to receive such rack rent;

"Plant"—Any tree, vine, flower, shrub, vegetable, or other vegetation of economic value, or such other plants as the Governor in Council from time to time, by proclamation, declares to be plants;

"Tree," "Plant," and "Vegetable" respectively include the fruit or other product of any tree, plant, or vegetable, and every part of any tree, plant, or vegetable, and of the fruit or product thereof.

6. (1.) Every occupier or owner of an orchard shall, on or before the thirty-first day of March in every year, register his orchard by furnishing a return as provided by the First Schedule to this Act.

(2.) Every occupier or owner of a nursery shall, on or before the thirty-first day of March in every year, register his nursery by furnishing a return as provided by the Second Schedule to this Act.

(3.) Failure to comply with this section shall render the occupier or owner liable to a penalty of not less than one pound nor more than five pounds for a first offence, and not less than two pounds nor more than ten pounds for any subsequent offence.

7. (2.) No person shall remove or cause to be removed from or out of any nursery, orchard, or other place any tree, plant, or vegetable contrary to this Act.

(a) Every insect and every fungus and every tree, plant, and vegetable introduced into Queensland, or removed from or out of any nursery, orchard, or other place contrary to this Act; and

(b) Every diseased tree, plant, or vegetable introduced into Queensland or removed from one part of Queensland to another part thereof; and

(c) Every box, basket, package, or case harbouring, infested by, or containing any such insect, fungus, tree, plant, or vegetable, as in paragraph (a) or (b) hereof mentioned; may forthwith be seized by or on the order of the Minister or any inspector, and shall be dealt with, whether by the destruction thereof or otherwise, as the Minister or such inspector may direct.

9. Any inspector may—

(a) Seize and detain any tree, plant, and vegetable suspected to be diseased, which is being introduced into Queensland or removed from one part of Queensland to another part thereof, and every box, basket, package, or case which is suspected to contain any diseased tree, plant, or vegetable, or to harbour or to be infested by any insect or fungus, and remove and examine the same;

(b) Without notice, and with or without such assistants as he may think fit, enter at all reasonable times upon any land upon which any diseased tree, plant, vegetable, or pest is or is suspected to be growing or to exist, for the purpose of searching for and examining such tree, plant, vegetable, or pest, and may remain on such land so long as may be reasonably necessary for such purpose.

10. (1.) When any inspector finds upon any land any tree, plant, or vegetable which is in his opinion diseased, he may issue an order to the occupier, or if there is no occupier then to the owner of such land, directing him to take, within a time after the service of such order to be therein stated, all such measures for the eradication of such disease (other than by destruction of the tree, plant, or vegetable) as are in his opinion necessary, and are set forth in such order, or as are prescribed for the treatment of such disease.

(2.) But when, in the opinion of the inspector, such disease cannot be eradicated otherwise than by the destruction of the tree, plant, or vegetable, and also when it is in his opinion necessary for the prevention of the spread of any virulent disease that any trees, plants, or vegetables which are not affected thereby should be destroyed, he shall report the fact to the Minister, who may thereupon issue an order to the occupier, or, if there is no occupier, to the owner of the land whereon such trees, plants, or vegetables are, directing him to destroy such trees, plants, or vegetables within a time after the service of such order to be therein stated, and in such manner as is thereby directed or as is prescribed.

11. When any inspector finds upon any land any pest he shall issue an order to the occupier, or if there is no occupier then to the owner of such land, directing him, within a time to be stated in such order, to destroy such pest.

12. (1.) If any such owner or occupier fails to comply with the direction contained in any order of an inspector or the Minister served upon him, he may, on the complaint of an inspector, be summoned to appear before any court of petty sessions to show cause why such order should not be enforced, and if, on the hearing of such complaint, the defendant fails to show cause satisfactory to the court for such default, the court may authorise any inspector, with or without assistants, to enter upon such land at all reasonable times and to take such measures for the eradication of such disease or the destruction of such trees, plants, vegetables, or pest as may be necessary for the enforcement of such order.

(2.) The amount of any costs, charges, and expenses incurred by any inspector in or about taking such measures as aforesaid shall, in addition to or in lieu of any proceedings for the recovery of a penalty, be recoverable from the occupier, or if there is no occupier then from the owner of the land, by complaint in a summary way or by action in any court of competent jurisdiction, and, until paid, shall be and remain a first charge upon the land and payable by the owner thereof for the time being:

Provided that an unsatisfied judgment or order for the recovery of any such costs, charges, or expenses shall not be a bar to the recovery thereof from any other person liable to the payment thereof.

16. (2.) Provided that in any case where any tree, plant, or vegetable not diseased is destroyed by or under the direction of the Minister for the purpose of preventing the spread of any virulent disease, the owner of the tree, plant, or vegetable so destroyed shall be entitled to such compensation therefor as the owner and the Director of Fruit Culture may mutually agree upon; and failing their so agreeing the matter shall be submitted to an arbitrator to be chosen by the owner and the Director, or, if they cannot agree on an arbitrator, to be chosen by the Minister; and the decision of the arbitrator shall be final. Such compensation shall be deemed to be an expense under this Act.

17. No action shall be brought against any person acting in the execution of this Act for anything done thereunder unless the same is commenced within four months after the act complained of has been committed.

18. (1.) Every person shall be guilty of an offence against this Act who—

(a) In any manner obstructs or impedes any person in the execution of any of the powers conferred by this Act; or (b) Disobeys or neglects to comply with this Act or any order given in pursuance thereof.

(2.) If any person is guilty of an offence against this Act he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

21. (6.) Prescribing penalties not exceeding twenty pounds for the breach of any regulations.

(9.) ROMA DISTRICT.

All land within ten miles on each side of the railway line from Roma to Wallumbilla, and from Roma and Wallumbilla respectively.

Marking of cases and packages.

11. Each case, crate, bag, bundle, or other package containing fruit, vegetables, or plants imported into this State, shall have indelibly and legibly printed, marked, stencilled, or impressed upon it or upon a label ticket, or tag attached thereto the grower's or exporter's name and address or his mark or brand, and such name and address or mark or brand shall be approved and registered by the Department of Agriculture and Stock. All letters or figures used in any such name, mark, or brand shall be not less than one half-inch in length.

Use of new or clean cases and bags.

12. Where imported fruit and vegetables are packed in cases, crates, or bags, such cases, crates, or bags shall be either (a) new or (b) if not new shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by an inspector of the Department of Agriculture of the exporting State to the effect that they have been steamed or dipped in boiling water or otherwise cleansed to his satisfaction before being used a second time.

7 Geo. V., No. 8, 28 Nov., 1916.

Relative to the importation of slightly diseased fruit.

13. Fruit which is found on inspection to be slightly diseased may be imported into this State for manufacturing purposes only by bonâ fide fruit preservers upon the following conditions, viz.:—

(a) Such fruit shall be inspected by an inspector, and may be rejected.

(b) If passed by the inspector, such fruit shall be taken forthwith to the fruit-preserving factory of the importer and there manufactured; the refuse of all such fruit shall be absolutely destroyed by boiling or burning forthwith. All receptacles in which such fruit has been carried shall forthwith be destroyed by fire or otherwise treated at the factory so as to destroy all fruit diseases to the satisfaction of an officer of the Department of Agriculture and Stock.

(c) No such fruit shall be sold or distributed unless in a manufactured state.

14. If it is found by the inspector that any cases of imported fruit which have been condemned contain a fair proportion of fruit which is sound and free from disease, and also some fruit which is but slightly diseased, the contents of such cases may be sorted at any approved place under the supervision of an inspector upon the following conditions, viz.:—

(a) Such cases with their contents shall be taken forthwith from the place of inspection to the approved place aforesaid.

(b) When sorted, fruit which is free from disease may be repacked in clean cases and disposed of in the ordinary way, while slightly diseased fruit may be disposed of to the fruit-preservers or manufacturers, when it shall be subject to all the conditions contained in Regulation 13 above mentioned.

(c) All fruit which after sorting shall be deemed by the inspector to be unfit by reason of disease for either of the foregoing purposes shall be destroyed at the importer's or consignee's expense.

(d) A charge not exceeding threepence per case shall be made to cover the cost of the sorting.

THE FUMIGATION OF FRUIT FOR EXPORT.

15. Any person who wishes to erect a chamber or building for the fumigating of fruit shall give notice to the Under Secretary for Agriculture and Stock, who will take steps to see that such chamber or building is properly constructed.

16. When it is required to fumigate fruit for export twenty-four hours' notice shall be given to the said Under Secretary or such other officer as may be duly authorised to accept such notice.

17. The operation of fumigating shall be conducted under the control of an officer authorised by the Minister for Agriculture and Stock, and in accordance with the directions contained in Schedule 1.

18. Certificates of fumigation may be in the form of Schedule 7.

19. The fumigating chamber may be made of any convenient size or material, the essential point being that it shall be capable of being closed absolutely airtight, and provided with a flue-pipe in the roof which can be opened or closed to allow of the escape of the gas after fumigation. The flue must be provided with a box or chamber to contain caustic soda or potash to destroy the gas.

The fumigating chamber shall be provided with a shutter or sliding panel in the lower portion of the door or wall.

The door, flue, and shutter shall be made to close absolutely airtight.

NURSERIES.

20. Every nursery shall be registered by the owners or occupiers thereof, at the office of the Department of Agriculture and Stock, on or before the thirty-first day of March in every year, as provided by the second schedule to the Act.

21. Every such registered nursery shall be inspected by an officer duly authorised by the Minister at least twice a year, at an interval of not less than one month, and in the event of the officer reporting that such nursery is free from disease a certificate in the form prescribed in Schedule 3 shall be issued to the owner or occupier thereof. In the event of such nursery being subject to disease the officer shall forthwith give to the owner or occupier thereof written notice in the form contained in Schedule 4 to take the necessary measures for the eradication of such disease.

22. The owner or occupier of every such registered nursery who raises for sale trees, plants, or vegetables, or portions thereof, not suitable for immediate culinary purposes, shall give to the party immediately concerned in any transaction, whether of sale or exchange for valuable consideration of any such trees, plants, or vegetables, a written guarantee in the form contained in Schedule 5 certifying his nursery is duly registered, and that the trees, plants, or vegetables have been disinfected by him or his agents by any one or more of the methods prescribed by Schedule 1, and that they are free from disease and are in a vigorous and healthy condition.

23. (a) All market gardens devoted exclusively to the cultivation of culinary vegetables, and all other gardens so far as relate to these kinds of plants;

(b) All vineyards supplying unrooted grape cuttings;

(c) All pineapple plantations supplying pineapple suckers or plants; and shall be excepted from the operation of the next preceding three clauses of these Regulations.

(d) All banana plantations supplying banana suckers or plants, provided that they are certified to be free from disease by an inspector.

24. No person shall sell or dispose of or offer for sale any tree, plant, or vegetable, or portion thereof, infested with or infected by any disease.

24. (a) Any person who sells any trees or plants shall, at the time of such sale, give to the purchaser a written guarantee in the prescribed form certifying that the trees or plants are free from disease and are in a vigorous and healthy condition.

Any person guilty of a breach of this Regulation shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

ORCHARDS.

25. Every orchard shall be registered by the owners or occupiers thereof on or before the thirty-first day of March in every year, as provided by the first schedule to the Act.

Fruit fly.

26. All fallen fruit of whatever kind (and whether harbouring insects or not) shall be gathered at least once in each period of three days by the occupier or owner or his agent of any orchard, and all pest-infested fruit shall be submitted to the process of boiling or be buried beneath not less than one foot six inches of solid earth.

Penalty.

48. Any person guilty of a breach of any of these Regulations shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

Cartage fees.

For cartage of diseased trees, plants, vegetables, fruit, grain, seed, &c., to the destroyer—Actual cost.

The actual cost for cartage shall be imposed in all cases where this work is not carried out by the owners or persons in possession.

Such fees shall be paid by the owner or the person in possession to the inspector, who shall not allow the goods to be removed until such fees have been paid.

Trees, plants, fruits, or vegetables passing from one State to Queensland, and upon which all fees have been paid under the Quarantine Act, shall be exempt from fees, provided that due official notification of such payment has been given by the Chief Quarantine Officer of the forwarding State.

SALE OF PURE SEEDS ACT AND "THE PURE SEEDS AMENDMENT ACT OF 1914."

4 Geo. V., No. 30, 27 Nov., 1913.
5 Geo. V., No. 10, 13 Oct., 1914.

Sec. 5 (1).

Any vendor selling seeds to the value of not less than 1s. shall, at the time of sale, deliver to the purchaser thereof an invoice stating that such seeds are for planting or sowing and the kind or kinds of seeds therein referred to; such statement shall constitute a warranty that the seeds are as specified and contain no greater amount or proportion of foreign matter than may be prescribed.

Sec. 6.

When seeds are sold in made-up parcels, such parcel shall be indelibly marked on the outside with the date of the year in which such seeds were grown.

N.B.—This section shall not come into operation until 1st January, 1915.

Sec. 7 (1).

- (a) Any officer may enter any place in which seeds are sold, stored, &c., and inspect such seeds; or
- (b) Inspect any seeds in transit which are apparently being conveyed for the purposes of trade, &c.; or
- (c) Open any parcel for the purpose of examining same, or
- (d) Remove for examination any such seeds or portion thereof; or
- (e) Weigh, measure, or mark such parcel and fasten, seal, or secure same or any door, &c., affording access to same; or
- (f) Seize any seeds or parcel enclosing same which are or appear to him unfit for use.

Sec. 7 (2).

The officer shall give or forward a sealed marked portion to the consignor if address of same is known and in Queensland, otherwise to the owner or person in whose possession such seeds were found.

Sec. 8 (1).

Any officer may, on offering or paying the current market value, demand, elect, or take from any person in possession of seeds such samples as he may require for the purposes of this Act.

Sec. 8 (2).

Any officer may require any person in possession of seeds to permit the inspection of same and the taking of samples.

Sec. 8 (3).

When seeds are usually sold retail in a made-up parcel, no person shall be required by any officer to sell less than the whole of such parcel.

Sec. 8 (4).

If any rate has been prescribed for the payment of samples, no officer shall be required to pay any higher rate.

Sec. 8 (5).

Any sample taken by an officer shall be divided by him into three parts and sealed. One part shall be offered to the person from whom sample was acquired, another part shall be delivered to an expert for examination, and the third part retained by the officer.

Sec. 9 (1) and (2).

On receipt of sample the expert shall examine same and give a certificate of the result thereof, and shall, if required, furnish a copy thereof to the person from whom the seeds were obtained on payment of the prescribed fee not exceeding 2s. 6d.

Penalties.

Sec. 9 (3).

No copy of such certificate shall be used for trade purposes or as an advertisement. For contravention not exceeding £50.

Sec. 10 (1).

The following offences carry a penalty for the first offence not exceeding £20, for every subsequent offence not exceeding £50:—

- (i.) Selling seeds which contain a larger proportion of foreign ingredients than is prescribed.
- (ii.) Failing to give purchaser an invoice or selling seeds which are not what they purport to be.
- (iii.) Selling any made-up parcel of seeds not marked with the date of the year in which they were grown.
- (iv.) Refusing to allow sample to be taken or tampering with any sample.
- (v.) Assaulting, intimidating, obstructing, or giving, procuring, offering, or promising any bribe, recompense, inducements, or reward to influence any officer in the execution of his duty.
- (vi.) Taking or attempting to take any sample or resisting the taking of any sample from or by any officer.
- (vii.) Opening, altering, breaking, removing, erasing, any mark, fastening, or seal placed by any officer in pursuance of his duty upon any seeds, parcel, place, door, or opening without authority.
- (viii.) Offending against provisions of this Act or failing to comply with the provisions thereof.

(2) If an offence for which a vendor is liable is committed by an agent, such agent shall be liable to a like penalty as if he were the vendor.

Sec. 14 (3).

No summons shall be made returnable in less than fourteen days from the date on which it was served.

Sec. 14 (5).

No prosecution shall be instituted after the expiration of ninety days from the time samples were taken or obtained.

Sec. 18 (2).

For any breach of the Regulations a penalty not exceeding £10.

Regulations.

1. "Kind" shall mean the variety of the order of a plant grown from the seed as known in the seed trade at the place where the seed was grown.

2. "Foreign ingredients" shall include stalks, husks, shells (other than those normally adhering to seeds), earthy matter (including sand and gravel), seeds of weeds, seeds of any plant other than those of the kind specified in the invoice; or dead, diseased, insect-infested or non-germinable seeds.

3. The weights of seeds to be taken as samples for purposes of examination shall not be less than as mentioned and set forth in Schedule A.

4. The proportion or amount of germinable seeds which must be contained in any quantity of any kind of seed shall not be less than the proportion or amount set forth in Schedule B. The proportion or amount of foreign ingredients which may be contained in any quantity of any kind of seed shall not exceed the proportion or amount set forth in Schedule B, except in the case of "Low Grade Seeds" marked and sold as such subject to these Regulations.

5. "Low Grade Seeds" shall mean the kind of seeds in which the amount of foreign ingredients, other than dead and non-germinable seeds, does not exceed the proportion or amount set forth in Schedule B, but shall contain not less than the amount of germinable seeds nor more than the amount of dead and non-germinable seeds set forth in Schedule C.

6. No seeds shall be stored, held, or sold as low grade seeds unless—

- (a) Contained in bags or packages branded on the outside, on both sides from top to bottom with a red stripe, and showing the germination per cent. clearly and indelibly marked thereon;
- (b) On top of the seeds in every open bag or package and on every closed bag or package containing low grade seeds there is placed and displayed a red label (measuring at least 6 inches by 4 inches) and bearing in heavy black type letters the words "Low Grade Seeds";
- (c) All invoices and labels relating to such seeds are distinctly marked "Low Grade Seeds," and give the percentage of germination, with date of test.

7. The Regulations shall not apply to—

- (a) Seed that is sold direct to seed merchants, to be cleaned and graded before being offered for sale;
- (b) Seed that is held in storage for the purpose of being cleaned or recleaned, and which has not been offered, exposed, or held in possession for sale;
- (c) Seeds indented from countries beyond Australia for planting for green manure.

8. The fee for a copy of the result of any examination of any sample of seed, payable under section (2) of section 9 of the principal Act, shall be two shillings and sixpence.

FRUIT CASES ACT.

3 Geo. V., No. 26, 7 Dec., 1912.

7 Geo. V., No. 5, 13 Nov., 1916.

Sec. 3, 4.

4. No fruit shall be sold in a case, nor exported in a case to any place within the Commonwealth, except in a case of the prescribed size, measurement, and capacity.

5. (1.) No fruit shall be packed in a case unless such case shall have been at the time of packing either new or clean and free from any insect or fungus disease.

Penalty not exceeding five pounds for a first offence, and not exceeding ten pounds for every subsequent offence.

(2.) No fruit shall be exported in a case to any place within the Commonwealth except in a case which has not been previously used for any purpose whatsoever.

6. No person shall sell fruit in a case, or export or attempt to export to any place within the Commonwealth fruit in a case, unless or until such case has been legibly and durably impressed, printed, or marked at one end on the outside of such case, within a space measuring not " less than five inches long and two inches wide, or within an oval not less in greatest length than three inches long and in greatest width than one and a-half inches wide," are inserted in lieu thereof.

[6A.] (1.) No person shall sell—

(a) The whole or any part of any lot of fruit or vegetables; or

(b) Any fruit or vegetables contained in a package, unless the outer layer or shown surface of the fruit or vegetables contained in such lot or package is so arranged or packed that it is a true indication of the fair average quality of the whole of the fruit or vegetables.

(2.) No person shall sell any fruit or vegetables contained in any package which also contains any foreign substance in a greater proportion than is indicated by the outer layer or shown surface of such fruit or vegetables.

(3.) Any person who is guilty of a contravention of this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds for a first offence and of not less than two pounds or more than twenty pounds for every subsequent offence.

7. Any person who—

(a) Sells or exports or attempts to export, or is concerned in exporting or attempting to export to any place within the Commonwealth fruit in a case in respect of which this Act is not complied with; or FRUIT CASES ACT—continued.

3 Geo. V., No. 26, 7 Dec., 1912.

7 Geo. V., No. 5, 13 Nov., 1916.

(b) Resists or wilfully obstructs any inspector authorised under this Act, or any member of the Police Force, in carrying out this Act; or

(c) Refuses to give information or knowingly gives false information in answer to any reasonable inquiry made by such inspector or any member of the Police Force for the purposes of this Act; or

(d) Places or permits to be placed on a case a guarantee which is incorrect, or sells or exports or attempts to export, or is concerned in exporting or attempting to export, to any place within the Commonwealth, fruit in a case on which there is an incorrect guarantee;

Shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds for a first offence, and of not less than two pounds or exceeding fifty pounds for every subsequent offence.

8. Any person who—

(a) Alters the size or tampers with any case bearing the packer's name, address, and guarantee; or

(b) Wilfully defaces or alters or tampers with the packer's name, address, or guarantee on any case; or

(c) Sells fruit in an unclean case or in a case infected with either insect or fungus disease;

Shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds or to be imprisoned for any period not exceeding six months.

10. (1.) The Governor in Council may from time to time make regulations for giving effect to this Act, and may by such regulations impose penalties not exceeding ten pounds for breaches thereof.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 4 Dec., 1914.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 15 Sept., 1917.

THE STATE PRODUCE AGENCY ACT.

8 Geo. V., No. 17, 14 Dec., 1917.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the meaning set against them respectively, that is to say:—

"Farm Produce Agent"—Any person who, as an agent for others, whether on commission or for or in expectation of any fee, gain, or reward, whether alone or in connection with any other business, exercises or carries on the business or advertises or notifies that he exercises or carries on the business of selling farm produce or of a broker or factor of farm produce:

The term does not include a person employed merely as a clerk or servant, or any banking company;

"Farm Produce"—Cereals, grain, vegetables, potatoes and other edible roots and tubers, fruit, hay, and chaff, and all dairy produce: The term includes live or dead poultry and game, and eggs, and no other article or class of articles, except as provided in the Act.

3. (1.) After the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, no person shall exercise or carry on or advertise or notify that he exercises or carries on the business of a farm produce agent unless he is licensed.

(2.) Where a firm exercises or carries on the business of a farm produce agent, it shall be sufficient if one member of the firm is licensed on behalf of the firm.

(3.) From and after the date aforesaid, any person (not being licensed) who exercises or carries on business as a farm produce agent, or advertises or notifies that he carries on such business, or who has any words painted or written, or allows to remain unobliterated any words that have been painted or written, over or about or near his house, window, or premises that lead to the belief or supposition that he is a farm produce agent, or who places or causes to be placed any placard, board, writing, or thing in the public view to the intent that it may be believed or supposed that he is a farm produce agent, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five pounds.

(4.) In any proceedings against any person for any breach of subsection three hereof, such person shall, unless he produces his license or brings other satisfactory proof of his having been licensed at the time when the offence was alleged to have been committed, be deemed to have been unlicensed.

4. (1.) Any person desirous of obtaining a farm produce agent's license shall deliver to the clerk of a court within the petty sessions district in which he resides an application, in the form of the First Schedule of the Act.

(2.) Upon such application, the court may issue a license, in the form of the Second Schedule of the Act.

Provided that no such license shall be issued to any person under the age of twenty-one years.

(3.) Such license shall entitle the holder thereof to carry on the business of a farm produce agent in all parts of the State, and unless sooner cancelled shall continue in force until the thirty-first day of December next after the date thereof, but may, on a similar application, be renewed from year to year as the court thinks fit.

(4.) There shall be payable in respect of every such license, and of every annual renewal thereof, the fee of twenty shillings, unless the applicant already holds an auctioneer's license, in which case a license shall issue or be renewed under this Act without fee.

5. After the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, it shall not be lawful for—

(a) Any farm produce agent, whether directly or indirectly or by himself or any partner or sub-agent, to purchase or be in any way concerned or interested in the purchase of any farm produce consigned or delivered to him for sale by any principal without having previously obtained the consent in writing of such principal to such purchase;

Every farm produce agent who commits a breach of this provision, or any partner, sub-agent, or other person knowingly concerned in such breach, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds, and, in addition, such farm produce agent shall be ordered by the court adjudicating on the complaint to account for and pay over to his principal all profits resulting from the purchase in respect of which such breach was committed;

(b) Any employee of a farm produce agent to purchase or be in any way interested or concerned in the purchase of any farm produce consigned or delivered for sale to his employer by any owner thereof without having previously obtained the consent in writing of such owner to such purchase;

(c) Any farm produce agent to charge commission to the consignor on any produce which may be taken over by such agent as a purchaser or for his own use in accordance with subsection (a) hereof;

Every such employee who commits a breach of this provision shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

6. (1.) All moneys received by a farm produce agent in respect of any transaction shall be applied in payment of—

(a) The expenses, commission, and other charges of or incidental to the transaction; and

(b) Any moneys owing to such agent by the person on whose behalf the transaction was carried out; and

(c) The balance (if any) to such person, or as he may direct; and until such payment such balance shall be paid into a bank to a trust account.

(2.) Every farm produce agent who commits a breach of this section shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

(3.) Moneys paid into such trust account shall not be available for payment of the debt of any other creditor of the farm produce agent, or be liable to be attached or taken in execution under the order or process of any court at the instance of any such creditor.

7. (1.) Every person ceases to be licensed thirty days after the expiration or on the cancellation of his license.

(2.) Any court may, on the complaint of any person against a licensed farm produce agent that he has been guilty of any offence against this Act, or that such licensee is in any other respect unfit to hold a license, cancel such license.

If any licensed farm produce agent is convicted of an indictable offence, his license shall be deemed to be ipso facto cancelled.

(3.) The clerk of the court at which any license is granted or cancelled shall enter particulars of the same in a register to be kept by him.

8. (1.) Every entry in any book kept or belonging to a licensed farm produce agent or found on his premises shall be deemed, unless the contrary is shown, to have been made by or with the authority of such agent.

(2.) A copy of any entry in any prescribed register, purporting to be signed by the clerk of the court or any officer of the department making the same shall be primâ facie evidence of the truth of the matters stated in such copy.

9. Nothing in this Act shall affect any civil remedy which any person may have against a farm produce agent in respect of any matter.

11. Account sales of farm produce sold shall be rendered by farm produce agents to their principals within fourteen days after the sale thereof.

INSURANCE ACT.

7 Geo. V., No. 27, 29 Dec., 1916.

2. (1.) No further contracts shall be made or entered into for the grant of any annuity during life or the payment of any sum of money on death under "The Government Annuities Act of 1865," and, save and except for the purpose of carrying into effect any such existing contract, the said Act shall be repealed.

(2.) Save as is herein expressly provided, nothing in this Act shall be construed to repeal or prejudicially affect any of the provisions of "The Workers' Compensation Act of 1916" or any Act amending or in substitution for that Act.

3. "General insurance business or general insurance risk"—Any insurance business or risk of whatever kind not included in the terms "Life insurance business," "Marine insurance business," and "Workers' compensation insurance business";

"Person" includes bodies corporate or unincorporate as well as individuals;

"Workers' compensation insurance business"—"Accident insurance business" as defined in "The Workers' Compensation Act of 1916."

4. Subject to this Act, the Insurance Commissioner as representing the Crown is hereby authorised and empowered to carry on all classes of insurance business not already authorised by "The Workers' Compensation Act of 1916"; and for this purpose the Insurance Commissioner shall have and may exercise all such powers, authorities, and discretions, and may do all such acts and things, as a private person carrying on insurance business in Queensland has or may exercise or do.

5. The Commissioner shall not be a member of the Executive Council or of either House of Parliament, and shall not act as director or auditor or in any other capacity take part in the management of any bank, joint stock company, or other financial institution, or of any trade or business, or acquire or hold directly or indirectly any shares in any insurance company, and in any such case shall be disqualified from holding the office of Commissioner

7 Geo. V., No. 27, 29 Dec., 1916.

6. (3.) The State Government Insurance Office shall be managed and controlled by the Insurance Commissioner for the time being appointed and holding office under "The Workers' Compensation Act of 1916"; and such Insurance Commissioner shall be deemed also to be appointed under and for the purposes of this Act.

(4.) For all the purposes of this Act—

(a) The Commissioner shall have and may exercise all the powers, privileges, rights, and remedies of the Crown;

(b) All legal proceedings may be brought by or against the Insurance Commissioner in his official name.

8. (1.) In respect of each class of insurance business undertaken and carried on by the Commissioner, a separate and distinct fund shall be created under this Act to be called, in the case of fire insurance the "State Fire Insurance Fund," in the case of life insurance the "State Life Insurance Fund," or in other cases the "State [naming class] Insurance Fund."

All premiums and other moneys received by the Commissioner under this Act shall be paid into the proper fund.

All payments in respect of policies, together with such contributions to the General Reserve as the Governor in Council may from time to time declare, shall be payable out of the proper fund.

(2.) There is hereby appropriated out of the Consolidated Revenue, as and by way of grant to the State Government Insurance Office, the sum of one hundred thousand pounds.

Such grant shall be in addition to the sum of twenty thousand pounds granted under "The Workers' Compensation Act of 1916."

Such grant shall be apportioned between the divers funds created by this Act and the General Reserve as the Governor in Council declares.

9. (1.) Every policy issued by the Commissioner under this Act shall be issued on behalf of and is hereby guaranteed by the Government of Queensland.

(2.) Such sum as the Treasurer may at any time certify to be required to secure any payment legally payable under and pursuant to a policy issued by the Commissioner under this Act, so far only as the same cannot be paid out of the proper fund or General Reserve, is hereby appropriated out of the Consolidated Revenue.

Any sum so appropriated shall be deemed to be an advance to that fund, and shall remain a charge thereon, to be recouped when moneys are available.

10. (1.) Save as next hereinafter provided, no person other than the Commissioner shall carry on marine or general insurance business in Queensland unless or until he has obtained a license so to do from the Commissioner: Provided that every person who is carrying on marine or general insurance business in Queensland at the commencement of this Act shall be allowed a period of three months after the commencement of this Act for the purpose of obtaining such license.

Any person other than the Commissioner who carries on marine or general insurance business in Queensland without holding a subsisting license as aforesaid shall be liable to a penalty of two thousand pounds, and in addition to a penalty of five hundred pounds for each day on which business is so carried on; and such penalties shall be recoverable at the suit of the Commissioner by action in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(2.) No person who is not resident in Queensland shall be entitled to obtain such license under this Act unless or until he has appointed some person who is resident in Queensland under power of attorney to deal with all matters arising between himself and the Commissioner under this Act, and has lodged with the Commissioner a notice in writing of the name and address of such attorney.

11. (1.) Every application for a license to carry on marine or general insurance or marine and general insurance business in Queensland shall be made by lodging with the Commissioner an application in writing in the prescribed form of the Second Schedule to this Act, and shall be accompanied by the following documents certified under the hand of the applicant or of the applicant's chief representative in Queensland:—

(a) Duplicate receipt under the hand of the Treasurer, stating the amount deposited with the Treasurer by the applicant;

(b) Copy of memorandum and articles of association of the applicant (if any);

(c) Copy of applicant's last balance-sheet, or, if no balance-sheet has been issued, copy of the prospectus issued by the applicant at the time of incorporation (if any).

(2.) The applicant shall deposit with the Treasurer a sum of money, which shall be determined as follows:—

Where the income of the applicant from marine and general insurance premiums in Queensland after deducting local reinsurances during the twelve months next preceding the date of the application—

Does not exceed £10,000	£5,000
Exceeds £10,000	£10,000

In cases where a first deposit of five thousand pounds only has been made, the applicant shall make a return to the Treasurer in each year, on such day as may be appointed by the Treasurer, of his income from marine and general insurance premiums in Queensland after deducting local reinsurances during the twelve months preceding; and if and when such premium income, after such deductions, has increased so as to exceed ten thousand pounds, the applicant shall increase his deposit with the Treasurer to the sum of ten thousand pounds.

In the event of the Governor in Council granting in his absolute discretion any approval under section seven of "The Workers' Compensation Act of 1916," the prescribed amounts deposited under such Act shall be received as part of the deposit made by the insurer for the purposes of this section, and, conversely, any money deposited under the provisions of this Act shall be reckoned as a deposit or portion of a deposit under the provisions of "The Workers' Compensation Act of 1916."

In the case of companies transacting only marine insurance in Queensland, the deposit shall be one thousand pounds unless or until the annual premium income amounts to the sum of one thousand pounds, when the provisions hereinbefore mentioned shall apply.

(3.) On compliance with this section, the Commissioner shall grant to such applicant and the applicant shall be entitled to receive and hold a license, in the prescribed form of the Second Schedule to this Act, to carry on in Queensland marine or marine and general insurance business.

12. (1.) Any amount deposited with the Treasurer by the insurer shall be invested and reinvested from time to time, as occasion requires, in debentures of the Government of Queensland having a currency not exceeding five years, and bearing interest at four and a-half per centum per annum free of income tax, in the name of the Treasurer in trust for the insurer.

(2.) The interest on all such securities shall be paid to the insurer.

(3.) The investment and redemption shall be at par.

(4.) The deposit shall be charged with the payment and satisfaction of all final judgments given against the insurer in respect of marine or general insurance policies issued in Queensland which are not otherwise satisfied.

(5.) In the event of the insurer ceasing to carry on marine or general insurance business in Queensland, such insurer (on satisfying the Treasurer that all liabilities arising under marine or general insurance policies issued in Queensland have been discharged) shall be entitled, at the expiration of three months after the date of so satisfying the Treasurer, to have transferred to such insurer any securities for the time being held by the Treasurer on such insurer's account under this Act.

13. (1.) Every insurer shall have a registered office in Queensland, and shall have a chief representative in charge of such office.

(2.) Notice in writing of the situation of the registered office and the name of the chief representative in charge thereof shall be lodged with the Commissioner for registration.

(3.) Whenever any change takes place in the situation of the registered office or in the name of the chief representative, notice in writing of the change shall be lodged with the Commissioner.

(4.) A notice to an insurer or process in any legal proceedings against an insurer may be served upon the insurer by leaving it at the insurer's registered office.

14. Except as hereinafter provided, neither the Commissioner nor any insurer shall issue or renew any policy covering any general insurance risk in Queensland at any rate exceeding eighty per centum of the gross rate fixed for such risk by the regulations of the Fire, Marine, or Accident Underwriters' Association of Queensland actually current on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen.

7 Geo. V., No. 27, 29 Dec., 1916.

15. Every acceptance notice, interim receipt, policy, renewal notice, and renewal receipt issued by an insurer at a rate higher than as aforesaid shall have the following notification plainly written or printed thereon in red ink:—"By special agreement with the Insured, this Policy is issued (or renewed) at a premium £ in excess of the maximum premium fixed for such risk by 'The Insurance Act of 1916.' "

16. (1.) Every insurer shall furnish to the Commissioner such returns for the purposes of this section as the Commissioner may, in writing, require relating to any class of general insurance business carried on by the insurer in Queensland.

(2.) Information furnished in pursuance of this section shall be used by the Commissioner for statistical purposes only, and shall, together with similar information with regard to the State Government Insurance Office (which information the Commissioner is hereby authorised and required to furnish to the representative of the insurers), be available for such insurers, but shall not otherwise be published or divulged except for the purpose of indicating the aggregate figures returned by all insurers making such returns and the results deduced therefrom.

(3.) Rates shall be deduced by the Commissioner and a representative of the insurers from such returns, and shall be made the basis for the computation of standard rates of premium for the several classes of risk. Such rates shall first be computed on the first day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and shall thereafter be revised by the Commissioner and a representative of the insurers as indicated hereunder at such intervals, not being less than three years, as the Minister shall direct; and when so computed shall be the standard rates in accordance with this Act and be charged by the Commissioner in respect to every policy issued or renewed covering any general insurance risk in Queensland.

(4.) No insurer shall be required to furnish returns covering any period prior to the date of the commencement of this Act; but, when computing the standard rates hereinbefore referred to, the Commissioner and a representative of the insurers may take into consideration any such returns voluntarily furnished to them by the Commissioner or by any insurer.

(5.) The Commissioner shall confer with a representative of the insurers with regard to the computation and each revision of the aforesaid standard rates. In the event of a difference of opinion between them, the matter in difference shall be referred to a competent actuary appointed by the Governor in Council, whose decision on the matter shall be final.

(6.) The representative of the insurers shall be such person as shall be designated in writing and addressed to the Commissioner, signed by or on behalf of the majority of the insurers.

17. (1.) Except as hereinafter provided, no insurer nor any other person except the Commissioner shall pay or offer or promise to pay, whether to one or more persons, any commission in excess of ten pounds per centum in the aggregate. Such commission, except when paid by the Commissioner, shall be paid only to persons licensed to receive the same as brokers or agents.

(2.) An insurer may pay to a director a fixed fee for his services not less than fifty pounds nor more than one hundred pounds per annum.

(3.) An insurer may pay to one managing agent for the Northern District of Queensland and to one managing agent for the Central District of Queensland an additional commission of five per centum on the premiums collected by him from agents or policy-holders of the insurer in the district under his control.

(4.) A professional adviser of an insurer, such as a solicitor, auditor, medical officer, or the like, may be remunerated for services rendered in accordance with the custom of the profession to which he belongs, but, unless licensed as an agent, may not receive from an insurer any commission on insurance premiums.

(5.) No person shall receive any commission from any insurer or any other person except the Commissioner in any capacity whatsoever other than as a salaried officer unless he has been licensed to act in such capacity.

(6.) Any person not licensed as aforesaid who accepts any commission from an insurer or any other person except the Commissioner shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

(7.) In this section the term "commission" means and includes commission, brokerage, rebate, discount, or other allowance or remuneration whatsoever, whether direct or indirect, on or in respect of any marine or general insurance premium.

(8.) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to limit the salary or other emoluments or the retiring allowance of the chief representative of an insurer.

(9.) No person licensed under the next succeeding section hereof shall be entitled to a renewal of such license unless he shall make a statutory declaration in the prescribed form, when applying for such renewal, that he has duly observed the provisions of this section during the period covered by the declaration.

18. (1.) Every person desiring to be licensed as a broker shall make application to the Commissioner in the form prescribed, and shall pay such fee as may be prescribed not exceeding ten pounds per annum. The Commissioner shall not be bound to grant any application for a broker's license unless he is satisfied that the applicant is competent to perform the duties of a broker.

(2.) Every person desiring to be licensed as an agent shall make application to the Commissioner in the form prescribed, and shall pay such fee as may be prescribed not exceeding five shillings per annum for each agency held.

(3.) Every insurer shall, on the thirty-first day of December in each year, make a return to the Commissioner of the names and addresses of all directors and managing agents actually in appointment by such insurer at the date of the return, together with the name and address of every person who has acted as a director or managing agent of the insurer during the twelve months last preceding the date of such return.

(4.) The Commissioner is hereby empowered to grant all such licenses, and, subject to subsection one hereof, in the case of brokers, shall grant them on lodgment of an application in the prescribed form and on payment of the prescribed fee. Subject to this Act, all such licenses shall be for the year ending the thirty-first day of December, but shall be renewable for a like period.

19. (1.) If the Commissioner is satisfied that an insurer is unable to pay his debts, he may give to the insurer written notice of his intention to cancel the license of such insurer, giving his reasons for his decision.

(2.) If the Commissioner is satisfied that any person licensed by him has failed to comply with any material provision of this Act, or is persistently acting in breach of any provision of this Act, he may give notice to such person of his intention to cancel the license of such person, giving his reasons for his decision.

(3.) The decision of the Commissioner to cancel any license granted by him under this Act shall not be carried into effect until the time for lodging an appeal against his decision has expired nor while any appeal against such decision is pending.

(4.) An appeal from any decision given by the Commissioner relating to insurers, agents, brokers, managing agents, or directors under any of the provisions of this Act shall lie to a police magistrate.

Such appeal shall be instituted by notice of appeal filed with a police magistrate in accordance with the regulations within thirty days after receipt of such written notice from the Commissioner.

If the police magistrate finds that any of the grounds for the decision given by the Commissioner are established, he shall decide whether such decision given by the Commissioner is to be varied or rescinded, and such decision shall be varied or rescinded accordingly.

(5.) Either party to the proceedings before such police magistrate may appeal from his decision to the Full Court, and such appeal shall be by way of rehearing.

(6.) Any notification of the cancellation of any license under this Act shall be published by the Commissioner in the Gazette, and any notification so published shall be primâ facie evidence that the license has been cancelled.

No person shall carry on general insurance business in Queensland after his license in that behalf has been cancelled, unless or until a fresh license as an insurer under this Act has been granted to him.

No person whose license has been cancelled shall thereafter, unless or until a fresh license so to do has been granted to him, under this Act do any act or perform any function whatsoever for which a license is required under this Act.

(7.) The Commissioner may refuse to license under this Act, in any capacity whatever, any person whose license issued under this Act has been at any time cancelled, subject to a right of appeal in such person in manner provided in this section.

INSURANCE ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 27, 29 Dec., 1916.

20. (1.) Every insurer shall furnish to the Commissioner, in the prescribed form, within three months after the expiration of each financial year, a profit and loss account relating to the insurer's business in Queensland.

(2.) Every such account shall be certified by the chief representative of the insurer in the prescribed form.

(3.) The chief representative of the insurer in Queensland shall lodge with each such account a statutory declaration in the prescribed form that the provisions of this Act have been fully complied with by the insurer during the period covered by the account.

(4.) The insurer shall duly make answer to any comments or inquiries directed to the insurer by the Commissioner regarding such accounts or any of them.

(6.) Every insurer shall, if so required by the Commissioner, produce to a practising public accountant nominated by the Commissioner in writing, at all reasonable times, any books, accounts, or documents of the insurer, and shall permit such accountant to inspect them and to take extracts from them relating to any breach or alleged breach of this Act.

Information so obtained shall be disclosed only to the Commissioner or to the court.

21. No insurer shall issue or use in Queensland any prospectus, proposal form, or policy of general insurance unless or until a copy of the form thereof has first been lodged with the Commissioner.

22. (1.) Subject to any contract or agreement existing at the commencement of this Act, no insurer shall reinsure, whether by treaty or otherwise, any portion of any Queensland risk accepted by him with any person not licensed under this Act, unless or until the Commissioner has signified his inability to accept the whole or any portion of the amount to be reinsured, except by treaty.

(2.) Reinsurance business transacted within Queensland between insurers or between insurers and the Commissioner shall be transacted at the rate actually charged to the insured as shown on the policy or renewal receipt; and the commission thereon allowed by the person accepting to the person ceding such reinsurance shall not exceed fifteen per centum.

23. No insurer nor the Commissioner shall refuse to allow additional insurance with the Commissioner or any insurer in respect of any Queensland general insurance risk:

Provided that this section shall not be held to prohibit the cancellation of a policy by any person for prudential reasons, provided such person allows the insured a return premium, in respect of the unexpired term of the policy, calculated pro rata as to time and without reference to any customary short period ratings.

24. Failure on the part of any person to comply with any provision of this Act shall in no way invalidate any policy issued by that person.

25. A holder of a policy issued in Queensland after the commencement of this Act by a person not resident within Queensland shall, notwithstanding anything in the policy to the contrary, be entitled to sue such person in respect of the policy in a court of competent jurisdiction within Queensland; and no stipulation in the policy nor any agreement relating to the policy, which deprives or is intended to deprive the policy-holder of the benefit of this section, shall be of any force or effect.

26. (1.) In any case where any property in Queensland is destroyed or damaged by or in consequence of fire, if the loss exceeds fifty pounds, an inquiry into the origin, causes, and circumstances of such fire shall be held by a police magistrate or other justice appointed by the Minister for that purpose.

(2.) If a charge is made against any person at such inquiry, such person shall have an opportunity of placing his defence before the police magistrate or justice.

(3.) The police magistrate or justice, after completing the inquiry, shall make a report to the Minister containing a full statement of his decision and findings, and of his opinion thereon, accompanied by such reports of or extracts from the evidence and such observations thereon as he thinks fit.

27. (1.) Any person who is guilty of a breach of or fails to comply with any of the provisions of this Act shall be guilty of an offence, and, if no penalty is expressly provided, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

28. (2.) The regulations, provisions, or Orders in Council may fix a penalty, not exceeding in any case twenty pounds, for any breach thereof.

SCHEDULE I.

3. (1.) The Commissioner may from time to time, subject to the provisions of and for the purposes of this Act, establish branches of the State Government Insurance Office or of any department thereof at any place in Queensland, and establish agencies of the State Government Insurance Office at any place within or outside Queensland, and may close any branch or agency.

(2.) The Commissioner may appoint any duly licensed person to act as his agent, and may pay such agent a commission not exceeding ten per centum of the premium on marine and general insurance.

7. Before commencing to transact any class of insurance business, the Commissioner shall declare, by notification in the Gazette, the minimum rates which he proposes to charge for business of that class.

The minimum net rates to be charged by the Commissioner during the period ending thirty-first December, one thousand nine hundred and twenty, for marine and general insurance risks shall not be less than eighty per centum of the gross rates fixed for such risks by the regulations of the Fire, Marine, or Accident Underwriters' Association of Queensland actually current on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen.

The minimum net rate to be charged by the Commissioner for any risk for which no rating was provided under the Regulations of the Fire, Marine, or Accident Underwriters' Associations of Queensland actually current on 1st July, 1916, shall be fixed by the Commissioner.

The Commissioner may allow such discounts for fire-resisting construction, the use of approved fire appliances, and other means of reducing risk, as were provided by the Regulations of the Fire, Marine, or Accident Underwriters' Associations of Queensland actually current on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and may allow such further or other discounts as may from time to time be fixed by agreement between the Commissioner and the representative of the insurers or, in case of disagreement between them, by the actuary appointed by the Governor in Council, in accordance with the provisions of section 16 of this Act.

The Commissioner may refuse to enter into an insurance contract with any person in any case where he is of opinion that there are sufficient grounds for so refusing.

13. (1.) The Commissioner may, subject to the provisions of this Act, enter into contracts with insurers and with persons or companies resident outside Queensland for the reinsurance of risks accepted by him in Queensland, and all kinds of insurance business connected with Credit, Fidelity, Guarantee (including Customs Securities), and Indemnity insurance.

(2.) Subject to this Act, the Commissioner shall have power from time to time to enter into, perform, and enforce any contracts which may by him be lawfully entered into by or with any person for the insurance or reinsurance of insurable property of all kinds situated in Queensland, or of any insurable interest, and generally to do whatever he deems necessary in connection with or incident to such business, including the reinsurance of risks taken under this Act.

16. (1.) Claims under policies issued by the Commissioner shall be allowed or rejected in the first instance by the Commissioner; but the Commissioner on receipt of any such claim may, or any person claiming thereunder who objects to the ruling thereon of the Commissioner may, by notice in writing, require the matter to be heard and determined by a referee, and the application shall in such case be heard and determined by such referee in accordance with the regulations. The Commissioner may in any case, if he thinks fit, before any dispute is submitted to a referee, require a deposit of money as security for the costs of the reference, to such amount and upon such terms as may be prescribed.

The decision of the referee shall, subject to the next succeeding subsection, be final; subject to the regulations, the costs of the proceedings shall be in his discretion.

Regulations " Government Gazette," 1 February, 1917.

Brokers and their remuneration.

4. Brokers shall be paid a brokerage of ten per cent. on marine and general insurance premiums paid by them to the Commissioner, provided that, in any case where the broker does not furnish plans, schedules, and reports to the Commissioner's satisfaction, the Commissioner may reduce the brokerage on that premium to seven and one-half per cent., retaining two and one-half per cent. for the purpose of remunerating any local agent or defraying the expenses of any State officer from whom he may require to obtain such plans or reports.

Cover notes.

7. The Commissioner may give immediate cover in respect of any risk at any time for any period at his absolute discretion, and may withdraw or cancel such covers. All such covers shall be in writing signed by the Commissioner, or by an officer or agent thereto specially authorised by him, and unless previously withdrawn or cancelled by the Commissioner shall be good and valid in case of loss, notwithstanding the fact that no consideration for the cover purporting to be granted thereby has actually been paid by the insured at the date on which the loss occurs; but in all cases in which cover is so granted and accepted the pro rata premium at the rate fixed in the rating notifications shall be payable by the insured to the Commissioner for the period during which the Commissioner actually covers such risk, notwithstanding the fact that eventually the insurance is not completed by the applicant.

7 Geo. V., No. 27, 29 Dec., 1916.

Rates of premium.

8. (a) The premium payable to the Commissioner for each risk accepted by him shall be calculated in accordance with the appropriate rating notifications from time to time issued by the Commissioner in the Gazette, and shall be subject to such discounts as may be provided in such rating notifications.

(b) Unless otherwise specifically stated in any rating notification, all such rates shall be deemed to be based upon the insurance of the sum of £100 for the period of one year.

(c) The Commissioner may fix special rates for particular risks or groups of risks the circumstances of which, in his opinion, are not adequately met by the rates set forth in the ordinary rating notifications.

Short period rates.

9. Short period rates shall be as under:—

Not exceeding one week—One-twelfth of annual rate.
Exceeding one week, but not exceeding two weeks—One-eighth of annual rate.
Exceeding two weeks, but not exceeding one month—One-fourth of annual rate.
Exceeding one month, but not exceeding two months—One-third of annual rate.
Exceeding two months, but not exceeding three months—One-half of annual rate.
Exceeding three months, but not exceeding four months—Five-eighths of annual rate.
Exceeding four months, but not exceeding five months—Seven-tenths of annual rate.
Exceeding five months, but not exceeding six months—Three-fourths of annual rate.
Exceeding six months, but not exceeding seven months—Four-fifths of annual rate.
Exceeding seven months, but not exceeding eight months—Seventeen-twentieths of annual rate.
Exceeding eight months, but not exceeding nine months—Nine-tenths of annual rate.
Exceeding nine months, but not exceeding one year—Full annual rate.

Provided that not less than 1s. per cent. shall be charged for any short-period insurance.

Policies.

10. (a) On receipt of the amount named in the notice of acceptance, the Commissioner shall issue to the insurer a policy in the form applicable to the particular contract, duly stamped in conformity with the provisions of "The Stamp Act of 1894" or any Act amending the same or in substitution thereof.

(b) The Commissioner may add to the policy, by endorsement or otherwise, such provisions relating to any particular risk as he may consider appropriate to any individual case.

(c) When any risk is accepted subject to average or other restriction, a memorandum of such restriction shall be written or printed on every cover note, receipt, and policy issued by the Commissioner in respect of such insurance; and if there be several separate items insured under a policy, and only some one or more of such items are to be subject to such restriction, the memorandum shall specify the items to which such restriction applies.

Renewals.

11. The Commissioner shall not be bound to renew any policy nor to send a notice of expiry to any policy-holder, but every notice inviting renewal of any policy shall specify the date upon which such policy expires, the amount of premium required for the renewal thereof, and the person to whom such amount may be paid; and, subject to the payment of the required amount to the person named on or before such expiry date, the risk shall be deemed to have been held covered by the Commissioner as from such expiry date.

Claims.

12. (a) Upon the happening of any event giving rise to a claim under any policy issued by the Commissioner, the insured shall give notice thereof to the Commissioner as soon as he conveniently can, and, in any case, within fourteen days of such event coming to his knowledge. When the amount of the loss is likely to exceed fifty pounds, immediate notice thereof shall, if possible, be given by telegram.

(b) Within fifteen days after receipt of notice from the Commissioner in writing so to do, the claimant or his agent shall furnish to the Commissioner, in such form as the Commissioner may require, a full statement of his claim, and, if required by the Commissioner, shall verify the same by statutory declaration.

(c) The Commissioner, within thirty days after the receipt of any claim, shall forward to the claimant or to his agent a notice stating whether he allows or rejects the claim or requires further evidence in support thereof or that the matter shall be heard and determined by a referee.

(d) Any claimant who objects to the ruling of the Commissioner may, within ninety days after receipt of notice of such ruling, forward to the Commissioner a notice stating the nature of his objection, and requiring that the matter shall be heard and determined by a referee.

(e) The referee shall give his decision on the matter in open court, and shall furnish a copy thereof in writing to each party.

(f) The costs of proceedings before a referee shall be in his discretion, and may be allowed or disallowed by him as he in his absolute discretion may decide.

(g) Where allowed they shall not exceed the following scale:—

	£	s.	d.
(1) Applicant's or respondent's solicitor—
(a) Attending any hearing where the sum recovered exceeds £50 or appearing on any application (if counsel not engaged), per day	1	11	6
(b) Attending any other hearing or attending any hearing or application where counsel appears for client, per day	1	1	0
(c) Drawing instructions for counsel engaged on any hearing or application	0	10	6
(2) Applicant's or respondent's counsel—
(a) Attending any hearing where the sum recovered exceeds £50, per day	3	3	0
(b) Attending any other hearing or appearing on any application	2	2	0
(3) Witnesses' expenses—
(a) (i.) Professional men called as experts, per day	1	1	0
(ii.) Allowance of attendance of such form a distance, per mile, one way only	0	2	0
(b) (i.) Witnesses' expenses, including the attendance of applicant and respondent, per day	0	10	0
(ii.) Allowance of attendance of such from a distance, per mile, one way only	0	1	0
(4) Bailiff's fees—
(a) For serving any necessary notice, order, document, or process (or copy thereof), if requested, and making affidavit of service, if service is made	0	2	0
(b) For every mile or fraction of a mile over two miles from the court which he may have to travel to serve such notice, order, document, or process (or copy thereof), one way only	0	0	6

14. The provisions of this part of these Regulations shall be implied in every policy issued by the Commissioner.

29. Any person who in any manner obstructs, resists, hinders, or delays, or attempts to obstruct, resist, hinder, or delay, the Commissioner or any officer acting in the discharge or attempted discharge of his duties under the Act or these Regulations, or in any manner whatsoever is guilty of a breach of or fails to comply with any of the provisions of these Regulations which it is his duty to obey or comply with, shall be guilty of an offence, and be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

SAVINGS BANK ACT.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

"Agricultural land"—Land held in fee-simple and used or about to be used for agricultural or dairying purposes; also, land held under the laws in force for the time being relating to Crown land as an agricultural selection, grazing selection, prickly-pear selection, or unconditional selection, and whether the tenure is limited or perpetual, or as a miner's homestead lease as defined by "The Mining Act of 1898"; also, any other land which the Governor in Council by Order in Council declares to be agricultural land for the purposes of this Act;

SAVINGS BANK ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

"Dwelling-house" includes the house and its appurtenances, necessary outbuildings, fences, and permanent provision for lighting, water supply, and drainage, but does not include any land;

Where by this Act any remedy is given to the Commissioner against or with respect to any land, the term "land" includes not only the land but also all improvements thereon.

8. The Commissioner may, for the purposes of this Act, from time to time exercise the following powers:—

(a) Take, purchase, contract for the use of, or otherwise provide any land which may be required for the purposes of this Act;

Where land is resumed, such power shall be exercised under "The Public Works Land Resumption Act of 1906": Provided that, in estimating the compensation to be paid on the resumption or other acquirement of land by the Commissioner, no allowance shall be made for any increase in the value of such land by reason of any matter arising out of the exercise of powers under this Act;

(b) Erect buildings and repair, equip, furnish, and maintain the same; let offices or other accommodation in any building or premises for such rent as he thinks proper;

(c) Hold, until the same can be advantageously disposed of, any property, real or personal, taken by him as security for or in satisfaction, liquidation, or discharge of any debt owing to the Bank;

(d) As occasion may require, sell, lease, convey, assign, and assure any lands, buildings, securities, or property whatsoever vested in him as Commissioner, or any estate or interest in the same;

(e) Carry on insurance business with borrowers from the Bank, and for that purpose enter into contracts with such borrowers for the insurance, until the repayment in full of advances, of buildings and other improvements against fire, storm, tempest, or other disaster in consideration of the payment of premiums at prescribed rates; or in lieu of himself carrying on such business arrange with any State officer or department carrying on fire insurance business for the making and carrying into effect of fire insurance contracts as aforesaid.

The foregoing powers shall be in addition to any other powers conferred upon the Commissioner by this Act.

10. Land for the time being vested in the Commissioner or occupied by him for the purpose of carrying on the business of the Bank shall not be deemed to be rateable land within the meaning of "The Local Authorities Acts, 1902-1913."

12. (1.) On the commencement of this Act—

(a) All moneys, debentures, and treasury bills, and securities for money, and all interest thereon, and all books, documents, and other property held by or on behalf of the Treasurer or any trustees or any State officer under the Savings Bank Acts, or by or on behalf of the Trustees of the Agricultural Bank of Queensland, or by or on behalf of the Workers' Dwellings Board, or used for or in connection with the execution of the Acts hereby repealed or any of them; and

(b) All the assets and liabilities of the Government Savings Bank and of the Trustees of the Agricultural Bank of Queensland and of the Workers' Dwellings Board; and all powers, authorities, rights, title, interest, and obligation in or with respect to them or any of them, shall by virtue of this Act pass to and become vested in and imposed upon the Commissioner, and shall forthwith be divested and discharged from the person or persons in or upon whom the same were formerly vested or imposed.

(2.) The Treasurer shall cause to be made in the books of the Treasury such adjustment of accounts as will give due effect to the foregoing provisions of this section.

(3.) Any right of action accrued to or against, and any agreement, mortgage, debenture, bond, lease, deed, guarantee, covenant, or obligation made or entered into by or with—

(a) The Treasurer, or any trustees, or any person acting on his or their behalf under the Savings Bank Acts; or

(b) The Treasurer, or the Trustees or Managing Director of the Agricultural Bank of Queensland, or the Workers' Dwellings Board; may be prosecuted and enforced, by or against the Commissioner, as if the right of action had originally accrued to or against, or the agreement, mortgage, debenture, bond, lease, deed, guarantee, covenant, or obligation had been made or entered into by or with, the Commissioner.

(4.) Subject to this Act, and notwithstanding the repeal of the Agricultural Bank Act and the Workers' Dwellings Acts, the following provisions shall apply in respect of advances made under any of those Acts:—

(a) Such advances shall be repaid, and interest thereon shall be paid to the Commissioner at the times and in the amounts prescribed by the Act under which the advance was made or by any regulation or instrument thereunder;

(b) The Commissioner may take any proceeding or exercise any right or remedy which under such Act might have been taken or exercised by the Trustees of the Agricultural Bank of Queensland or the Workers' Dwellings Board, as the case may be;

(c) The land and other property mortgaged as security for the advances shall continue to be charged with the repayment of the advances with interest thereon in accordance with this Act.

All mortgages and other securities executed under any of the said Acts shall be construed as if the Commissioner were party thereto instead of the Trustees of the Agricultural Bank or Workers' Dwellings Board, as the case may be.

13. (1.) Subject to this Act, deposits may be received at the Bank.

Deposits may be received from minors of the age of twelve years or upwards.

(2.) The Commissioner may direct that no deposit shall be received from any person whom he deems it inexpedient to admit or continue as a depositor, and that any deposit made by such person shall be returned to him.

14. (1.) There is hereby created a Fund to be called the "Queensland Government Savings Bank Fund."

(2.) All deposits and all moneys repaid to the Commissioner in respect of advances and interest thereon under any Act hereby repealed or this Act, and all other moneys whatsoever received by the Commissioner under this Act, shall be paid into the Fund.

(4.) Subject to this Act, the repayment of all deposits in the Bank, and the payment of interest thereon, is guaranteed by the Crown.

Any liability arising from such guarantee shall be made good out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, which is hereby appropriated for the purpose.

15. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other Act, no sum due or payable or paid or derived in respect of or from any deposit in the Bank shall be or be deemed to be "income" within the meaning of any law relating to income tax, and no such interest shall be subject to income tax.

16. (1.) All moneys to the credit of a depositor's account (not being a deposit by or on behalf of a minor) which has not been operated upon either by addition or withdrawal for a period of seven years or upwards, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, or partly before and partly after that date, shall be carried to an account to be called the "Unclaimed Deposits Account," and shall cease to bear interest.

(2.) Notwithstanding anything herein contained, the Commissioner shall, in the month of September, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and thereafter in the month of September in every year, cause to be compiled and published in the Gazette a list of all deposits exceeding three pounds in amount which have been carried to the Unclaimed Deposits Account.

Such list shall set forth the names and addresses of such depositors, so far as they are known, the date of the opening of the account, and the amount of the several deposits, and such other particulars as the Commissioner directs.

After such publication, a copy of such list shall be publicly exhibited for such time as the Commissioner directs in the Bank and every branch thereof in Queensland.

(3.) Every such deposit as last aforesaid shall from time to time be debited with a prescribed sum towards defraying the cost of the annual preparation and publication of such list.

Any person shall, upon payment of the prescribed fee, be entitled to particulars of any deposit published in the said list.

(4.) At any time within seven years after any money has been carried to the credit of the Unclaimed Deposits Account, the Commissioner may, on proof to his satisfaction that any person is entitled to any such money, direct payment thereof to him after deducting any sums prescribed to be debited against such money.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

(5.) All moneys in respect of which a claim is not established within seven years after having been carried to the credit of the Unclaimed Deposits Account shall vest in and become the absolute property of the Commissioner:

Provided that the Commissioner may allow and pay any claim to any such moneys after such period of seven years has expired upon being satisfied that special reasons exist for the allowance of the claim.

17. The Commissioner may enter into arrangements with any Savings Bank or Banking authority in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or in any State of the Commonwealth, or in any other British possession, or in any other country—

(a) For the transfer, on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed, of moneys of depositors from such a Savings Bank or Banking authority to the Bank or from the Bank to such a Savings Bank or Banking authority;

(b) For the payment, on such terms and conditions as may be prescribed, of moneys of depositors in or with such a Savings Bank or Banking authority to or to the order of such depositors through the agency of the Bank, or of moneys of depositors in the Bank to or to the order of such depositors through the agency of such a Savings Bank or Banking authority.

18. All moneys received as deposits may be held, invested, and used, at the discretion of the Commissioner, as follows:—

(a) In current coin of the Realm;
(b) On current account;
(c) On deposit with the Treasury;
(d) On fixed deposit with any banking company or corporation;
(e) In premises used in the business of the Bank, and in lands held by the Commissioner in pursuance of this Act;
(f) Upon first mortgages of land held in fee-simple in Queensland;
(g) In advances by the Bank upon the prescribed security as hereinafter provided;
(h) In debentures issued by the Commissioner under this Act;
(i) In securities of or guaranteed by the Government of Queensland at a rate of interest to be mutually arranged between the Commissioner and the Treasurer.

21. (1.) Subject to this Act, the Commissioner may, upon the application of any owner or occupier of agricultural land (herein referred to as the "holding"), make advances to such owner or occupier on the prescribed security for the purposes hereinafter mentioned.

(2.) At no time shall such advance or advances to any one person exceed one thousand two hundred pounds.

(3.) Such advances may be made for any of the following purposes, namely:—

(a) Payment of liabilities already existing with respect to the holding, or payment of the balance of any purchase money in respect of the purchase of the holding or any stock, machinery, or implements therefor;
(b) Agricultural, dairying, grazing, horticultural, or viticultural pursuits on the holding;
(c) Adding to the improvements already made on the holding;
(d) Purchase of stock, machinery, or implements;
(e) Not exceeding four hundred pounds for unspecified purposes on the fair estimated value of the holding, provided that the applicant is a bonâ fide settler residing on and working the holding for the purpose of agricultural, dairying, grazing, horticultural, or viticultural pursuits; but in no case shall any advance for unspecified purposes be made on the security of the mortgage of a prickly-pear selection unless it is, in the opinion of the Commissioner, practically free from prickly-pear at the date of application for the advance.

(4.) The amount which may be so advanced shall in every case be determined by the fair estimated value of the holding with the improvements made and proposed to be made thereon, after taking into consideration all sums already advanced and still owing on the security.

Advances not exceeding upon the whole three hundred pounds may be made to the full value of the improvements proposed to be made for any of the following purposes, namely: —Buildings of an amount not exceeding eighty pounds; ringbarking, clearing, fencing, draining, or water conservation, of an amount not exceeding two hundred pounds; providing a well or bore (inclusive of lifting power), of an amount not exceeding one hundred and fifty pounds.

Where the holder of agricultural land has an area of thirty-five or more acres cleared and fenced and sown with Rhodes grass or other approved grass, an amount not exceeding one hundred pounds may be advanced for the purpose of purchasing approved dairy stock to the full value of the improvements aforesaid already made. The Commissioner may require, in addition to any other security, a lien over the stock so purchased by means of such advance.

In no case shall the total amount of such advances, exclusive of the advances made under either of the last two preceding paragraphs, exceed fifteen shillings in the pound of such estimated value.

In the case of an advance being made for the purpose of freeing land from prickly-pear, the Commissioner shall retain such proportion of the advance as he thinks proper, not exceeding one-half part thereof, for such period as he thinks proper in order to secure the effective and permanent freeing of the land from prickly-pear.

(5.) For the purposes of making advances on the security of a miner's homestead lease, as defined by "The Mining Act of 1898," such leasehold shall be considered as if it were held in fee-simple by the lessee thereof.

(6.) Any loss arising in respect of any advances made—

(a) By the Trustees of the Agricultural Bank prior to the commencement of this Act; or (b) By the Commissioner under this section with the prior approval of the Secretary for Public Lands; in respect of a prickly-pear selection or agricultural selection infested with prickly-pear shall be made good to the Commissioner out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, which is hereby appropriated for the purpose.

22. (1.) Subject to this Act, upon the application of any person who—

(a) Is the owner of any land for a freehold estate in possession or is the holder of any miner's homestead lease or residence area granted or registered under "The Mining Act of 1898," or any Act amending or in substitution for that Act; or is the holder of a lease granted under section one hundred and twenty-one of "The Land Act of 1910," or any enactment in substitution therefor, or is in possession of any other land which the Governor in Council may by Order in Council approve; and
(b) Is not the owner of a dwelling-house within Queensland or elsewhere; and (c) Is at the time of making this application not in receipt of an income of more than two hundred pounds per annum;

the Commissioner may make an advance to such person on the prescribed security for the purpose of enabling him to erect a dwelling-house on the said land as a home for himself and his family, but for no other purpose, or, after erection under this Act, to enlarge or improve such dwelling-house.

(2.) No such advance shall exceed fifteen shillings in the pound of the fair estimated value of such dwelling-house and of the land whereon it is to be or is erected.

(3.) No such advance to any one such owner shall exceed three hundred and fifty pounds.

(4.) Whenever any question arises whether any applicant is the owner of a dwelling-house within Queensland or elsewhere, or as to the amount of his income, the decision of the Commissioner upon such question shall be final and conclusive for all purposes, and shall not be questioned in any proceedings whatsoever.

23. (1.) No advance under either of the last two preceding sections of this Act shall be made—

(i.) Except upon the security of a mortgage or mortgages to the Commissioner over the lands and improvements with respect to which such advance is made, and upon such other security over real or personal property as to the Commissioner seems fit;
(ii.) With respect to any land which is encumbered by any previous mortgage or charge other than—
  (a) A mortgage or security under this Act; or (b) By reason of arrears of rates due to any Local Authority; or

SAVINGS BANK ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

(c) A charge in favour of the Crown under the laws in force relating to Crown land or to marsupial-proof fencing or rabbit-proof fencing; or

(d) A mortgage to the Treasurer or any person or corporation representing the Crown under "The Sugar Works Guarantee Acts, 1893 to 1895," or under any law relating to the construction and control of sugar works.

(2.) Any owner or occupier of land may, notwithstanding any enactment or law to the contrary, lawfully execute such mortgage or other security.

(3.) In all cases where a special form of mortgage is prescribed by any Act affecting agricultural land, the fact that a mortgage of a holding under this Act is not in such form shall not in any way hinder its registration or limit its effect as a valid mortgage.

24. (1.) The provisions of "The Bills of Sale Act of 1891," or any Act amending or in substitution for that Act, shall not apply to any mortgage or other security executed under this Act, or affect the validity or operation of any such mortgage or security in respect of any chattels comprised therein.

(2.) The provisions of "The Mercantile Acts, 1867 to 1896," requiring the registration of mortgages of live stock shall not apply to any mortgage of live stock executed in favour of the Commissioner.

(3.) No mortgage or other security executed to secure an advance under this Act, or any release of such mortgage or security, or any other document or instrument executed for the purposes of this Act, shall be liable to stamp duty, any enactment to the contrary notwithstanding.

25. No advance under this Act shall be made to any alien who has not first obtained in the prescribed manner a certificate that he is able to read and write from dictation words in such language as the Commissioner may direct.

26. In addition to any other remedy provided by this Act for the recovery of any sum of money payable under any provision of this Act to the Commissioner by a borrower, it is hereby declared that every such sum shall be and remain until payment a debt due by the borrower to the Crown, and shall be recoverable, with interest, by the Commissioner accordingly.

27. No judgment, order, or decree of any court of law, and in the case of land held under miner's homestead lease or as a residence area no act or default on the part of the borrower or any other person whereby a forfeiture might result, shall in any way affect the security for any advance made under this Act; and until all instalments and interest payable in respect of the advance have been paid, no process of law or provision of any law in force relating to Crown land or mining or any declaration of forfeiture shall interfere with the security for the same.

28. In every case where an advance has been made under this Act upon the security of a mortgage of a holding the freehold whereof may be acquired from the Crown—

(a) Section one hundred and sixty of "The Land Act of 1910," or any enactment in substitution therefor, shall apply:

All costs and expenses occasioned in giving effect to this provision shall be borne by the mortgagor, and may, if the Commissioner thinks fit, be added to and become part of the mortgage debt.

(b) The Commissioner may, at any time and nothwithstanding the provisions of any Act, acquire the freehold of the holding in the name and on behalf of the mortgagor or his successor in interest, and for that purpose may make all such payments to the Crown as are necessary:

All payments so made by the Commissioner shall be added to and become part of the mortgage debt, notwithstanding that the amount of the advance is thereby increased to more than the amount prescribed under this Act. The deed of grant of the holding shall be delivered to the Commissioner, and thereupon the provisions of paragraph (a) hereof shall be observed.

30. No matter or thing done and no agreement entered into by the Commissioner or any employee or other person on his behalf or under his direction shall, if the matter or thing was done or the agreement was entered into bonâ fide for the purposes of this Act, subject the Commissioner or any such person to any personal liability in respect thereof.

31. An action shall not be brought against the Commissioner or any employee or other person, for anything done or intended or omitted to be done under this Act, until the expiration of one month after notice in writing has been served on the Commissioner or person to be sued, clearly stating the cause of action and the name and place of abode of the intended plaintiff and of his solicitor or agent.

On the trial of any such action the plaintiff shall not be permitted to go into evidence of any cause of action which is not stated in the notice so served.

Unless such notice is proved, the Court shall find for the defendant.

Every such action shall be commenced within six months next after the accruing of the cause of action, and not afterwards.

Any person to whom any such notice of action is given may tender amends to the plaintiff, his solicitor or agent, at any time within one month after service of the notice, and in case the same is not accepted may plead such tender.

32. Any person who—

(1) Directly or indirectly takes any fee or reward from any applicant for an advance under this Act;

(2)—

(a) Having any pecuniary interest in any land tendered as security for an advance under this Act; or

(b) Being a partner of the applicant for an advance, acts as valuer or adviser to the Commissioner in connection with such land or advance;

(3) In respect of any advance or application for any advance, bribes or attempts to bribe or corruptly influence any person appointed or acting under this Act; shall be liable to a penalty of not less than fifty pounds nor more than two hundred pounds, and if an employee shall also be dismissed from his office.

SCHEDULE.

Deposits.

11. All existing deposits made under the Savings Bank Acts shall be subject to this Act.

12. Subject to this Act no person shall have more than one account in the Bank:

Provided that this section shall not prevent any person having bonâ fide, in addition to his own account—

(a) Accounts in his own name in trust for other persons;

(b) Accounts in his own name for the purpose of any enterprise, undertaking, business, occupation, or calling carried on by him;

(c) Joint accounts with different persons;

(d) Accounts on behalf of different friendly, charitable, or other societies or institutions (including trade unions or industrial unions of employers).

But the Commissioner shall not be liable in respect of the performance of any trusts relating to a trust account; and the receipt of the trustee shall be a sufficient discharge to the Commissioner for any payment from any such account: Provided that the Commissioner may, if he deems it advisable, require the signature of both the trustee and the cestui que trust before any payment is made.

13. (1.) The Commissioner with the approval of the Governor in Council shall from time to time fix the interest payable to depositors, and may fix differential rates of interest according to the amount of the deposit:

Provided that interest shall not be allowed on any amount above one thousand pounds to the credit of any one account, except the account of or on behalf of a friendly, charitable, or other society or institution (including a trade union or an industrial union of employers).

But the Commissioner may in his discretion limit the amount of the respective accounts of or on behalf of such societies or institutions or any of them:

Provided also that the prescribed rate of interest shall be paid on the deposit of or on behalf of any of the aforesaid societies and institutions up to one thousand pounds, and above that amount the rate shall be a matter of agreement with the Commissioner.

(2.) Interest shall be calculated on every complete sum of one pound, but shall not commence to run until the first day of the month next following that in which the deposit is made, and shall, with respect to any money withdrawn, cease upon the first day of the month in which such withdrawal takes place:

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

Provided, nevertheless, that money deposited on the first day of any month shall bear interest from that date, and money withdrawn on the last day of any month shall bear interest to that date.

(3.) Interest shall be calculated to the thirtieth day of June in every year, and shall then be added to and become part of the principal money, and shall, subject to any limitation in the amount on which interest may be allowed, carry interest in all respects as other principal money deposited in the Bank.

14. No person shall have any claim on the Commissioner in respect of a deposit which was not made during the office hours of the Bank.

15. (1.) Deposits and interest payable thereon may be withdrawn on application in the prescribed form by the depositor or the person legally entitled to claim on his behalf.

Where such application is made at the office of the Bank where the depositor's account is kept, the payment shall be on demand.

Where such application is made at any other office of the Bank, the payment shall be made on the receipt by the paying officer of authority from the office in which the account is kept:

Provided that the Commissioner may prescribe conditions and period of notice to be given before any withdrawals are payable.

(2.) On the withdrawal of any money from the Bank, a receipt order or cheque in such form as the Commissioner directs shall be signed by the depositor, and such receipt order or cheque shall be a sufficient discharge to the Commissioner for the amount therein expressed to be received.

A receipt order or cheque so signed by a minor shall be a sufficient discharge to the Commissioner.

16. (1.) Every depositor's pass-book shall be deemed to be the property of the Commissioner, and shall be delivered up as and when required by him.

(2.) Each depositor shall in the month of July in each year produce, or cause to be produced, his pass-book at the office of the Bank in which his account is kept, for the purposes of examination and verification.

17. (1.) If any depositor dies leaving any sum of money not exceeding two hundred pounds exclusive of interest deposited in the Bank, and probate of his will or letters of administration are not produced to the Commissioner, or if notice in writing of the existence of a will and intention to prove the same or to take out letters of administration is not given to the Commissioner within three months from the death of the depositor, or if such notice is given, but such will is not proved or letters of administration are not taken out and such probate or letters of administration produced to the Commissioner within four months from the death of the depositor, it shall thereafter be lawful for the Commissioner to pay and divide such funds at his discretion to or amongst the widow or relatives of the deceased depositor or any one or more of them; or if he thinks proper according to the provisions of any Act for the distribution of intestate estates for the time being in force; or if he thinks proper to pay the amount to the Public Curator.

(2.) The receipt of any of the persons mentioned in this section shall be a good discharge to the Commissioner for the sum paid, and shall be binding on any widow, widower, or next-of-kin.

(3.) If the Commissioner under this section pays money to any person who is afterwards proved not to have been legally entitled thereto, the Commissioner shall not be liable at the suit of any person who was so entitled:

But this subsection shall not affect the remedy of the last-mentioned person against the person who has received the money.

21. Upon proof being made, on oath, before a Judge of the Supreme Court that any debenture issued under this Act, the number and sum whereof are specified, has been lost or accidentally burnt, defaced, or otherwise destroyed before the same has been paid off, and upon such Judge certifying that he is satisfied with such proof, the Commissioner may cause a new debenture to be made out bearing the same number, date, currency, principal sum, and rate of interest as the debenture so lost or destroyed, and to be delivered to the person who was the holder of the debenture so lost or destroyed upon his giving sufficient security to the Commissioner to indemnify him against any double payment if the missing debenture should thereafter be presented for payment.

Advances.

23. Every application for an advance under this Act shall be made in the prescribed form and shall contain such particulars as may be prescribed.

24. Applications for advances under the Agricultural Bank Act and Workers' Dwellings Acts pending at the commencement of this Act, and whether or not any advance or instalment has been made, may be dealt with and completed as if such applications were made for advances under this Act.

25. (1.) It shall be the duty of inspectors to report upon applications for advances under this Act and to inspect from time to time the improvements which are in course of being made by means of such advances.

If the Commissioner so thinks fit, any such advance may be made by instalments upon the report of an inspector as the work is being done.

(2.) At any time upon the report of an inspector that any money advanced has not been applied for the purpose for which it was advanced or has been expended in a careless or wasteful manner, the Commissioner may refuse to pay any further instalment of the proposed advance, and may at once call in the whole amount already advanced, whereupon the borrower shall forthwith repay the same, and in default the Commissioner shall have the same remedies for the recovery of the same as are provided by this Act for the recovery of sums payable by the borrower.

26. The following provisions apply to all advances by the Bank under this Act other than on the security of a mortgage of a grazing selection or for workers' dwellings:—

(1.) For the period of five years, from the first day of January or the first day of July as the case may be, following the date on which the advance or first instalment thereof is made, there shall be paid to the Commissioner by the borrower interest on the amount advanced at the rate of five pounds per centum per annum.

Such interest shall be payable on the thirty-first day of December and the thirtieth day of June in each year:

Provided that, where during such period of five years aforesaid the borrower has at intervals obtained several advances from the Commissioner, the period during which interest only shall be calculated and paid on the second and every such subsequent advance shall not extend beyond the said period of five years ascertained in respect of the first of such advances.

(2.) After the expiration of the said period of five years, the balance of the advance authorised but not then drawn shall be deemed to be cancelled, and the amount which has been then advanced with interest at the rate aforesaid shall be repaid by the borrower to the Commissioner within a term of twenty years by payment, on the thirty-first day of December and the thirtieth day of June in each year, of half-yearly instalments of the amount of four pounds and three pence for every one hundred pounds advanced until the whole amount advanced with interest at the rate aforesaid has been repaid.

27. Notwithstanding anything in this Act contained, an advance shall not be made on the security of a mortgage of a grazing selection except on the following conditions:—

(a) The advance secured by the mortgage, with interest thereon at the rate of five pounds per centum per annum, shall be repaid within a term to be specified therein and ending not later than the date on which the lease will expire by effluxion of time;

(b) The advance, with interest at the rate aforesaid, shall be repaid by the borrower to the Commissioner within the term so specified by payment, on the thirty-first day of December and the thirtieth day of June in each year, of half-yearly instalments of such amount per centum on the amount advanced as will ensure that the whole amount advanced, with interest at the rate aforesaid, will be repaid within the term so specified;

(c) In the event of the determination of the term of the lease for any reason other than by effluxion of time, the whole amount of the advance with interest at the rate aforesaid then remaining unpaid shall forthwith, without any demand or any legal process whatsoever, be and become repayable, and, notwithstanding anything contained in "The Land Act of 1910," the Commissioner shall have a first charge against any improvements then on the land, or the value thereof if paid by an incoming selector, for the purpose of liquidating the amount then remaining unpaid;

(d) The memorandum of mortgage may contain such provisions, stipulations, and covenants as will give effect to the foregoing provisions and otherwise ensure the repayment of the said advance.

SAVINGS BANK ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

28. The following provisions apply to all advances by the Bank for workers' dwellings:—

For the period ending six months after the date on which the advance or any instalment thereof is made, there shall be paid to the Commissioner by the borrower interest on the advance at the rate of five pounds per centum per annum.

Such interest shall be payable at the prescribed time.

If any advance is made by instalments, interest shall be calculated on the actual amount of the several instalments of such advance from the date when such instalments are advanced.

After the expiration of the said period, the advance with interest at the rate aforesaid shall be repaid by the borrower to the Commissioner within a term of twenty years by payment, on the prescribed day of each month in each year, of monthly instalments of the amount of thirteen shillings and three pence for every one hundred pounds advanced until the whole advance with interest at the rate aforesaid has been repaid:

When any advance has been made by instalments, the Commissioner may make any adjustment in the calculation of interest or otherwise as in his opinion may be expedient, so as to ascertain and fix the term of the advance and the dates of repayment.

29. Any advance under this Act may at the option of the borrower be repaid at any time sooner or in larger instalments than herein specified.

30. (1.) If default is made by the borrower in the payment of any sum payable by him to the Commissioner, or if the borrower commits any breach of any covenant or condition to be observed by him under any mortgage or under this Act, the whole of the debt then remaining unpaid shall forthwith become due and payable, and shall be recoverable, with interest at the prescribed rate, by the Commissioner accordingly.

(2.) If default is made by the borrower in the payment of any sum of money payable by him to the Commissioner, then, without prejudice to any other remedy, and although no legal demand has been made for the payment thereof, the Commissioner may enter upon and take possession (for that purpose using such force as may be necessary to eject any occupant) and sell the whole or any part of the land with respect to which the advance has been made, with all improvements thereon, either by private sale or public auction, and subject to such terms and conditions of sale as he thinks expedient, and after such notice of the time, place, terms, and conditions of sale as he thinks expedient, with power to give time for payment of purchase money, or to allow the purchase money to remain on mortgage at the risk of the borrower, and to vary or rescind any contract for sale, and to buy in at any auction, and to resell without being answerable for any loss, and may transfer or convey such land to the purchaser, and give a valid title thereto:

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not take effect where the advance has been made for any purpose other than for a worker's dwelling if the borrower, within ninety days from the date when the said sum became payable, pays the same with the addition of a sum by way of penalty calculated as follows, that is to say:—If the sum is paid within thirty days, two and a-half pounds per centum is to be added; if the sum is paid within sixty days, three and three-quarter pounds per centum is to be added; and if the sum is paid after sixty days, five pounds per centum is to be added; but unless the whole of the sum together with such penalty is paid within the said ninety days the provisions of this section shall have full force and effect:

Provided further that, before any agricultural land in respect to which an advance has been made for any purpose other than for a worker's dwelling is sold by private sale under this section, it shall first be offered at public auction, due notice of which shall be publicly advertised as prescribed in the locality where such agricultural land is situated.

(3.) After the Commissioner has taken possession of any land under this provision, any occupant who is permitted by him to be or remain in occupation thereof shall pay to the Commissioner such occupation rent as the Commissioner may fix.

(4.) The Commissioner shall apply the proceeds derived from such sale in payment, in the first instance, of all moneys due in respect of such land, and in redemption of any amount charged thereon in favour of the Commissioner, or of so much thereof as remains unpaid, and of all expenses incurred by the Commissioner in relation to such sale or otherwise with respect to such land, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the person appearing to the Commissioner to be entitled to receive the same.

(5.) As against mortgagors, the Commissioner shall not be responsible for involuntary losses or the default of agents or auctioneers.

31. As an additional remedy and power, and without modification or abatement of the provisions of the last preceding section whenever land authorised to be sold by the Commissioner under this Act is offered for sale by public auction and the amount of the highest bidding at such sale is not sufficient to satisfy the moneys due to the Commissioner, together with the costs and expenses of and occasioned by such attempted sale, or there is no bid, the Commissioner shall advertise the land for private sale, in at least one newspaper circulating in the district where such land is situated, once at least in each of three successive weeks, and shall in such advertisement name a day and time, not less than one month from the date of the first of such advertisements, upon or after which the land shall vest in the Commissioner, together with all improvements thereon, unless in the interval a sufficient amount has been obtained by the sale of such land to satisfy the moneys due to the Commissioner and all costs and expenses of and occasioned by such sale and proceedings, and thereupon if such amount has not been so obtained the land shall vest in the Commissioner for the whole estate of the borrower, free from any encumbrance.

32. In the case of a mortgage to the Commissioner of a miner's homestead—

- (i.) The Commissioner, on exercising his powers, may retain possession for any period in his discretion;
- (ii.) It shall not be necessary to furnish the proof required by section eighty-five of "The Mining Act of 1898," so long as the rent has been paid for a period of not less than thirty years;
- (iii.) Section ninety-eight of "The Mining Act of 1898" shall not apply.

33. Every person who has given a mortgage or other security to the Commissioner shall, during the continuance of the same, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner or other person authorised in that behalf—

- (a) Keep the land comprised in such mortgage or other security free from all noxious weeds and plants, particularly prickly-pear, china apple, noogoora burr, and bathurst burr; and
- (b) Keep in good and tenantable repair all fences, fixtures, and improvements upon the land; and
- (c) Insure and keep insured all buildings upon the land; and
- (d) Pay all rates and taxes, and perform all the lawful requisitions of any local or other authority with respect to the land; and
- (e) Perform the conditions of any lease and observe the provisions of any Act under which the land is held:

For the purposes of this section, "repair" includes painting in accordance with the conditions in that behalf contained in the mortgage.

If, after the expiration of two months' notice in writing by the Commissioner, such person has not complied with the requirements of this section—

- (i.) The like consequences shall follow as are hereinbefore provided in case of default made in the payment of any sum of money payable under this Act; or
- (ii.) The Commissioner or some person authorised in that behalf may comply with all such requirements and, if necessary for that purpose, enter upon the land, and the expense thereby incurred with interest at the rate of five pounds per centum per annum shall be repaid to the Commissioner by the borrower on demand, and if not so paid the Commissioner may, at his option, either forthwith exercise the powers conferred upon him as aforesaid in case of default made in the payment of any sum of money or add the amount of such expense and interest to the mortgage debt, whereupon the same shall be deemed to be part thereof.

34. As between the Commissioner and the owner or occupier for the time being of any land with respect to which an advance has been made, the following conditions shall be imposed so long as such land is subject to any charge in respect of any periodical payment in favour of the Commissioner, namely:—

- (i.) Such land shall not be transferred, subdivided, or let, or abandoned by such owner or occupier without the consent of the Commissioner.

  Every agreement for transfer or letting contrary to this subsection shall be void and of no effect.

  If the owner or occupier transfers, subdivides, or lets such land or any part thereof, or abandons such land, in contravention of this subsection, the Commissioner may cause the land to be sold.

SAVINGS BANK ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

(ii.) When the title to the land is divested from the owner or occupier, under any law relating to insolvency, the Commissioner may cause the land to be sold.

(iii.) When on the death of the owner or occupier the land would by reason of any demise, bequest, intestacy, or otherwise become subdivided, the Commissioner may require the land to be sold within twelve months after the death of the owner or occupier to some one person, and if default is made in selling the same the Commissioner may cause the same to be sold.

The provisions of this Act, as to sale and application of the proceeds of sale, shall apply to every sale made under this section.

35. Whenever under this Act power is conferred upon the Commissioner to cause any land to be sold by reason of any default or breach of covenant or condition or otherwise, the Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, from time to time previous to exercising such power of sale, lease such land or any part thereof for any term not exceeding thirty years: Provided that, upon the determination of any such lease and before any new lease or renewal of lease is granted, the Commissioner shall offer to sell the land at public auction as hereinbefore prescribed.

Every such lease shall contain a covenant to pay such rent and observe such conditions as the Commissioner in each case thinks fit.

The rents and profits from time to time derived from any such lease shall be applied—

(a) In payment of the costs and expenses from time to time incurred in connection with the lease;

(b) In payment of the instalments and other payments (if any) due under this Act;

(c) In payment of the balance (if any) to the borrower.

36. In any case where the Commissioner is satisfied that any worker's dwelling in respect of which any advance under this Act is outstanding has been abandoned by the borrower and is without a lawful occupant, the Commissioner may enter upon and take possession of such dwelling and the land whereon it is built and retain possession of the same, and may let the same, and shall apply the rents and profits in payment of the costs and expenses from time to time incurred in connection with the land and of the instalments and other payments, if any, due under this Act, and shall hold the balance, if any, in trust for the borrower.

37. (1.) Where the consent of the Commissioner is sought to the transfer of any land with respect to which an advance has been made, the Commissioner may require as a condition to his consent that the transferee shall enter into and execute, in favour of the Commissioner, such mortgage, bonds, covenants, and other instruments and securities as will effectually secure the payment by the transferee of all sums of money with the prescribed interest advanced to the transferor, and upon the entering into and execution of the same the transferee shall be equally bound thereby as if such advance had been made to him in the first instance.

(2.) Where the consent of the Commissioner is sought to the letting of any land with respect to which an advance has been made, the Commissioner may require as a condition to his consent that the lessee shall enter into and execute in favour of the Commissioner such agreement as will secure to the Commissioner, when so demanded, all the rents and profits of the land and the attornment of such lessee to the Commissioner.

Regulations, "Government Gazette," 12 Jan., 1917.

Hours of business.

5. Offices of the Bank at which the Commissioner permits deposits to be received shall be open for the transaction of business as follow:—

Ledger Branches.—On Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 9.30 a.m. to 3 p.m. On Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. On Friday evenings from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Ordinary Branches.—On Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; otherwise as at Ledger Branches.

Agencies.—On Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. On Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. On Saturdays, or such other day as may from time to time be appointed by the Commissioner, agencies shall also be open for one hour in the evening.

Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this section, the Commissioner may, from time to time, make such alterations in the business hours hereinbefore prescribed at all or any branch or branches, agency or agencies, as he thinks expedient in the interests of the Bank: Provided that before any such alteration takes effect at any branch or agency concerned, the Commissioner shall give such public notice as he thinks proper of the altered business hours.

Deposits direct to Head Office or Ledger Branch by post.

7. Persons desirous of lodging money in the Bank, and who, by reason of residing at too great a distance from the nearest office, are precluded from depositing in the manner prescribed by the last preceding Regulation, may remit their deposits by post direct to the Head Office or a Ledger Branch. The Commissioner will, however, undertake no responsibility under this Regulation in the event of the remittance miscarrying.

Emigrants to Queensland may deposit money in England.

8. Intending emigrants to Queensland may deposit money with the Agent-General for Queensland in England, which will be remitted to their credit in the Bank in Queensland free of exchange; interest will be allowed on such deposit from the first day of the month next following the date of the deposit in England.

Deposits—how received, entered, reported, and acknowledged.

9. Every deposit received by an officer appointed for that purpose shall be entered by him at the time of receipt in a numbered pass-book, and the entry shall be attested by him by affixing thereto his initials, and also the stamp of his office; and the said pass-book, with the entry so attested, shall be given to the depositor and retained by him as primary evidence of the receipt of the deposit.

Particulars of the amount of each deposit, and of the name, occupation, and residence of the depositor, shall, by the first mail after the deposit is made, be forwarded to the office at which the account is kept.

Pass-books are not to be left in the custody of the Bank.

Deposit slips.

10. Depositors shall be required to fill in the particulars of each deposit at the time the same is made, on a printed form provided for the purpose, but if the depositor is unable to write, the form may be filled in by the Bank officer or assistant.

Trust accounts may be operated upon by one or more trustees.

11. Accounts opened by two or more trustees (other than trustees of a Friendly Society) may be operated upon by any one or more of them, provided that a request to that effect is made by the whole of the trustees in whose names the account is opened; and the receipt of such trustee or trustees shall be a sufficient discharge to the Commissioner for any payment from any such account.

Joint account.

12. Deposits may be made by two or more persons in their joint names, with the provision that the account may be operated upon either jointly or severally. In the event of death of one or more of the depositors, the account, so far as concerns the Commissioner, will vest in the survivors or survivor.

Minors.

13. Deposits may be made by any minor of the age of twelve years or upwards, or by a parent or other relative of such a minor, in the name and on behalf of such minor; and repayment shall be made to such minor in the same manner as if he or she were of full age. Deposits may also be made in trust for a minor under twelve years of age.

Married women.

14. Deposits may be made by married women, and deposits so made, or made by unmarried women who afterwards marry, shall, so far as concerns the Commissioner, be deemed to be the property of such women, unless and until the contrary is shown.

Interest allowed.

15. Interest shall be allowed on deposits at credit not exceeding £1,000, at the rate of three pounds ten shillings per cent. per annum, subject, however, to such alteration in rate as may from time to time be fixed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Governor in Council.

Loss of pass-book to be reported.

16. If any depositor loses his pass-book, such loss shall be reported by him to the Commissioner or officer in charge of the office at which his account is kept by letter, stating the number of the pass-book, and the circumstances under which it was lost, and enclosing postage stamps of the value of one shilling, to pay for a new pass-book, which shall be issued upon his signing a statutory declaration of loss in the prescribed form, and if upon inquiry the circumstances of the case prove to be as stated by the said depositor.

SAVINGS BANK ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

Withdrawals.

17. A depositor wishing to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited by him can do so on application and on producing his pass-book and giving notice at any branch or agency of the Bank in Queensland. If notice is given at an agency, the money will be payable in the usual course of post. If notice is given at the office at which the account is kept, the money will be paid on demand.

Exchange to be charged in certain cases.

19. Ordinary withdrawals shall be paid throughout Queensland free of exchange, but in cases where money has been deposited at one office and is withdrawn within one month thereafter at another office, the usual rate of exchange between the two places shall be charged.

Repayments to a depositor unable to attend personally.

20. Repayments shall be made only to the depositor in person, or, when he cannot attend personally to receive payment, to the bearer of an order under his hand, which must be witnessed by a person other than the person in whose favour it is drawn. If the depositor is resident outside Queensland, his signature must be attested by a justice of the peace, notary public, or consular agent of the country in which he resides.

Withdrawals by telegram.

21. Depositors residing at a distance from Ledger branches may make application to withdraw the whole or any portion of their deposits by telegraph message, upon payment of the cost thereof.

The depositor shall be required to sign the usual withdrawal notice in the presence of a Bank officer, by whom the message will be forwarded to the branch at which the account is kept; but no officer shall forward any such message unless the depositor produces his pass-book and is personally known to him, or produces satisfactory evidence that he is the person entitled to withdraw.

In all cases where notification of withdrawal is received from a depositor by telegraph message, under this Regulation, authority to pay the amount claimed shall be forwarded to the local office by telegraph, the cost of the message to be defrayed by the depositor before repayment is made.

Payments on demand.

22. A depositor, upon presentation of his pass-book and on satisfying the officer in charge or agent as to his identity and that a sufficient amount is to his credit, may withdraw sums not exceeding £10 on demand at any branch or agency of the Bank, provided the officer in charge of the branch or agency has sufficient cash on hand to make such payment.

Accounts may be transferred from one branch to another.

23. Accounts may be transferred from one Ledger branch to another free of cost and without loss of interest to depositors.

Accounts may be transferred at discretion of Commissioner.

24. Accounts hitherto kept at Head Office, Brisbane, the depositors for which are resident at or near any other place at which there is a Ledger branch, may be transferred to that branch at the discretion of the Commissioner.

Interstate Transfers and Payments.

Withdrawals by post.

25. (1.) A depositor with the Queensland Government Savings Bank, who is residing temporarily in another State of the Commonwealth, may withdraw money from his account through the nearest branch of the Savings Bank of that State, and likewise depositors in Savings Banks of other States who are residing temporarily in Queensland may withdraw money from their accounts through branches or agencies of the Queensland Government Savings Bank.

The depositor must produce his passbook and sign a withdrawal notice, and also a specimen signature slip to be retained by the collecting Bank. The withdrawal notice with the passbook will be forwarded to the Bank where the account is kept, and on receipt at that Bank, if the withdrawal notice is in order, and there are sufficient funds to credit, the money, less cost of transmission, will be forwarded to the collecting Bank for payment.

The depositor will be charged the usual rate of exchange or commission payable for bank drafts, money orders, or postal notes.

Payments on demand.

(2) A depositor with the Queensland Government Savings Bank, upon presentation of his pass-book at any Ledger branch of a reciprocating Savings Bank in the Commonwealth, or at any agency of such reciprocating Savings Bank, where the agent has sufficient funds to meet the demand, and upon satisfying the manager or agent at such branch or agency as to his identity, and that a sufficient amount is lying to his credit, may withdraw on demand any sum or sums not exceeding during any three consecutive days an aggregate amount of £5, or, in cases where a verified specimen signature and a certificate as to the balance to his credit has been forwarded from the branch in Queensland at which the depositor's account is kept, at any Ledger branch a like aggregate amount of £10. Similarly, a depositor with any such reciprocating Savings Bank of any other State may make withdrawals on demand to the same extent and on the same conditions at any branch or agency in Queensland.

On each interstate withdrawal without notice a charge of 6d. will be made if the amount withdrawn does not exceed £5, and of 1s. if it exceeds that amount.

Interstate telegraphic transfers and remittances.

(3) A depositor with the Queensland Government Savings Bank who is residing temporarily in another State of the Commonwealth may, on presentation of his pass-book at any such reciprocating Savings Bank or agency of such Bank, and satisfying the manager or agent as to his identity, have the choice of three different methods of withdrawing by telegraph amounts not exceeding £10 in the aggregate within three days. Similarly, a depositor of any such reciprocating Savings Bank of any other State may make withdrawals to the same extent by telegraph at any branch or agency of the Queensland Government Savings Bank. These methods are—

(a) Application by telegram and reply by telegraph money order or advice.

(b) Application by telegram and reply by first post.

(c) Application by post and reply by telegraph money order or advice.

(4) Charges shall be made as follows:—

Method (a)—New South Wales, 2s. 6d.; other States, 3s. 6d.

Method (b)—New South Wales, 1s. 6d.; other States, 2s. 6d.

Method (c)—New South Wales, 2s.; other States, 3s.

(5) The following provision shall apply both to payments on demand and to telegraphic transfers and remittances under this Regulation:—

When a deposit stands in the names of more persons than one, all such persons shall comply with the same conditions as apply to ordinary depositors. When, however, joint accounts have been opened on the condition that only one signature is required for withdrawals, and that fact is within the knowledge of the paying officer, any one of the depositors may withdraw on demand, subject to his identification. Impersonal accounts, such as those of societies, clubs, unions, &c., are not to be operated on under this Regulation.

Direct remittance.

(6) A depositor leaving for another State of the Commonwealth may on application arrange to have a remittance forwarded to him on arrival. Under these circumstances he shall leave his pass-book (for which he will be given a receipt, which he must produce when calling for the money), sign a specimen signature slip, and an order for the amount to be remitted. The specimen signature, pass-book, and a letter of advice will be sent to the bank where the payment is to be made. The remittance will be made in the usual manner, the depositor paying all charges in connection therewith.

Unclaimed withdrawals.

(7) If a withdrawal remains unclaimed for a period of one month at the receiving office, an account shall be opened in the name of the depositor, and the amount placed to his credit, a specimen signature having been received for that purpose. The withdrawal form shall be returned to the collecting Bank's head office, a certificate of the transaction endorsed thereon by the Head Office, and sent, with the old pass-book, to the remitting Bank. Until claimed, the pass-book of the new account shall be held by the Head Office.

SAVINGS BANK ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

Friendly Societies.

26. Accounts for Friendly Societies must be opened in the names of all the registered trustees of the society concerned; but, if the rules of the society so provide, the trustees may open a special current account under "The Friendly Societies Act of 1913," Second Schedule, Rule 10, in the joint names of two or more registered officers of such society who shall be empowered to operate upon the account.

27. Every such Friendly Society having or opening an ordinary account with the Bank or having or opening any special current account shall furnish from time to time, in such form as the Commissioner may require, the following information attested:—

(1) By the trustees and secretary of the society;

(2) By an impression of the society's seal (if any); and

(3) By the certificate of the Registrar of Friendly Societies—that is to say,

(a) The name and address of the responsible officer to whom communications from the Bank are to be addressed;

(b) In case of ordinary accounts, specimen signatures of all registered trustees; and in case of any special current accounts, specimen signatures of such registered officers as have been duly authorised to open such account, and a statement of the number of such officers required to make withdrawals from such account;

(c) When any change is made as to registered trustees or officers authorised to withdraw moneys, specimen signatures of all the signatories shall again be furnished on the aforesaid form, and the certificate of the Registrar of Friendly Societies or the consent of the registered trustees shall be produced, as the change requires.

28. Interest at the maximum rate under these Regulations shall be allowed on all Friendly Society balances.

31. Payment of moneys standing at the credit of a Friendly Society shall only be made on the presentation of a cheque or withdrawal form signed by officers duly authorised as aforesaid. Ordinary banking practice shall apply to all such cheques.

The officers of the Bank will endeavour to prevent fraud and to identify every cheque presented, but if a cheque is presented purporting to bear the signatures of the officebearers authorised to sign cheques and registered at the Bank, and if any deposit or sum of money is unlawfully withdrawn in consequence from the account of such Friendly Society during the hours of business, the Commissioner shall not be responsible for the loss so sustained by such Friendly Society, nor be liable to make good the same.

32. Friendly Societies may deposit moneys at any branch or agency of the Bank, but, if at any office other than that at which the account is kept, the pass-book must be produced with each deposit.

All cheques on account of withdrawals must be drawn on the place at which the account is kept, but shall be accepted at any agency as deposits for other accounts.

Other institutions, unions, trusts, &c.

35. Accounts may be opened on behalf of charitable or other societies, institutions (including trade unions or industrial unions of employers), clubs, and any other trusts approved by the Commissioner; and Regulations 27 to 34 hereof inclusive shall, so far as they are applicable, and subject to any modifications the Commissioner may direct, apply to such accounts.

Unclaimed deposits.

36. When any deposit has been carried to the "Unclaimed Deposits Account" and included in the list published in the Gazette as provided by the Act, there shall be debited, in the month of September in each year, or so soon thereafter as practicable, against such deposit a fee of one shilling, which shall become the property of the Commissioner.

When any person makes application for particulars of any such deposit, such application shall be accompanied by a fee of one shilling, which shall become the property of the Commissioner.

Fraud.

37. The officers of the Bank will endeavour to prevent fraud, and to identify every depositor transacting business with the Bank; but if any person fraudulently represents himself to be a depositor, and by forwarding the proper notice of withdrawal, and by presentation of the depositor's pass-book, and compliance with the rules of the Bank, obtains any sum of money belonging to that depositor, the Commissioner shall not be responsible for the loss thereof.

PART III.—ADVANCES TO SETTLERS.

Applications for advances.

38. When advances are sought under section 21 of the Act, the applicant shall send to the Commissioner an application in the prescribed form, and shall make the prescribed declaration.

Fee.

39. All applications shall be accompanied by a post-office order for the sum of three pounds, in favour of the Commissioner, or by a deposit slip for the sum of three pounds paid to the credit of the Commissioner in the nearest branch of the Bank (Bank Pass Book No. P.5597), or by cash remittance for the sum of three pounds, to cover the expenses of inspection and valuation, and the sum so paid shall become the absolute property of the Commissioner whether the required advance, or any part thereof, is made or not, provided a valuation has been effected. If any application after report and valuation is declined by the Commissioner, half the fee paid shall be refunded to the applicant.

Improvements.

40. The following works shall be improvements prescribed for the purposes of this Part:—

Clearing,
Breaking up,
Ringbarking,
Fencing,
Draining,
Bores,
Wells,
Dams and reservoirs,
Buildings,
Machinery, if a fixture,
Cattle-dips,
Stockyards,
Water conservation,
Sowing with Rhodes grass or other approved grass.

Collateral Security.

42. It shall be lawful for the Commissioner to take collateral security—

(a) By way of mortgage over sheep, cattle, horses, and other live stock;

(b) By way of bill of sale over chattels, whether then belonging to or about to be acquired by the mortgagor or his or her surety;

(c) By way of lien on wool not shorn; and

(d) By way of lien on growing crops of all kinds; and generally by way of any form of security, accompanied or unaccompanied by bond or guarantee, with or without surety. Any such security shall be given by the mortgagor or any surety in the discretion of the Commissioner.

Advances.

43. On completion of the securities, the advance may be paid in one sum, or by instalments, as may be directed by the Commissioner.

Minors.

44. The Commissioner may, upon such security as he deems to be sufficient for the purpose, make an advance or advances under this Part to any person who is a minor.

45. If any person is desirous of obtaining an advance under section 22 of the Act, he shall make application to the Commissioner in the prescribed form. Every applicant shall make the prescribed declaration; and if such applicant is married, the wife or husband, as the case may be, of such applicant shall also make the prescribed declaration.

Plan and Specification.

46. A plan and specification of the dwelling-house proposed to be erected upon the said land, or of the proposed enlargement or improvement of such dwelling-house, as the case may be, shall be lodged with such application.

Fee.

47. The applicant shall forward with the application a fee of three pounds, and such fee shall become the absolute property of the Commissioner whether the required advance, or any part thereof, is made or not, provided a valuation has been effected. If any application after report and valuation is declined by the Commissioner, half the fee paid shall be refunded to the applicant.

SAVINGS BANK ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 17, 19 Dec., 1916.

Time for payment of interest and instalments.

50. The interest referred to in the second paragraph of section 28 of the Schedule to the Act shall be payable in six equal instalments on the first day of each month of the six months next after the month in which the advance or any instalment thereof is made.

The monthly instalments referred to in the fifth paragraph of the said section shall be paid on the first day of each month of each year.

Pass-books.

51. Each borrower under this Part shall be furnished with a pass-book containing a copy of such of the sections of the Act and such of these Regulations as the Commissioner may direct. The borrower when making any payment shall produce such pass-book to the officer authorised in that behalf, and particulars of payments shall be duly entered therein. On the first day of July in each year such pass-book shall be forwarded to the Bank in order that the same may be examined and compared with the books of the Bank.

Any borrower who loses his pass-book shall give immediate notice to the Bank, and on payment of one shilling a new pass-book shall be supplied to him.

PART V.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Postage.

52. All letters or communications addressed to the Bank must be stamped in accordance with the usual postage rates.

Security.

54. If an application for an advance is granted by the Commissioner, the applicant shall, before the amount is advanced to him, execute a mortgage or such other security as the Commissioner may require. The mortgage of any land which is subject to the Real Property Acts shall be in the prescribed form, or in such other form as may in any particular instance be required by the Commissioner. In all other cases the mortgage shall be in such form as the Commissioner shall require or as may be prescribed.

Deeds, &c., to be produced.

56. The applicant for any such advance shall, free of charge, produce, or cause to be produced, to the Commissioner, or any person authorised by him in that behalf, all deeds, instruments of title, plans, records, and other documents relating to the securities offered as aforesaid as the Commissioner or the person so authorised may require.

Costs.

57. The applicant for any such advance shall pay to the Commissioner all reasonable costs and expenses relating to the investigation of his title, and all charges and outlays in connection with perfecting and registering his securities.

Lapse of application.

58. If an application for an advance is accepted, either wholly or in part, and the applicant fails to produce his securities for registration within a period of six months from the date of the approval by the Commissioner, such application may, in the discretion of the Commissioner, be cancelled, and the Commissioner shall not be under any obligation to refund any part of the inspection fee.

Insurance.

59. Every borrower under Parts III. and IV. of these Regulations shall, in respect of any property mortgaged by him to the Commissioner, effect, with the State Government Insurance Office, insurances against fire, and renewals thereof, in such amounts and for such periods as the Commissioner may from time to time direct. When a dwelling-house or other building or insurable property is in course of erection, the insurance thereof shall be effected by the borrower at such time and in such amount as the Commissioner directs.

Prescribed notice under section 30, subsection 2.

59 (A). The notice of the intention of the Commissioner to offer land for sale at public auction, under subsection 2 of section 30 of the Schedule to the Act, shall be publicly advertised in at least one newspaper circulating in the locality where the land is situated once at least in each of three successive weeks, and such advertisement shall state a day and time, not less than one month from the date of the first of such advertisements, when, and the place where, such land will be offered at public auction, and the land shall be offered at public auction at such time and place accordingly.

Right of entry.

60. The Commissioner, or any inspector or other person authorised by the Commissioner, shall have the right at all reasonable times to inspect each holding and improvements thereon or any land and dwelling-house erected thereon or in course of erection by means of an advance under the Act, and view the condition and state of repairs thereof.

MONEY LENDERS ACT.

7 Geo. V., No. 13, 18 Dec., 1916.

3. "Interest" includes discount, premiums, bonus, commission, deduction, fine, penalty, renewal charge, fees, costs, charges, and expenses, whether preliminary or otherwise, or any money or money's worth or any other consideration whatever, and whether the same is charged, paid, given, or allowed directly or indirectly for or in connection with the loan or transaction itself or any application, valuation, or security therefor: the term does not include any commission paid by the borrower (or, in the case of a hire-purchase transaction, the lessee) to any third person, nor any costs or fees paid either by the lender or the borrower (or lessee in the case aforesaid) to any solicitor or valuator, nor any fees paid out of pocket by the lender (or lessor in the case aforesaid) where no solicitor acts for him, provided that the lender (or lessor) does not participate or have any interest in any such commission, costs, or fees.

"Loan" includes advance, discount, money paid for or on account of or on behalf of or at the request of any person, or the forbearance to require payment of money owing on any account whatsoever; the term includes every contract (whatever its terms or form may be) which is in substance or effect a loan of money, and also a contract to secure the repayment of such loan; and the expressions "lend" and "lender" shall be construed accordingly.

"Money-lender" includes every person whose business is that of money-lending, or who advertises or announces himself or holds himself out in any way as carrying on that business, or who lends money at a rate of interest exceeding twelve pounds per centum per annum: the term does not include—

(a) Any pawnbroker in respect of business carried on by him in accordance with the laws for the time being in force in relation to pawnbrokers; or

(b) Any society registered under the laws relating to Friendly Societies or Building Societies; or

(c) Any body corporate incorporated or empowered by a special Act of Parliament to lend money in accordance with such special Act; or

(d) Any person or body corporate bonâ fide carrying on the business of banking or insurance, or bonâ fide carrying on any business not having for any of its objects the lending of money, in the course of which and for the purposes whereof he or it lends money at a rate of interest not exceeding twelve pounds per centum per annum; or

(e) Any body corporate for the time being exempted from registration under this Act by order of the Governor in Council published in the Gazette; or

(f) Any trustee within the meaning of "The Trustees and Executors Acts, 1897 to 1906" under any will or under a bonâ fide marriage or family settlement, or the solicitor of any such trustee, bonâ fide lending trust funds in accordance with the provisions of his trust at a rate of interest not exceeding twelve pounds per centum per annum.

4. (1.) Where proceedings are taken in any court by a money-lender (or by the assignee of or transferee of or holder of a debt or security in respect of a loan by a money-lender) for the recovery of any money lent after the commencement of this Act, or the enforcement of any agreement or security made or taken after the commencement of this Act in respect of money lent either before or after the commencement of this Act, and there is evidence which satisfies the court that—

(a) The interest charged in respect of the sum actually lent is excessive; or

(b) The amounts charged for expenses, inquiries, fines, bonus, premiums, renewals, or any other charges are excessive; or

(c) The transaction is harsh and unconscionable, or is such that a court of equity would give relief,

MONEY LENDERS ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 13, 18 Dec., 1916.

the court may—

(i.) Reopen the transaction and take an account between the plaintiff and the defendant; and

(ii.) Notwithstanding any statement or settlement of account or any agreement purporting to close previous dealings and create a new obligation, reopen any account in connection with the transaction; and

(iii.) Relieve the defendant from payment of any sum in excess of the sum adjudged by the court to be fairly due in respect of such principal, interest, and charges as the court, having regard to the risk, the value of the security, the time of repayment, and all the other circumstances, may adjudge to be reasonable; and

(iv.) If any such excess has been paid or allowed in account by the borrower or defendant, order the plaintiff to repay it; and

(v.) Set aside either wholly or in part, or revise or alter, any security given or agreement made in connection with the transaction; and

(vi.) If the security has been parted with or the debt has been assigned, order the plaintiff to indemnify the borrower or defendant.

5. (1.) When by any instrument it is expressed that any person lets any chattels to any other person at a rent to be paid by instalments upon the terms that the property in such chattels shall pass to such other person upon payment of the instalments but not otherwise, and proceedings are taken in any court in respect of any matter arising out of such transaction, the court, if satisfied by evidence that—

(a) The amount charged by such instalments (and in especial, whether directly or indirectly, in respect of interest on the purchase money outstanding) is excessive; or

(b) The amounts charged for expenses, inquiries, fines, bonus, premium, or any other charges are excessive; or

(c) The transaction is harsh and unconscionable, or is such that a court of equity would give relief, may—

(i.) Reopen the transaction and take an account between the parties thereto; and

(ii.) Notwithstanding any statement or settlement of account or any agreement purporting to close previous dealings and create a new obligation, reopen any account in connection with the transaction; and

(iii.) Relieve the lessee from payment of any sum in excess of the sum adjudged by the court to be fairly payable in respect of purchase money, interest, and charges as the court, having regard to the risk, the value of the chattels, the time of payment, and all the other circumstances, may adjudge to be reasonable; and

(iv.) If any such excess has been paid or allowed in account by the lessee, order the lessor to repay it; and

(v.) Set aside either wholly or in part, or revise or alter, any agreement made in connection with the transaction.

6. (1.) A money-lender as defined by this Act shall—

(a) Register himself as a money-lender in accordance with this Act, under his own and usual trade name (if any) and in no other name, and with the address, or all the addresses if more than one, at which he carries on his business of money-lender; and

(b) Carry on the money-lending business in his registered name and in no other name and under no other description, and at his registered address or addresses and at no other address; and

(c) Not enter into any agreement in the course of his business as a money-lender with respect to the advance and repayment of money, or take any security for money in the course of his business as a money-lender, otherwise than in his registered name; and

(d) On reasonable request and on tender of a reasonable sum for expenses, furnish the borrower with a copy of any document relating to the loan or any security therefor; and

(e) When selling, assigning, transferring, or assuring any debt, promissory note, bill of exchange, chose in action, or security taken or received by him in his business as a money-lender, give to the purchaser, assignee, or transferee full particulars in writing of the transaction in connection with the same:

Provided that no person shall be registered as a money-lender under any name including the word "bank" or under any name implying that he carries on banking business.

(2.) The registration of a money-lender shall cease to have effect at the expiration of three years from the date of the registration, but may be renewed from time to time, and if renewed shall have effect for three years from the date of the renewal.

(4.) If a money-lender—

(a) Fails to register himself as prescribed; or

(b) Carries on business otherwise than in his registered name or in more than one name, or elsewhere than at his registered address; or

(c) Fails to comply with any other requirements of this Act; or

(d) In the course of carrying on the money-lending business issues or publishes, or causes to be issued or published, any circular, notice, advertisement, letter, account, or statement of any kind containing expressions which might reasonably be held to imply that he carries on banking business, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds, and in the case of a second or subsequent conviction to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any period not exceeding three months, or to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds, or to both: Provided that, if the offender is a body corporate, that body corporate shall be liable on a second or subsequent conviction to a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds.

(5.) A prosecution under this section shall not be instituted except with the consent of the Attorney-General.

7. Any money-lender or any manager, agent, or clerk of a money-lender, or any person being a director, manager, or any other officer of any corporation carrying on the business of a money-lender, who by any false, misleading, or deceptive statement, representation, or promise or by any dishonest concealment of material facts, induces or attempts to induce any person to borrow money or to agree to the terms on which money is or is to be borrowed, shall be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding one year, or to a penalty not exceeding five hundred pounds, or to both penalty and imprisonment.

8. (1.) Any person who, for the purpose of earning interest, commission, reward, or other profit, sends or causes to be sent to a person who is an infant any circular, notice, advertisement, letter, telegram, or other document which invites, or may reasonably be implied to invite, the person receiving it to borrow money, or to enter into any transaction involving the borrowing of money, or to apply to any person or at any place with a view to obtaining information or advice as to borrowing money, shall be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding six months, or to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds, or to both imprisonment and penalty.

(2.) If any such document as in this section mentioned sent to an infant purports to issue from any address named therein, or indicates any address as the place at which application is to be made as to the subject-matter of the document, and at that place there is carried on any business connected with loans, whether making or procuring loans or otherwise, every person who attends at such place for the purpose of taking part in, or who takes part in or assists in the carrying on of, such business shall be deemed to have sent or caused to be sent such document, unless he proves that he was not in any way a party to and was wholly ignorant of the sending of such document.

(3.) Where in any proceedings under this section it is proved that the person to whom the document was sent was an infant, the person charged shall be deemed to have known that the person to whom the document was sent was an infant, unless he proves that he had reasonable ground for believing the infant to be of full age.

9. Any person who, except under the authority of any court, solicits an infant to make an affidavit or statutory declaration for the purpose of or in connection with any loan, shall be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months, or to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds, or to both imprisonment and penalty.

10. If any infant, who has contracted a loan which is void or voidable in law, agrees after he comes of age to pay any money which in whole or in part represents or is agreed to be paid in respect of any such loan and is not a new advance, such agreement and any instrument negotiable or other, given in pursuance of or for carrying into effect such agreement or otherwise in relation to the payment of money representing or in respect of such loan shall, so far as it relates to money which represents or is payable in respect of such loan, and is not a new advance, be void absolutely as against all persons whomsoever.

7 Geo. V., No. 13, 18 Dec., 1916.

11. (1.) No assignment to a money-lender, whether absolute or by way of security or otherwise howsoever made, after the commencement of this Act, by any person (hereinafter called the grantor) of or in respect of all or any part of his right title or interest whether actual or expectant, in possession remainder reversion or contingency, or of any nature whatsoever, in or under any will, codicil, or deed or in under or to the estate of any deceased person, whether the decease of such last-mentioned person was before or after the making of such assignment or before or after the commencement of this Act, shall be of any force or validity at law or in equity unless the assignment is in writing and was executed by the grantor in the presence of a police magistrate or registrar of a district court, or clerk of petty sessions, or solicitor instructed and employed independently of the money-lender, and is certified by the police magistrate, or registrar, or clerk of petty sessions, or solicitor, as next hereinafter provided.

(2.) The police magistrate, or registrar, or clerk of petty sessions, or solicitor—

(a) Shall read over and explain, or cause to be read over and explained in his presence, to the grantor the said assignment; and

(b) Shall examine the grantor touching his knowledge of the assignment; and

(c) If he thinks fit may so examine him separately and apart from any other person; and

(d) If he is satisfied that the grantor understands the true purport and effect thereof and freely and voluntarily executes the same, shall certify in writing upon the assignment that such assignment has been so read over and explained, and that he has examined the grantor and is satisfied as hereinbefore required, and that the grantor has executed the assignment in his presence.

(5.) In this section—

"Assignment" means any assignment, assurance, sale, mortgage, lien, charge, conveyance, transfer, or declaration of trust, and any contract, agreement, or arrangement for assignment, assurance, sale, mortgate, lien, charge, conveyance, transfer, or declaration of trust, and any power of attorney, appointment of agency, license, or power to receive, or other authority of a like nature;

"Deed" means any instrument (other than a will or codicil), whether under seal or not, whereby any property is settled, appointed, given, or declared to be held in trust, or is agreed to be settled, appointed, given, or held in trust.

12. (1). Whenever by the terms of any contract in writing entered into after the commencement of this Act (whether under seal or not), any interest is made payable at a rate or percentage per day, week, or month, or at any rate or percentage for any period less than a year, no interest exceeding the rate or percentage of twelve pounds per centum per annum shall be chargeable, payable, recoverable, or enforceable on any part of the principal money unless the contract contains an express statement of the total amount of interest paid or to be paid, or of the yearly rate or percentage of interest to which such other rate or percentage is equivalent.

(2.) If any sum is paid on account of any interest not chargeable, payable, recoverable, or enforceable by reason of the last preceding subsection, such sum may be recovered back or deducted from any principal or interest payable under such contract, notwithstanding any contract to the contrary.

13. (1.) Where money is or has been lent at a rate of interest exceeding twelve pounds per centum per annum, every document executed after the commencement of this Act by the borrower or a surety to evidence the contract of loan or suretyship shall be executed in duplicate, and one of such duplicates shall at the time of execution be delivered by the lender to the borrower or surety, or there shall then be delivered to the borrower or surety a memorandum setting out particulars of all the essential parts of the transaction.

(2.) If a lender does not comply with the foregoing provision, the contract, if made for the payment of a higher rate of interest than twelve pounds per centum per annum, shall to the extent of the excess be absolutely void: Provided that nothing in this subsection contained shall prejudice or affect the right which any person would otherwise have as assignee or transferee of any contract if he proves that he became such assignee or transferee in good faith and for valuable consideration, and without knowledge or notice of any contravention of this section, but the lender shall indemnify the borrower or surety against the payment of any higher rate of interest than twelve pounds per centum per annum in respect of the contract.

(3.) Nothing in this section applies to negotiable instruments.

14. (1.) For procuring, negotiating, or obtaining any loan after the commencement of this Act, or for guaranteeing or securing the repayment of any loan after the commencement of this Act, it shall not be lawful for any person to charge, recover, or receive more than five per centum on the amount of the principal sum actually lent.

Such percentage shall include all fees, costs, charges, and expenses of any kind whatsoever for or in connection with or preliminary to the procuring, negotiating, or obtaining the loan or the guaranteeing or securing the repayment thereof, but shall not include any costs or fees paid either by the lender or the borrower to any solicitor or valuator, nor any fees paid out of pocket by the lender where no solicitor acts for him, provided that the lender does not participate or have any interest in any such commission, costs, or fees.

(2.) It shall not be lawful for the lender or his partner, employer, employee, principal, or agent, or any person acting for or in collusion with the lender, to charge, recover, or receive any remuneration or reward whatsoever for or in connection with or preliminary to the procuring, negotiating, or obtaining any loan after the commencement of this Act, or the guaranteeing or securing the repayment thereof.

(3.) If any money or money's worth is directly or indirectly paid or allowed to or received by any person in contravention of this section, the amount or the value thereof may, to the extent of such contravention and notwithstanding any contract to the contrary, be recovered by the borrower from such person, or if such person is a partner, employer, employee, principal, or agent of the lender, or is in any way acting for or in collusion with him, then either from such person or from the lender.

15. (1.) All loans purporting to be loans of money shall be made in current money, bank notes, or cheques on bankers, and shall be made in full without any deduction for interest or otherwise.

No land, goods, or articles of any kind whatever or things in action shall be given or supplied in or by way of barter or otherwise for or as part of any such loan.

This subsection shall not be construed to prevent a money-lender deducting from any loan of money all such fees, costs, charges, and expenses of any kind whatsoever as may be lawfully charged pursuant to this Act, except interest.

(2.) Every contract made or transaction entered into or performed in breach of or with intent to evade or avoid this section in respect of a loan after the commencement of this Act shall, to the extent of such breach, evasion, or avoidance, be absolutely void.

(3.) This section does not apply to deductions for the current rate of discount on bills of exchange or promissory notes discounted, and having when discounted an unexpired currency of not more than twelve months.

16. Any person, whether on his own behalf or as agent for another, who, by any letter or written communication demanding or requesting payment of any debt or alleged debt by any person, makes upon such person any claim or charge as or by way of payment, fee, recompense, costs, expenses, or otherwise, for or in relation to such demand or request over and above the actual debt or alleged debt, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

Regulations "Government Gazette" 26 Jan., 1917.

7. Any person upon payment of the prescribed fee may inspect the register of money-lenders.

8. The fees payable under the Act shall be as follows:—

	£	s.	d.
For every registration or renewal thereof ..	1	0	0
For every duplicate certificate of registration	0	5	0
For every inspection of register (one name) ..	0	1	0

GAS ACT.

7 Geo. V., No. 11, 13 Dec., 1916.

3. " Gas company " or " company "—Any company, corporation, firm, or person supplying coal gas for lighting, heating, motive power, or other purpose, and disposing of the same for profit: the term includes a Local Authority;

4. This Act applies to all gas companies which at the commencement of this Act supply gas or may at any time thereafter supply gas.

6. (2.) A gas examiner shall, on the day immediately following that on which the testing has been conducted, make and deliver a report to be filed in the office of the Minister of the results of his testing, and deliver a copy of such report to the gas company.

(3.) Every company and its officers and servants shall give to a gas examiner and to his assistants access to the testing-place, and shall afford all facilities for the proper execution of this Act.

If any company or any such officer or servant fails to comply with this section, it or he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

7. (1.) If on any day the heating power of the gas supplied by any company at any testing place is of less heating power than is prescribed, the company shall be liable to penalties as follows:—

If the deficiency does not exceed fourteen British thermal units, a sum not exceeding two pounds;

If the deficiency exceeds fourteen British thermal units, but does not amount to twenty-eight British thermal units, a sum not exceeding five pounds;

For each complete twenty-eight British thermal units, a sum not exceeding ten pounds.

(2.) If on any day the gas supplied by any company at any testing-place is of less purity than is prescribed, the company shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for each occasion on which it is so in default.

(3.) Provided that—

(a) Where one penalty is imposed in respect of defective heating power or excess of impurity in the gas supplied by the company at one testing-place on any day, no further penalty shall be imposed in respect of the same offence discovered at any other testing-place of the company on the same day;

(b) The average of any three testings made on any three days within any period of six months shall be deemed to represent the heating power of such gas on the third day at such testing-place.

(4.) If at any time the gas supplied by any company is supplied at a pressure less than is prescribed, the company shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds:

Provided that, where a penalty is imposed in respect of insufficiency of pressure in the gas supplied by the company during any period of twenty-four hours, no further penalty shall be imposed in respect of insufficiency of pressure in the gas supplied by the company during the same period.

(5.) No penalty shall be incurred by a company for defect of heating power, or excess of impurity, or insufficiency of pressure in the gas supplied by the company in any case in respect of which it is proved that such defect or excess or insufficiency was produced by any circumstance beyond the control of the company.

9. (1.) A gas company shall, upon being required so to do by the owner or occupier of any premises situated within twenty-five yards from any main of such company, give and continue to give a supply of gas for such premises, and furnish and lay any pipe that may be necessary for such purpose:

Provided that on ordinary application the cost of so much of any service pipe for the supply of gas to any owner or occupier as is laid upon the property of such owner or in the possession of such occupier, and of so much of any such pipe as is laid for a greater distance than sixty-six feet from any pipe of the company although not on such property, shall be defrayed by such owner or occupier.

(2.) Every owner or occupier of premises entitled to and requiring a supply of gas by meter shall serve a notice upon the company at the office, specifying the premises in respect of which such supply is required, and the day (not being an earlier day than a reasonable time after the date of the service of such notice) upon which the supply is required to commence, and shall, if required by such company so to do (when such notice is considered by the company as special or as an application for extension of main), enter into a written contract (and subject to transfer of contract if required) with such company to continue to receive and pay for a supply of gas for a period of at least twelve months thereafter, and shall give to the company, if required by it to do so, security for the payment to it of all moneys which may become due by such owner or occupier in respect of such supply of gas as may be registered by meter, and of any pipe to be laid upon the property of such owner or in the possession of such occupier:

Provided—

(i.) That the company may discontinue to supply gas and may remove the meter and fittings, the property of the company, in the event of damage or injury to the meter or fittings or of the customer neglecting or refusing to pay the charge for gas supplied or for hire or rent of meter;

(ii.) That the company allow interest at the rate of five pounds per centum per annum on sums deposited by way of security for every six months during which the same remain in their hands, such interest to be deducted from the amount due for gas on the thirty-first day of March and the thirtieth day of September in each year.

Whenever the company wilfully neglects or refuses to give a supply of gas to any owner or occupier of premises entitled to the same under such pressure as is prescribed, it shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings for each day during which such default continues.

Nothing herein shall be construed to deprive a company of any remedy it may have under any other Act for securing the due payment of gas supplied by it to consumers:

Provided also that the company shall not be compelled to give a supply of gas to any premises unless the fittings therein are installed in accordance with regulations issued by the company and approved by the Minister.

10. Any twenty occupiers or owners of premises situated in a defined locality within the limits wherein which a company is authorised to supply gas may address a memorial in the prescribed form to the Minister setting forth that the said premises are not supplied with gas, and could conveniently be so supplied and ought reasonably to be so supplied by such company, and undertaking to become consumers of gas for a period of at least twelve months thereafter upon its being so supplied.

Thereupon the Minister may refer such memorial to a gas referee appointed under this Act; and such gas referee shall hear and determine the matter accordingly:

Provided that the return by gross sales of gas from such extension or supply of gas shall not be less than twenty pounds per centum per annum on the outlay incurred by the company in making such extension or giving such supply, the gas referee may determine that the memorial should be given effect to, whether in whole or in part, and may then order the company, within a time to be fixed by him, to lay such mains and pipes and to do all such other works and things as are required for the purpose of supplying gas to the premises within a locality to be defined by him; and the company shall obey such order.

If within such time fixed as aforesaid the company has not conformed to such order as aforesaid, the Minister may conform to the same, and for such purpose shall be deemed to be the irrevocable attorney and agent of the company; and all expenses incurred by the Minister in so doing shall be repaid to him by the company. A certificate under the hand of the Minister certifying the amount of such expenses may be filed in the office of the Registrar of the Supreme Court, and thereupon shall be deemed to be a judgment of that Court and be enforceable against the company accordingly.

11. No meter shall be issued for the use of a consumer by a company until it has been first tested and stamped by a gas examiner in accordance with the regulations.

Within twelve months, or such further time as the Minister deems necessary, after the commencement of this Act every meter in use on the premises of any consumer at the commencement of this Act shall be so tested, and, if found accurate, stamped.

All meters issued by a company and in use shall be again tested, and, if found accurate, restamped at intervals of not more than seven years.

All meters which, after testing, are found to be inaccurate shall be removed at the expense of the company.

12. Subject to this Act, and notwithstanding anything contained in any Act or any memorandum or articles of association, the price to be charged by a company for gas supplied by it to consumers by meter shall, subject to revision as hereinafter provided, be at the rate following per one thousand cubic feet of gas, that is to say:—

GAS ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 11, 13 Dec., 1916.

(i.) By a company now carrying on business at the rate charged by such company on the first day of November, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, until the rate has been fixed in the manner hereinafter provided, and thereafter at that rate;

(ii.) By any other company at the rate fixed prior to the company starting to supply gas.

13. In order to ensure that the price of gas payable by consumers shall be fair and reasonable to the consumers and to the company supplying the same, the following provisions shall be in force:—

(i.) The Minister of his own motion, or any company or fifty consumers of gas may, by application to the Minister, require that the question of the price of gas payable by consumers to such company shall be referred to a gas referee for hearing and determination, and the same shall be referred accordingly:

Provided that after the first reference no further reference shall be made within a shorter period than two years of the last preceding reference.

(ii.) The Minister shall, within six months after the commencement of this Act, require such reference to be made with respect to the price of gas to be chargeable by any gas company.

(iii.) Forthwith upon any such reference being made such gas referee shall proceed to hear and determine the matter of the reference, and shall accordingly fix the price of gas to be thereafter chargeable to consumers by the company concerned;

(iv.) When the price of gas has been fixed upon a reference in accordance with this section, that price shall remain unaltered for a period of two years and thereafter unless or until the price is again fixed by a further reference as herein provided, and so on from time to time;

(v.) If the Minister or any party to the reference is dissatisfied with the price determined by the gas referee, he shall have the right to appeal to a judge of the Court having jurisdiction in industrial matters, and such judge shall thereupon have jurisdiction to hear and determine such appeal, and his decision shall be final and without appeal. Such appeal to such judge shall be by way of rehearing. Upon such appeal such judge shall have all the powers and authorities vested in him as a Court under the laws relating to the jurisdiction of such Court.

(vi.) For the purposes of determining the price of gas, the gas referee, or on appeal such judge, shall be guided by the directions set forth in the Third Schedule to this Act or any amendment of such Schedule in force for the time being.

14. (1.) In addition to the price charged by any company for gas supplied by it, such company may charge, for the hire of any prepayment meter and fittings to be used therewith, a price calculated at a rate not exceeding ten pence per thousand cubic feet of gas supplied, but the sum to be charged for gas and hire together shall not in any case be less than two shillings per month per meter; such charge to include the hire of one meter and the fittings used therewith.

(2.) The said charges shall include the providing, letting, fixing, repairing, and maintenance of the meters and fittings of the meters (as the case may be), and the cost of collection and other costs incurred by the company in connection therewith, except the deposit for rental.

(3.) For the purposes of this section the expression "prepayment meter" means any meter or appliance by which the quantity of gas supplied is regulated according to the amount of money prepaid therefor.

19. The meters and fittings of the company shall not be subject to distress for rent of the building or premises where the same may be used, or to be taken in execution under any process of any court of law or equity against the person in whose possession the same may be, nor be affected by any order for sequestration of the estate of such person or any order respecting his estate having similar effects, nor shall the property in any such meters and fittings pass to any purchaser on any sale or transfer of such buildings or premises.

20. No company shall be subject or liable to any of the penalties or forfeitures inflicted by this Act for any offence against this Act unless an action shall have been brought or information or complaint respecting such offence or offences shall have been laid before some justice of the peace within three calendar months after such offence shall have been committed.

21. The regulations may provide a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for any contravention thereof, and may impose reasonable fees to be paid for any services rendered under this Act.

22. (2.) Any person who acts in violation of this Act shall, unless for such offence a penalty is expressly provided, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

SCHEDULE I.

STANDARDS.

(A)—Of Heating Power.

The quality of gas with respect to its heating value shall be not less than five hundred British thermal units per cubic foot total heating value.

(B)—Of Purity.

Gas shall, when tested in accordance with this Act, contain—
No hydrogen sulphide.
Ammonia—Not more than four grains per one hundred cubic feet.

(C)—Of Pressure.

Gas shall be supplied at such pressure as to balance a column of water not less than fifteen-tenths of an inch in height.

3. The price chargeable per one thousand cubic feet of gas shall be subject to a discount allowance of ten per centum to consumers paying their accounts within twenty-one days of the date of the account, but not otherwise:

Provided further that, in the event of the consumption per month being less than that shown in the following scale, rent be charged for ordinary meter in addition to the amount payable for gas supplied, at the undermentioned rate:—

Regulations "Government Gazette," 30 March, 1917.

3. The only legal standard or unit of measure for the sale of gas by meter shall be the cubic foot containing 62.321 pounds avoirdupois weight of distilled or rain water weighed in air at the temperature of sixty-two (62) degrees Fahrenheit's thermometer, the barometer being at thirty inches.

4. No meter duly stamped under the authority of the Act shall be liable to be restamped, although the same be used in any other place than that at which the same was originally stamped, but shall be considered a legal meter throughout Queensland, unless found to be incorrect within the meaning of the Act.

5. Any Gas Examiner who stamps any meter without duly testing and finding the same to be correct, or within a reasonable time after being required so to do refuses or neglects, without lawful excuse, to test or to stamp any meter, or is guilty of any breach of any duty imposed upon him by these Regulations, shall be guilty of an offence and be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds for every such offence.

6. No meter shall be stamped which shall be found by the Gas Examiner to register, or be capable of being made by any contrivance for that purpose, or by increase or decrease of the water in such meter, or by any other means practically prevented in good meters, to register quantities varying from the true standard measure of gas more than two per centum in favour of the seller or three per centum in favour of the consumer; and every meter, whether stamped or unstamped, which shall be found by such Gas Examiner to register, or be capable of being made to register, quantities varying beyond the limits aforesaid, shall be deemed incorrect; and every meter which shall be found by such Gas Examiner to register quantities accurately, or not varying beyond the limits aforesaid, and shall be found incapable by any such means as aforesaid of being made to register quantities varying beyond the limits aforesaid, shall be considered to be correct, and be stamped as aforesaid in such manner as shall in the opinion of the Gas Examiner best prevent fraud. Provided always that every meter having a measuring capacity at one revolution or complete action of the meter of not less than five cubic feet and having permanently marked upon it in some conspicuous place the words "without float" shall be stamped by the Gas Examiner if found correct in all other respects except that it is capable of being made by the abstraction of water to register incorrectly against the seller of gas; but it shall not be lawful to use in the sale of gas any such meter, when so stamped by the Gas Examiner, except by written agreement between the buyer and seller specifying that this description of meter shall be used. Meters marked "without float" of a measuring capacity of less than five cubic feet may be stamped at the discretion of the Gas Examiner for special purposes.

7 Geo. V., No. 11, 13 Dec., 1916.

7. First, the meter shall be tested for soundness or leakage only, and not for the percentage of error, when fixed on a horizontal base, and with gas under a pressure equal to a column of water not less than three inches high, with a light or lights consuming not more than one-twentieth part of its measuring capacity per hour marked thereon, nor less than one-half of a cubic foot per hour, for all meters of a measuring capacity not exceeding one hundred cubic feet per hour, and not more than one-fortieth part of its said measuring capacity per hour for all meters of any greater measuring capacity per hour than one hundred cubic feet; and all meters found to work under such test shall be deemed sound meters, and any meter found not to work under such test shall not be stamped. The meter to be tested for percentage of error shall be fixed on a horizontal base, and shall be tested at a pressure equal to a column of water five-tenths of an inch high, and passing the quantity of gas or atmospheric air per hour which shall be marked thereon as its measuring capacity per hour; and the water used in the testing, and the air of the room in which such testing shall be made, shall be as closely as is practicable of the same temperature as the gas or air passed through the meter. The meter shall also be tested at a pressure equal to a column of water four inches high for reduction of pressure at the outlet, and any such meter which shows a reduction of pressure of more than five-tenths of an inch of water, when passing the quantity of gas or atmospheric air per hour, which shall be marked thereon as its measuring capacity per hour, shall be deemed incorrect and shall not be stamped.

8. No person or persons shall make, or forge, or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be made, except as by order of the Minister, or to be forged or counterfeited, any stamp or mark which may be hereafter used for the stamping or marking of any meter. No person shall knowingly sell, utter, or dispose of, let, lend, or expose for sale, any meter with such forged stamp or mark thereon, and all meters with such forged or counterfeited stamps thereon shall be forfeited and destroyed.

9. No person shall knowingly repair or alter, or knowingly cause to be repaired or altered, or knowingly tamper with, or do any other act in relation to any stamped meter, so as to cause such meter to register unjustly or fraudulently, or shall prevent or refuse to allow lawful access to any meter in his possession or control or the supply of water thereto, or shall obstruct or hinder any examination or testing authorised by the Act of any such meter.

10. Every person who shall after the times fixed by the Act knowingly use any meter which has not been tested and stamped, shall be guilty of an offence and be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds, and any contract, bargain, or sale made by any such meter shall be void, and every such meter so used on being discovered by any Gas Examiner shall be seized and forfeited, or destroyed.

14. The fees for the examination, comparison, and testing, with or without the stamping of meters, shall be as follows:—

15. Any Gas Examiner may, at the request and expense of any buyer or seller of gas, who shall have given seven days notice in writing to the other party to the contract, at all reasonable times enter any house, or shop, store, warehouse, factory, yard, or place whatsoever where any meter, whether stamped or unstamped, shall be fixed or used, and examine and test the same, and, if necessary for such purpose, remove such meter, doing as little damage thereby as may be, and if upon such examination and testing it shall appear that any such meter is incorrect within the meaning of the Act, or fraudulent, the same shall not be refixed or used again unless and until altered and repaired so as to measure and register correctly, and stamped; and the fees on such removal, examination, and testing of meter shall be two pounds, in addition to the fees hereinbefore made payable for testing and stamping, and unless the examiner shall certify to the Minister that the case is one in respect of which such additional fee should not be charged, the fee so charged shall be payable forthwith by the buyer or seller of gas as the Minister shall determine.

16. When a meter has been tested and found incorrect, the seal of such meter, if stamped, shall be obliterated, and a label shall be firmly attached with some adhesive substance bearing the words "Incorrect; not to be fixed." A certificate shall, upon request therefor made in writing, be issued with each meter tested, showing the full details of the tests made, with the percentage of error (if any) in favour of the buyer or seller, and any other causes which may render the meter incorrect within the meaning of these Regulations. The fee for such certificate shall be sixpence per meter.

17. When any consumer of gas disputes the registration of a meter, and either the consumer or the Gas Company has required the Gas Examiner to test the said meter, the Gas Examiner shall forward to each party a certificate of such testing, and if such meter be found to register correctly or in favour of the consumer, the said consumer shall pay the cost of testing the meter and all expenses incidental thereto, and if the meter be found to register in favour of the company, the company shall pay all such costs and expenses. Provided that any consumer who wishes the meter used by him to be tested by the Gas Examiner, except as set forth in the Regulation No. 15 hereof, shall forward a written request to the Gas Company and such company shall forward a copy of the same to the Gas Examiner within twenty-four hours of its receipt.

18. In the event of any meter used by a consumer of gas being tested in manner provided by these Regulations, and being proved to register erroneously, such erroneous registration shall be deemed to have first arisen during the last preceding quarter of the year in cases where accounts are rendered quarterly, or the last preceding month of the year where accounts are rendered monthly, unless it be proved to have first arisen during the current quarter or month. The amount of allowance to or subcharge upon the consumer shall forthwith be computed and paid by or to the company, to or by the consumer, as the case may be.

19. When the certificate of testing shows that a meter used by a consumer passes gas without registration, the gas company may estimate the consumption of gas for the usual quarter or month preceding the date of the testing aforesaid, upon the basis of the consumption of gas for the corresponding period of the preceding year or upon some other equitable basis. Provided that the basis upon which such estimate is arrived at shall be clearly shown upon the gas account rendered for such period. Under no other circumstances, except as aforesaid, shall the consumption of gas be estimated, but shall be arrived at by the correct reading of the meter index.

21. When a consumer of gas is unable to obtain a proper service of gas, and has complained in writing to the Gas Company, and such defective supply has not been remedied within seven days of the forwarding of such complaint, such consumer may, upon payment of an inquiry fee of ten shillings, request the Gas Examiner to investigate the cause of such defective supply, and the Gas Examiner shall, if such consumer's premises be less than thirty miles from Brisbane, within seven days of the receipt of such request, and if at a greater distance at the time of his next visit, cause an inquiry to be made, and shall forward a report containing the result of such inquiry to the consumer and the Gas Company, and if the defective supply is found to be due to any circumstance within the remedial control of the Gas Company, the Gas Company shall refund the inquiry fee to the consumer, and, if the defective supply is not remedied within three days of the receipt of such report, the Company shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one pound per day for each day after receipt of a copy of such report from the Gas Examiner until such defect be remedied: Provided that within forty-eight hours after the receipt of any request as aforesaid the Gas Examiner shall forward to the Gas Company a notice in writing of the time of the proposed investigation in order that the Company may if they desire be represented at such investigation.

GAS ACT—continued.

7 Geo. V., No. 11, 13 Dec., 1916.

22. The authority for all charges for gas consumed by prepayment meters shall be the registration of the ordinary gas index of the meter, and, subject to these Regulations, the arrangement for prepayment for gas consumed through such meters shall be regarded as a matter of contract between the consumer of gas and the Gas Company.

23. In all cases where prepayment meters are in use, the collector of coins from such meters shall deliver to the consumer or his representative a receipt for the money collected from the said meter containing the following particulars:—

(a) The amount of gas consumed;
(b) The price charged per thousand cubic feet of gas;
(c) The amount collected from the meter;
(d) The balance in favour of the Gas Company or of the consumer, as the case may be;
(e) Any amount brought forward from the last reading, being the difference between the cost of the gas used at the price specified and the amount of cash found in the meter;
(f) The signature of the collector.

24. The Gas Company shall within twelve months, or such further time as the Minister deems necessary, from the fixing of the price of gas payable by the consumer according to section 13 of the Act, so adjust all prepayment meters as to cause them to give the full amount of gas stipulated, subject only to the difference in respect of rent of meter and fittings permitted to be charged by section 14 of the Act: Provided that, until such adjustment is made, the price charged for gas shall be the price fixed under section 12 of the Act, subject only to the difference permitted to be charged by section 14 of the Act.

28. If obstruction of the service pipe is found, or if there is reason to think that the quality of gas is suffering from any change occurring within the service pipe, the service pipe may be washed out in the presence of or by arrangement with the Gas Examiner, either with hot water alone or with any usual solvent such as benzol, naphtha, or kerosene, but the use of such solvents must be followed by a washing with hot water. In every case where the service is washed out the Gas Company shall send a letter to the Gas Examiner, explaining why the washing out was considered necessary.

38. No person shall remove, injure, or tamper with any apparatus attached by the Gas Examiner or his representatives to any street lamp, consumer's fittings, or elsewhere, for the purpose of the Act or these Regulations.

40. The Gas Examiner shall at all reasonable times have access to the books of the Company containing the record of meters issued, and any Company refusing such access shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

Any person infringing any of these Regulations shall, except where penalties are elsewhere expressly stated, be liable on conviction to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

NATIVE BIRDS PROTECTION ACT.

41 Vic., No. 7, 10 Aug., 1877.

1. The term "Native Bird" shall mean and include all birds mentioned in the list hereunder and such other birds as shall be declared by proclamation.

3. Any person killing or destroying any native bird in the close season (as shown hereunder), or using any instrument, net, or other means for the purpose of killing or destroying any native bird in the close season (as shown hereunder), shall be liable to a penalty of not less than £1 nor more than £5 or imprisonment not exceeding three (3) months.

4. Any person buying, selling, or knowingly having in his possession any native bird shall be liable to a penalty of not less than £1 nor more than £5 for each bird.

5. Any person using a swivel gun or a gun other than fired from the shoulder for the purpose of wounding or killing any native bird shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £10 for the first offence, and not less than £10 nor exceeding £20 for any subsequent offence.

7. Any offender against the Act, not giving his name and address, and not delivering any native bird or any instrument, net, or other means used to kill or destroy any such bird, to any person demanding the same, may be summoned by such person or any constable; and if any offender assaults such person, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £5 in addition to any other penalty incurred and forfeiture of all instruments used.

9. A moiety of every penalty recovered shall be paid the person or persons laying the information.

41 Vic., No. 16, 1 Nov., 1877.

EXEMPTIONS.

Any person or his servant on his behalf killing native birds on his own lands for the (bonâ fide) protection of his own crops, or any aboriginal killing native birds for his own food.

1. Any Crown lands, or any other lands with the consent of the owner or occupier, may be proclaimed as reserves for the protection and preservation of native birds.

2. Notices, legibly written or printed, shall be set up at convenient and conspicuous places, not more than half a mile apart on the boundaries of reserves, indicating the extent of such reserves.

MARGARINE ACT.

1 Geo. V., No. 9, 13 Dec., 1910.

3. "Margarine" includes all substances, whether compound or not, prepared or manufactured from any form of animal fats (other than butter fat or milk) or of animal, mineral, or vegetable oils and capable of being used as a substitute for butter.

6. (1) It is unlawful to prepare or manufacture margarine, except in pursuance of a license granted under this Act.

(2) (b) The license shall continue in force for one year only, but may be renewed from year to year.

(3) For each license or renewal thereof the fee shall be one pound, provided that if the license is granted after the 1st July the fee shall be ten shillings.

7. (2) The license shall continue in force for one year only, but may be renewed from year to year.

(3) The fee for a license to sell margarine or the renewal thereof shall be ten shillings, provided that if the license is granted after 1st July the fee shall be five shillings.

8. (1) Application for a license shall be made to the nearest C.P.S., and be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(2) Any person who in contravention of this Act uses any premises as a factory or sells margarine without holding a subsisting license in that behalf, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds.

9. (1) A manufacturer shall intimately mix with every 1,000 parts of margarine at least one part of the dry starch of Canna Edulis (Queensland Arrowroot) and with every 100 parts of margarine at least 5 parts of Sesame oil (the oil of Sesamum Indicum or Sesamum Orientale) or such other substance as may be approved.

15. Every person who with a fraudulent intention—

(i.) Alters or obliterates, wholly or partially, or causes to be altered or obliterated, an Inspector's mark or any registered factory mark on any margarine which has been inspected or on any package containing such margarine;

(ii.) Counterfeits any such mark, or places on any margarine or package any mark purporting to be the mark of an Inspector or of the manufacturer or packer, either with the proper marking instruments of such Inspector, manufacturer, or packer, or with counterfeit imitations—

(iii.) Empties, or partially empties, any package marked after inspection in order to put into the same any margarine, of the same or any other kind, not contained therein at the time of such inspection;

(iv.) Uses for packing margarine any old package without effacing all previous marks thereon;

Shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds.

16. Every person who, being in the employ of any manufacturer or packer of margarine—

(i.) Hires or lends the marks or marking instruments of his employer to any person;

(ii.) Connives at, or is privy to any fraudulent evasion of this Act with respect to any such marks, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

NOTE.—The amount actually realised bears but a small proportion to the amount sought to be recovered; but it must be borne in mind that in many cases the defendant, on a levy being made, becomes insolvent, and any property seized passes to the Official Trustee for the benefit of the Creditors, and consequently no sale by the Sheriff takes place. Many also of these writs of fieri facias were for large amounts, the suitors holding mortgages over and being in possession of the property seized, and were merely lodged for the purpose of obtaining the Sheriff's title for the conveyance of the interest, the purchase money being nominal.

Table No. XVIII.

RATES OF WAGES IN THE STATE FOR THE SUGAR INDUSTRY AS FIXED BY THE AWARD, DATED 28TH MAY, 1917.

MINIMUM WAGES.

SUGAR FIELD WORKERS.

DISTRICTS.

No. 1 District.—All that portion of the State of Queensland north of the twentieth parallel of south latitude.

No. 2 District.—All that portion of the State of Queensland between the Tropic of Capricorn and the twentieth parallel of south latitude.

No. 3 District.—All that portion of the State of Queensland south of the Tropic of Capricorn.

The following shall apply to Sugar Field Workers:—

WAGES.

1. The rates of wages to be paid to employees shall not be less than the following:—

	No. 1 District. Per hour.		No. 2 District. Per hour.		No. 3 District. Per hour.
	s.	d.	s.	d.	s.	d.
(a) Field Workers over eighteen years of age	1	7	1	6	1	5
(b) Youths from fourteen to sixteen years of age ..	0	9	0	8¾	0	8¼
Youths from sixteen to eighteen years of age	1	0	0	11	0	10
Canecutters (day labour) ..	2	1	2	0	1	11¼

HOURS.

2. The ordinary working hours, both for wages men and pieceworkers, including canecutters, shall not exceed forty-eight in any one week, and shall not exceed eight hours in any one day, and shall be worked, Mondays to Saturdays, inclusive, between 6.30 a.m. and 6.30 p.m.:

Provided that nothing in this award shall preclude wages men and pieceworkers, including canecutters, where mutually agreed upon, from making up the forty-eight hours a week by working eight hours and forty minutes on Mondays to Fridays, inclusive, and four hours and forty minutes on Saturdays; such time to be deemed ordinary working time.

ACCOMMODATION.

3. (a) Every employer shall provide all employees with accommodation free of charge, in conformity with "The Workers' Accommodation Act of 1915." In addition thereto, the employer shall also provide stretchers, mattresses, or substitutes for mattresses, and brooms.

(b) In all cases adequate artificial light for all reasonable domestic purposes shall be provided by the employer.

(c) Where it is found necessary for an employee to camp away from barracks or hut accommodation, all tents and other camping utensils shall be provided by the employer free of charge.

FOOD.

4. (a) On plantations or farms where ten or more men are regularly employed, the employer, if desired by the employees, shall supply all food and rations during the season, which shall be of sufficient quantity, sound, well cooked, and properly served. All food as required shall be served in the dining-room, and where reasonably procurable the goods as mentioned in Schedule B hereto shall be supplied as rations.

Where the employer at such desire of the employees, arranges for the supply of food and rations, such arrangement shall continue during the season, unless and until terminated by a mutual agreement or by one month's notice by the employees.

(b) Where less than ten employees are regularly employed, arrangements for the supply of food and rations shall be mutually agreed upon, subject to the provisions of clauses (c) and (d) hereof.

(c) The value of such food shall be taken to be £1 per week in the No. 1 district, and 19s. per week in No. 2 district, and 18s. per week in the No. 3 district, and no further sum shall be deducted by an employer in respect thereof from the wages prescribed in this award.

(d) No employer shall insist upon an employee taking his remuneration partly in food and [or] accommodation; every employee shall be at liberty to stipulate for the whole of his wages in cash.

(e) No employer shall attempt to prevent his employees forming a mess of their own, nor shall any employer let by contract to any person the victualling of his employees.

SUGAR FIELD WORKERS—continued.

(f) The employer shall, if desired by the employees, provide all uncooked food and rations at reasonable cost.

(g) All cooking and table utensils shall be provided free of charge by the employer, and where cooked food is supplied shall be kept clean by him.

(h) The employer shall provide firewood and a sufficient supply of necessary water.

OVERTIME.

5. (a) All time worked in excess of the ordinary working hours, or before 6.30 a.m. or after 6.30 p.m., shall be calculated and paid for as overtime.

(b) The rate of pay for overtime on week days shall be time and a-half. All work done on Sundays shall be deemed overtime, and paid for at double rates.

(c) All overtime shall be calculated upon and paid for at the gross cash amount of wages.

(d) Horsedrivers' time shall be deemed to commence at the necessary time of entering in the morning and to cease at the necessary time of leaving in the evening the stable yard where his horse or horses are usually stabled.

HOLIDAYS.

6. All work done by any employee on Good Friday, Labour Day, and Christmas Day shall be deemed overtime work, and shall be paid for at double rates. All work done by any employee on the following holidays—namely, New Year's Day, the twenty-sixth of January, the first day of March, the seventeenth day of March, the twenty-third day of April, Easter Monday, the birthday of the Sovereign, the thirtieth day of November, and Boxing Day, or on any day proclaimed to be kept in the place of any such holiday—shall be deemed overtime work, and shall be paid for at the rate of time and a-half.

LOST TIME.

7. When field workers are engaged by the week, no deduction shall be made from their wages for any cause other than their own fault. Where they are engaged by the day, if they have done any work upon any half-day, they shall be paid for the whole of that half-day.

Where a casual hand is kept waiting through wet weather, and at the request of the employer, he shall be provided with food free of charge during such waiting time.

TIME OF PAYMENT.

8. All payments of wages shall be made at least once in each fortnight.

LABOUR AGENTS' FEES.

9. All expenses incurred in engaging labour through labour agents shall be paid by the employer.

AGREEMENTS FOR PIECEWORK OTHER THAN CANECUTTING.

10. Agreements for piecework other than canecutting may be entered into between employers and employees, provided that the remuneration of such employees shall not fall below the rates herein prescribed for day labour. Each employee shall, on application, be supplied with a copy of his agreement free of charge.

CANECUTTERS' AGREEMENTS.

11. (1.) Notwithstanding the rate hereinbefore provided for canecutters' day labour, an employee may contract with his employer to cut cane at piecework rates.

No canecutter shall be employed other than by day labour or at piecework rates.

(2.) The minimum rates which shall be paid by the employer for cutting cane at piecework rates shall be according to the following scale:—

SUGAR FIELD WORKERS—continued.

Burnt or stripped cane, 1s. per ton less than the above rates.

Cane loaded into drays or wagons once only, 6d. per ton less than the above rates.

Cane on unploughed, stony, or loggy ground, 6d. per ton over the above rates.

Standover cane, i.e., cane (other than "plant") over eighteen months since previously harvested, 6d. per ton over the above rates.

Fourth or older than fourth ratoon crops, when not standover, 3d. per ton over the above rates.

Where crops are below 6 tons to the acre, or have been severely damaged by flood or grubs, the remuneration shall not fall below the rate prescribed in this award for canecutting at day labour.

Where the employer lays and lifts all portable tramlines necessary for the harvesting of the cane, not less than 3d. per ton less than the above rates shall be paid, provided that if the canecutters have to carry cane a further distance than one chain on either side of the tramline for the purpose of loading, they shall be paid 3d. per ton for every fifteen feet in excess of one chain. Where the employer lays the first and lifts the last tramlines on each block of cane, he shall not deduct from the moneys due to the canecutters more than 1s. 6d. per chain for the performance of the work.

(3.) Where the agreement is in writing it shall be in the form and in the terms as prescribed in Schedule A, and the employer shall, on application, supply each employee with a copy of his agreement free of charge.

(4.) Where any agreement, whether or not in writing, is entered into for cutting cane at piecework rates, the following conditions shall be deemed to be included in such agreement, and shall be observed by employer and employee:—

(a) All roads shall be cut by the employer.

(b) As a guarantee for the faithful performance of the agreement and all its conditions, the employer may withhold 6d. in respect of each ton of cane cut, and retain the same until the satisfactory completion of the agreement. Such retention money shall not exceed £3 in respect of each employee, and in the event of his failing to complete his agreement, shall, at the termination of the crushing season, be divided amongst the whole of the employees who shall complete their agreements, in proportion to the time worked by each: Provided that, in case of sickness likely to incapacitate an employee from efficiently carrying out his agreement for a period of two weeks or more, such employee, on producing a medical certificate to that effect signed by a duly qualified medical practitioner, shall be paid in full.

(c) The employer shall provide free of charge accommodation, stretchers, bunks, cooking utensils, and tools. The employees shall at the completion of the agreement return in good order and condition the articles provided. The employer shall provide free of charge a reasonable amount of firewood for culinary purposes and necessary water.

(d) In the event of the employees being called upon to erect or shift camp, they shall receive payment at the rate of 2s. per hour per man during such erecting or shifting.

(5.) Where pieceworkers are working in a gang, they shall have the right of selecting the members of their own gangs, and may refuse the admission of any person to the gang.

Payment to Aliens.

12. All persons being aboriginal natives of Asia, Africa, or the islands of the Pacific, or substantially of that origin, who are employed as sugar-field workers in connection with the cultivation of sugar shall be paid the wages due to them by their employer in the presence of an officer of police, clerk of petty sessions, or other officer in that behalf duly authorised and appointed by the Government.

Exception from Masters and Servants Act.

13. So far as relates to the performance of sugar-field work, any person subject to this part of this award shall be excepted from the operations of "The Masters and Servants Act of 1861."

SUGAR FIELD WORKERS—continued.

SCHEDULE A.

Memorandum of Agreement . . . .

* * * * * *

2. The employees agree to cut all sugar-cane clean and close to the ground where directed, clear it of leaves, roots, and shoots, and to load and chain down on drays, wagons, tram trucks, or punts not less than the agreed number of tons of cane during each and every working day during the continuance of this agreement, unless prevented; also agree to lay and lift portable tramlines necessary to transport the cane on to the permanent way, subject to the conditions herein specified.

3. In case of fields situated over two chains from the permanent tramline, an allowance of 1s. 6d. per chain shall be made for laying and lifting the dead line thereto: Provided always, should such tramline be used for harvesting cane adjacent to it, no such allowance shall be made. In the case of cane fields being sloping or uneven, requiring forming, heavy packing up, or bridging to lay the line, or in all cases where curves or points are necessary, the employer shall lay it, or it shall be laid for rates mutually agreed on between the employer and the employees.

4. The employer undertakes and agrees to pay the employees for every ton of cane harvested by them in accordance with the conditions of this agreement the amount set forth below:—

For Fields of Cane—Schedule of Rates.

[Note.—The rates specified shall be not less than those prescribed in clause 11 of the award.]

5. The following qualifications of the schedule of rates set out in clause 4 hereof shall be conditions of this agreement:—

(a) Employees may refuse to cut crops under 6 tons to the acre, or crops that have been severely damaged by flood or grubs, or terms for cutting such may be mutually arranged:

Provided that in no case shall the remuneration of the employee for cutting crops of this nature fall below the rate prescribed in the award for canecutting at day labour.

(b) Where employees are required to load cane by hand more than once, 1s. per ton above schedule rates shall be paid for each additional loading. Loading of cane with winch, 6d. per ton above schedule rates. Horse and all necessary gear shall be provided by the employer.

(c) For burnt or stripped cane, the rate shall be 1s. per ton less than schedule rates.

(d) For cane loaded into drays or wagons once only, the rate shall be 6d. per ton less than schedule rates.

(e) For cane on unploughed, stony, or loggy ground, the rate shall be 6d. per ton above schedule rates.

(f) For standover cane, i.e., cane (other than "plant") over eighteen months since previously harvested, the rate shall be 6d. per ton above schedule rates.

(g) For fourth or older than fourth ratoon crops when not standover, the rate shall be 3d. per ton above schedule rates.

* * * * * *

For carting, the following additional rates shall be paid:—

For all distances not exceeding half mile—1s. 9d. per ton.
For all distances from half mile to one mile—2s. per ton.

For all distances from one mile to one and a-half miles—2s. 3d. per ton.

For all distances from one and a-half miles to two miles—2s. 6d. per ton.

Over two miles, special arrangements shall be made.
Horses, carts, feed, &c., shall be supplied by the employer.

For hauling cane on tramlines, 1s. per ton per mile.

6. The cane farms or plantations shall be divided into "fields of cane" in such a manner as to make the average tonnage of cane to the acre as uniform as possible in such "field of cane." The shape and size of the various "fields of cane" shall be decided by mutual agreement between the employer and employees. In the event of a non-agreement, the employees shall be paid off and no moneys earned by them retained.

8. In the event of the cane being burnt, the growers shall have the right to put on additional labour until such burnt cane is harvested, without prejudice to any other conditions of this agreement.

* * * * * *

10. The employer shall pay to the employees the money accruing to them under this agreement for each fortnightly period within the following week. The ganger in charge of the gang shall keep a time-book, and shall therein set out the time worked by each member of the gang. He shall give such time-book fortnightly to the employer, who shall divide amongst the employees the money payable for the fortnight's work in accordance with the time worked by each employee as set out in the time-book. Payment shall be made on mill weights, but the employees may appoint a check weighman or gauger if they so desire.

11. The employees shall without delay load the carts, wagons, punts, or trucks free from trash, dirt, and tops. They shall gather up all cane which may fall from loaded trucks, carts, or wagons, and shall replace any trucks derailed while being hauled in or out of the field from or on to the main line, provided that the employer shall pay 2s. per hour per man for any time occupied at this work outside the field of cane wherein the employees are working.

12. The employees shall assist in extinguishing any fire in cane immediately on noticing it, or when called upon to do so, whether in the cane hereby contracted for or on land upon which they are engaged, or lands adjacent thereto; but the employer shall pay the employees the sum of 2s. 6d. per hour for each man so engaged.

13. Lost time shall be apportioned equally amongst the whole of the gangs employed, and where employees lose time from any cause other than wet weather or their own fault, the employer may find the said employees other work, but in any event, except as above mentioned, he shall pay each employee not less than 12s. a day for all such lost time.

* * * * * *

15. The employees agree that the cook of the gang of which they are members, whether appointed by themselves or the employer, shall share equally with them in the moneys earned by the gang under this agreement.

* * * * * *

17. The employer undertakes and agrees to insure the employees under the Workers' Compensation Act.

Table No. XX.—continued.

MINIMUM RATES UNDER ARBITRATION COURT AWARD FOR SHEARING, CRUTCHING, AND WOOLSCOURING OPERATIONS, &c.

SHEARING RATES.

If rations not found.—For flock sheep (wethers, ewes, lambs), 30s. per 100; for rams over six months old (other than special stud rams), and for ram stags, 60s. per 100; for stud ewes and their lambs (other than special studs), 37s. 6d. per 100; for special studs as specially agreed, but so that if the engagement be per day the rate shall not be less than 17s. per day, with cook and rations and shearing requisites found.

If rations found.—The rates mentioned, less 20s. per week.

CRUTCHING, WIGGING, AND RINGING RATES.

If rations not found.—For crutching between the legs only, 6s. per 100; for all other crutching, 7s. 6d. per 100; for wigging or ringing, 3s. 6d. per 100; for either wigging or ringing, in addition to crutching, 1s. per 100, additional to crutching rate; for wigging and ringing, 5s. 6d. per 100; for wigging and ringing, in addition to crutching, 1s. 6d. per 100, additional to the crutching rate.

If rations found.—For crutching between the legs only, 5s. per 100 or 17s. per day; for all other crutching, 6s. 6d. per 100, or 17s. per day; for wigging or ringing, 3s. per 100; for either wigging or ringing, in addition to crutching, 9d. per 100, additional to crutching rate; for wigging and ringing, 5s. per 100; for wigging and ringing, in addition to crutching, 1s. 3d. per 100, additional to the crutching rate.

Cooking rates.—(a) 6s. per week (with keep) for every man for whom the employee cooks; or (b) 72s. per week (with keep). But if the total sum which the cook would receive for the term of his employment under rate (a) amounts to less than 72s. per week for himself after paying any necessary off-siders, the employer shall pay the deficiency to the employee.

WOOL-PRESSING RATES.

Piecework.

If rations not found.—Greasy Wool.—By hand, 7¼d. per cwt. or 2s. per bale; by hand, if dumping included, 9d. per cwt., or 2s. 4½d. per bale; by power, 4¾d. per cwt., or 1s. 3½d. per bale; by power (if dumping included) 6½d. per cwt., or 1s. 8½d. per bale. Washed Wool.—By hand, 10¼d. per cwt., or 2s. 3½d. per bale; by hand (if dumping included), 1s. 1½d. per cwt., or 2s. 9d. per bale; by power, 7d. per cwt., or 1s. 5½d. per bale; by power (if dumping included), 8½d. per cwt., or 2s. 1½d. per bale. The weights mentioned are net weights of the wool. The pressing of wool does not include weighing, branding, or stacking. A bale is to be treated as dumped if pressed down to 18 cubic feet, or to 3 feet 3 inches in height. For weighing and branding bales, 3d. per bale additional; for pressing by any other presses, 1d. per cwt. or 3d. per bale extra; if dumped by Adelaide box press the rate is to be 1d. less per cwt. or 3d. less per bale; but if the total sum the wool-presser would receive under these rates amounts to less than 95s. per week of the employment, the employer shall pay the deficiency to the employee.

If rations found.—The rates above mentioned, less 20s. per week.

Timework.—£4 per week with keep.

SHED HANDS' RATES.

For adults, £3 per week with keep; for boys between 18 and 21, 37s. 6d. per week with keep; for boys under 18, 30s. per week, with keep. Overtime: Time and a-half for the first two hours, and double time thereafter.

WOOL-SCOUR HANDS' RATES.

For adults, £3 per week, with keep; for boys between 18 and 21, 37s. 6d. per week, with keep; for boys under 18, 30s. per week, with keep. Overtime: Time and a-half for the first two hours, and double time thereafter.

* Pioneering work. Sunk to explore and ascertain the artesian possibilities of new country.

† Includes 22 Trust bores; also, 20 flowing bores and two pumped bores taken over by Local Governing Authorities.

NOTE.—The estimated depth bored in search of artesian water to the 30th June, 1917, was 2,976,475 feet, equal to 563·72 miles. Estimated continuous yield of water from 1,146 flowing bores was 430,341,990 gallons per diem.

NOTE.—The Hydraulic Survey, suspended at the end of 1899, has only been resumed at the end of 1910; therefore, this return, furnished by the Hydraulic Engineer, has been partly compiled from unofficial documents which have not yet been verified, and is given for what it is worth.

* From 1883 number and tonnage of vessels calling at more than one port in Queensland during same voyage only counted once.

† Prior to 1907 the exports of wool have been taken as the production of wool, scoured being expressed as greasy on the basis that one pound of the former equals two pounds of the latter, except for the years previous to 1866, when greasy and scoured wools were not separated in the Customs returns.
